ROOSEVELT AND WILSON EACH GIVEN PRESIDENTIAL CHOICE IN NEW JERSEY BY 15,000 VOTES

TAFT AND THE BOSSES ARE BEATEN

Roosevelt Gets Whole Twenty-Eight Delegates—Wilson All But Four.

Wilson Vote Averages 6 to 1, With 20 to 1 in Some Districts.

La Follette Gets Only 2 Per Cent of All Votes Cast.

Newark, N. J., May 29.—Theodore Roosevelt's clean sweep of the New Jersey primaries was emphasized today when late returns gave him small but substantial pluralities in the new districts about which last night's figures left any doubt, and increased his lead elsewhere throughout the state.

Governor Woodrow Wilson carried all but two of the twelve congressional districts and gained twenty-four of the twenty-eight delegates, including the delegates at large. His opponents today abandoned hope that they had carried the Eighth district, where the vote was close.

Uninstructed delegates nominated by the anti-Wilson wing of the party were elected by large majorities in the Ninth and Tenth districts, the strongholds of the element opposed to the governor.

Both by About 15,000.

Incomplete returns about noon on the vote for delegates at large and the presidential preference indicated that Col. Roosevelt's popular plurality for the whole state would be about 15,000 and that Governor Wilson's lead, based on the vote for delegates at large, was about the same.

President Taft made his best showing in the Third, Fifth and Sixth districts, which include the New Jersey coast towns almost as far south as Atlantic City, and the counties lying in the north central part of the state.

WRIGHT MAKING BRAVE BATTLE

The Aviator's Condition Is Neither Better Nor Worse.

Dayton, Ohio, May 29. — "Wilbur Wright is about the same, but it seems that there is little chance left for him," said Dr. D. B. Conklin today.

Last night Wright's temperature from the typhoid fever that is threatening his life hovered about 104 degrees, and early today there was little improvement.

SETTLERS FLOCKING IN

Between 3,000 and 5,000 Have Come to Minnesota This Spring.

Record Demand for Land By Real Soil Tillers Is Reported.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—With reports in from all but about a dozen counties, H. J. Maxfield, state commissioner of immigration, estimates that between 3,000 and 5,000 settlers moved to Minnesota this spring and bought land on which to make their homes. The movement is not abnormally large, but it has been steady, and the newcomers are of a better class, financially, than have come heretofore.

The northern part of the state, where lands are cheaper, has got the greatest number, and it is the northern part of the state that is in its infancy of development. Mr. Maxfield believes that the northeastern "neck" alone has become the home of fully 1,000 settlers since the breaking up of the severe winter.

"With land selling as low as $5 an acre," Mr. Maxfield added, "there is bound to be a continual rush of men to carve out their homes in what is now the big north woods."

TRIANGULAR FIGHT OVER

Roosevelt and Taft Have Ended Active Campaign for Nomination.

La Follette Will Try to Carry South Dakota Primaries.

Washington, May 29.—So far as direct appeal to the voters of the country is concerned, Col. Roosevelt's complete victory in New Jersey has brought to a close the unprecedentedly bitter fight in which Mr. Roosevelt, President Taft and Senator La Follette have been almost constantly engaged for the last three months.

South Dakota's primary June 4 and the state conventions of Arizona and Ohio will not engage the personal activities of Col. Roosevelt or President Taft, but Senator La Follette is scheduled to speak in South Dakota.

Concern over the outcome in New Jersey kept the national headquarters of the candidates in Washington open until an early hour today.

Roosevelt Men Confident.

In practically all states where direct primaries were held for the election of national candidates, with the exception of Massachusetts, Col. Roosevelt won pronounced victories over

MILLERS BEGIN NATIONAL MEET

Seek to Lift Flour Industry "Out of the Slough of Despond."

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—To lift the flour industry "out of the slough of despond, into which it has dropped during the last few years, and give it the place among the industries which, by reason of capital invested, brains employed and effort expended, it should by right occupy," is the purpose of the conference of the Millers' National federation, which began a three days' session here today, as outlined by A. J. Hunt of Wichita, president, in his opening address.

Nearly 500 millers from all parts of the country are attending the meeting, which will close with a day's tour of inspection of Kansas wheat fields.

"The last year has not been a prosperous one for the flour millers," Mr. Hunt continued. "Contrary to the custom of former years, mills have been unable to book shipments in advance. As a result our trade has been a hand-to-mouth, small purchase business; export trade has declined to almost nothing, and thus the entire domestic production has been forced into the home market."

OWNER OF SPANISH THEATER ARRESTED.

Villareal, Spain, May 29.—Four additional deaths have occurred among the injured in the fire which burned down a cinematograph theater. The total of the fatalities is eighty-four. The proprietor of the theater has been arrested on the charge of giving performances without a license and without submitting his apparatus to examination by the authorities.

Colonel Says New Jersey Has Left Him Nothing to Say.

Wilson "Delighted and Grateful"—McKinley Says Taft Will Win.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 29.—"The result in New Jersey speaks for itself," said Col. Roosevelt today. "I don't see that Jersey has left much for me to say."

The colonel was greatly elated at the outcome of the primaries. He said that after the Ohio vote he had asserted the contest for the presidential nomination had been settled, so that the result in New Jersey in his opinion did not alter the situation.

"I have received no later returns. My latest information seems to make it certain I have carried the state by a substantial majority."

He added smilingly: "I can afford to

TAFT HIT IN THE FACE BY MISSILE

Mysterious Incident of New Jersey Campaign Investigated.

Rutherford, N. J., May 29.—Chief Wilkie of the secret service has been conducting a quiet investigation into an attempted attack on President Taft which occurred while the president was here Saturday night. Mr. Wilkie put through the third degree an Italian who is said to have thrown a package which hit the president in the face. Thus far no arrest has been made.

A statement given out by Frank M. Buckles, leader of the local Taft organization, says:

"The twelve thousand persons assembled in the public square were disappointed in not hearing the president speak because of the act of a vandal. As the package struck the president's face, or came down scraping his face, he was about to speak, but the secret service men pushed him back in his seat and took charge of affairs. They ordered the car ahead at full speed through the crowd, not knowing what was in the package, and got away. Later they informed me that the paper had been soaked in water to make it heavy."

BOYS REFUSE TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Only Two High School Pupils Volunteer for Memorial Day.

Promptly Withdraw When They See They Are Alone.

Request for Volunteers Follows Talks By G. A. R. Veterans.

After listening to stirring and patriotic speeches by N. L. Upham, S. S. Williamson, James Wharton and Dr. C. M. Wilson, conducted during the chapel hour at the Central high school this morning, but two boys out of about 600 volunteered to take part in the Memorial day parade, planned for tomorrow.

After the exercises Principal Young asked all who would take part to raise their hands. There was not a single hand raised. Dr. Wilson, who had just finished speaking, leaned forward from his chair on the platform and called, "Come on boys, raise your hands."

But two hands in opposite parts of the hall came to view, and they were promptly withdrawn when it was noticed that there were no others.

When Principal Young announced that several periods had to be cut because of the exercises, there was loud hand-clapping and pleased voices mingled in loud chatter.

When the call for the parade tomorrow, in which it was hoped that the high school would be well represented, was made, there was a silence and a noticeable tendency to slide down in the seats.

When the veterans and representatives of patriotic societies realized that there was no interest in the patriotic exercises except to give respectful silence while they took up the time that is usually spent reciting, they looked at one another in amazement.

"Our boys seem to be interested mostly in themselves," said Principal Young after the services. "They have

WILSON'S MANAGER THANKS THE HERALD

The following telegram has been received from William F. McComb, manager of Governor Woodrow Wilson's campaign for president:

"New York, May 29.—Hon. A. C. Weiss, Duluth, Minn.: Sincere congratulations. Feel deeply grateful for the grand and fruitful effort put forth by yourself and The Herald, which has contributed so effectively to the magnificent victory. New Jersey also sends impressive greetings.

CUBAN REBEL IS CONFIDENT

Gen. Estenoz Denies Revolt Is Racial, Except in Cause.

He Expects Recognition By United States If It Intervenes.

Havana, May 29.—Gen. Evaristo Estenoz, one of the leaders of the rebels in the province of Oriente, in the course of an interview with the special correspondent of El Dia on the subject of the causes and progress of the negro rebellion in Cuba says:

"The primary cause of the uprising is the failure of the government to repeal the Morula law, which provides that there shall be no recognition of political parties on racial lines. Another cause is the action of the government and the law courts in denying negroes their civil and political rights.

"The movement is not a racial one, but simply the action of certain Cuban citizens to assert their rights at all hazards. We have no hostility to the white people, and I have given strict orders that no violence shall be committed on the persons of whites, under pain of death. One of our soldiers has been hanged for violating this order.

Expects American Recognition.

"If the Americans intervene they will recognize me and my followers as a political party. We are prepared to continue fighting, whatever happens. All the responsibilities for intervention must rest on the shoulders of President Gomez and the government."

The rebel forces are reported to have organized a regiment in Havana, and the standard they are using is that displayed by Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, who in 1868 headed an armed revolution against the Spaniards.

At the government offices it still is

FRENCH DOUBT FEZ MASSACRE

Discredit Report That Paris Representatives There Were Killed By Moors.

Paris, May 29.—Neither the French foreign office nor the newspapers have received any further news concerning the reported attack by Moorish tribesmén on Fez.

It was reported last night from Madrid that the rumor was current in the lobby of the Spanish chamber of deputies that Fez had been stormed by the Moors and that Gen. Lyautey, the new French resident governor, as well as Eugene Regault, French minister to Morocco, and their staffs had been massacred. Not the slightest credence is attached to this report in official circles here.

No News at Madrid.

Madrid, May 29.—Premier Canalejas declared today that the Spanish government had not received any news, either official or unofficial, in regard to the latest reported attack on Fez. He added, however, that from the latest information which had reached the government the situation in the Moorish capital appeared to be grave.

LONDON STRIKE MAY END SOON

Transport Workers and Employers Will Confer on May 31.

London, May 29.—The situation on London docks is today practically unchanged. The work still is carried on under the protection of the police. No disorders have occurred, although the strikers gather in hundreds in the vicinity of the docks to, where they jeer and boo at the drivers transporting provisions to the markets under the escort of mounted and foot police.

The leaders of the strike movement say the trouble will soon be brought to an end, as the men express themselves satisfied with the report of Sir Edward Clarke, who after close inquiry found that the trouble was mainly due to failure to carry out the clause in the existing agreement between the employers and the men providing that differences be referred to the board of trade for decision. The strikers believe this report will insure their victory at the board of trade conference between representatives of both parties, to be held May 31 with the object of arranging a settlement.

PLANS FOR THE MEDITERRANEAN

Britons Confer on National Policy Regarding That Region.

Malta, May 29.—A conference which will probably decide Great Britain's future policy in the Mediterranean opened here today. Among those participating are Premier Asquith and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who arrived on board the admiralty yacht Enchantress, after calling at Naples to consult Admiral Lord Fisher, Viscount Kitchener, who came from Egypt on a warship, and Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, commander in chief in the Mediterranean and inspector general of oversea forces.

The conference is a direct result of the recent action of the admiralty in reducing the Mediterranean fleet and concentrating the vessels taken from it in the North sea, which has been the cause of the keenest discussion in England and France and has led to the suggestion that the existing entente between those two countries should be replaced by an alliance.

The question of strengthening the British garrisons in Egypt and other places on the route to India and the activity of the Italian fleet in the islands of the Aegean sea, with its effect on the British position, also will be discussed.

MUST QUIT "SQUEEZING"

"Shorts" in May Flax Will Be Protected By Board.

Price of This Month's Option Has Been Deliberately Boosted.

A "red-handed" resolution was written in large letters over the front black-board of the Duluth Board of Trade this morning by order of the board of directors.

Translated into the parlance that is commonly heard on the floor of the board, it would read: "Stop that deliberate boosting of May flax or you will get yourself into trouble. Those who default will not be made to pay you any more than actual damages, and in proving what those damages are you will have to face the charge that you deliberately boosted the price of May flax in order to embarrass the shorts. The rules prescribe fines for such conduct and those who refuse to pay their fines will be expelled."

This is the resolution as it appeared:

"Whereas, The directors of the Duluth Board of Trade deplore the present condition by which prices in May No. 1 flaxseed are quoted in the Duluth market, utterly unjustified by comparison with lower grades of seed and with prices now ruling in similar markets, and feel that the condition is not a natural healthy one,

"Be it resolved, That the directors do this day call the attention of members to rule 15 of the Duluth Board of Trade and assure all members that the letter and spirit of this law will be enforced by the members on proper appeal to them made under proper provisions and also that the attention of members is again called to the resolution of April 2, 1912, imposing upon members certain requirements as to the character of orders accepted for execution and do caution members to comply therewith."

THE POLITICAL BASS SEASON IS OPEN.

METHODISTS SIDE-STEP ON THE RITUAL

Avoid Action on Question That Caused Trouble Tuesday Night.

Approve New Book Committee and Raise Salaries of Bishops.

Refuse to Revert to Name "Presiding Elder"—Conference Is Ended.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Delegates to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today side-stepped the question of revision of the ritual of the church, which last night caused many minutes of wild confusion. The issue was dodged today by the conference ordering a commission, which shall prepare a revision of the ritual and present it not later than the tenth day of the 1916 convention.

The conference before adjournment today also indorsed the district nominations for members of committees of the church organizations which to a great extent will have charge of the church's affairs in the next four years. The following names were presnted and approved for the book committee, which is called the "backbone of the church":

Silas Pierce, New England conference; John Handley, New Jersey; J. G. Shepard, Wyoming; W. F. onner, Pittsburg; R. T. Stevenson, Northeast Ohio; J. A. Patton, Holston; M. S. Davage, Louisiana; Hanford Crawford, St. Louis; H. M. Havner, Iowa; Joseph Bill, Central Illinois; C. E. Bacon, Indiana; J. S. Uland, Northern Minnesota; W. E. Bletsch, Chicago German; Rollo V. Watt, California; W. W. Van Dusen, Idaho.

On the book committee devolves the work of deciding the place of holding the next general conference, and while it will not be decided probably until some time in 1915, numerous requests already have been received from various cities at this general conference for the privilege of entertaining the 1916 session. Among those which have asked for the conference are: Portland, Or., Colorado Springs, Colo., Washington, D. C., Chicago and San Francisco. As the 1908 meeting was held in Baltimore and the 1912 session here, it is probable that the 1916 gathering will go to some city in the South or West.

Raised Bishops' Salaries.

Among things accomplished by the conference today were:

Increased salaries of bishops from $5,000 to $6,500 of which $1,000 is for living expenses and $500 for secretary's hire.

Refused to be influenced by sentimental consideration in favor of old name "presiding elder," and ordered that the term "district superintendent" adopted at Baltimore in 1908 be retained.

Announcement was also made that a $50,000 gift to the board of conference claimants of the church had been made by a donor whose name would not be divulged.

The conference, by a vote of 524 to 45, adopted the report of the episcopacy committee favoring a "bishop of races." This applies especially to the negro churches of the south. The question is referred to the annual and lay conferences of the next four years and comes up for final action in 1916.

At 1 o'clock, the time set for adjournment, approached the hands of the clock were set back in order to complete the business of the church.

Bumps Over Ritual.

Charges and counter-charges, accusations and denials, and for fifteen minutes the din of Methodist hymns sung on the floor of the general conference to prevent the recognition of any speaker, last night delayed the transaction of business at the conference and foiled any attempt of Bishop Robert McIntyre of St. Paul, presiding, and the entire college of bishops to preserve order. Although during the heat of discussion a motion to strike out all refrence to the trouble from the conference records was drowned with cries of "no, no," the conference almost an hour later took such action.

The trouble arose with the submission of the report of the committee on revision of the ritual of the church. Some sections of the majority report had been adopted when the minority of the committee objected that it had a right to be heard. The question whether the words "dust to dust" should be left in the burial services was being discussed, the minority favoring their retention, when a motion to lay the matter on the table, carrying with it those sections already adopted, was made.

House in an Uproar.

Instantly the house was in an uproar. Scores attempted to gain the attention of the chair, and in attempts to prevent anyone's gaining recognition, others began the singing of hymns. For fifteen minutes the singing and shouting continued, while Bishop McIntyre aided by the entire board of bishops, attempted to restore order.

"We have wasted time and made of ourselves a scene which men and angels should weep at," said Dr. Leonard C. Murdock of Scranton, Pa., when order partially had been restored.

"Mr. President, as a question of high privilege I want to protest against the term of 'semi-blasphemy' applied to me by Dr. Buckley and—" began Dr. C. Herbert Richardson of Baltimore, Md. The rest of his sentence was drowned in the crash of the bishop's gavel and the delegates' shouts of disapproval. The chairman then withdrew the revision committee's report temporarily, and shortly afterward the motion of Dr. J. T. McFarland of New York that all reference to the matter be stricken from the records was adopted.

Because of the transfer of Missionary Bishop W. F. Oldham from Asia to the board of foreign missions at New York, the conference voted to rescind its action establishing two districts in Asia, in order that another bishop need not be elected.

As a tribute to Dr. J. M. Buckley, for thirty-two years editor of the Christian Advocate of New York, who voluntarily retired at this session of the general conference, the delegates purchased a table built by the Boys' Industrial school of Venice, Italy, and used at this session, and presented it to him. Resolutions also were adopted expressing the appreciation of the church for the work done by Dr. Buckley.

Modify Paragraph 260.

The conference has eliminated the word "unchristian" from the heading of the "amusement" paragraph No. 260 of the church discipline. The paragraph itself was unchanged, but the amusements upon which the church frowns now are designated as "imprudent conduct."

ARMED, RUNNING AMUCK, IS KILLED

Stranger, Carrying Rifle, Resists Arrest and Is Shot By Posse.

Buffalo, N. D., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marshal John Teet and posse ran down and shot to death a strange man, just north of town this morning. There is absolutely nothing on the person of the dead man to give a clew to his identity.

He had his pockets filled with cartridges. It is thought he was either insane or an escaped criminal. The stranger struck town this morning armed with a rifle and acted so peculiarly that citizens demanded his arrest.

Marshal Teet summoned a posse and the stranger started to run, soon afterwards shooting at the marshal. The fire was returned and the unknown man was instantly killed.

GETS JOHN D. ALL EXCITED

Lawyer in Oil Case Hearing Unable to Secure Direct Answers.

New York, May 29.—John D. Rockefeller, on the witness stand here to tell whether he believed the Standard Oil company had been really dissolved under the decree of the Unitd States supreme court, could not be induced at all times to give direct answers to questions, but made indignant denial of all suggestions that there had been any effort to evade the decree of the court.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared as a witness in the action brought nominally by the state of Missouri to compel the inspectors of the election of the stockholders of the Waters-Pierce Oil company at St. Louis last February to vote the proxies of the Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests, which had named Standard Oil men as officials of the company. The Waters-Pierce interests alleged, in fighting to prevent the Standard Oil representatives from gaining control of the company, that the manner in which the Standard Oil interests had observed the decree of the United States court was "farcial."

The "aged oil magnate" and the "richest man in the world," was subjected to a grilling by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests, that caused the witness to pound his fists on the table to emphasize his indignant denials of pointed questions as to whether the decree of the court had been in fact carried out.

No Direct Answers.

Mr. Untermeyer had the utmost difficulty throughout the examination, to get him to answer questions by "yes" and "no." Mr. Rockefeller persisted in giving his own answers in his own way, nor could he be induced to change his tactics, even after Commissioner Avraham L. Jacobs, appointed to take the testimony, had instructed him to give a direct answer.

Finding the effort hopeless, the examining attorney remarked that if the witness were "asked if the sun was shining outside, Mr. Rockefeller wouldn't give a direct answer. He would say instead that the 'moon' was about to rise."

Both Mr. Untermeyer and Commissioner Jacobs found frequent occasion to object to the "prompting" of George W. Murray, Mr. Rockefeller's personal counsel, Mr. Untermeyer declaring that he was influencing the witness' answers.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW.

Memorial Day Decorations Shown in Superior Street Store.

One of the most striking Memorial day decorations may be seen in the window of Gately's at 8 East Superior street.

Superior street has many attractively decorated windows, but none of them more appropriate or more striking than Gately's. It is a little Memorial day picture, showing a woman in widow's weeds and followed by her daughter, entering a cemetery.

The details of the picture are faithfully carried out, and it has attracted much attention today.

ASK LORIMER TO SET DATE.

Kern and Lea Want Early Vote on Senator's Case.

Washington, May 29.—Senators Kern and Lea of the anti-Lorimer contingent of the seate have telegraphed to Senator Lorimer asking him to state specifically when he would be here, so that an early vote to dispose of his election case could be arranged.

"There is no disposition" they telegraphed, "to fix a date for a vote on your case that will prevent you from having an opportunity to speak on it. Your telegram indicate that you can and expect to be here within a short time. Will you kindly indicate a time that you can be here so that an agreement to vote at an early date can be reached."

Senator Dillingham, chairman of the investigating committee, has received a telegram from Dr. S. R. Slaymaker, Mr. Lorimer's physician, stating that his patient was still very weak.

"He is improving and the condition of his heart is much better," the doctor's message read, "but hardly such as to justify me in advising him to make the trip as yet. I am very fearful that over-exertion may be followed by the most serious results."

NEAR CLASH IN TWIN CITY STRIKE

Six Hundred Freight Handlers Are Out, Say Union Leaders.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A near-clash in the local freight handlers' strike occurred today on the University avenue bridge in the Midway district between strike sympathizers and freight handlers in the yards under the bridge.

The strike sympathizers had gathered on the bridge and were taunting the men in the yards below, it is alleged. Finally a stone was hurled from the bridge and trouble appeared imminent. A patrolman was summoned and quiet restored.

Strike leaders in Minneapolis and St. Paul say there are about 600 freight handlers on strike today, or about 100 more than yesterday. A complete tie-up of freight business in the next three days is predicted.

Local freight officials declare only 43 men are out in St. Paul.

ON CHARITY.

Los Angeles Times: Theodore Dreiser, the novelist and editor, was talking at the Salmagundi club in New York, about charity.

"Charity," he said, "may sometimes show itself in strange ways:

"I was taking supper one night at the Ritz-Carlton after the opera, and at a neighboring table sat a pretty chorus girl. She wore a necklace of pearls, and each pearl was as large as a marble.

"'I wonder,' I said, 'if those pearls are real.'

"'Let us be charitable,' said my companion, a poet, 'and hope they're false.'

"'Charitable and hope they're false?' I repeated.

"'Yes,' said my companion; 'for, if the pearls are good, the girl is not.'"

THE CRY OF THE GIRAFFE.

The Field: Those who read the accounts of the giraffe in the textbooks and the descriptions given by travellers may have noticed that no mention is made of its voice. Sportsmen in fact, allude to its apparent voicelessness.

Nor so far as the records go has it ever been heard in captivity. Up to the present it appears that no one could say whether the cry of a giraffe was a groan, a bellow, a bleat or a neigh. Hence the record of the recent experience of a naturalist in East Africa, who has actually heard its voice is of special interest.

Blaney Percival, the naturalist in question, spent the day in concealment over a waterhole where the wild animals came to drink. He had at times giraffe and zebra drinking within thirty feet of him. While thus watching he had the good fortune to hear the giraffe.

It was making a bleating noise, but Mr. Percival says it is quite impossible to describe the sound in writing. "The nearest I can get to it," he says, "is 'warre' rather drawn out, not just a 'baa,' like a sheep, but more prolonged, and the softening at the end more noticeable."

THE THEATER TURBAN.

Vogue: Two features which particularly mark the theater gowning of la Parisienne are the tulle head dresses and the brocaded gowns. The majority of the head dresses are turbans of black tulle, bound around with strings of pearls and diamonds and surmounted by high aigrettes or great bunches of white feathers. These come down almost to the eyes, some even completely cover the ears and every vestige of hair. The upper part of the corsage of the brocaded gowns is usually softened by chiffon or tulle. The brocade is figured with enormous patterns, either in one color or two contrasting colors, which frequently achieve the effect of shooting flames or streaks of lightning. The skirts, which still remain very scant, frequently have a long slip up one side, that reveals an under drapery of white, so thin that the colored stockings, now so much worn, can be plainly seen.

It is proposed to erect a statue of Joseph Priestley, at Birstall, near which he was born in 1733.

We are wholesale manufacturers and have been for over half a century. Even if you buy at special sales you will have to pay from $50 to $100 more for your piano than if you bought from us at wholesale. Fire Warden Has 87 Buildings Marked for Inspection.

Old Frame Buildings in Business District Should Be Torn Down.

Charles Keller, state fire warden, says that there will be a number of frame buildings in the city condemned before the work of inspection here is completed.

"Practically all of the frame buildings on Superior street between Sixth avenue west and Lake avenue should be condemned," said the state officials in discussing the condition of buildings in the business section of the city. "There are a number of old frame buildings opposite the St. Louis hotel that may be condemned and there are also a number of buildings on the Bowery that may be torn down.

"We have just given Winona and St. Cloud a good cleaning up. Duluth has a number of buildings in the business section of the city that are a disgrace to the town. Just how much work we will do cannot be foretold at the present time. There are about eighty-seven buildings in the downtown district that have been marked for inspection, and undoubtedly some of these will be torn down."

Mr. Keller stated that the old Scarlett feed store on First avenue west has been condemned and will be torn down after the middle of next month. The fire warden stated that he was told that a new building was to be erected on the present site of the feed store.

"The condemnation of many of the small and old wooden buildings in the downtown business section of the city would be a very good thing for the city," continued Mr. Keller. "Especially is this true of Superior street. We have confined most of our attention to the business section where there is the most danger of fire. Since the present law has been in effect I am of the opinon that the cause of fire loss has been greatly reduced. That is the principal upon which officials are working all over the country. The cause of firo is gradually being reduced in the great cities, and I don't believe that Minnesota is going to be very far behind the other states."

FIRST BOAT IS LAUNCHED

Port Arthur Man Enthusiastic Over New Shipyard There.

Hamiltonian Now in Water and Her Twin Is Being Built.

James Whalen of Port Arthur, Can., president of the Western Drydock and Shipbuilding company, accompanied by T. H. Andrew, also of Port Arthur, arrived in Duluth this morning on the tug Whalen.

Mr. Whalen is enthusiastic over the first big launching ever held at Port Arthur which took place last Saturday when the steamer Hamiltonian, built for J. W. Norcross & Co., took place.

The launching was a great success, everything going off as per schedule. The new boat is 257 feet long, has a 42-foot 6-inch beam and is 26 feet 6 inches deep. She is built of steel and is of the latest freighter type.

The boat will be ready for service on June 20 and will make the Head of the Lakes. Her keel was laid Feb. 16.

A duplicate of the Hamiltonian is now being built at the same shipyards. "Why am I always labeled Capt. Whalen in Duluth?" asked the Port Arthur man, "I couldn't be captain of a frog pond."

HARD COAL WILL SOON BE MOVING

Shippers Have Already Begun to Call for Tonnage.

Hard coal shippers have asked for tonnage and had some vessels named to them to load at Buffalo the last three days of this week. The coal will take a 30-cent rate to Lake Superior. Written contracts have not been made for much hard coal this year and some of the leading shippers say they do not intend to make contracts, but will give the usual propotions to those who have had contracts heretofore.

The shipper who gave out some hard coal for Lake Michigan at 35 and 40 cents Saturday, yesterday obtained signatures to the contracts. In some quarters there is a feeling the coal shipments will be limited by the ability of the fleet during the short season, while others believe the amount of vessel capacity will be large enough to carry every pound of coal that will be needed up above. The tying up of capacity at the higher rates is looked upon by the former as a long sighted piece of business while others consider it unnecessary. Considering the fact that the largest ships cannot get to the docks at which this coal will go and the docks are not the fastest, the price is looked upon as fair to the ships.

A large fleet of ore carriers is now upbound and the wild cargoes, due to inability of contract and shipper owned boats to make time, are not easily obtained.

Soft coal cargoes are still scarce. Shippers are talking June 15 as the earliest that normal shipments will be made. There is still some dispute between the mine operators and miners in part of the Ohio districts. This is adding to the slowness with which coal is coming forward.

Only a few small cargoes are being offered in the grain trade. The demand for tonnage is very light and line boats are getting about all there is to be had.

PRODIGAL SON RETURNS AFTER TWENTY YEARS OF WANDERING

When he first left home nearly twenty years ago, Herman Krause was a wild youth of nineteen years, the independent oldest son of a family of four brothers and two sisters. When he returned last evening to his old home and friends, he was 39 years of age, and a retired first sergeant of Company K, Sixth infantry.

Herman Krause is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Krause of 619 East Fourth street. He left home twenty years ago to seek his fortune elsewhere. His father's saloon had no future for him, he said, and he left his home and friends for other fields. He landed at Minneapolis, where the life at Fort Snelling appealed to him. The sudden preparations at that time for the Spanish-American war in the Philippines seemed to attract the young men, who immediately enlisted and was later transferred to the Hawiian Islands.

Herman was gone eleven years and during that time but one or two letters were received by his parents. His father is now 68 years old and his mother is 60. He returned about nine years ago on a short furlough, leaving to be gone again for nine years. Many of his relatives and friends did not see him on his first visit, even his parents getting but a glance at their son, so his present return is practically the first in the twenty years. Herman is going to stay home from now on and settle down in Duluth.

HERMAN KRAUSE.

Many Odd Adventures.

Krause tells many odd experiences of his life in the Philippines during the past twenty years. He was in the many battles of the Spanish-American war taking part in the memorial siege of Sagamore hill, in which Col. Roosevelt made his famous charge. He was in the Third infantry at that time. Krause saw four years of actual warfare during the insurrection from 1898 to 1902. After the war was over and United States had acquired the islands. Krause had come to like the tropical countries and decided to enlist again and serve in the regular army.

During the past ten years he served on the island of Mindiano, having been promoted from private to first sergeant. Last month the war department retired him with honors as first sergeant of Company K, Sixth infantry. In all probability he is the only man on the retired list in Duluth.

Krause arrived last evening and immediately the news of his arrival spread around the neighborhood to his many friends. An impromptu reception was held last evening at which Krause was the honored guest. Today a continual stream of neighbors and friends called at the Krause home to pay their respects to the prodigal son, who had returned home. The friends would drop in, stand before Krause, and after a few minutes he would recognize their faces. Then a hearty handclasp wouuld follow and the old stories would be retold. Krause's father stood near his son all morning and seemed to take a greater pleasure in this home-coming than the son himself.

Krause has three brothers and two sisters, besides his parents. They are: Arthur, Ernest, Frad and Mrs. Christine Mueller of Duluth and Mrs. Bertha Belch of Kelly Lake, Minn. A home gathering is to be held this evening, when all the relatives and friends of the prodigal son will extend to him a hearty welcome to his old home and city.

COUNTY DELEGATES INSTRUCTED TO SUPPORT WILSON

nett, W. L. Bernard, H. H. Saimon of Biwabik, and C. A. Munroe of Chisholm.

There were about 100 delegates in attendance, out of a possible 213. The Duluth delegates arrived in Virginia this morning coming up on a special car. There were sixty in the party, and they were met at the station by a band, and by M. H. McMahon, A. N. Thompson, J. M. Murphy and other prominent Virginia Democrats.

Jaques Speaks.

After the convention had been called to order, organized and the committees named, Alfred Jaques of Duluth addressed the delegates.

Mr. Jaques spoke as follows:

"I can but feel thankful for the confidence which the convention has expressed. I shall endeavor not to forfeit that confidence. We are met here upon an auspicious occasion and at an auspicious time. Not in recent years has there been a time when progressive Democratic principles were received with such evident favor as now—when the principles of real Democracy stood higher among men. We are here to speak upon national questions and upon national candidates. We are here to speak in no uncertain terms. We are here to voice a sturdy opposition to an immoderate, greedy, graft inspired tariff. To say that no special privilege shall lurk in or fatten upon the revenue laws of the land. We are here to say that now as always, true Democracy stands for progressive principles and democratic, popular rule.

"The true Democrat knows that the keystone to the arch of Democracy is representative government and that the safety and security of representative government must in the future rest upon the initiative, the referendum and the recall. These are the instruments of an enlightened Democracy—the safeguards and bullworks of a Democratic republic. The people must rule or special privilege and self-interest will rule. The safety of Democracy is ever more Democracy.

"We hear much these days about progressive principles and Progressives. With your permission I shall undertake to define a Progressive. A Progressive is one who undertakes to intelligently apply the principles of justice and humanity to legislation and administration for the benefit of all. You will notice that I said intelligently. By this token we know for a Progressive, Robert M. La Follette. By this token we at once recognize as a Progressive, W. J. Bryan. By this measure we know as a Progressive, Woodrow Wilson.

A True Democrat.

"There are many things that endear Governor Wilson to the people. As president of Princeton university he risked his reputation and his position in an endeavor to make it a democratic, popular, people's university—a great representative among institutions of learning of the democratic idea. As governor of New Jersey he has put himself at the very front of progressive Democratic governors. He has swept away and broken into pieces the Democratic machine of New Jersey which was ever the willing servitor of special privilege, and driven from place and power its head, James Smith, Jr. Oh, well do we remember James Smith, Jr., who, as a member of the senate, with Gorman and others, debauched and corrupted the Wilson tariff bill of 1894, making it a thing of 'shreds and tatters,' all as a servitor of special interests. Oh, we may well rejoice that this sturdy governor has driven him from power and destroyed his machine. Gov. Wilson said: 'At a Democratic primary, Martine has been selected as Democratic candidate for United States senator. That is all I want to know. Martine must be elected to the senate', and in spite of the protests of the bosses, he was.

End of Bossism.

"The day is past when a boss, who does not stand for the public interest, can exist. The progressive measures that have been passed in New Jersey under the leadership of Wilson are so numerous that they cannot be mentioned in detail. Public utilities bill, primary election law, labor compensation, reformed government for cities, these are some of them. They are sufficient to constitute a legislative revolution in that slow old state. In the fight for these reforms Wilson led, he did not follow.

"I said that a Progressive was one who attempted to intelligently apply principles of justice and humanity to legislation and administration. By this definition we know that Theodore, the Pretender, is not a Progressive. He never intelligently applied anything to anything. During his eight years of administration, the tariff harpies fed upon the revenues and substance of the people without fear of the 'big stick.' His maxim is 'step softly but carry a big stick.' He stepped oh, so softly, and carried a big stick, but he never used, or attempted to use, it upon the tariff harpies who destroyed what they did not devour of the people's substance. Monopolies, tariff-bred, increased by leaps and bounds, but he was stepping softly and carrying the big stick, oh, so gently. He prides himself on his bluff and his big stick, but when George W. Perkins, of the Harvester trust, got angry and flourished a big stick, Roosevelt became oh, so lamb-like and gentle. He stepped softly and carried a big stick while the trust absorbed the Tennessee coal and iron. The big stick seems to have been futile and ineffective in his hands. Or did they bluff him out, and with a pair of deuces at that? Oh, no, he is not a Progressive. The true leader of the Republican Progressives is La Follette. We can rejoice at one thing, no Democrat ever asked for a third term in the White House. Democrats have always respected and honored the tradition and custom of no third term, and always, we trust, will. No Democrat has ever been so eaten up with egotism or so insanely ambitious as to greedily ask for something that Washington, Jefferson, and Jackson would not have.

"We want a candidate who will not step too softly in the presence of organized monopoly carrying a big stick. When the organized interests of New Jersey flourished a big stick in the hands of James Smith, Jr., Governor Wilson stepped quickly and firmly and landed the first blow with his big stick, and hammered the interests through the ropes, as Roosevelt would say. That is why we are for him. Our duty is plain. Let us do it. The republic is in need of valiant service. Let us in our humble way serve it valiantly."

Indorsed for Delegates.

Alfred Jaques was indorsed for district delegate and A. C. Weiss for delegate at large.

The Delegates.

The delegation to the district and state conventions will be composed of five members from Duluth and one from each of the remaining cities, towns and villages represented at the convention here.

The Resolution.

The resolutions follow:

"Be It Resolved, by the Democrats of St. Louis county, in convention assembled, That we deciare our continued allegiance to the principles and policies set forth in the National Democratic platform adopted at Denver in 1908.

"We believe that the machinery of government should include such devices as shall give to the people the fullest possible control, not only of the election of their public servants, but of their nominations through direct primaries; that this popular control should extend not only to the full process of putting public servants into office, but to their conduct while in office, through the recall.

"We believe that the people should have full power of control, not only over their elective officers, but over the processes of law making through the initiative and referendum.

"In order that government may be brought closer to the people we favor the ratification of the constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people, which has been submitted by congress.

"We believe, in short, that a government of, by and for the people should be a government really by and for the people, and that public transactions should always be solely for the public good, and never to satisfy private greed at public expense through any species of special privilege such as the protective tariff as it has been manipulated by the Republican party and the powers that control it.

"That the burdens of government may be more equally born by those who receive the benefits of government, we are in favor of the income tax, and hereby urge the legislature of the state of Minnesota, at its next session, to ratify the constitutional amendment passed by congress for an income tax.

"Because he is the ablest and the best representative of these ideals of Democratic government geforce the American people today, we instruct the delegates to the Democratic state convention from St. Louis county to vote as a unit upon all questions coming before the state convention, and to do all in their power to the end that the twenty-four delegates of Minnesota to the Democratic national convention be instructed to vote as a unit until he is nominated, or until there is no possibility of his nomination, for Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, as the Democratic candidate for president."

Beltrami For Wilson.

Bemidji, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Beltrami county convention here today declared for Woodrow Wilson for president. Seven delegates and as many alternates to the state convention at Duluth were chosen this afternoon.

District Democrats Split.

Washington, May 29.—The District of Columbia Democratic convention split today over selecting of delegates to Baltimore, and nearly half of the convention, consisting of anti-Clark men, walked out.

HERE'S A WAY TO ADVERTISE CITY

Duluthian Stamps "It's Cool in Duluth" on Hotel Registers.

L. A. Bradley of the H. Miscampbell company of 318 St. Croix avenue is now in Ohio and has hit upon a novel plan to advertise the cool summer weather of Duluth.

Every time Mr. Bradley registers at a hotel, instead of writing Duluth after his name he stamps the phrase, "It's cool in Duluth," in its place. Mr. Bradley carries the small stamp with him wherever he goes and he also prints the statement on all his mail and business cards. The idea has met with favor, he writes, and has interested a number of people in every city he visited.

In his letter to The Herald Mr. Bradley urges every Duluthian to buy such a stamp and use it on all mail, packages and for hotel registers. The idea will take because of its advertising novelty, he writes, and will also boost Duluth. "Besides," concludes Mr. Bradley, "the newspapers follow up such a signature and nearly every time the Duluth traveler can get a story in the papers, in which he could tell of the wonders of the Duluth weather. This is free advertising and of exceptional value."

If there is any woman, in this day of the world, who imagines that she cannot save money by reading the ads, that woman needs educating.

Erace Your Wrinkles and Be Youthful

It is so easy to have a smooth, velvety skin and youthful complexion that there is no excuse for anyone to tolerate disfiguring wrinkles or complexion defects, because with a Chinese ice-pencil, such as you will find in any drug store, you can quickly rub out lines, as well as remove pimples, blackheads and "moth" patches. To erase wrinkles, rub the pencil the long way of the furrow, then massage gently. Repeat a few nights and the wrinkles vanish. This treatment is unfailing, because it absorbs the fatty tissues on each side of the wrinkles and enlivens the stunted tissues under the creases.

To contract flabby muscles, apply a good coating of the ice-pencil and massage from chin to ears. A few treatments cause the muscles and tissues to contract and regain their normal state, because of the slightly astringent quality of the ice-pencil; at the same time the skin grows clear, soft and radiantly beautiful.

Appointing Hostesses.

The choosing of a large list of hostesses to act at the free art exhibit to be held at the art halls of the court house from June 6 to 16 is occupying the attention of the members of the committee who have charge of the social features of the exhibit. Representative women will be chosen to act in this capacity each afternoon and evening and the committee feels that in this way a larger circle will be interested in the event.

Different women will be appointed for each day and they will be at the exhibit to direct or give information to the visitors.

Besides these hostesses, milltiamen and guards will be stationed about the halls to act as guides and ushers.

The ten days' exhibit with the fine displays of pictures, sculpturing, and handicrafts of all kinds, is of general interest and will probably draw many out-of-town visitors. The exhibit belongs to the State Art society and has been arranged for by the Duluth Art association.

It will be open to the public daily from June 6 to 16 all afternoon and evening and is absolutely free.

THE EVENING STORY

THE QUEEN OF THE GO-CART

By Grace E. Cody.

It was one of the unseasonably hot mornings in early spring. All the women in the crowded suburban train looked as if their husbands had been blaming them for the weather; all the men looked as if they were hungering for more victims to blame. In the door at the end of the car came a woman dressed in a cool, buff percale. She was trundling a go-cart, which filled up the aisle unwarrantably. There was an impatient pause before a disdainful young man on the shady side of the car rose, and turning his back on the mother without giving her a chance to acknowledge his courtesy, savagely attached himself to a strap.

She hesitated an instant, then wheeled the go-cart in front of the vacant place, and sat down. All about her were cross, perspiring faces, but she saw none of them. Her eyes were fixed on the occupant of the go-cart and she smiled. That occupant was perhaps one year old—a chubby faced, blue eyed, placid little girl baby. There was nothing in the least remarkable about her, beyond the fact that she was a baby. As she sat, tightly strapped into position, she rolled her little head to one side, and gazed serenely at a man across the aisle, who looked as if his business might be slicing juicy porterhouse steaks.

It happened that this man's toes had been run over by the wheel of the go-cart when it entered, and now, in his cheap gray suit, with a plaid flannel cap pulled over his eyes and a burly red fist clenched on each knee, he was not a friendly looking spectacle. Still the baby gazed and as she did so, a strange thing happened. The fists relaxed; the butcher sat up and smoothed his wrinkled coat lapels. Suddenly he began to smile and bob his head like an automaton and jingle his heavy, plated watch chain.

For several minutes the unsmiling baby scrutinized him. Evidently the bobbing head interested her. But after a while she shifted her gaze to the tall Englishman, with the sandy beard violently brushed asunder, who was glaring out of an opposite window, wondering why mothers had so little sense as to drag small children about in this way, at the inconvenience of other passengers.

At first he did not notice the gaze, but the baby's eyes drew his, and presently a large, ingratiating smile spread over his face. Leaning far into the aisle, he playfully tapped the baby's pink kid toes with his folded newspaper; but although she graciously permitted him this liberty once, twice, many times, no glimmer of a smile repaid his efforts. What at last he began wildly shaking a bunch of keys at her, she calmly turned her face away, and commenced the inspection of a severe looking woman on the other side of him.

It was marvelous. In less than one minute of solemn, blue-eyed gazing, she had that women playing peek-a-boo with her handkerchief. So it went on. Great in her smallness, the queen of the go-cart sat there, silently casting her spell on first one and then another along the row, until she had every one within range transformed into a gesticulating subject, each eager to win the smile she regally withheld. All the time the little mother sat looking at her baby, apparently unconscious that a kingdom was being conquered.

In all the crowd there was one insensate clod who had refused to bow before the majesty of babyhood. This was the disdainful young man who stood clinging to the strap with his back to the go-cart. But at last even he—when he noticed a certain sensible looking business man grinning and pounding the arm of his seat—was led to cast one curious glance at the cause of all the sensation.

Just as he turned, the train gave a terrific lurch in stopping, and before anyone knew what had happened, the disdainful young man lost his footing, clutched vainly at the strap, and went down—an ignominious heap with arms and legs flying—all over the little go-cart.

"Hi you! Look out there," shouted the red-faced butcher, jumping to his feet. "Gad!" muttered the Englishman, under his breath, "Oh, oh," wailed the stern looking woman, softly. Meanwhile the disdainful young man was trying to get up. His first impulse was to seize the odious cart which had undermined his footing, and dash it through the nearest window, but as he struggled out of his awkward plight, his face brushed a soft, chubby cheek, and there almost within his unwilling arms, as he sprawled over the go-cart, he found—the baby!

It happened in a flash. The train had stopped at the downtown station, and the outgoing passengers were crowding close to see if the baby were hurt. The pretty mother was looking amused, for the baby was safe—and a worshipful young man was on his knees, square in front of the go-cart. But in that flash, her majesty the baby, deigning at last to smile, threw both dimpled hands and both pink feet into the air with a lound, expressive squeal of delight. In the language of her court she has said to the worshipful young man, "come on, play s me more."

"Ha, ha, ha," laughed the relieved butcher, while the Englishman chuckled softly; and a minute later, from the door of that stuffy car, on that sultry soul-trying morning, issued a party of jolly passengers, each facing the day with a good natured smile.

At the end of the procession a pretty mother waited patiently for a young man, who had insisted on trundling her baby's go-cart out of the car. Thanking him sweetly, she wheeled the baby away, while the once disdainful young man stood waving his hat, and calling "by-by! by-by!" after the go-cart.

WOULD FORCE HEIRS TO BUY

Iowa Company Has $2,500 Claim Against Segog Estate.

Contract Made By Mr. Segog to Buy Stock Declared Void.

A $2,500 claim brought by the Iowa Mausoleum company, builders of a new type of grave yard vaults, against the estate of Byron G. Segog, a well known local insurance man who died about six months ago, has been disallowed by Judge Gilpin of the probate court. The case will probably be appealed to the district court.

The claim of the mausoleum builders is based on a note which Mr. Segog is purported to have given, agreeing to pay $2,500 for twenty-five shares of the preferred stock and seventy-five shares of the common stock of the Minnesota Mausoleum company, a subsidiary corporation to the Iowa company.

The Iowa concern, it appeared from the hearing which was held recently before Judge Gilpin, had an express understanding with the Minnesota company by which in consideration for the patent right for Minnesota, the company in this state was to pay to the Iowa company five-sevenths of the profits realized from the sale of stock.

It further developed at the hearing that the Minnesota company was capitalized at $350,000, half of which was preferred stock and half common stock. The par value of the stock was $1 a share. The stock was sold at 25 cents on the dollar or at least with every purchase of preferred stock at $1 per share, three shares of common stock were given gratis.

The note, which is presumed to have been given by Mr. Segog, was transferred from a bank to the Iowa Mausoleum company and presented in probate court at the recent hearing on claims.

H. H. Phelps, attorney for Mrs. Segog, as executrix of the estate, contended that the contract for the purchase of the stock, if any was made, was void. This stand was taken on a point of law, Mr. Phelps holding that in view of the fact that the note was given at a time when the incorporation of the Minnesota company had not been completed, that the contract could not be considered binding.

Judge Gilpin sustained Mr. Phelps and in his opinion handed down yesterday he disallowed the claim because it does not comply with the Minnesota laws. The court quoted from Section 2878, Revised Laws of 1905, which in effect provides that no corporation shall issue any shares for a less amount to be paid than their par value. The judge holds the contract void because no consideration for $2,500 Mr. Segog was to have received 100 shares of stock, the par value of which was $10,000.

The Iowa company owns the patent rights for several Western states. The Minnesota company can do business only in Minnesota. At the hearing it appeared that the assets of the Minnesota company were something like $2,700, after the stock had been sold and five-sevenths of the profits had been turned over to the Iowa concern.

A mausoleum, such as is built by the Iowa or Minnesota company is usually constructed of concrete and is used for the purpose of a grave yard vault, where bodies may be kept through the winter months until they are interred. Two mausoleums have been built by the Minnesota company, one of them at Virginia. The cost was $6,000.

AMUSEMENTS

Lyceum Notes.

John E. Young, who will be seen here in the delightfully droll character comedy part of Dondidler in "The Pink Lady," when Klaw & Erlanger present that charming piece at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday with matinee Saturday, is one of the several members of the original cast and has been identified with the musical play ever since it was given its first performance at Atlantic City prior to its advent in New York, where is ran for a year. Mr. Young began in the role of Bebe and did so well that when the opportunity came later for him to play Dondidler, he went on within a day's time for preparation and scored so heavily that A. L. Erlanger rewarded him by naming him for the big male part of the piece as soon as the opportunity presented itself to make the change. Mr. Young is a Western boy and served his apprenticeship in dramatic work before he went into musical comedy. This is why he is able to play the exacting role he now assumes, for its comedy is more dependent upon the ability of the artist to act than to sing the role, though Dondidler figures in several of the distinct musical hits of the piece also.

Miss Dorothy Howard, who is perhaps the youngest leading lady in America playing a star part this season, has been very enthusiastically received as Beverly Calhoun in A. G. Delamater's production of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly." Miss Howard imparts to the role all the ingenuousness and girlishness with which she imbued the leading roles of "The Aviator" and "Cameo Kirby."

"Beverly" appears at the Lyceum tomorrow matinee and night.

May Robson's success as an actress is not alone a financial one, but her art of impersonation of real people in a natural way is so convincing that one leaves the theater appreciative and satisfied—that is, if they have recovered sufficiently from incessant laughter to think at all. The new comedy, "A Night Out," offers Miss Robson a distinctive character, unlike "Aunt Mary" in characterization, but embracing in part the general atmosphere of the eccentric but lovable old lady. Hereditary influence is shown in the development of the character of her grandson; hence it is she is the grandma of the story, and as her influence is directed for fun and frolic, her grandsons are devotedly attached to her. Around an escapade of a harmless, yet humorous character of the young men in the play, is the narrative woven, and "Grammum" being a definite and distinguished part of their adventure, one can readily surmise how immensely funny Miss Robson will be as "Grammum" when she appears at the Lyceum June 5, supported by an excellent company.

Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain-relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. SUPERFLUOUS HAIR "CURES" THE NEW YORK WORLD COMMENTING ON THESE SO-CALLED "CURES"

Says—They "have numbered their victims by the hundreds of thousands."

The New York World, conceded by journalists everywhere as one of the most independent, fearless newspapers devoted to the public welfare, published an article of interest to women about depilatories. While it commends very highly a well-known depilatory, it also points out the imposition practiced by unscrupulous manufacturers of so-called superfluous hair "cures." It is reprinted in part. Read it:

"Unscrupulous manufacturers have played on her faith and ignorance and have made their fortunes decade after decade by publishing erroneous statements and unfounded claims concerning the alleged efficacy of their methods or agencies to eradicate unnecessary hair. The vital importance of having the treatment non-poisonous, antiseptic and germicidal was not recognized. The fakes put on the market in the last ten years have numbered their victims by the hundreds of thousands. Empty promises have been made by scores of promoters in the wild scramble to get the money. The marvel is that woman has not become so thoroughly disgusted as to reject all treatments for good.

But her hope for a remedy was not in vain, • • • only a few years ago the new well-known DeMiracle treatment was brought forth, and it proved to be a revelation in modern science. A representative of the New York World investigated the discovery and the methods by which it was introduced to the public. He found exhaustive tests have shown it to be the long-desired, practical, expeditious and safe way in which to destroy the growth of hair. Those who put it before the public knew the fallacy and dishonesty of publishing extravagant claims. They did not resort to any catch schemes, such as making a prospective customer a special offer of 'personal interest.' They started in to win the confidence of those interested, and in this way they have been eminently successful.

The news of its remarkable qualities spread rapidly. It is now known and widely used from coast to coast and from Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico. What is more to the point, it has been indorsed by prominent physicians, representative medical journals and leading magazines devoted to woman's cause. There is too much at stake to risk such indorsements if they are not true to the letter. Only the result of repeated chemical experiments and a thorough knowledge of the origin of all hair growth could stand against the investigation of such authorities. The DeMiracle Chemical Company is open and above board in every detail. The indorsements are not just claimed. A little probing on the part of the PAPER disclosed the fact that they are published and sent broadcast, with the identity and address of the writer or publication added. This is the stumbling block of all so-called remedies. A reputable member of the medical profession or a publication in good standing could never afford to be identified with anything that savors of a fake and a voluntary praise given through these channels is not to be bought with money. It is given on the strength of conviction. • • • There is no evidence wanting to prove that De Miracle is worthy of its reputation. • • • It was found by the representative of THE WORLD that among prominent department and drug store of New York City the use of De Miracle was lauded on all sides. The proprietor of one of the largest of these establishments said: "The sale of De Miracle is constantly increasing and we hear nothing but praise for it all the time.' Like expressions were echoed by the others."

For years we have been cautioning women against being defrauded by so-called superfluous hair "cures." In spite of all warning, it seems that some are always willing to be numbugged, because, as the World says: "The fakes put on the market in the last ten years have numbered their victims by the hundreds of thousands." The mere fact that fake-dangerous preparations are short-lived should alone be sufficient warning to avoid the use of any depilatory but that of proven merit.

Don't be deceived or deluded by alluring and impossible claims of imposters. Tell any one of them that DeMiracle Chemical Company will forfeit Five Thousand Dollars if it can be proven that their so-called superfluous hair "cures' ever eradicated one single growth of superfluous hair.

It is astonishing that some women will take the risk of disfigurement by using unknown and uncertain means for removing these blemishes when there is such a safe method as DeMiracle, which is acknowledged by eminent and reputable authorities everywhere as the standard depilatory—the one absolutely non-poisonous preparation that dissolves hair, thereby taking the vitality out of it, consequently retarding and preventing an increased growth.

If further proof is needed as to the reliability of DeMiracle, no stronger argument can be advanced than the fact that it is the only depilatory that has stood the test of time.

There was more of it sold ten years ago and there has been more of it sold each year since than the combined sales of the nostrums.

All reliable dealers sell and recommend DeMiracle, knowing it to be the best and safest depilatory. Some unprincipled ones will tell you they cannot procure it so that they may more easily influence you to purchase their own or possibly some other dangerous, worthless substitute under another label for a few cents more profit. To protect you from just such imposition, if your dealer will not supply you, mail us $1.00 and we will send you, all charges paid, in plain, sealed wrapper, a $1.00 bottle of DeMiracle, and we will make you a present of a full-size jar of DeMiracle Cream. If you care to, give us the name of the dealer who tries to sell you a "just as good" imitation or substitute. Write for free booklet which will be mailed sealed in plain envelope. DeMiracle Chemical Company, Dept. 3E Park Ave., 129th and 130th Sts., New York. You can always procure DeMiracle without argument in Duluth, from I. Freimuth.

idea that many tried to convey to Mr. Maxfield, when he wrote:

"One of the most encouraging things about the class of people who are settling in this country, is that they are coming to engage in agriculture. They are not people who are moving simply to locate on the frontier where they may enjoy the life of a frontiersman and where hunting, fishing and trapping are good. Those who are coming to Atkin county are coming here to till the soil and to make a living from the soil. The situation from an agricultural standpoint never looked as bright or as good as at the present time."

From Red Lake came the word that thirty or forty new families of Finlanders had settled near Plummer. Fifty quarter-sections of land near there, too, have been bought by local farmers.

At Olivia, in Renville county, eleven new families had moved to farm lands and the relator of that information said he knew of four others which were coming. A report from Dodge county said that thirty or forty new families had moved in from Illinois and Iowa within the last year.

The report from Chippewa said that a larger number of settlers had moved there than to any other county in that vicinity.

Record Demand For Land.

"There never was such a demand for lands in the county as at the present time," wrote C. F. Mahnke, of Moose Lake, Carleton county.

"Only in the southern part of the state, where land has been selling at prices ranging from $80 to $125 an acre, has the flow of immigration been small. State land bringing an average of $6.77 at the sales held by the state auditor last year, attracted the greatest number of buyers.

"What Minnesota needs is more advertising," Mr. Maxfield said, in discussing the reports which had reached him. "There is no state in the union that offers better opportunities to the settler, and persons who contemplate moving to new homes must be reached. Every acre of land sold to a settler adds just that much to the wealth of the state, and places just that much more property on the tax rolls.

"We are getting the best class of settlers now we ever got. By that I mean they are bringing more money into the state. They are coming with the means to buy land and improve it. The rush to Canada is ebbing and many are coming back. The future looks bright for Minnesota."

President Taft. This fact has been in each case advanced by his campaign managers as increasing evidence of the certainty of his nomination at Chicago and his election in November.

The Washington headquarters of all the Republican candidates will close this week, and managers and their assistants will establish themselves in Chicago Monday for the opening of the battle before the national convention. The Taft attorneys, Former Senator Dick of Ohio and Fred C. Bryan of Washington, have completed their defense of all the cases where the Roosevelt forces are contesting delegates. It is understood all briefs and evidence will be filed with Secretary Hayward in Chicago before tonight.

Fight Over Chairman.

The attitude of the Taft managers here indicates that they will lend their full support to Chairman Harry S. New in the effort to seat Senator Elihu Root of New York, as temporary chairman of the convention.

It is understood that Taft forces were not advised of the selection of Senator Root until after the latter had accepted Mr. New's invitation, but have seized what they believe to be an opportunity to weld together New York's delegates and other delegations that will support the national committee upon this issue.

Senator Dixon predicte that Governor Hadley of Missouri would be the Roosevelt choice for temporary chairman of the convention.

Expects Hadley to Be Suggested.

"That is, of course, subject to change if conditions change," said the senator. "I believe, however, that Governor Hadley's name will be proposed for the place, and that William R. Prendergast of New York, despite recent illness, will make the speech placing Col. Roosevelt in nomination."

Other Roosevelt leaders here, while refusing to discuss the situation openly, do not hesitate to predict a fight in the convention the moment the name of a temporary chairman is proposed.

too many interests of their own to be interested in Grand Army parades." He was plainly disappointed at the showing.

Each speaker was given an ovation by the students both before and after speaking. The students plainly showed a preference for the old soldiers over study and reciting periods.

The services occupied two hours and were featured by special music by the choir and "Taps" by Charles Helmer, cornettist, and Miss Frances Burris, a student, soprano.

The speakers dwelt upon good citizenship and the privilege of becoming free citizens of the United States.

Those on the platform, having been assigned by the different societies, were:

Henry Cleveland and S. F. White, Gorman post; S. S. Williamson and E. B. Dunning, Citizens' staff; Fred M. Schutte, Diggles' camp; James A. Wharton, Sons of Veterans; Charles C. Teare Camp McKinley; C. M. Wilson and N. L. Upham, Culver post.

Similar services were held in every school in Duluth today.

Even if the high school boys do not reconsider and make a showing tomorrow, the grade schools will be well represented, and it is expected that fully 800 will be in line. The teachers have taken a great interest in the work this year, and the boys in many of the schools have been thoroughly drilled.

The members of the Citizens Staff will assemble at 9:45 a. m. at First avenue east and First street. They will be in charge of E. B. Dunning.

The merchants of the city are being urged to decorate their stores today, in honor of the occasion, and many of them are complying with the request. The complete program was published in The Herald last evening, and unless the weather interferes with some of its details, tomorrow will be the most successful Memorial day held in years.

ROOSEVELT AND WILSON CHOICE IN NEW JERSEY

most of them outside the commuting zone.

Col. Roosevelt scored heavily in the agricultural communities of Southern New Jersey and in the thickly settled towns and cities populated largely by voters who work in New York. His preference vote in Essex county, next to the largest in the state, was 13,515 compared with 9,168 for Taft and 820 for La Follette.

Blow to Anti-Wilson Forces.

The Wilson vote as compared with that of the opposition was a staggering blow to the antis, being in a ratio of about 6 to 1. Some districts went for the governor by as high as 20 to 1.

The Taft supporters hoped for a share of the delegates until midnight. At that hour they ceased to claim more than six, and an hour later their claims dwindled to the two delegates from the Sixth district, where a strong Taft sentiment in Hackensack made the issue very close. Later returns indicated that Roosevelt had carried this last hope of the Taft leaders by about 100.

Four Counties for Taft.

The president had small pluralities in four of the twenty-one counties of the state. He showed his greatest strength in the farming districts. In one of the factory towns where he spoke yesterday just before the opening of the polls he was beaten 40 to 1.

The La Follette vote was negligible, not more than 2 per cent of the entire vote cast.

The vote in nearly all sections of the state was exceedingly light, several counties casting less than half of the total registration at the last general election. The polls did not close until 9 o'clock last night, and as a result the vote was very late in being counted.

The New Jersey primary is the last but one (South Dakota) to be held before the political conventions.

Statement By Whiting.

Early today Borden D. Whiting, chairman of the Roosevelt state committee in New York city, made the following statement:

"New Jersey has come through handsomely. The men who make up the rank and file of the Republican party and who carried the state by 80,000 at the end of Roosevelt's administration have shown that they are still loyal to their old leader. They hail with delight his return to the command of the Republican party and will give him 80,000 again in November. Roosevelt has unhorsed the old machine leaders and will now turn the party back to its first principles."

The twenty-eight Roosevelt delegates elected are as follows:

At large—Frank H. Jess, Camden; Edward B. Bacon, Jersey City; John Franklin Fort, East Orange; Everett Colby, West Orange.

First district—Duncan W. Blake and John Boyd Avis.

Second district—Joseph H. Marvel and John W. Harris.

Third district—E. Gerry Roberts and Adrian Lyon.

Fourth district—John E. Gill and James E. Bathgate.

Fifth district—Charles W. Ennis and Edgar A. Knapp.

Sixth district—William M. Taylor and Herbert M. Bailey.

Seventh district—James G. Blauvelt and Harry C. Whitehead.

Eighth district—James W. McCarthy and Louis M. Brock.

Ninth district—Edward T. Ward and William A. Lord.

Tenth district—Edmund B. Osborne and Frank T. Driver.

Eleventh district—John Garner and Fred Vollmer, Jr.

Twelfth — John Rotherham and George L. Record.

Democratic Delegates.

The Democratic delegates are as follows, all being instructed for Wilson except the four from the Ninth and Tenth districts:

At large—Nicholas P. Wedin, Jersey City; John W. Westcott, Haddonfield; James E. Martine, Plainfield; John Hinchcliffe, Paterson.

First district—John Nowrey and T. Thompson Baker.

Third district—John W. Slocum and Thomas J. Scully.

Fourth district—George M. Lamonte and Walter Madden.

Fifth district—William Lynde and James J. Potts.

Sixth district—William Kline and Dan Fellows Platt.

Seventh district—William Hughes and Robert G. Bremner.

Eighth district—John M. Rhodabeck and J. Stilwell.

Ninth district—James Smith, Jr., and Arthur B. Seymout.

Tenth district—James R. Nugent and Harry F. Backus.

Eleventh—Emil Groth and John J. McGovern.

Twelfth—Thomas Haight and Mark A. Sullivan.

Indorsement of Wilson.

Trenton, N. J., May 29.—Edward Grosscup, chairman of the state Democratic committee, had this to say on the primaries:

"The result of the primaries must be taken as a most emphatic indorsement of Governor Wilson and the progressive politics which he represents. There cannot longer be any doubt that Woodrow Wilson is the real leader of the Democratic party in New Jersey."

United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, chairman of the Republican state committee and defeated Taft candidate for delegate-at-large, said the result of yesterday's voting made it clear that a large majority of the Republicans who participated are in favor of Col. Roosevelt and his policies.

He said the figures, however, also showed that a large percentage of the Republican voters of the state took no interest in the contest and did not vote.

"SPEAKS FOR ITSELF"—T. R.

The colonel was asked whether he would now begin to make plans for the fall campaign, since he felt confident of obtaining the nomination.

"In the course of a long period as a hunter," said he, "I have learned never to divide the bear skin until the bear is dead."

The colonel was just starting on a long horseback ride and said he expected no visitors today. Late this afternoon he will go to New York, and will take dinner there before departing at midnight for Gettysburg, where he is to speak tomorrow.

Comment By Wilson.

Trenton, N. J., May 29.—Governor Woodrow Wilson had the following to say today on the result of the New Jersey primary election:

"I have noticed the result, but I am none the less delighted and grateful that the Democrats of the state should have stood by me so generously and with so unmistakable a verdict. Their approval makes me very happy because it is their judgment of a new regime in our politics in New Jersey and means that the new order is to be sustained with steadfastness and enthusiasm."

"Taft on First Ballot."

Washington, May 29. — Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Col. Roosevelt, returned to Washington from New York today and made the prediction that Col. Roosevelt would have more than 600 delegates on the first ballot at the Chicago convention, exclusive of contested delegates. Included in this number, he said, would be more than 30 from New York.

President Taft's manager, Congressman W. B. McKinley of Illinois, asserted this morning that the president's actual strength at present was 574 delegates, exclusive of the delegates at large in Ohio or Texas. He was emphatic in his prediction of a nomination for the president on the first ballot.

Taft Expects Nomination.

Washington, May 29. — President Taft's belief that he has enough delegates pledged and instructed for him to control the Republican national convention was not shaken by the victory of Col. Roosevelt in the New Jersey primaries.

White House officials made no official statement, but Taft leaders who saw the president today would not recede from the president's own figures, which he said gave him thirty more delegates than necessary to nominate.

Friends of Mr. Taft admitted today that much now depended on the Republican national committee. They were confident, they said, that the committee would be for Mr. Taft. Talk of defections among Southern delegates pledged or instructed for Mr. Taft was revived today, but Mr. Taft's political advisers professed to believe these delegates would stand by him.

"Nothing But Death."

It positively was stated the president's name would be presented to the convention no matter what happened, and that this would bear out the statements he made months ago, "nothing but death" would keep him out of the fight.

Just how far Mr. Taft will go in making plans for the convention was not revealed today. He now is interested particularly in the platform, it is said, and in the selection of a man to present his name to the convention.

So far the president has not asked anyone to present his name, but has under consideration several of his friends.

Mr. Taft worked in the White House study signing mail and glancing over important documents and the returns from New Jersey until 2 o'clock this morning, but was at his desk in the executive offices before 9 o'clock.

No general conference of the president's supporters was scheduled for today, but several dropped in, including Attorney General Wickersham, Senator Crane of Massachusetts and Secretary MacVeagh.

WILL "SHOW" DOUBTERS

other garden vegetables will be carefully selected.

The idea of a homecroft dinner was enthusiastically received by the members of the local society at a meeting held last evening at the Commercial club. It will show in a very striking manner what can be grown in Duluth, and in connection with it an exhibition is planned. In this preserved fruits and vegetables grown in Duluth will be shown. The dinner and exhibition will be held late in the summer when the produce is grown, and the spring "broilers" are ready for the ultimate destination of all chickens.

Society's Plans.

The society also took preliminary steps looking to the accomplishment of much telling work during the opening agricultural season. A general council, consisting of twenty-five of the most active members of the club, will work out the plans of the club in detail. This council will be divided into sub-committees, which will have charge of various details of carrying out the plans of the club. The council will meet about once a month. Its work will be under the general direction of the executive committee of the club.

The club expects, about the first of next week, to have work actually in progress on an acre of land at Woodland. The use of this acre has been donated by C. Francis Colman, who is himself one of the leaders of the club. Here the club will conduct an experimental station, where gardeners, professional or amateur, may find out how to raise the vegetables to which this climate and locality are best adapted. It is expected that the use of the full acre for this purpose will not be necessary, and some of the land will probably be allotted on the same terms on which land in other parts of the city will be allotted by the club to people who would like to do gardening, but have no land of their own available. All that will be charged for the use of the land will be merely what it costs to plow it up.

The club will endeavor in the near future to obtain also a plot of ground on the hillside near the central part of the city.

One of the first things that the club will do will be to start an active campaign for members. It is desired to have as many members as possible in order to give the club as much strength as is practicable. Printed membership blanks will be obtained and and active canvass started without delay. Women will be enrolled as well as men. Many women were in attendance at the meeting last evening and they showed a most enthusiastic interest in the project for which the club was organized. A "producers' membership' costing $1 was provided for.

The executive committee was enlarged by the addition of A. H. Crasweller, M. M. Grasser, Bishop James McGolrick, Charles S. Mitchell and F. G. Hanson.

A finance committee of five was appointed to consist of C. Francis Colman, chairman; Harold G. House, C. E. Roe, O. L. Mather and J. A. B. Neal A committee to conduct a publicity campaign was named, consisting of A. B. Hostetter, A. H. Crassweller and C. E. Roe. A series of homeroofing resolutions will drawn up and published. Mass meetings will be held from time to time to interest people and give them instructions on gardening. It is intended to interest not only adults, but children as well. In the fall the club intends to give instructions as to the best methods of keeping vegetables during the winter.

The club will have a permanent headquarters of its own in the downtown district in the near future.

declared that no news has been received from the front. No important military movements are expected to occur before the arrival of Gen. Jose J. Monteagudo tomorrow, when he will take chief command.

Question Gomez's Power.

Washington, May 29.—Doubt is expressed here that the Cuban government will have 9,000 troops and volunteers in Oriente province within the next few days. The report that the government would muster that number is believed to have been confused with the fact that President Gomez has issued a large number of rifles to law-abiding citizens to protect their property against attack from rebel bands.

It is admitted here the movement is becoming worse in Oriente, with the probability that the flame of insurrection may burst out again in other provinces where the disturbances are believed to have been quelled.

Twelve Rebels Captured.

Havana, May 29.—Twelve negro insurgents were captured today at Saesta, a small fruit port at the entrance to Nipe Bay, according to reports received by the government.

Traffic on the Guantanamo & Western railroad is still interrupted. No further news has been received from the province of Oriente.

Cass Lake, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The postoffice at Farris was robbed during the night, and all the stamps, money and articles of value taken. Suspicion points to two men seen hanging around yesterday. They were tracked one mile towards Cass Lake and the trail then was lost.

KENTUCKIANS IN ROW OVER CONTROL

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—The Kentucky Democratic state convention met here today to name the state delegation of twenty-six to the national Democratic convention. Nearly 1,000 of the 1,224 delegates are instructed for Champ Clark, who carried every district in the county conventions.

Chief interest centers around control of the state organization, with Governor McCreary and Senator-elect Ollie M. James leading opposing factions as candidates for temporary chairman.

Developments yesterday and last night, according to local papers, involve an effort to defeat Urey Woodson for re-election to the national committee, of which he has been secretary for a number of years.

THREE LOSE THEIR SEATS

Half of Virginia Aldermen Under Fire Fail to "Come Back."

Progressives Elect Three Men and Mayor Murphy Feels Satisfied.

Virginia, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The special city election held yesterday to vote on the question of recalling or re-electing six aldermen who had been attacked by the Progressive league as not being responsive to the wishes of their constituents resulted in a drawn battle, numerically, three being re-elected and three being defeated by as many Progressives.

Alderman Michael Boylan, president of the council was re-elected in the First; J. L. Kimball in the Fourth and A. D. Heritage in the Fifth.

The aldermen who failed of re-election are L. A. Peterson, alderman-at-large; Alfred Staff of the Second ward and Frank Weber of the Sixth ward. The new members of the city council who were put in the field by the Progressive league and who are allies of Mayor M. A. Murphy, are C. W. Lundstrom, alderman-at-large; William Ketola of the Second ward and George Harvey of the Sixth ward.

In the new council the mayor will have the support, in his policies, of six of the nine aldermen in the council, whereas, since his election he has been in a minority with only three members, Aldermen McGhee, Coffey and Mollan, as dependable support.

Mayor Murphy Pleased.

Mayor Murphy and Carl R. Johnson, president of the Progressive league, both stated after the final results had been announced that they were well satisfied although they had expected to elect more than three of their six candidates.

The whole vote was 1,288 on a registration of 1,736. The hardest fight was in the First ward where President Boylan won by the narrow margin of three over Claude G. Gill, the candidate of the Progressive league.

The vote on alderman-at-large, in the six wards was as follows:

C. W. Lundstrom—First ward, 120; Second ward, 94; Third ward, 100; Fourth ward, 103; Fifth ward, 73; Sixth ward, 136; total, 626.

L. A. Peterson—First ward, 140; Second ward, 46; Third ward, 51; Fourth ward, 101; Fifth ward, 78; Sixth ward, 89, total, 496.

J. G. Mattala, Socialist—First ward, 28; Second ward, 36; Third ward, 33; Fourth ward, 7; Fifth ward, 17; Sixth ward, 45; total, 166.

Aldermen Vote in Detail.

The following was the vote in the wards, the first named being the alderman who has held the seat, the second the Progressive League candidate, the third, the Socialist candidate:

First ward—Michael Boylan, (elected) 141; Claude G. Gill, 141; C. M. Jackson, 23.

Second ward—Alfred Staff, 57; William Ketola (elected), 97; F. O. Stierna, 27.

Third ward—No ward election. F. J. Mollan holds the seat.

Fourth ward—J. L. Kimball (elected), 103; Adolph Keller, 93; William Lyons, 10.

Fifth ward—A. D. Heritage (elected), 87; S. A. Nelson, 76; W. F. Earhart, 17.

Sixth ward—Frank Weber, 75; George Harvey (elected), 143; W. O. Snyder, 45.

These together with Aldermen R. J. McGhee and Daniel Coffey, who did not figure in the recall constitute the new aldermanic body. It is reported that Michael Boylan may retain the presidency of the council.

Two Mulcted for Indulging Too Freely in Drink.

Eveleth, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sam Johnson, a laborer on the new range railroad work, was found lying as one dead on the roadside just out of town. All efforts to arouse the man were unavailing, and a horse and buggy was resorted to to get him into town and lodge him in jail. A doctor was sent for, and after much effort brought out some signs of life. Johnson told Municipal Judge Moylan that he couldn't remember much about his experience. He was fined $5 and assessed $7.50 to cover court costs, physician's fee and livery hire.

Hank Rossiter, another laborer, went on the war path and it took two policemen to land him in jail. Tuesday he was sorry but got $5 and costs just the same.

Chisholm People Send Big Delegation to Greet Sole Duluthian.

Chisholm, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—When a delegation of thirty-two business men with sixteen automobiles lined up at the Missabe depot here yesterday to welcome visitors from Duluth for the annual banquet of the St. Louis County club they gave a gasp of astonishment when one lonely man from the Head of the Lakes left the train, Warren E. Greene. He was greeted warmly and along with other visitors enjoyed an automobile ride about the village. Many of the range towns were represented when the banquet was held last night at the O'Neill hotel. L. B. Arnold of the Duluth & Iron Range road had arrived in the meantime so two Duluth people were present.

C. T. Knapp Toastmaster.

In the absence of president Hearding of the county club C. T. Knapp of Chisholm was toastmaster. State Auditor Iverson spoke on state swamp and mining lands. McDONNELL MAY GET PAVING JOB

Duluth Contractor Among Low Bidders for Big Hibbing Contract.

Hibbing, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids for the paving of Second and Third avenues and Pine, Center and Cedar streets were opened at the regular meeting of the council last evening, but the contract will not be awarded until a special meeting of the council this afternoon.

The competition will be between the bidders on creosoted wood block and bitulithic. McDonnell of Duluth is the low bidder on bitulithic with the General Constructing company and Coons & Butler of Hibbing and McDonnell are low on the creosoted block.

Bids In Detail.

The bids were as follows per square yard with grading and everything complete: Warren Bros., bitulithic, $2.55; P. McDonnell, wood block, $2.70; bitulithic, $2.40. Coons & Butler, three-inch wood block, $2.57; three and one-half inch wood block, $2.77; bitulithic, $2.63; Peterson & Johnson, Duluth, wood block, $2.93; bitulithic, $2.76. The bids given above are the only ones that will be considered in the final awards. Some of the contractors submitted bids on other materials, but the council has decided to designate either creosoted wood block or bitulithic for the improvement. The contract will cover only that portion of the paving to be done by the city, according to the specifications, as the street car company must pave between its tracks and to the end of the ties with the same material used by the city. There was a big crowd on hand at the city hall when the bids were opened, when the council took an adjournment until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Complaint Against Saloon.

Chief of Police wring sent a communication to the council to the effect that complaints of robberies had recently been frequent from patrons of the Bank saloon at 204 Pine street and that the most recent had been made Saturday by Matt Thompson of the Carson Lake location, who alleges that he was relieved of $6 by the bartender Saturday of last week. The communication was referred to the license committee for investigation on its merits. Applications were received from E. M. McCormick for the position of paving inspector and from the Duluth Testing Laboratory for the inspection of the materials used in the paving contract. Hiram A Miller of Boston applied "to the selectmen" for the position of consulting engineer The applications were placed on file.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumin water very nourishing and refreshing. This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice or flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress.

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients.

"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In any case of stomach trouble, nervous prostration or brain fag, a 10 days trial of Grape-Nuts will work wonders toward nourishing and rebuilding, and in this way ending the trouble. "There's a reason" and trial proves.

It also caused high temperatures in the Central Atlantic states. Another area of low barometer has moved in from the Pacific coast and now central over Alberta and has caused light showers over North Pacific districts. Cooler weather has overspread the Central states extending from the Dakotas to the Gulf of Mexico. Light to heavy frosts occurred this morning in the Michigan Copper country. Strong to high winds prevailed yesterday in the Southwest: Oklahoma reporting dust storms. At the Head of the Lakes cloudy, unsettled weather with not much change in temperature will probably prevail during the ensuing thirty-six hours.

THREE HARBORS WEDDING.

Henry Larson and Miss Delaney Made One.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.) — Miss Margaret Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Delaney, and Henry Larson were married at the Catholic church today by Rev. Patt. Mrs. James McGivern of Biwabik was the matron of honor, while Walter Larson, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride wore lavender mentor silk and carried a beautiful prayer book bouquet of lilly of the valley. The matron of honor wore a gown of white mesaline and carried an arm sheath of pink Killarney roses. The church was charmingly decorated in wild cherry blossoms. After the ceremony relatives of the young couple adjourned to the home of the bride's parents, where breakfast was served. The house was elaborately decorated with pink and white flowers and ribbons.

The couple left immediately as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Odric Le Clair, in a short trip. They will take an extended trip to southern points after which they will be at home to their friends in the Delaney flat on Sixth avenue. Both Mr. and Mrs. Larson are well known in the city, having resided here from their childhood, and are very popular in society circles. Mr. Larson is connected with the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company as machinist in their local shops.

Visited in Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Emil Anderson and children of Hibbing were guests of Mrs. C. W. Nordeen Sunday.

FORCED TO LEAP FROM WINDOW

Park Point Young People Have Narrow Escape in Burning Home.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of C. A. George at 2935 Lake avenue south at an early hour this morning. Mary George and her brother, Harry, saved themselves by leaping from a window on the second floor. The young woman's clothes were scorched by the flames and the young man's hair was singed.

Mr. George was awakened by the crackling of the flames and had barely time to escape, carrying his wife in his arms. The children on the floor above were awakened to find their escape cut off from the front and rear. The window was all that remained and they lost no time in leaping to the ground. The loss will be about $3,000. About $100 damage was done to the roof of the adjoining house, occupied by T. F. Beleau.

PIONEER MENOMINEE DENTIST IS CALLED.

Menominee, Mich., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.) — Dr. J. D. Crawford, aged 64, owner and manager of the Crawford Box Manufacturing company and one of the largest holders of real estate in this city, died suddenly yesterday while on a visit to his ranch at Cora, Wyo. He was the first dentist to locate in Menominee.

LONG LAKE HOLDS BODY.

Still Dragging for Corpse of Drowned Victim.

The immediate vicinity where the body is supposed to have gone down has been dragged and dynamited without any results. It is a rocky ledge and about thirty feet deep.

The 4-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flack was buried today. The funeral being held in the Catholic church.

IS DOCTOR OF GREAT ABILITY

Lauded By Patients He Cured By Electro Medical Methods.

The ever-pleasant doctor of the Electro Medical Corporation seems to have an ever-crowded office, and though woe and misery is printed on most of the faces through long suffering, they all seem apparently relieved when the doctor shakes hands with them. All live in hopes of getting cured, all have been treated by other doctors and most come to the Electro Medical Doctors as their last resort. When the examining doctor greets his patients with a hearty handshake and a smile that won't come off, the patients apparently seemed to be relieved of pain.

"You will be all right again;" encouraging words like these seem to be habitual with the doctor, but they never fail to bring forth a radiant smile from the men and women who suffer. "You feel better today, and next week you will be entirely well, all cured, and then you may go home to your folks to Escanaba. Write them today that you will be home surely next Saturday, and that you will be all well."

When he said these encouraging words, which were spoken in such a kind way, they did not fail to bring forth tears of joy, and the young woman was evidently moved by this news. A "thank you, doctor, thank you," was all she could say. This young lady was Mrs. Anderson who came to Duluth for some female trouble. She was afraid of an operation the doctors of her home town wanted to perform on her. By reading in the papers of the wonderful cures of the Electro Medical Doctors have done, she became convinced, that perhaps she also could be cured without an operation. The Doctors have been successful lately in curing children of tuberculosis joints. This disease usually takes several years for the children, and then leaves them to be cripples; the Doctors have cured both cases that came to them for treatment. They have also cured several cases of Bright's disease, one malignant, fatal cancer of the rectum, one cancer of the breast, one cancer-tumor of the mastoid region, and more than a hundred cases of all kinds of stomach troubles. "In fact, there is not a chronic disease in the United States, except leprosy, which we were not successfully curing," said the doctor.

"To what do you ascribe your success?" was asked the doctor. "To the knowledge of the correct application of Electro Medicine in different diseases, as for one thing, and the other may be ascribed to what is usually called skill, as well as science, which is necessary in diagnosis. We may know a thing is done and yet not be able to do it. Knowledge is free as the air; it is simply imparted. It is simply gained by those who desire it and lost to those who do not appreciate it. But skill is a different thing. It is earned as a laborer earns his wages, two for one. It is the right of the sick to have the most skillful attendant they can procure; it is their right to know the difference between skill and awkwardness, but the unscientific pretender, the representative of medical theories, that has neither skill or awkwardness has no more right to attend the sick than the wolf has in a sheep-fold."

The office of the Electro Medical Doctors is located at No. 26 W. Superior St. (upstairs). The Doctors will stay here permanently and erect a sanitarium in this city.

GLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

Frank Jackcey, an Indian 25 years of age, died on the Northern Pacific passenger train which is due here at 6:30 in the morning while being hurried from Moose Lake to a hospital in this city.

Jackcey was struck by a Soo freight train about 11130 last night while working in the yards at Moose lake. He was picked up by the train crew and given temporary medical assistance. He had but the slimest chance of recovery, and this was not overlooked, the injured man being placed on board the train in order that he might get the best of treatment in a local hospital. But the shock and the loss of blood were too much for him to withstand and he died on the way.

But little is known of Jackcey here and the details of the accident are very meager. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Charles J. Stewart, where it is being held pending efforts to locate relatives or friends.

The cruel arm of the law did not allow comely 17-year-old Esther Mountjoy to finish the trip which she started from the home of her parents at Ishpeming, Mich., to that of her married sister in Winnipeg.

As she stepped off the South Shore train last evening she was taken in charge by two plain clothes men from headquarters, where she was booked as a runaway girl.

This morning friends who had known her for a long while in Ishpeming called at the station for her. They were allowed to take the girl to their home with them, where she will remain until she is placed on the train for her trip back to her parents' home. Esther's eyes were red from weeping and she was heart broken over the unexpected interruption of her journey.

She said that she had left home against the consent and without the knowledge of her parents. She explained that the ticket had been sent to her by her sister, adding that the sister knew how her parents felt about the matter, but advised her to leave, anyhow.

A reward of $50 has been offered for information disclosing the whereabouts of William Eddleston, who disappeared from his home at Winnipeg a year ago. It is stated that he was not overly bright and probably wandered away without realizing where he was going. He is 30 years of age, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, is of rather slender build with a dark complexion and has a broken front tooth. The young man's father has died since he left home and his mother, Mrs. S. A. Eddleston, of 607 Manitoba avenue, Winnipeg, is most anxious to find him. She is greatly worried lest something unusual has happened to him.

Eli Higgs, who wore a large shiny badge with the word "detective" inscribed across its face, pleaded not guilty in police court this morning when he was arraigned on a charge of having stolen $6 from William Mitchell. His trial was set for this afternoon.

Mitchell states that although practically strangers to each other, he and Higgs had engaged a common room at the New England hotel on West First street. Last evening he woke up from a nap and asserts that he saw Higgs tip-toeing out of the room. A hasty examination of his pocketbook showed that $6 had been extracted and he caused the arrest of Higgs on the charge of having stolen it.

Jim Smith reported this morning that he was shy $15 when he woke up in the Nicollet hotel on the bowery this morning. He said that he was a stranger in town and had gone to bed with a man he had never seen before. When he woke up his bed companion and his cash had both taken their departure.

The victim had $1.35, which the thief had been kind enough to leave for breakfast. He was lucky that he had that much left.

Cases of that kind continue to come into headquarters. Somehow it seems impossible for many people to refrain from practically extending invitations to somebody to take their money away from them. They come into the city with a quantity of cash and go to bed with men who are absolute strangers to them and do other equally foolish things without taking the slightest precaution to protect themselves.

P. J. Metcalf, arrested on a charge of having passed a worthless check for $20 in the saloon of Coughlin and Hartlage at 421 West Superior street, will have his examination June 2 at 10 o'clock. The hearing had been set for this morning but was postponed.

Barta Selva, arrested on a charge of trespass Monday night, paid a fine of $5 in police court yesterday afternoon. It was reported that he was trying to enter a box car, but this the prisoner strenuously denied.

The Duluth Police Relief association held a meeting yesterday afternoon preparatory to changing some of the laws governing the organization. The changes are proposed to bring the society to a higher degree of efficiency. Definite action will not be taken until a later meeting.

Still not a board has been altered in the police station. The bids opened for the remodeling were rejected and an architect authorized to draw plans for adding a third story. After these plans are drawn and the specifications prepared more bids will be asked. This all takes time. The city hasn't got the cash to do anything, so it seems that the officials might kill time this way as any other. Yet work has been started on the new hillside fire hall and there wasn't any money when that contract was let.

MEET NEXT IN DETROIT

Northern Baptists Close Their Convention at Des Moines, Iowa.

Clear Mission Board of Extravagance Charge—Favor Medical Marriages.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 29.—Detroit unanimously was awarded the next annual Northern Baptist convention at the closing session of the Baptists here today. Denver was the only other city considered. The 1913 convention will open the third Wednesday in May.

"Jesus Christ is not going to play the oratorio of the redemption on a drum and fife, but on the combined instruments of the combined orchestra of the East and of the West," said Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin of New York, in addressing the convention today.

"True religion must rejuvenate itself with every generation," he said. "I have no sympathy for the sentiment of simply applauding the work which has been done. We should carry out the work of those who have gone before."

Why They Are Missionaries.

Twenty young men and women, newly appointed foreign missionaries, stood up on the platform and told why they are going into the foreign fields. Five of the young women are fiancees of young men who are going into far countries.

President Taft and Secretary Fisher of the interior department are urged to restore and enforce Commissioner Valentine's order, No. 601, which forbids sectarian instruction and the use of sectarian garb and insignia by teachers in government schools for the Indians, in resolutions adopted by the convention. The resolutions will be forwarded to Washington at once, it was announced.

The American Baptist foreign mission board was cleared of the charge of extravagance by the almost unanimous action of the convention. The board will not be restricted to the sum of $120,000 for home office expenditures, as was recommended by the committee which made the report of extravagance.

Favor "Medical Marriages."

Ministers of the Baptist faith are urged to solemnize no marriage which does not have medical sanction, in a resolution adopted by the convention. The resolution also advised the teaching of sexology to the young both by parents and teachers as a safeguard to these students in later life.

The Kenyon-Shepard bill now pending in congress, which permits the states to regulate the shipment of liquors for illegal use, received enthusiastic indorsement.

Rev. Carter Helm Jones of Oklahoma City, Okla., was elected president of the American Baptist Foreign society. Other elected were: First vice-president, J. ——; elected were: First vice-president, W. Carpenter, Omaha; second vice-president, Andrew McLeigh, Chicago; third vice-president, Rev. W. B. Hinson, Portland, Ore.; recording secretary, George B. Huntington, Newton Center, Mass.; foreign secretary, Rev. J. H. Franklin, Colorado Springs, Colo.; home secretary, Rev Fred P. Haggard, Boston, Mass.; treasurer, Ernest S. N. Buther, Boston

The report of the nominating committee was accepted with the exception of two men who declined to serve as members of the board of managers

To the Fishermen.

The "South Shore" evening train of Saturdays and Sundays stops at Middlebrook, Cusson and Delta. The west bound morning train of Sundays and Mondays will stop at same points to pick you up. A golden opportunity for capturing the finny tribe.

MINNESOTANS WOULD DROP TAFT

See No Hope of Republican Success With Him as Nominee.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, May 29. — Minnesota members of congress had little to say this morning concerning the Roosevelt victory in New Jersey, further than to repeat their comments on the Ohio result. It was agreed that any further effort to nominate President Taft would be merely an attempt to stifle the desire of the people of the country for another Roosevelt administration. It was again pointed out by those who commented upon the campaign that every expression of the people in primaries had been an overwhelming indorsement of Col. Roosevelt, with the one exception of the result in New Hampshire. It is significant that Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire is himself reported to have agreed that it was useless to try and secure a Republican victory this fall with Taft as the leader of the party.

An echo of the Roosevelt success in Minnesota reached Washington today in the form of a letter from Col. Roosevelt to Representative Davis, thanking him for his part in the victory in that state. Mr. Roosevelt said in his letter:

"I wish most heartily to thank you for what has been accomplished in Minnesota. You were one of the men who stood with me there when there was danger in doing so, and I heartily appreciate it. Faithfully yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

MORE DRINKING AMONG WOMEN

Speaker Says Men of Country Are Becoming More Temperate.

Dr. A. P. Baker, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, declared last evening that the fondness for strong drink was on the increase among the women of the country and on the decrease among the men. The lecture was given at the First Methodist church and was well attended.

The speaker mentioned the increased demands of the employer of labor for temperence, but on the other hand stated that conditions were making it easier for the women to obtain drink, especially the women of the leisure class.

This evening a meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. to organize a voters' league.

PART OF BADGER CROPS RUINED

Rain and High Water Cause Thousands of Dollars Damage.

Appleton, Wis., May 29.—The Shiocton, Wolf and Embarrass rivers are overflowing their banks and thousands of tons of hay have been ruined. Sheriff M. Lochery, who returned today from a trip in the northern part of the county, says the crops are gone and rye and barley are turning yellow from water. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars.

Heavy damage was caused by a cloudburst at Ellington and Greenville, this (Outagamie) county, last night, flooding lowlands to a depth of five feet, washing out bridges and culverts and drowning cattle.

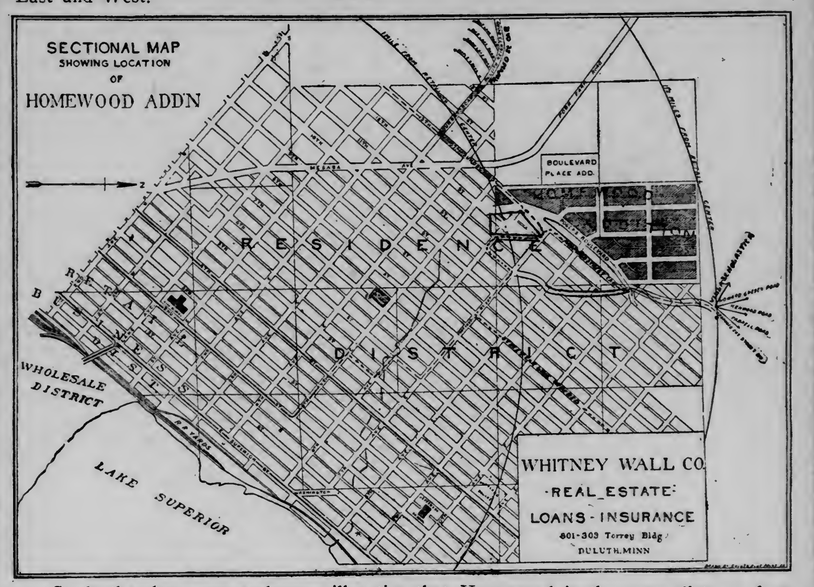
COME TOMORROW AND SEE

HOMEWOOD ADDITION

Salesmen will be on the ground to give any information you may want to know relative to this beautiful Addition.

Remember, Homewood is not a suburb, it is centrally located, only 12 city blocks from Duluth's retail center, and is the Keystone of Duluth's greatest highways leading North, East and West.



Study the above map and you will notice that Homewood is the same distance from Lake avenue as the corner of Superior street and Eleventh avenue east, and also the same distance from Lake avenue as Portland Square on East Fourth street. What better proof can be given of distance.

The question of street car service as far as Homewood Addition is concerned is settled. Street cars will be running within two or three blocks of Homewood this fall.

Sixth avenue east and Ninth street are now being graded so that the street car line can be extended into this district, and the Street Car Officials have notified the City Officials that it has the steel and is ready to lay its rails as soon as these streets are finished.

This means street car service to Ninth street, but it is proposed and the streets are being prepared for an extension of this line along Seventh avenue east to Thirteenth street on out to Kenwood and Villa Scholistica. Street cars will then run within half a block of Homewood on the southern boundary and western boundary.

Study this location and you will notice that the grade from the city proper up through Homewood is easier than at any other point in the city, and it is absolutely the only route leading from the center of the city with an easy grade for all roads leading into the country, north, east and west, and best of all, all roads leading into the surrounding country branch off east, west and north at Homewood. It is therefore the Hub from which all highways branch.

Why are railroads spending millions of dollars building into Duluth?

Why is the United States Steel Corporation spending millions of dollars building a plant in Duluth?

Why are Coal Companies spending millions of dollars in building Docks in Duluth?

Why are other industries looking for locations in Duluth?

Not to spend money, but because Duluth is the natural distributing center of one-third of the entire United States and they know it.

Duluth is bound to grow. The development of Duluth toward the north has not been as great as the development east and west. Why? Simply because street railway transportation has not been given property north of the city.

Street railway transportation is now assured, and this city will certainly expand to the north.

Homewood is in the path of expansion. This is a fact that cannot be disputed, and these facts alone will make values increase rapidly.

This property has been offered on the easy weekly payment plan, and without payment of interest.

We will continue to sell same on these easy terms for a short time only, and if you wish to secure one or more of these lots for a home or an investment, do not fail to act at once.

Prices Range From $100 to $400 Per Lot; a Few Choice Lots a Bit Higher. Terms: $1 to $4 Cash and $1 to $2 Per Week Without Interest. Torrens Certificate for Every Lot.

Remember, visit Homewood tomorrow. Do not wait until improvements now in progress relative to street grading, transportation, etc. are completed, because then prices will climb, and the lot that you can buy today will be selling for 50 per cent or 100 per cent more. Make sure to reap that profit yourself by acting at once.

Salesmen on the ground tomorrow afternoon.

DULUTH'S LOOMING FUTURE.

The Herald is publishing a series of articles about Duluth's talking points.

Every one of the subjects covered is familiar to everybody, or should be.

Yet the bulk and growth and importance of these items that make up the sum of Duluth's greatness and that assure its solid future, when grouped and displayed are proving astonishing to almost everybody.

Taken together, these items mean something big.

They mean that the long expected growth is closely at hand. They mean that the fruits of long years of work and waiting are about to mature.

They mean that Duluth is finishing the slow climb to the top of fortune's wheel, and that it is almost there.

Indeed, if Duluth but realized it, it is there now.

Breaking down the barriers of railroad discrimination in favor of older communities has taken time, but the barriers are coming down rapidly.

When this breaking down was begun, the end was near. It was like pulling a keystone out of an arch: when the keystone goes, the arch falls.

The vast territory immediately tributary to Duluth lay unsettled and undeveloped for many years. Now its settlement and development are proceeding at a prodigious rate. Many thriving towns and farming communities dot an empire that a few years ago was a wilderness. Duluth's growth was limited, in a large measure, by the rate of growth in its territory. That growth is becoming faster every minute. The long years of work are bearing fruit, and like other crops, it is maturing all at once.

Railroad construction through this territory, as shown in the map published in The Herald last Saturday, proves the case. Railroad construction comes in response to a demand for it, created by development; but it precedes an immediate and a greater development. This is more true now when land is scarce—except in Northern Minnesota—than it ever was before.

All great movements are of slow growth. The turning of Duluth from a village into a great city has been a great movement, and therefore slow. During the progress of any great movement, many of its supporters despair because it is slow. It is like the amateur gardener who plants his seeds and then, after a few days, despairs because they have not come above the ground. Then one day he sees the pale cotyledon of the first shoot from his seeds. He has scarcely recovered from his joy when the ground is covered with them.

So it is with the building of Duluth. The seeding time is over—except that, like the gardener, we must keep on seeding for a succession of crops. The crop is up, is growing like weeds, and in a short time—a shorter time than most people realize—the harvest will be here.

Duluth began with every advantage that Providence could provide—climate, location, natural wealth in mine, forest and soil. There were almost too many advantages, because they made people sit back to await a glowing future which these glorious advantages seemed to make certain.

While they waited, competing centers stole some of these advantages. But that is of the past. The advantage of location could be stolen easily enough when Duluth wasn't watching; it couldn't be kept a minute after Duluth woke up and demanded it back. Duluth has awakened, has demanded it back, and is getting it back.

A man who has, perhaps, paid closer attention to traffic matters and Duluth's business relationship with its tributary territory than any other man in Duluth, said the other day that within two years nine out of ten Duluth people would be asking each other how it happened, and why they didn't get in on the ground floor before Duluth sprang, almost in a day, into metropolitan size. Nobody can study the situation in Duluth today without realizing that that man is a prophet.

The hour is at hand. Duluth's quick development is not a matter of ten years hence, or five years hence. It is a matter of tomorrow—almost of today.

Duluth has watched Seattle, Portland, Minneapolis and other cities grow great quickly. Let them now watch Duluth. They will see something worth watching.

Speaking of New Jersey.

Any man who can stay quietly at home, standing solely on his record, before people who know that record and know him, and then win out hands down over the organized opposition of a heretofore invulnerable boss-managed machine—well, he's the kind of a man to tie to.

GARDENING FOR THE YEAR AROUND.

One important phase of the Homecroft movement is that which teaches a gardening and housekeeping economy under which, by co-operation between the two, the good of the garden is stretched out through the whole year.

It has been termed "housekeeping by the year," but the phrase "gardening for the year around" seems to express it better. Everybody keeps house by the year; but not everybody who gardens does it for the year around. It is the aim of the Homecroft movement to teach home gardeners how to do it.

It is not enough to plant seeds and make them grow. To get the best economic results, system should be applied both in planting the seeds and in using the fruits of the gardener's pleasant toil. We know a back yard gardener, new at the business, who planted his garden full at the beginning of his planting season. It grew beautifully; but he had lettuce and radishes enough to supply a hotel, and not enough of many other things. Moreover, he hadn't yet heard of "succession planting," so when his first crop was gathered he had nothing else ready for use. What he should have done with his lettuce and radishes, of course, was to plant a few feet at first, then a few feet more ten days or two weeks later, and so on, so as to assure a continuous supply.

But that is only a rudiment. This amateur gardener hadn't hitched up his garden with the kitchen, so when the growing season was done his kitchen had to fall back on the grocer again.

If he had figured out how much of each vegetable his family would use during the year, fresh, dried, preserved, canned or stored, and planted that much, he would have started on the plan of gardening for the year around. Then he would have had an ample supply of fresh stuff while it was fresh. The surplus he would turn in to the kitchen or the cellar to be held for winter use.

There is scarcely a vegetable or fruit which cannot be stored in some form for winter use. Root crops can be kept in a root cellar or in a properly protected bin in the basement. Most other vegetables and fruits can be turned into excellent winter food in the kitchen. One instance of Homecroft gardening and housekeeping will illustrate. In planting beets, radishes may be sowed, not too thickly. The radishes will be up and ready for use before they interfere with the beets. When they are gone the beets will be pretty well up, and will need thinning. The thinnings, including the tiny beets, make splendid greens. When the beets are ready they may be eaten fresh, and those that remain over after the immediate demands of the household are supplied can be pickled or preserved for winter use.

A workman equipped with an acre home, as the Homecroft movement would have him, can be as independent as you please. If he is out of employment for a few days in summer, he can put his time in profitably in his garden; and his work there will pay him as well as his labor for others. His garden will supply the major portion of the family's food; and if the rainy day comes and need presses it can supply practically all of it. The home acre garden will take the place of meat nicely, for a time. Nobody ever starved on a vegetable diet.

It is such plans as these that the Homecroft society preaches and teaches. They mean much for the contentment, well-being and prosperity of the community. They will inevitably lower the cost of living. They will make Duluth an ideal location—though it already is that—for workers and their employers.

Doesn't the Homecroft movement merit your interest, your sympathy and your support? Then get behind it and make it go. It's going anyway, but it will go faster and farther with your help.

Eberhart and Justice.

The governor calls reapportionment a "measure of justice." Sure, and it's a good deal fuller measure than he condescended to insist upon for the people—until he saw a chance to grab some possible personal benefit at the same time.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA'S GROWTH.

State Immigration Commissioner Maxfield says that three thousand to five thousand settlers have come into Minnesota this spring, nearly all into the northern sections. A thousand families, he says, have settled in Northeastern Minnesota alone.

This is the greatest growth Northern Minnesota ever has had in a similar period. The growth of the past year has been more than in the five years preceding. The gathering momentum of development is crowding into a year's growth more than it took ten years to accumulate until the present movement began.

By far the greater part of this growth is in territory that belongs commercially to Duluth—territory that sells in Duluth and that buys here.

This is another of the many straws which show that the wind is blowing good fortune and quick growth to Duluth.

Watch Duluth grow!

Do It Now!

Lorimer asks that the senate delay action on his case. Sure, until about 1916.

GOVERNOR WILSON AT HOME.

Immediately following his complete victory in Minnesota, Governor Wilson yesterday swept New Jersey, his home state, getting twenty-four out of twenty-eight delegates.

He lost the four delegates from two congressional districts, but these were in Essex county, the county dominated absolutely by Bosses Smith and Nugent; and Governor Wilson's loss of these two districts is as creditable to him as any victory he has had anywhere.

It shows vividly the character of the opposition to him, and the character of his opposition shows vividly how important it is that he be nominated—and elected.

The kind of candidate that the Smiths and Nugents of both parties bitterly oppose is the very kind of man this country wants for president.

The Texas Democratic convention yesterday elected a solid and enthusiastic delegation of forty pledged to Wilson. Final returns from the Ohio primaries show that Wilson got nineteen delegates to Harmon's twenty-three, almost dividing the state equally with its popular governor who was elected two years ago by a plurality of a hundred thousand.

President Taft's crushing reverses continued yesterday when New Jersey, where he had made a hard fight in his own behalf, elected a solid delegation of twenty-eight for Roosevelt. The president said that he didn't need the delegation, but he has been misinformed by his managers; he did need it, and he needed Ohio. Taft is, of course, out of the running, and there is little doubt of Roosevelt's nomination.

Profitless Prophecy.

Senator La Follette will now please return and explain to the New Jerseyites what he meant when he said, "If you want to look at a winner, look at me."

GOVERNOR EBERHART'S DEFENSE.

Governor Eberhart has issued a characteristic statement to the voters of Minnesota, in which he conveys the impression that he is greatly aggrieved by the criticism of his administration and the opposition to him that have been so prevalent of late.

Furthermore, his message to the public seems to be to the effect that he meant well, anyway.

The road to political extinction is paved with good intentions mortared firmly by futility and by subserviency to interests that prevent their being carried out.

How's This?

WE WANT WOODROW WILSON! AND WOODROW WILSON WILL IN!

It is noticeable that Sleepy Eye was the only town in Brown county that gave Clark a majority.

In the light of the present campaign, imagine Martha Washington and Dolly Madison as rival candidates for the presidential nomination. Or even Carrie Chapman Catt and Lydia Pinkham.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

QUALIFICATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please answer the following questions in the open court? If a man is an American born citizen and by religion a Roman Catholic, does that bar him from being elected or holding office as president of United States? If an American family takes a trip abroad and a child (boy) is born to them would he not be just as much an American citizen and have the same right as if he was born at home? Thanking you in advance, I am yours respectfully, OLE ASEJELD.

Duluth, May 28.

A man's religion has nothing whatever to do with his eligibility to the office of president, and the fact of his being a Roman Catholic certainly is not a bar to his becoming president.

The Constitution says that a man to be president must be a "natural born citizen." A child of citizen parents traveling abroad is a natural born citizen. A child of citizen parents living abroad is not a natural born citizen, unless his parents are official representatives of the American government, whose duties compel their residence abroad.—The Editor.

WHY NOT GIVE A DULUTH MAN A CHANCE?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Seeing so many of my fellow-townsmen wearing badges with the slogan, "I Am For Duluth," prompts me to ask the question: "Why do not the directors of the Y. M. C. A. select a citizen of this city to succeed Mr. Bevis as secretary of the local association?"

Wouldn't this be doing it for Duluth? Or is it possible that the directors are not able to find a man in our town who is heavy enough, physically and morally, to hold down so responsible a job? Now, Mr. Editor, this is not intended as an idle jest, but it does seem to me that we might try a Duluth man in that position—his for this once, anyhow, and prove that we are true to our slogan and to ourselves.

Duluth, May 28. TITCH HIGGINS.

WHO ARE THE PEOPLE?

In an article in the June American Magazine on "Our Next President and Some Others," Ray Stannard Baker has the following to say about "the people," about whom, of course, we are hearing so much during a presidential campaign:

"Who are the people? Who are the people who are to be trusted with the initiative, referendum and recall?

"It is one of the most curious things in the world, how men differ when they speak of 'the people.' For example, are negroes people? Are women people? In a few places negroes are people in a political sense, but in the South there are 9,000,000 of them who are not people. In a few places women are people, to be trusted with the democratic instrumentalities, but in most places they are not. If we could really agree on who are the people, we should have all our troubles settled in a twinkling! But we can't; and that is the very basis of this and of all other great political crises.

"Now, then, in the past, while nominally we have had a democracy in this country, we have had a very narrow idea as to how many people should be included in the democracy. In early days in New England only church-members could vote, and afterward only owners of a certain amount of property. Every political revolution is caused by the effort of a new class of people to get into the democracy. No mere quarrel over an injury done to a material interest ever produced a revolution. Such quarrels produce revolts, but not revolutions.

"Now, the conservatives of today—Taft, Harmon and others—are willing to tinker the tariff, and thus redistribute in small measure a few material benefits. But the proposal of the progressives goes deeper: They would let in as sharers of government, with the business men and property owners who have so long dominated the country, an immense class of people further down in the scale—men who, though nominally voters, have in reality had nothing to say about their government. And that is why, to all of those who are comfortable and safe, such men as La Follette and Wilson are dangerous. They are revolutionaries. They disturb the former equilibrium of control. They are looked upon much as Old King John must have looked upon his barons, coming to force him to sign the magna charta, letting in a whole new class of people to share in the government.

"Nothing, indeed, can exceed the amazement of a modern conservative —the type of the comfortable, prosperous business men—when he sees whole states sending in huge majorities for such "demagogues," and "revolutionaries" as Roosevelt, La Follette or Wilson. They have the feeling of the angler who suddenly feels the surprising tug of a fish bigger than he supposed was to be found in the pool! The reason is that formerly, when he wanted political news he asked his friend the banker, or the merchant or the railroad owner —and lo! he got his true prophecy. He never considered the mass of the people at all. But now the mass is awakening, rubbing its eyes, and demanding a share in the government."

She Was Willing.

Cleevland Plaindealer: The man was one of the sort that women like because of their awkwardness, ugliness, masculinity, gaucherie and all that. His feet were too big for his legs, though his legs were enormous. His chest was too big for his head, though he wore a 7½ size in hats.

He was like a St. Bernard pup, but older than any young dog.

He had never been at a regular dance before. The girls looked like delicate flowers to him, and he hardly dared to touch one of them. He looked to the girls like a new idea—and they hoped he'd arrive. He did after a minute or two. He waddled across the floor, made a stand in front of the littlest girl, and said, more or less ungrammaically:

"Can I dance with you?"

She was rattled, but she answered with a smile:

"I don't know, but I like you well enough to let you try!"

THE EXTRA SESSION.

Fences Blown Down.

Ortonville Herald-Star: Governor Eberhart has called an extra session of the legislature. Just what for no one seems to know, more than some of his political fences have been blown away by the Gordon cyclone, and he wants help in repairing them. Eberhart sees his finish, and is grasping at the only straw left.

Desperate Act.

Breckenridge Telegram: It is the desperate act of a badly beaten man. While the legislature is in session, it would be well for the members to pass a few of the important measures which the interests managed to throttle at the regular session. Let us have a good state-wide primary, reapportionment, a corrupt practices act, distance tariff, county option, and a few others. A corrupt practices act that would prevent agents of the breweries going up and down the land working for the election of a governor and a legislature that would be worth the cost of an extra session if they had to stay in St. Paul until the snow flew.

The Reason for the Call.

Mizpah Enterprise: Governor Adolph O. Eberhart has finally called an extra session of the legislature. His call was issued, not for the purpose of acceding to the public demand, or yet for the purpose of proving that his connections with the railroads and breweries are not as has been repeatedly stated, but in order to allow him to pass legislation which might enable the political bosses to swing the state for him. It is, without question, an admission by the governor that as matters stand now he cannot be elected. It is an admission that the strength of the breweries and railroads is not what it has been. And when the extra session is convened it will be so artfully subsidized that well-meaning legislators will be unable to do the common people any real good.

To Devise Ways and Means.

Coleraine Optic: Governor Adolphus has called an extra session of the legislature to convene June 4, ostensibly for the purpose of enacting some needed legislation, but in reality to devise ways and means for his re-election. A drowning man will grasp at a straw, all right, all right.

An Improbable Guess.

Sauk Center Herald: The governor has changed his mind several times on the question of a session. At the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association over a year ago he said he would call such a session if the people wanted it. A few months later, when there was a vociferous demand, the governor reversed himself and said he wouldn't. The governor reverses himself again and calls the session. The Herald hopes the governor is proud of his record of flopping: it doesn't know of anybody else who is.

It looks to the Herald as though the governor, facing a campaign without financial support from the interests and lacking the advice of his recent shrewd political backers, and smarting under the smash of his machine, retaliated with the special session call. But the Herald believes it is too late for the governor to save himself.

Desperate Chance.

St. Peter Herald: It is not difficult to follow the gubernatorial mental processes. His machine had been beaten and there was a moral certainty that it conquerors would control the next convention, with a consequent elimination of any chance of his own renomination. He reasoned that his position as governor would give him a commanding advantage, and he feels that there is a possibility of gaining a plurality over a field of favorite sons. Hence he took the desperate chance of convening the legislature in special session. It will avail him nothing; dissatisfaction with his administration is too widespread. Never again will Adolph Olson Eberhart be governor of Minnesota.

Going Down.

Browns Valley Tribune: The governor is being severely and almost unanimously criticized for calling an extra session at this late day, when he had ample time and opportunity of doing it when it was really demanded. His present action is taken as the last act of a drowning man, politically speaking.

Cheap Politics

Sauk Rapids Sentinel: Governor Eberhart's announcement of an extra session of the legislature came as a surprise, directly following the Republican convention in Minneapolis last week. After the attitude he has shown in the matter of permitting the people to express a preference for the candidates they desire for the higher offices in a primary election, and having refused to call the legislature together when he thought his machine was in complete control of affairs, his present actions show him up plainer than ever before as the cheapest kind of a politician. The repudiation of his machine convinced him that something had to be done to save his skin, and he thought out the legislative grandstand play—or rather some of his lieutenants thought it out for him. Deathbed repentence has never appealed very strongly to the generality of people, and it will not in the case of the governor.

Gov. Wilson's Candidacy.

New York Evening Post: Friends of Woodrow Wilson have reason to be encouraged by recent gains. In Ohio, the vote for the New Jersey governor was surprisingly large, all things considered, and gave him a quarter of the delegates. They, however, under the unit rule, will all be for Harmon on the first ballot. But the demonstration of Wilson's strength with the Ohio democrats remains impressive. Even more marked was the favor shown him in the Virginia convention yesterday. Though that state's delegates go to Baltimore uninstructed, it is known that most of them are for Wilson. These additions to his list are not numerically great, but they indicate a significant change in the course of the campaign developments. For one thing, they show that the quiet combination of all the other candidates against Wilson is no longer working effectively. In spite of it he is making headway. Another point to fix attention upon is the checking of the drift to Champ Clark. The movement for the speaker was helped along at first by many who did not delude themselves with the idea that Clark was either a fit nominee or could possibly win in the convention, but who thought of him as a convenient means of heading off Wilson? But now they are alarmed at their own success. They are geting a clearer notion of the great emergency which will confront the Democrats at Baltimore, and are well aware that Champ Clark would be ridiculous as the man put forward to meet it. This feeling, growing more intense every day, partly accounts for the slowing up of the Clark boom. Wilson is at least a candidate to be seriously considered by his party. That cannot be said of Champ Clark.

Champ Clark's Chief Claims.

Ray Stannard Baker, in June American Magazine: It is one of Clark's chief recommendations that he has nothing very serious against him. He stands for nothing new or strange or surprising. He is an old-fashioned institutional Democrat. It is his foremost claim as a candidate that no matter what has happened in the last twenty-five years, he has always voted the Democratic ticket! He was equally agile in supporting both Bryan and Parker; no matter what a candidate believed; if he bore the name Democrat, Clark was behind him. He has no ideas that are not sanctioned by Democratic precedent. Indeed, he is a fine example of the old-fashioned partisan politician.

As he stands at the speaker's desk in his long coat—and he is a distinguished looking figure—or appears on the street in his broad brimmed black sleuch hat, with a touch of color in his neck scarf, he makes on think—well, of Henry Clay. His speeches are old-fashioned—illuminated by quotations from old poems and songs, old adages, and catch phrases from the Bible and Thomas Jefferson, and enlivened with old-fashioned gibes at the Republican party.

That Extra Session Call.

Minneota Mascot: It was an act of desperation.

The wild throw of a man cornered.

We refer to the extra session call of Governor Eberhart.

It was the crowning act of a weak administration.

Calling a session at this time is one of the most ridiculous things that has ever been pulled off in Minnesota politics.

There can be but one reason for it and that is that the governor grasps at this thing as the last straw, the last chance to save his political scalp.

If not why did he not heed the clarion call for an extra session so plainly trumpeted from the four corners of the state last winter?

If he wanted to call an extra session why did he not call it last January? Then legislators could have had more time to consider measures of importance.

We have never favored the idea of calling the legislature of 1911 back. To us it has always seemed that the state should have been just a little thankful that the constitution limits the length of a session to ninety days.

But let that be as it may—it is just as possible that the legislature of 1911 has been unduly held up for public censure.

Aside from any and all consideration of the legislature of 1911, we fail to see anything to justify the action of the governor.

He has discovered that he has an uphill proposition face to face, that the people are aroused and dissatisfied, that his machine is not as efficient as he thought and that if he would save the day for the Eberhart crowd he must do something drastic, something having the semblance of strength.

And so we have an extra session of the legislature.

We have it for the purpose of saving the governor and his official family.

But will it answer the purpose?

That is a question still to be answered.

If we listen to the comment of the legislators that answer would seem to be rather unfavorable to the governor.

Had Governor Eberhart tried he could not have hit upon a worse time than now to call a session of the legislators.

Two Candidates on the Tariff.

New York World: Thursday two candidtes for a presidential nomination, one a Republican, the other a Democrat, discussed the tariff.

Mr. Roosevelt, who dreaded the subject all the years he was in the White House, said at Passaic that he believed in a protective tariff, but he believed in seeing the benefits in the envelopes of the working men and working women, and not all stopping in the office. He would have a national bureau supervise the tariff so as to obtain "industrial justice."

How he would legislate the benefits of a protective tariff into the pockets of working men and working women Mr. Roosevelt did not explain. How his tariff bureau would obtain "industrial justice" he did not explain. Nor did he say whether he was to obtain "industrial justice" by a higher tariff, a lower tariff or by standing pat.

Governor Wilson devoted most of his speech at the Economis club dinner to the tariff and the necessity of divorcing business and politics. He denounced the system under which "particular interests that have grown very strong under the tariff play a dominating part in the whole business of seeking favors and privileges by means of taxation," and declared:

> The emancipation of the rank and file of business men in this country, of the average manufacturer, the merchant, the average banker, from irresponsible central government, will be the beginning of our real prosperity. That emancipation will begin when the tariff is impartially revised; when the foundations of monopoly are cut away; when the law speaks out its meaning in unmistakable terms, and is unhesitatingly enforced against every effort to throttle free enterprise and break down the initiative of the average man.

When will Mr. Roosevelt discuss the tariff frankly, as Governor Wilson has frequently done? Is he afraid of the issue?

The Morass of Dreadful Alarm.

Chicago Tribune: Our very highly respected friend, Col. Henry Watterson, is lost again in the jungle. The jabberwocks and the kalapuses are grabbing at him from a dank and dismal tangle where it is all dank and moist—and where the colonel can see only the yellow eyes of the beasts, but he is an intrepid soul and unafraid. He is shouting lustily and laying about him with his trusty snicklaying about him with his trusty snick-ersnee. He'll cut his way out and there'll be a passel of dead and dying hobgoblins left behind him.

The colonel is in the morass of dreadful alarms but he'll get out and he'll keep his fellow countrymen from straying into the frightful place. Hark to the courageous man. He can be heard shouting from the dank depths where the boldest hair might stand on end:

"There is nothing which this mad man (T. R. this time, not Wilson) will not dare attempt under the excitement and the passion of the state of war he has stirred up in his own mind and in the minds of the crazy mobs that follow and applaud him. That he was able to draw a man like Taft into the cesspool attests the cruel injury and wrong a maniac armed to the teeth may accomplish."

Now if some one will lead the colonel out of the geranium bed, we'll lock up the house and go to sleep in peace.

Col. Watterson Sees Civil War.

Chicago News: In his familiar role of trembling for the republic Col. Watterson always scores a success. Indeed, it is one of the best things he does. Therefore, an appreciative public hails with unfeigned satisfaction the colonel's latest and perhaps his greatest effort of the sort. Like that temperamental young person, Miss Fanny Squeers who was screaming all the time she wrote in considerable detail of the inquities of young Nickleby, Col. Watterson was trembling violently for his beloved country all the time he penned his prophecy of civil war published in yesterday's Louisville Courier-Journal.

The inspired colonel sees in his fellow colonel, Roosevelt, a "madman" followed and applauded by "crazy mobs". The issue that has now been raised by "a maniac armed to the teeth," is, says Col. Watterson, "whether, become a world power, this nation shall proclaim to mankind its own failure by the abandonment of its constitution, the overthrow of its safe-guards and the naming of a dictator." Such a state of things is, as every one must concede, serious. Can it be that Col. Watterson has somewhat overdrawn the picture? No, no, "He who says this is not the issue," declares Col. Watterson, "little recks of what he is saying; he who thinks it is not, it were prudent to question his sanity. In its ultimate analysis and its last word, the Roosevelt propaganda is the invocation of a madman to civil war."

There you are. Do not doubt that the situation is even as Col. Watterson says lest you be hurried away to a padded cell, since Col. Watterson will insist upon calling in an alienist to pass upon your case. Be a little circumspect, therefore, in questioning Col. Watterson's views on Col. Roosevelt.

The deepest note of pain in all the eloquent Kentucky colonel's shrieking sentences is struck when he recalls to mind that Col. Roosevelt is winning victories at the polls by the might of the popular ballot. "There can be in his name and person," sobs the colonel, "but one issue—life tenure in the executive office and a civil fabric imperial in everything except its nomenclature." Yet Col. Roosevelt wins popular majorities!

Col. Watterson in any emotional role is grand indeed—a little in King Cambyses' vein, perhaps, but grand, nevertheless.

up lines and lines of space,
Just to warn that votes for women will be women's sure disgrace.

They reiterate the statement that "the home is woman's sphere."
That to guide the little children is a task without a peer,
But they quite forget, in writing, that we're not all mothers here.

They forget that weary toiling leaves us little time for play,
That "the home" is but a legend as we trudge our weary way;
Sewing, writing, teaching, caring for the sick from day to day.

In the busy rush of commerce all that's asked is honest work,
So what we create we're paid for and we lose it if we shirk,
And we leave no unused corner in our brain where sloth can lurk.

Then they ask us why we do it—say we're selfish, hard and cold,
That instead of rearing children we prefer to work for gold.
Tell us that the search for freedom leaves us wrinkled, bent and old.

But they never stop to reason, never stop to realize
That a deep and aching longing lies within our weary eyes,
For a love-mate gone before us and for whom our lone heart cries.

Or it may be we have only lost the man our fancy made
Till we found he wasn't worthy, and bereaved, but unafraid,
We weeping cast him from us—and his ghost will not be laid.

So the woman that is sheltered, with her children and a mate, Shouldn't try to judge the sisters that are left to contemplate.
A long, lone life before them filled with labors, small and great.

We are toiling in the workshop, in the office or the store,
And we fight our daily battles, earn a living, pay the score,
Doing all that men are doing, only asking one thing more.

We are equal in the office, in the business race we run.
If the workers, seekers, thinkers ask the boon their work has won,
Should the parasitic sister check the movement they've begun?
—Irene A. Forde in New York Times.

"And who might you be?" asked the man.

"My name is Trouble," replied the stranger.

"Strange that I got these gray hairs dodging you and never met you before," said the man.

Parade of All Swedish Societies in City Will Be Held.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart of Minnesota will be the principal speaker at the second annual Midsummer's day celebration to be held June 24 at Lincoln park, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. This was announced last evening at a special meeting of the Swedish-American National league of Duluth held at the Bachelors' hall, Nineteenth avenue west and First street.

Although the complete arrangements for the celebration were not made at the meeting, much was accomplished by the members of the league. The various committees made their reports and the tentative plans of the celebration were announced for the first time. Besides Governor Eberhart's letter, the speakers committee has received an acceptance from Dr. C. O. Hertzman of Ashland, Wis., one of the most prominent speakers in that state. A reply to the invitation sent Congressman Lindbergh of Little Falls, Minn., is expected at any time. Other prominent men of Swedish birth have been invited to speak at the celebration.

According to the present plans of the parade committee fifty automobiles will head the procession, starting from the Armory at Second avenue east and First street. From there the line will march to Superior street and thence to Lincoln park, where the festivities for the day will be held. Every band in Duluth will take part in the parade.

OWNERS ARE GROWING UNEASY

Want Paving of Twenty-Third Avenue Begun Without Delay.

The engineering department has not yet made its report on the estimated cost of paving Twenty-first avenue west from Michigan street to Third street.

The property owners on the avenue are anxious to have the work finished this fall, which will necessitate an early start this summer. The matter was referred to the council several weeks ago and was then submitted to the city engineer's office for an estimate. The fact that the matter has been delayed is causing considerable uneasiness among the property owners. Another request will be sent to the council asking for an early estimate of the paving cost, so that work on the improvement may begin some time next month.

Nearly every property owner on the avenue is in favor of paving the street and a majority of the owners have signed the petition.

Since the opening of the street car cut-off on the avenue early this month the need of a paved street has become apparent and again started the agitation for the improvement. The campaign for a paved street began early last fall, when the passing of the third amendment to the charter at the special election last winter interested more of the property owners, until now practically every man on the avenue is in favor of the paving.

TALBOT WILL NOT BE HERE

Head of Woodmen Unable to Come for Dedication Exercises.

Word has been received here that Head Consul A. R. Talbot of Omaha, Neb., will not be able to take part in the dedication exercises of the new Woodmen hall at Twenty-first avenue west and First street. O. W Olson, chairman of the executive committee of Duluth camp, No. 2341, received a letter yesterday from Mr. Talbot in which the latter stated that his present duties as consul are taking all his time and that he would not be able to come to Duluth until some time in July.

Following this letter Mr. Olson called a special meeting of the executive committee at the hall last evening. He read Mr. Talbot's letter and the members then decided to hold dedication exercises Thursday, June 20. The action of the committee will be announced to Mr. Talbot. His presence at the services is not expected by the local committee, however.

Invitations to the affair will be sent to all the local camps and officers of the state camps. A program will be prepared by the sub-committees to be appointed next week. Several prominent state speakers and officers will be invited to the dedication of the building. The members of the local camp had been anxious to have Mr. Talbot, the national consul, take part in the exercises. The dedication was delayed several times so that a convenient date could be set for his appearance in this city. Although the building was opened the first day of this month, the exercises had been postponed from week to week to suit Mr. Talbot's convenience.

The present Woodmen building is one of the best in the state and was built at a cost of $75,000. The auditorium is one of the largest in the city, seating about 750 people. The room is also used for dancing. Work on the structure was started last fall and was finished about the middle of last month.

PROPERTY OWNERS WILL DISCUSS IMPROVEMENT.

For the purpose of discussing the proposed improvement and paving of Twenty-third avenue west, the resi- and property owners on the avenue will meet this evening at the Ensign school, Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street.

Definite plans for improving the highway from Michigan street to Tenth street will be made during the evening. The thoroughfare was paved about ten years ago, but the residents claim that no provision was made at that time to take care of the surplus water in the gutters. The street is now said to be in a deplorable condition and following rain storms the entire avenue is unfit for traffic.

Several of the property owners are anxious to have the entire street repaved. Others believe that a resurfacing of the present pavement with crushed rock would not be as expensive and almost as serviceable. The matter will be fully decided upon at the meeting this evening.

Will Entertain Lodge.

Lysgilmt lodge, No. 7, I. O. G. T. will entertain the members of the North Star lodge at the Maccabee hall this evening. The program will include several musical numbers, recitations and addresses. A special series of moving pictures will be shown during the evening. The women of the order will serve refreshments the latter part of the evening.

Annual Music Festival.

The Epworth league of the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, entertained at its annual music festival in the church parlors last evening. The various numbers were well received, the feature of the evening being the singing of a quartet from Two Harbors. Others who took part were the Misses Frances Berg, Gertrude K. Wolter, Marie Anglin, Louis Hutchinson and Enid Shaw.

RAMSEY COUNTY PRIMARY CARRIED BY CLARK MEN.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—The Clark men carried all of the precincts at the Democratic caucuses in St. Paul last night, securing sixty-five delegates for the county convention, and will control that body. But little interest was taken in the proceedings at any of the caucuses, as it was expected the O'Connor machine would win and no fight was made by the Wilson men. The rest of the state having gone overwhelmingly for Wilson, the result in Ramsey county is of little consequence.

SKELETON IS IDENTIFIED

Body Found on Calvary Road That of Joseph Josephs.

The human skeleton found several days ago near the Calvary road, about half a mile from the end of the Woodland car line, is believed to have been that of Joseph Josephs of Superior.

A bullet hole in the center of the forehead leads to the supposition that the man committed suicide, using the 22-caliber rifle which was found beside the remains. It is claimed that Josephs was a young Superior Hebrew, greatly devoted to his violin, which he carried about the country with him as he made his house-to-house canvasses. A violin was found beside the skeleton, which leads the authorities to believe that the remains were those of Josephs.

SENATE SESSION CALLED BY CLAGUE

Republicans to Make Plans for a Short Extra Session.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—A decisive move in the campaign for a short extra session of the legislature was taken yesterday when Senator Frank Clague of Redwood county issued a call to Republican members of the state senate to meet Monday evening at the Merchants hotel, St. Paul. This will be the evening before the legislature convenes, and it is planned to reach an agreement in this caucus of house members, but opponents of Speaker H. H. Dunn talk of calling a Republican caucus for Monday evening, in an effort to dethrone the speaker and put J. A. A. Burnquist or W. I. Nolan in the chair.

CUMMINS STEEL BILL REJECTED

Senate Probably Will Permit Democratic Measure to Pass.

Washington, May 29.—The senate entered upon the last stage of the consideration of the house bill reducing the duties on iron and steel by rejecting by 12 to 60 the measure presented by Senator Cummins of Iowa as a substitute for the house Democratic bill. Senate Democrats and Insurgent Republicans joined in opposition to the measure, and all the affirmative votes except those of Senators Jones, Nelson, Page and Townsend, regular Republicans, were cast by progressives as follows:

Borah, Bourne, Bristow, Clapp, Cummins, Gronna, Poindexter and Works.

After the vote was taken, Senator Heyburn of Idaho took the floor in opposition to the Democratic bill, but the senate soon adjourned, postponing final action for at least another twenty-four hours.

A number of amendments were offered during the day. One of these by Senator Smith of Georgia places farm machinery on the free list.

Before the vote, regular Republicans had practically confessed their intention of defeating the Cummins amendment and then permitting the Democrats to pass their bill.

DIABETES

Treatment That Costs Nothing If it Fails to Benefit.

Diabetes has long been considered an incurable disease, and the only hope held out to patients has been to prolong their years by abstemious living. COMMENT AND DIVERS DISCUSSION OF THE MERRY WORLD OF SPORT.

ONE of the peculiarities of the coming canter between Johnson and Flynn is that these Eastern scribes, who usually come forth and use all the I's in the upper cases, are going into the dope like a bird dog coming whelping back after getting a light charge of shot. These fellows all went wrong on Jeff—so bad that even some of the society editors tip-toed in and handed a laugh through the door. Now the dope regarding the coming fight is liberally sprinkled with ifs and ands, like bear steak with salt. There is a saying regarding the singed children and the new kitchen range; also, ofttimes it is that little ego becomes lost in the woods of oblivion. To us this thing has the aspect of two sides. It may be that Lil' Artha, tired of title, figures that he can make more by losing. It is very hard to figure where Flynn is in the same class with the big black. But it has been said time and time again that this Artha person may not be near as good as he was when he fought or romped with Jeff.

IT MUST BE pangs and pangs of pain to Chawles Murphy to see the Cubs wobbling as they are thusly. One of the worst things about being great, according to some of our friends, is the horrid fact that when you are reduced there are always mean and low down people who delight in being rather raw about it. Murphy was the chesty thing when the Cubs were winning games most every day, and now that the Boston, Brooklyn and St. Louis teams have got into the habit of calling the Cubs familiar names and losing all sense of dignity in administering defeat even on holiday dates, it must be several brands of wormwood to the man who ran a shoestring and Charles W. FLICKERTAILS TO OPEN SEASON

Grand Forks, made over and playing much better baseball than when the hastily organized team was here for the opening of the season, comes today for a series of games. The Flickertails open today and will fill the holiday date with mirth and activity, playing two games in our park tomorrow.

Of the recent games played, the Flickertails have won three, copping from the Red Hose from over the bay and also taking two games from the Canadian cousins. New pitchers are with the team and several of the weary workers who marred the games of the past have been given blue envelopes and have had eggs placed in their shoes.

With the strengthening of the Grand Forks team it is believed that the race will tighten and that from now on will be close and very interesting. Both Winnipeg and Grand Forks have money to spend for players and the management of the two teams will come through and part with the sticky stuff in order to build teams up to the standard of the locals.

Duluth fans are beginning to take a renewed interest in baseball because of the good work that has been done by the team since the opening of the season, and it is expected that the first holiday date of the year will bring out one of the best crowds that has witnessed a game here for some time.

McGRAW AFTER RECORD.

The Little Napoleon Hopes to Surpass League Winning Mark.

New York, May 29.—Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals believes that his team will this year hang up a new major league record for games won. The record now is held by the Chicago Nationals, who won 116 games in 1906. The Boston Nationals were the first to win more than 100 championship games when they captured 102 in 1892. They repeated the trick with the same number of wins in 1898. The Brooklyns won 101 in 1899 and the Pittsburghs 103 in 1902. The New York team had 106 victories in 1904 and 105 in 1905. The Chicago Cubs after their record-breaking performance in 1906 won 107 in 1907 and 104 in 1910. The Pittsburghs took 114 games in 1909.

The Philadelphias are the only American league champions to surpass the century mark. They won 102 games in 1910 and 105 last year, when the New York Nationals finished the season with 99 victories to their credit.

TIM HURST DYING.

Veteran Umpire and Boxing Referee Nearing the End.

New York, May 29.—Tim Hurst, the veteran umpire and boxing referee, who recently suffered a relapse from an attack of pneumonia, was reported today as sinking rapidly. His physicians thought it was doubtful if he would live through the day.

Hurst has been prominently identified with athletics for years. He first umpired in the National league and later cast his lot with the American league. He was noted for his fearlessness, his ready wit and his ability to control any situation which might arise, no matter how difficult. After he severed his connection with the American league, three years ago, his time was devoted to boxing.

Grand Forks, N. Seven colleges have been entered. South Dakota, North Dakota, Hamline, Macalester, the North Dakota Aggies, St. Olaf's college and Carleton college are the institutions that will be represented.

FISHERMEN WAIT FOR COMING OF MOSQUITOES.

Duluth fishermen are of the opinion that the fishing will not be good until the mosquitoes begin to bite. The cold weather of the past few weeks has, the fishermen say, spoiled the chances of early good fishing in this part of the country. There has not been a good catch reported around here this spring, according to those who are generally informed of the conditions around the Head of the Lakes.

With the coming of the hot weather there should be some of the best fishing that we have had here in years. But until the weather gets warm the old timers have given up the hope of any good catches.

BALL PLAYER HAS MANY MISFORTUNES.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—It has just been learned that while Josh Clark was attending Monday's game between the Saints and the Blues, his wife died at the Clark home in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Clark was not ill when he left home to run down to St. Paul to see the game and the message announcing her death, delivered to him last night, came as a great shock to the outfielder, who was with the Saints so long.

Hard luck seems to be pursuing Clark this year. He was sold by Kelly to the Blues and then Manager Carr turned him loose.

WHITE HOSE ARE BEATEN

Superior Takes Final Game of the Series By Score of 8 to 2.

Chase Effective and Hoffman and Johnson are Pounded Hard.

Duluth was defeated by the score of 8 to 2 at Hislop park yesterday. Chase was on the mound for the Red Hose and was effective throughout, while Hoffman was not able to puzzle the Taylorites. Johnson went to the mound later, when much of the damage was done. Johnson was also received rather familiarly by the suburbanites.

Right at the first inning the visitors started the scoring. Ford passed, stole and was sacrificed to third. Francis came through with a single and the first run of the game was over the plate.

Our two runs came in the third round, Hoffman being safe on a wild heave by Chase to first. McGraw bit to right after Kuehn had flied out, sending Hoffman to third, the pitcher scoring on Menelee's long fly to the center fielder. Leber's double sent McGraw over with the last Duluth score of the game.

With one gone in Superior's half, Taylor and Olson tripled, the latter scoring on a sacrifice fly by Francis.

The hated rivals scored three more in the next round. Briggs started the festivities by hitting to center for two sacks, and with one gone Indian Chase smote for two more perfectly good sacks, sending Briggs across the pan. Ford got the habit and doubled, the Indian Chase chasing across the pan. Ford went to third on a wild heave and continued home when the erratic work was continued.

In the fifth the next score came after two had gone by the wayside. Roy singled to left, stole second and scored on a long hit to the outfield. The last score came in the seventh. Francis was forced at second by Roy, the Indian stealing second and coming home when Briggs clouted the pellet to center field.

MAROONS DROP FINAL GAME

Grand Forks Takes Short Contest By Close Score of 4 to 3.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 29.—The Flickertails won yesterday's game with Winnipeg by the score of 4 to 3. Moe was on the mound for the visitors and was pelted hard. Errors were coupled with the hits of the home team, the third round being disastrous for the Peggers. Darkness compelled the calling of the game. Yesterday's win ties Grand Forks and Winnipeg in the league race.

West Parks Organize.

The West Parks Association has arranged a strong lineup for the present season, under the management of P. Gernett, and the team is out to meet any amateur team at the Head of the Lakes. Losing but four of last season's players, the team is in better and stronger form than ever. Martin and Adams, the team's star twirlers, are in good form, and would like to try themselves out for a game Sunday. Long and O'Donnell are the backstops. Games can be arranged by writing to P. T. Gernett, 2607 West Tenth street, Duluth.

Chicago Club to Continue.

New York, May 29.—William Niesen, owner of the Chicago club of the United States league states that his club will continue on its season's schedule, and that there have been no desertions from the club on account of the mixup with the New York club. He said it was no fault of his that the series was not being played, and that the New York club had decided to quit playing games. He said the league's affairs were really stronger than ever now that some of the weak spots had been found and that at a meeting in Pittsburg on Saturday St. Louis, Indianapolis, Kansas City or some other good Western Sunday town, would be taken in.

RAINS MAKE TRACK SLIPPERY

Qualifications Are Not Yet Finished Because of the Wet Weather.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—Heavy rains and a slippery track prevented completion of qualification trials for the Memorial day 500-mile motor race at the Indianapolis speedway, but clearing weather last night gave promise that the speed tests could be wound up this morning.

Speedway park will be closed all of today and no cars will be allowed on the course except those that are to try for eligibility for the race. Gangs of men will wash the brick oval of the coating of oil that has collected during the practice grind of the last several weeks, the banks will be sanded, irregularities will be ironed out and the track finally will be made ready for Thursday's battle of the motors.

BOYS PUT UP A SNAPPY FIGHT

Bob Moha Makes Eddie McGoorty Go Some to Win.

New York, May 29.—Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh middleweight, defeated Bob Moha of Milwaukee in a 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas Athletic club last night.

McGoorty had the better of the first three rounds, using a snappy left hook to good effect. Moha's best work was a straight left to the face and a couple of short-arm punches at close quarters.

In the next three rounds McGoorty was a bit wild at times, while Moha was steady and kept forcing. Moha had a shade the better of the fifth round, and decidedly the better of the sixth.

McGoorty's left was very much in evidence in the seventh, and in the eighth round he drove Moha to the ropes with a left hook to the jaw and a smashing right uppercut. A straight left to the face from McGoorty in the ninth round kept the blood flowing from Moha's right eye. It was McGoorty's round.

STORM SIGNALS FOR BOAT CLUB

Danger Signals Will Be Hoisted When There Is a Squall Coming.

The Duluth Boat club has arranged with the United States weather bureau for the hoisting of small craft danger signals on the flag staffs of the three houses of the club whenever there is the indication of the coming of a wind that is considered dangerous to the small craft on the bay or river.

This season the weather bureau has established a new system of signalling to act as small craft warnings. It is the idea of the officials of the government weather bureau that the danger signals will result in the saving of life and the avoiding of danger in various parts of the country. In line with the policy of the boat club to give its members the best possible service, the officials of the club have completed the arrangements whereby the all red pennant, the danger signal, will be hoisted at the three houses when there is a storm in sight.

The all red pennant, the signal, will be hoisted on the flag staff on the south launch house at the main house, at the flag staff at the outer boat house at Oatka, and on the flag staff on the dock at the Spirit Lake house.

These orders will be displayed only on the command of the weather bureau. Upon observing the warnings, those in boats will know that the indications are that a severe storm is coming.

CUPID AS AN ASSET OF TELEPHONE COMPANIES

There is an old saying that "talk is cheap." It originated long before the institution of long-distance telephones. Whoever was the first to make that statement would probably have qualified the remark somewhat had he been able to foresee what bills are now being paid just for talking.

Young men in love these days with girls in other cities find the mails too slow a method of communicating with the stars of their hopes. They seize upon the long-distance telephone as a means of getting not only the thoughts but even the voice-tones of their loved ones. This is by no means confined to young men of more than average means. Even those who are working for small salaries will call up girls, perhaps the length or breadth of a state away, and talk with them over the long-distance telephones without regard to the expense. The telephone companies operating in Duluth look upon Cupid as one of their principal sources of revenue. It is no uncommon thing for a Duluth young man, who is working for a salary too small to admit of his immediately marrying the being he has chosen for his life partner, to call up a girl in Minneapolis, or some other place about as far away, and talk with her for nearly an hour. A single conversation will sometimes cost as much as $10. One would think that such young men would naturally realize that in spending their money in that manner they are rather postponing than hastening their wedding days.

Wealthy people pay out large sums for the use of the long-distance telephones. Some men of more than ordinary means, living at Duluth, pay long-distance telephone bills of as much as $300 a month.

CLAIMS 14-YEAR-OLD SON WAS LYNCHED.

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—Three weeks ago the body of Bruce Russell, 14 years old, was found hanging in the woodshed behind his father's home here. It was believed the lad had committed suicide, though no motive for the act could be assigned.

Now the boy's father has appeared at the city coroner's office and said he had witnesses who would support his theory that his son had been lynched. The same day the body was found young Russell had had a quarrel with some of his playmates.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 29.—The official count of the Democratic preference vote in Hamilton county just filed, shows that Governor Woodrow Wilson carried Governor Judson Harmon's "home" county by 187 votes.

EBERHART IN DEFENSE

Replies to Criticisms and Would Be Judged By His Acts.

Holds Gordon Responsible for Defeat of Desired Legislation.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Governor Eberhart has issued the following statement, which is in the nature of a defense of his administration and a reply to criticisms:

"Two years ago, the Republicans of Minnesota, in the most thoroughly representative and most fairly conducted convention in the history of the state, gave me a unanimous nomination, following my few months of incumbency of the office of governor as successor to the lamented John A. Johnson.

"The campaign that followed was conducted fairly and vigorously along the lines laid down by the convention. Each candidate on the ticket was given the impartial and hearty support of the state central committee, and as a result the Republican party carried every county in the state and elected every man on the state ticket, by old time majorities. Notwithstanding that the entire attack of the opposition was concentrated on me, I received a majority of more than 60,000 over my Democratic competitor.

"The legislature was also strongly Republican in both branches, and after its organization I stood ready to cooperate to the fullest possible extent in effecting a legislative program that would redound to the best interest of the state and perforce to the credit of the Republican party.

What He Recommended.

"In my message to the legislature I made a number of urgent recommendations looking toward the more efficient and economical administration of the state's business by reducing the large number of boards and departments, by fixing more definitely executive responsibility, and by the abolition of the fee system that prevails in certain of the state departments.

"I strongly urged the questions of reapportionment, of primary election reforms, and of more adequate and equitable railroad and iron ore taxation.

"I also recommended legislation for the further encouragement of education in the rural districts, for the better protection and conservation of state forestry, and for the extensive improvement of the state highways.

"The record shows that a large majority of these recommendations were carried into effect by the legislature, and that bills were introduced to carry out others, but failed of final passage, for one reason and another.

"In the matter of making appointments to office, I laid down the rule of fitness as the prime requisite, but in every possible instance endeavored to secure the co-operation and endorsement of representative men in each county or district where such appointments were located, regardless of faction or personal considerations.

Would Be Judged By Acts.

"I therefore demand for myself credit for honesty of intention in the course I have pursued, having only at heart the best interests of the state as a whole. I insist on being judged by my acts and their results and by that standard alone.

"This test can be applied to every appointment I have made, from those on the supreme bench to those of minor character—and I will stand or fall by it.

"This test can be applied to the personal character and official achievements of every executive officer whom I have appointed—and I will stand or fall by it.

"This test can be applied to my own participation in the work of the various boards of which I am a member, in all of whose important meetings I have taken part—and I will stand or fall by it.

"This test can be applied to my efforts to advance the interests of the state at home and abroad, in setting forth the advantages Minnesota offers to the outsider seeking a location; in endeavoring by personal investigation to learn the needs of every part of the state; in co-operating with the business organizations of the cities of the state, both great and small, for the better development of their opportunities in untiringly laboring wit athe educational interests of the state, to place the university and the agricultural college on a more effective and business like basis; and to extend the opportunities of practical education to the rural communities to an increased degree. On this part of my record I will gladly stand or fall.

"I challenge successful refutation of the claims above set forth, and I furthermore charge responsibility for the failure of certain desired and deserved legislation at the hands of the last legislature, not to that body as a whole, not to the influence of any outside pressure, not to political opponents, but to the selfish scheming of certain men who devoted their whole energy toward furthering what they imagined were their own political fortunes, regardless of the effect on the state or their party associates.

Criticizes Gordon.

"Lieutenant Governor Gordon, who is making his campaign on his record as presiding officer of the senate, now declares in favor of a state-wide primary, for honest reapportionment, for reorganization of the state departments, and for readjustment and equalization of railroad taxes.

"The two last mentioned declarations are but echoes of my own recommendations to the legislature, which he made no effort to aid in carrying out when he was where acts and not mere promises were demanded.

"In the matter of reapportionment, had he co-operated with the real friends of this measure of justice, had he joined hands with me in the effort to pass the amended bill after it reached the senate, reapportionment would now be an assured fact in this state.

"The history of the defeat of the state-wide primary in the senate by a forced adjournment, after it had passed the house, is also a part of the record, and responsibility for the same rests right where responsibility for the defeat of reapportionment rests.

"In view of the coming special session of the legislature to enact a state-wide primary law, and an effective corrupt practices act, the facts above set forth have a direct bearing."

WHEN IS EGG BAD? UP TO HIGH COURT

Preparers of Frozen Eggs Are Asking for a Ruling.

Washington, May 29.—"When is an egg decayed?" is the latest problem to occupy official attention in Washington. The supreme court of the United States is called upon to decide the question, and probably will soon set a date for its consideration.

Preparers of frozen eggs are asking for a ruling that will prevent pure food officers from condemning their product on account of a change in chemical composition, unless it is affirmatively shown that the eggs are unfit for food or injurious to health.

The government has informed the court that the case is of importance because frozen eggs are used in the manufacture of the greater part of the cakes and pastry sold to the public.

Washington, May 29.—Henry W. Page, the New York linen merchant, on trial here for criminal libel in circulaitng defamatory literature against Chairman Henry D. Clayton of the house judiciary committee and other members of congress, was found guilty by a jury.

FIXES EIGHT HOUR LIMIT

House Adopts Measure That Applies to All Government Work.

Naval Bill Passed Without Provision for Any Battleships.

Washington, May 29.—The house passed the naval appropriation bill without providing for any new battleships. In the final hours of consideration, however, a radical amendment was added, by which government contracts in the future must be executed under the eight-hour law. The proviso applies not alone to naval contracts, but to all work that hereafter may be done for the government. The bill carries approximately $119,000,000.

The adoption of the eight-hour amendment followed a long debate.

The principal fight of the day raged around the proposal to provide for two battleships. As a result of the Democratic caucus, no provision for such ships was made. Representative Roberts of Massachusetts, Republican, offered the amendment for two ships to cost not more than $6,000,000 each.

The battleship proposals were voted down 140 to 106.

The house voted 81 to 190 that the two fuel ships to be constructed, be built in navy yards.

KNOX WOULD DROP THE COFFEE TRUST

Recommends That Suit Be Abandoned Owing to Foreign Complications.

Washington, May 29.—Secretary of State Knox has recommended to President Taft that the civil anti-trust suit against the "coffee trust" be withdrawn because of possible complications with Brazil. There is a disagreement in the cabinet between the secretary of state and Attorney-General Wickersham as to the propriety of attacking the Brazilian valorization scheme in American courts.

President Taft has not yet accepted the suggestion of the secretary of state, and the attorney-general continues his preparations to pursue the matter in the courts.

TEXAS SOLID FOR WILSON

Houston, Tex., May 29.—A solid delegation of forty members, instructed for Woodrow Wilson, was elected to the national Democratic convention last night by the Texas Democratic convention. The delegation is composed of eight delegates at large and thirty-two district delegates. The Harmon forces made one test of strength on district delegates, and were defeated 542 to 156.

Taft Men Bolt.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 29.—President Taft's Texas supporters yesterday refused to participate in the state convention dominated by the Roosevelt forces, marched away before the time set for convening, and held a separate convention. Each convention chose eight delegates at large to the national Republican convention.

ZION CITY PEOPLE CAN CALL MEN "STINKPOTS."

Chicago, May 29.—U. S. District Judge Landis has dismissed the petition for an injunction filed by Frank B. Cook against Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City, and his aides, declaring he had no jurisdiction in the matter. Cook sought to restrain Voliva and his followers from using such epithets as "stinkpots," "beer guzzlers," and "filth tobacco chewers" in addressing his employes.

ANOTHER DEARING IN TROUBLE OVER BANK.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—George V. Dearing of Albion, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Albion, was arrested here yesterday upon an indictment charging him with complicity in the wrecking of the bank. The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury here. He possibly will be arraigned Thursday. His father, Henry M. Dearing, and brother, Palmer M. Dearing, are serving terms in Leavenworth prison for complicity in the same offense.

Restores Men to Vital Vigor

The weakling must stand aside today; it is the strong, vital, healthy man who succeeds — who has the courage to meet all dangers. I can give you this vital strength.

Vitality is the thing which makes success; it gives men that compelling power which sends them forth eager and equipped to meet and overcome all obstacles; it is the thing which gives our young men courage to face death; it is the thing which inspires and holds a woman's love and faith. No matter what your age, I can give you this same vitality; I can restore the vigor you have lost from any cause. I can make you "young" and keep you "young." From an intimate and studious observation of possibly 100,000 weakened men I say to you that vitality or the lack of it means all the difference between a healthy man and a half man. The man who bubbles with vital power will exert a pleasing influence upon all with whom he comes in contact; women are naturally attracted to him, as are men. Lack of vitality is a negative condition, and it even repels. You wear my Health Belt and suspensory attachment all night; it sends a great, glowing, health-giving current of electro vimlit into your nerves, blood and organs; it takes all the "kink" out of your back and all the coward out of your make-up; it puts you right up in the "feeling fine" class and keeps you there. No stimulation, no false results; just a sure return to manhood and courage. Recommended also for rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, stomach and bladder disorders. It makes you feel young and keeps you feeling young forever.

Here's the Evidence

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., March 19, 1912.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY, South Bend., Ind.

Gentlemen: This will reply to your favor of recent date in regard to the non-stop run which was made by our 1½-ton "Hoosier Limited" truck during the New York Show. The previous record for non-stop runs was six days. Our record on this run was seven days, which was completed by us without a stop or without an adjustment of any kind.

We broke the world's record for six days and continued to run after the seventh day for three days more. The truck has finally stopped at Boston, having made the run from New York to that city on January 20, 1912. During this run, both in New York and from New York to Boston, the truck was loaded with Polarine Oil, and Polarine Oil was also used in its engine. It is needless to say that we can highly commend this product because of our success with same.

Trusting that this information will be of benefit to you, we remain,

Respectfully, GRAND RAPIDS MOTOR TRUCK COMPANY,

SAYS LAKE WATER CAUSES EPIDEMIC

Michigan State Health Officer Blames Marquette Water for Typhoid.

Marquette, Mich., May 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. T. M. Koon of Grand Rapids, member of the state board of health, at the special meeting of the council called to make plans for fighting the typhoid epidemic, which has now reached dangerous proportions, gave the water in Lake Superior as the most likely source of the typhoid. The discontinuance of the use of hypochloride of lime some months ago and the disturbance of the water by the storm which passed over the city about three weeks ago, combined to infect the water, he said. He censured the council for its failure to enforce the laws in regard to dangerous diseases.

He said that 10 per cent of the persons now sick with typhoid will die and that there is a possibility that the epidemic may assume proportions that will paralyze business in the city. The appropriation made by the council for the protection of the health of the residents of the city, he said, is absolutely inefficient.

Milk Is Not Blamed.

He said he had found no reason to suspect the milk supplied by the dairymen about the city.

The council acted on his suggestions and made provision for opening an office for the health officer in the city hall and appointed Thomas C. Perkins clerk to aid Dr. Janes in enforcing the law and in doing the clerical work connected with the office. The council committee on public health was given full authority to take any action in regard to the epidemic it might consider advisable.

PLANS ARE ABANDONED

West Duluth Will Have No Celebration of the Fourth.

Display of Fireworks in Evening Will Be the Only Attraction.

Because the business men of West Duluth objected to a week's carnival the early part of July and because they would not even assist in a one-day celebration on the Fourth of July, the West Duluth Fourth of July association has abandoned all the plans of celebrating the national holiday. With the exception of a display of fireworks in the evening, the Fourth of July this year will pass without any special features.

The above action was taken at the regular meeting of the association yesterday afternoon, held at the West Duluth Commercial club. The members adopted a resolution appointing a committee to spend the sum of $200 now in the treasury on fireworks, which will be displayed on the evening of Fourth of July. The following resolution was also adopted: "In view of the fact that so many uncalled for oppositions arose against the week's celebration and that every one promised to support a one-day celebration; and that the funds of the association are at present too low to finance a one-day celebration; and that there was no apparent interest taken by those who promised their support to the association, the members have hereby decided to give a grand display of fireworks on the evening of July 4."

The following committee will meet Friday evening to let the contract for the fireworks and complete whatever arrangements are necessary: Edward Roach, T. F. Fitzgerald, Hugh Vion, R. J. Baker and Otto Haller. The members of the association adjourned until the first Tuesday in April, 1913.

R. J. Baker, president of the association, in speaking of the action taken yesterday afternoon said:

"The opposition recently shown by the Commercial club and other organizations in West Duluth is the primary cause of not pushing the celebration. After the opposition shown against having a carnival company come to the city, the members of the Commercial club pledged to assist the Fourth of July association with a one-day celebration. Although we have had three meetings since that time not one member of the club, which opposed the week's celebration, has attended a meeting. This led to the decision made today."

WILL DISCUSS SEWER SYSTEM

At the regular monthly meeting of the Proctor Commercial club next Monday evening the proposed sewer system will be the main feature to be discussed by the members. New plans are now necessary on account of a number of legal difficulties which have arisen since the original plans were made.

The members of the club now propose to build a sewer system, which will take care of the entire village. In this way both the east and west ends of the town will be benefitted. The two sewers will then empty into a large septic tank south of the village.

The original plans called for a system, which meant an outlay of $50,000. The mistake made at that time was caused by levying against property located too far away from the proposed sewer. Some of the district included in this assessment was at Maple Grove, which lies about six blocks north of the sewer system terminal. Attorneys for the property owners in that section attacked the validity of such an assessment and won. The new plan of assessment, which will be fully explained at the meeting next Monday evening will affect only the benefitted property owners, with very small assessments against other property within the village limits.

WEST DULUTH BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB

The S. F. G. club entertained for its members at a dinner party last evening. Covers were laid for thirty-five and a short program was rendered under the direction of the Misses Mae Anders and Isabelle Patrick. The Longfellow Girls' club won the indoor field championship over the girls of the Ely, Irving and Fairmont schools. The final contest was held with the latter club yesterday afternoon. A similiar field contest is to be held the latter part of June.

The next outing of the boys' clubs will be held Saturday, when a trip will be taken to the Jean Duluth farm. The boys will meet at Third avenue west and Superior street at 10 o'clock. Norman McLeod will have charge of the outing.

The high school classes among the boys will meet in the evenings instead of the afternoons, as in the past.

A baseball league is now being organized and the various teams will start a regular schedule of games some time next week.

CHILDREN ARE HELD CHEAPER THAN CLAMS.

Scoring congress for refusing to appropriate $3,000 for the study of certain child labor conditions and for appropriating $15,000 to the pearl button-makers for the scientific study of clams, Dr. Mary McCoy, president of the West Duluth Suffrage club, gave a most interesting address to the members at the regular meeting held at the Irving school assembly hall last evening.

Dr. McCoy also spoke on the suffrage question. She said in part:

"Who can vote in Minnesota? Every male 21 years of age, ignorant or educated, native or foreign born, white or black, Indians, so long as they wear trousers, self-supporting or a pauper, drunk or sober—any male, I say, except an absolute fool, a criminal, a traitor, or an insane man can vote without fear of danger. Why should women be denied the franchise? Woman has proved in six states that she is better than a cross between a fool and an angel, and that she is not a menace to the world."

Mrs. W. C. Ives gave a reading following the address on "Our Future."

DISAPPOINTED AT SHOWING

Sixteen Automobiles and Two Bands Met Two Duluthians.

C. T. Knapp of Chisholm, who is in the city today, states that the citizens of Chisholm are indignant at the failure of Duluth to send more than two representatives to the county club meeting, which was held yesterday at Chisholm.

"There were two bands and sixteen automobiles at the station and two citizens of Duluth alighted," said Mr. Knapp. "L. B. Arnold and W. E. Greene of Duluth were the only men to come from this city, and in view of the fact that the people of Chisholm expected a large delegation from here, the small representation was very disappointing. The arrangements for the banquet had been completed, and owing to the fact that Duluth failed to send a large delegation, it was at first thought that the banquet would be called off, but it was finally decided to hold it."

ARSON PLOT IS UNFOLDED

Vernon G. Bell on Trial for Attempting to Burn West Duluth Home.

How He Fell in With "Stool Pigeon" and Detective Is Related.

Vernon G. Bell, charged with attempted arson and on trial in district court before Judge Dancer and jury, took the stand in his own defense today, testifying that the "stool pigeon" which the police had engaged to incriminate and weave a plot around him, was the man who had actually suggested the affair and who was wholly responsible for the attempt to burn the Bell residence at 524 North Fifty-second avenue west in March. The case went to the jury this afternoon.

The state rested its case this morning after having put on as witnesses, Chief of Police Troyer, Robert Donaldson, F. E. Watson, E. G. Kreidler. The trial started yesterday afternoon, when the state's witnesses were J. W. Reynolds and Capt. Fiskett of the police department.

It was around an assigned insurance policy, a can of kerosene, a bottle of turpentine, a house key with a tell-tale mark and the stories of Reynolds, "stool pigeon," and Donaldson, detective, that County Attorney John Norton built up his case against Bell. The defendant's only defense was that he was led into it by the suggestions of Reynolds, who Bell claims, did all the planning.

Reynolds, who is a more or less familiar character in police circles, who was forced to admit on cross examination that he served two terms in jail for passing bad checks, took the stand for the state and told a story of how he had been approached by Bell who wanted a "job" done and intimated that he could get more out of his household furniture by burning it than selling it. It was in a building at 524 North Fifty-second avenue west.

Reynolds then told how he had reported the matter to C. H. Troyer, chief of police, and how, working under instructions of the police department, he had succeeded in carrying out Bell's plans up to a point where nothing was left undone except the actual commission of the crime itself.

The witness then related how he had told Bell that he knew of a man who would "do the job" and made an appointment with him so that he could meet a "Mr. Kelley" who later turned out to be Donaldson, a detective in the employ of the police. Between the three men, Reynolds testified, the deal was agreed upon. As a consideration, Reynolds was given one of the insurance policies for $200. The policy was introduced as evidence.

Reynolds' story is that Bell attempted to put himself in a position where he could prove a complete alibi. The witness testified that Bell had told him that he was going to Virginia on the night on which the fire was alleged to have taken place, which was on March 29. Reynolds had previously been given the key to the house by Bell, he claims, and "Kelley" had received his instructions as to what to do, from Bell. Just as Bell was taking the train that night he was arrested. Captain Fiskett who made the arrest testified to this fact on the stand yesterday afternoon.

Watson and Kreidler are insurance men who handled the policies in which Bell was insured. They also gave estimates on the value of the goods as found when the police made the arrest, placing the figure below that for which the goods were insured by $200. The furniture was insured for $400.

Judge S. F. White and Attorney C. T. Crandall are attorneys for Bell. County Attorney Norton is conducting the case for the state.

Four other firemen escaped injury by jumping from the hose cart. The vehicle was thrown across several tracks, Laughman being caught under it.

DYNAMITE IN HOUSE OF HUNGARIAN PARLIAMENT.

Budapest, Hungary, May 29.—A dynamtie cartridge exploded late last night on one of the stairceases of the house of parliament, smashing a large number of windows, but otherwise not causing any serious damage.

It is believed by the authorities that the cartridge, which was of the type used for blasting purposes in mines, was placed in the building during the recent labor troubles and rioting.

DOWNWARD REACTION

Profit-Taking Wipes Out Half of Yesterday's Wheat Bulge.

Directors Threaten Those Accused of Boosting May Flaxseed.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 29.—A spell of profit-taking on the wheat markets of North America today caused part of yesterday's bulge to be wiped out. Duluth July wheat closed at a decline of ¾c. Durum closed ½c off. Cash wheat was 1c over July. Oats gained ¼c, and rye and barley closed unchanged. Duluth May flaxseed closed at the extraordinary bulge of 14c, while July closed at a decline of 1c.

Although the reports from the Southwest this morning were still very bullish and indicated great danger to the hard winter wheat crop, especially in Kansas, unless there should be rain very soon, wheat declined on the North American markets, and at noon was considerably below the closing figures of yesterday. This decline can be accounted for only on the theory that the bulge of yesterday went a little farther than the brokers today thought the conditions justified. Primary wheat receipts were a bullish factor, showing a great falling off from what they were a year ago.

Duluth July wheat, which closed yesterday at $1.15⅝ asked, opened today at $1.15⅝, and at noon was selling for $1.15¼. Yesterday's bulge was by no means wiped out, but it was reduced just one-third. There were lower quotations at noon today on the markets of Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg.

News from across the Atlantic was mostly bullish. Liverpool wheat closed ⅜d to 1¼d higher. The poor quality of arrivals and the news of danger to the American wheat in the Southwest were the principal bullish factors.

Flaxseed Jumps Again.

There was another big bulge in flaxseed today, right on top of the bulge of yesterday. About the middle of the morning, a resolution posted on the blackboard warned brokers in the name of the board of directors not to continue to boost May flaxseed artificially, but the rise continued even after that. Shorts are very much excited. There is some talk to the effect that some of them will default and let the holders of the options recover as best they may. There is a great scarcity of No. 1 flaxseed, which is required to make delivery on the May option. That fact is a great force, pushing up the May option, as the month draws to a close. At noon today Duluth May flaxseed showed the extraordinary bulge of 14c, being quoted at $2.67. July flaxseed was unchanged at $2.24. There were 31 cars of flaxseed on the tracks at Duluth for inspection. Winnipeg May flaxseed at noon today was just 1c up to $2.02 asked. Buenos Ayres June was ½c up at $1.82¾. London Calcutta May and June was ⅝c up at $2.38⅝. The Minneapolis bid for No. 1 cash flaxseed today was only $2.23 and $2.24. What Minneapolis buys is mostly lower grade seed. The best seed could bring far more money at Duluth, where there is not nearly so great a demand for the low grade seed.

Ware & Leland of Chicago have a large number of reports from bankers covering Kansas and Nebraska. The general substance of their reports is that the crop needs rain, but will be all right if the rain comes within this week or the next six or seven days. Their reports are not nearly as sensational as those from the experts that are traveling in the northwest part of the state.

Le Count wires from Hoisington, Kan.: "From Ellis to Saline the crop is badly damaged. Some fields are fair and others very poor. They are mostly headed, with brown wilted patches in nearly every field. The condition is the same from Saline here. If general rains come soon the crop will mostly recover. Northwest Kansas and Nebraska wheat is in bad condition as a result of having had no rain. Crops need rain badly, and wheat is deteriorating badly from drought. Another ten days without rain will cut the crop 50 per cent and perhaps more. Weather is clear and cool and there are no signs of rain."

B. W. Snow wired from Plainview, Kan.: "I motored today through Norton, Decatur, Sheridan and Graham counties, with an aggregate of 450,000 acres. The crop is rapidly approaching a failure. The best fields have hardly half a crop and the wheat is already big enough to burn. With immediate rains the four counties would not average more than half a crip. There are high winds and a hot sun again today. Sand and dust are drifting like snow, frequently filling the listed trenches full, and entirely burying the plant. The eight northwest counties of Kansas, with a total acreage of 750,000 acres, are entirely wiped out and the area of drought damage is due to shown in Rooks county, which until now has been practically perfect."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Under Pressure and Prices Decline Slightly.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—The wheat market today was under pressure and prices registered a slight decline. The trade inclined to ignore the sensationally bullish Southwestern reports. Trading was light and pit offerings fairly liberal.

May closed ½c lower than yesterday; July ⅝@¾c lower and September ⅞@1c lower. Local elevator stocks decreased 350,000 bu for four days.

Carlot wheat receipts: Minneapolis today, 120 cars; week ago, 86; year ago, 215. Duluth today, 27; week ago, 11; year ago, holiday. Winnipeg today, 291, week ago, 213; year ago, 81. Cash wheat was in only fair demand at best and the market remained steady. Mills were only limited buyers of light offerings. No. 1 northern sold for 1½@1¾c above the July contract.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,677 tons. Demand still slow and prices unchanged.

Wheat—May opened, $1.13; high, $1.13¼; low, $1.12⅝; closed, $1.12⅝. July opened, $1.13½@1.13⅝; high, $1.13⅞; low, $1.13; closed, $1.13. September opened, $1.05⅝; high, $1.06; low, $1.05⅝; closed, $1.05⅝.

Closing cash: No. 1 hard, $1.15¼; No. 1 northern, $1.14½@1.14¾; to arrive, $1.14½@1.14¾; No. 2 northern, $1.12½@1.12¾; to arrive, $1.12½@$1.12½@1.12¾; No. 3 wheat, $1.10½@1.10¾. No. 3 yellow corn, 74@75c; No. 3 white oats, 51c; No. 2 rye, 83½@84c

Bran in 100-pound sacks, $23.50@24.00.

Flour—Market dull and void of any new feature. Demand extremely slow and represented only immediate needs. Shipping directions on old orders were lax and prices unchanged. Shipments 44,537 bbl. First patents, $5.20@5.45; first clears, $3.90@4.15; second clears, $2.80@3.10.

Flax—Receipts, 33 cars; year ago, 6; shipments, 11. There was a fair demand for flax today. No. 1 seed sold at even Duluth July. Closing prices, $2.23 nominal.

Barley—Receipts, 9 cars; year ago, 32; shipments, 9. Barley quoted steady. Strong demand for malting grades. Prices unchanged. Closing range, 70c @$1.20.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Free Selling Overcomes Wheat Advance, Based on Southwest Drouth.

Chicago, May 29.—Free selling of wheat today overcame an advance due to lack of rain in Kansas and Nebraska. Speculators seemed to take their cue from Liverpool dispatches declaring that British traders regarded the favorable outlook in the American spring wheat belt as largely offsetting the untoward conditions in the soft winter states.

Besides, there was a disposition here to consider the drouth and heat in the West as having been sufficiently discounted for the present. Opening prices were ¼c to ½c up. July started at $1.11½ to $1.11¾, the same change from last night as the market taken altogether. A decline to $1.10¾ followed.

Reports of late sown wheat firing in Southern Kansas led to a rally. There were also assertions that west of Prairie View rain would not help the Kansas crop. Closing figures nevertheless had a weak tone, with July at $1.10⅝@1.10¾, a net decline of ½@⅝c.

Although as a result of unseasonable sold and rain in Illinois, corn at the outset showed some firmness, the market later reacted with wheat. There were also predictions of continued big shipments from Argentina. July opened ⅛c higher at 75¾c touched 75¾@75⅞c and then sagged to 75⅝c.

A temporary upturn ensued on account of shorts covering to prepare for the holiday tomorrow. The close, however, was weak, ½c net lower, for July at 75⅛c.

There was but little support for oats. Accordingly the cereal dragged lower influenced by the course of other grains. July started a shade off to ⅛@¼c up at 50¾c to 50½c and fell back to 50c even.

Weakness at the yards pulled down provisions. Prices, however, seemed inclined to hold steady at a moderate decline. Initial sales ranged from a shade to 7½c down with September options $18.50 for pork, $10.80 for lard and $10.37½@10.40 for ribs.

SOME GAINS RECORDED

Covering By Shorts Sends Prices of Stocks Upward Briskly.

Early Losses Are Largely Reduced and Close Is Steady.

New York, May 29.—Canadian Pacific was the feature of the opening stock market with sales of 2,000 shares at 266½ to 267¼. Great Northern ore certificates advanced over a point.

The market developed a reactionary tone before the end of the first hour with weakness in minor railway stocks. Rock Island common and preferred also declined, with weakness in the collateral bonds.

Such strength as the market showed in today's early dealings, partly by reason of some good railway earnings, was soon nullified by contrary statements. Canadian Pacific's huge gain for April was overshadowed by Reading's large decrease and Erie's disappointing exhibit. Rock Island issues, also those of Kansas City Southern and Chicago & Alton were liquidated or subjected to bear selling on assumptions that the Mississippi floods must affect their April revenues. Before noon all the leading stocks were selling considerably under yesterday's lowest quotations, with especial pressure against Reading and Lehigh.

Bonds were steady.

The market closed steady. Covering by shorts sent prices upward briskly at the closing. Union Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated rose above yesterday's closing and losses in some other weak features were largely reduced.

"SQUARE DEAL" LOAN AGENCY TO FIGHT THE "LOAN SHARK" EVIL

Plans Under Way to Establish Such an Institution in Duluth.

Would Lend Money at Reasonable Rates to Needy Families.

Useless to Fight Usurers Until a Substitute Is Provided.

If a movement which is now on foot succeeds, the days of the loan shark in Duluth are passing.

Social workers and others are now formulating a plan through which Duluth will enlist itself in a remedial loan movement, which is generally considered as being the only effective way in which the rapid development of loan sharks may be checked.

Since Warren E. Greene, assistant county attorney, announced some few weeks ago that he would give his legal services free of charge to any unfortunate victim of the loan shark traffic and take their cases into the courts, considerable interest has been stirred up among progressive social workers of the city.

The Associated Charities has a committee at work. F. W. Paine, chairman, has secured considerable data on how remedial loan associations have been operated successfully in twenty-four other cities of this country, and is convinced that sufficient interest can be stimulated in Duluth to organize a similar society which can be put on a paying basis, doing justice to both borrower and lender.

Fear Publicity.

Mr. Greene, who has had occasion to investigate a large number of loan shark cases, has found clients reluctant about pushing their cases into the courts, if an opportunity is offered them to repay the sharks the

WISCONSIN MAY REGULATE GAME

Fishermen Are Considering New Plan for State to Adopt.

Madison, Wis., May 30.—A new plan is being discussed among hundreds of fishermen of this state which, if found to be generally favorable, will be presented before the next session of the legislature. The proposed law would create a state fish and game commission to promulgate rules and regulations for the taking of fish and game. It would obviate, it is claimed, the enactment of thirty or forty local fish and game bills that come before each legislature.

The idea back of the proposed law is that the legislature has no adequate knowledge of fishing or hunting conditions in the state.

BURTON TO FIGHT FOR TAFT IN OHIO

Will Try to Get Control of State Convention for President.

Washington, May 30.—With President Taft's influence and that of all the Taft political advisers back of him, Senator Burton will leave Washington Saturday to take up the fight for control by the Taft forces of the Ohio Republican state convention, scheduled for early next week.

Although Col. Roosevelt won a victory over the president in Ohio's primaries, the Taft managers are confident they can dominate the state convention and add Ohio's six delegates at large to the Taft column.

At a conference in which Mr. Taft, Vice President Sherman, several members of the cabinet and other Taft leaders were present last night, it was decided that Mr. Burton should go to Ohio and make the fight.

STREW FLOWERS ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Chicagoans Honor Naval Heroes of the Nation's Wars.

Chicago, May 30. — Flowers were strewn on Lake Michigan today as a tribute to the men who perished in the nation's wars. This picturesque observance of Memorial day took place off Grant park, close to the business center of the city, the most conspicuous spot on the water front of Chicago. Crowds lined the shore to witness the ceremony.

Later in the day hundreds of thousands of spectators lined up in Michigan and Jackson boulevards and cheered the survivors of the Grand Army, who marched in review before Governor Deneen and Gen. Ramsey D. Potts, U. S. A.

UREY WOODSON.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—Urey Woodson of Owensboro, Ky., member of the national Democratic committee for eighteen years and secretary of that body for several years, was defeated last night for re-election to the national committee by the state Democratic convention. John C. C. Mayo was elected to succeed him. Woodson's defeat was part of the state administration program, and it controlled the convention.

The convention then adopted resolutions instructing the delegation to vote for Champ Clark as long as his name is before the convention. The following delegates-at-large were elected. Governor J. B. McCreary, Senator-elect Ollie M. James, Former Governor J. C. W. Berkhum, Congressmen Owsley, Stanley and Ben Johnson, Judge Allie W. Young, Justus Goebel and John C. C. Mayo.

CUBAN ARMY ON THE MOVE

Gen. Monteguedo Predicts That He Will Crush the Revolt.

Eight American Battleships Are Anchored at Key West.

Santiago, Cuba, May 30.—The United States gunboat Paducah has arrived in Nipe Bay, where her commander, George C. Mitchell, will watch the situation.

Gen. Jose J. Monteguedo, the commander-in-chief of the Cuban regular army in the field, who arrived here last evening with a large detachment of reinforcements on board the cruiser Cuba, intends to leave for Guantanamo today. Before his departure he said he now was fully prepared to crush the revolt, as he has sufficient forces at his disposal.

All dispositions would be made immediately, he said, to begin an active campaign, and it was his intention to make an example of the rebels. All the loyal negroes, however, would be assured of the fullest protection.

A party of insurgents under the command of Vicente Amaya today burned 3,000 tons of sugar cane on a plantation near here.

Battleships at Key West.

Key West, Fla., May 30.—Eight battleships of the Atlantic squadron arrived here at 6 o'clock this morning and anchored in the harbor. They form part of the fleet despatched here to await eventualities in Cuba.

WOULD DISBAR ABRAHAM RUEF

Proceedings Are Started By the California Bar Association.

San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—Proceedings are pending in the supreme court for the disbarment of Abraham Ruef, convicted political boss, now serving a sentence in San Quentin prison for bribery. This action was taken, it is said, at the instigation of the California Bar association. Ruef, although a felon, still is an attorney of record.

Bert Schlessinger, attorney for Ruef, declared he would contest the proceedings. He characterized the action as persecution.

ONE DEAD, SIX HURT AND $26,000 LOSS IN FIRE AT MOOSE LAKE

Erick Grasberg May Die of Injuries—Arthur Bloomquist Dead.

Flames Start Mysteriously in Building Occupied By Restaurant.

Two Women Jump From Windows, Carrying Three Children.

Moose Lake, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—One man was burned to death, six persons injured, one of whom may die, and damage amounting to $26,000 was done in a fire that broke out at 3:30 this morning in the building occupied by Mary Lindskog as a restaurant. Before the fire department could be summoned the flames had gained such headway that it looked as though the entire town would be destroyed.

Mary Lindskog and Clara Travis jumped from the second story with three children in their arms. They were badly injured and burned. Mrs. Travis has a broken leg and was injured internally.

Chris Madsen, Erick Larson and Charles Martinson barely escaped by jumping through the windows, and are also badly burned and injured. Mr. Madsen seriously.

Erick Grasberg, who slept in the rear room of the second story, away from the stairs, is injured so that he probably will die. The flesh is burned off his hands, his face is burned off, and in going through the window he was badly cut. He is in the Moose Lake

ROOSEVELT TALKS AT GETTYSBURG

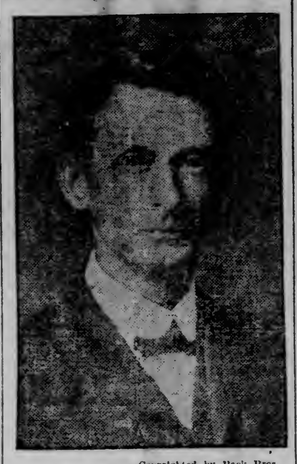
Thousands of People Attend Memorial Day Exercises There.

Gettysburg, Pa., May 30.—Thousands of persons from all over Central and Southern Pennsylvania and from the northern border of Maryland came here today for the Memorial day exercises on the battlefield. Interest was added because of the presence of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who is to deliver two addresses.

The former president came here at the invitation of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which dropped its convention work at Harrisburg for the day to go to the battlefield. Col. Roosevelt will make his first address at a luncheon to be given by the engineers. His second address will be delivered in the national cemetery later in the day.

Preceding the exercises on Cemetery Ridge, a civic and military parade will move through the streets of Gettysburg and out to the battlefield.

EX-POPULIST ELECTED BALTIMORE DELEGATE



—Copyrighted by Pack Bros.

THOMAS E. WATSON.

Atlanta, Ga., May 30.—Thomas E. Watson, once elected to congress by the Democratic party and twice nominated by the Populists for president of the United States, lost his fight to control the Democratic state convention in a spectacular political battle here yesterday. He won a place as delegate at large to the Baltimore convention, however, with others whom he denounced during the day in a convention speech as his avowed enemies.

Georgia's twenty-eight votes to the Democratic national convention will be cast for Underwood "until his nomination shall have been secured," according to the instructions given to the delegates by the state convention.

WAITER SHOOTS AT FREIGHT MEN

Fires Several Shots From Revolver He "Found" in Chicago Street.

Chicago, May 30.—Several shots fired from the Dearborn street viaduct today at a number of non-union freight handlers at work for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad resulted in the arrest of Charles K. Stenford, 21 years old.

Policemen who had been detailed to protect the non-union men arretsed Stenford after a chase. He says he is a waiter.

Stenford when asked why he fired the shots replied that he had found the revolver in the street and "wanted to see if it worked all right."

...raves Will Be Decorated and Water Strewn With Flowers.

Thousands of citizens lined up on both sides of First and Superior streets, Fifth avenue west and Second avenue east, uncovered their heads, waved their hats and cheered, as the nation's veterans passed by in the Memorial day parade this morning.

Thousands gathered at the Auditorium and Armory to listen to the speeches, singing and playing, in honor of those who lost their lives in their country's battles. It was well that there were two programs in two separate buildings to divide the crowd, for neither of the two could possibly have accommodated both audiences. Both were filled. Bursts of applause of tremendous volume followed the expression of patriotic sentiments by the several speakers.

The parade itself was a great display. It included thousands. Most of the organizations taking part were military, but there were many other bodies. The old soldiers who marched and who rode in automobiles received flowers from people along the line of march. Flowers formed a great feature of the parade. Some of the automobiles were well loaded with them by the time the march was over. The procession was more than a mile in length.

The line of march was from the front of the courthouse on Fifth avenue west down Fifth to First street, east on First street to Second avenue east, south on Second to Superior street, west on Superior to Fifth avenue west, north on Fifth to First street and then again over First to the Armory and Auditorium buildings.

After the parade dispersed several

SPEED KINGS START RACE

Big Automobile Race Is Begun on Indianapolis Speedway.

Crowd of 75,000 Sees Start of Thrilling 500-Mile Contest.

Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 30. —Under a cloudless sky, thousands of motor fans from all over the country assembled today in the odor of gasoline at the Indianapolis Speedway for the greatest event of the automobile world—the second annual running of the American 500-mile sweepstakes.

At daybreak began the exodus from the city to Speedway Park by train, trolley and touring cars, and the sun found the grandstands on the outer edge and the parking spaces on the inner circle of the brick oval beginning to fill with a crowd estimated at 75,000, that was to see twenty-four of the most famous drivers and cars battle for the honor and fortune of enjoying with Ray Harroun and the Marmon "Wasp" the classic title of winners of the great race.

Harroun and his Marmon last year did the distance in 6:42:08, and every pilot today was determined to cut this mark in his race to come in the $20,000 offered for the winner of the race.

In a tumult of cheering from the excited multitude, Starter Wagner let the cars go at 10 o'clock.

Teddy Tetzlaff and his Fiat and Ralph De Palma and his Mercedes fought for the lead in the opening laps, and the others strung out, all hitting at top speed the high white banks where death had tripped so many daring drivers. Tetzlaff's time for the first round, 2½ miles, was 1:43:49.

Then he lost the lead to De Palma.

De Palma held his lead at the tyenty miles, which he covered in 14.28, bettering the old record of 15:29 set by Marquis in an Isotta at Los Angeles.

Spencer Wishart in a second Mercedes kept at De Palma's rear wheels, with Bruce-Brown (National) third.

Ormsby's Opel broke its gasoline line and he drew out.

SAYS UNCLE SAM MUST TAKE CUBA

English Explorer Writes Letter to the Times About It.

London, May 30.—Sir Harry Hamilton Johnston, the African explorer, writes to the Times advocating annexation by the United States as the best thing that could happen to Cuba. He declares that if the United States hesitates much longer, Cuba may experience the history of Hispanola—which would mean its division into two parts.

Wilbur Wright Succumbs to Typhoid Fever at Home in Ohio.

Man Who Defied Uncharted Element Falls Victim to Disease.

Dayton, O., May 30.—Wilbur Wright, noted inventor and pioneer aviator, died this morning of typhoid fever. Death came after an illness of about three weeks.

A sinking spell developed soon after midnight and death came at 3:15 today. Wright had been near death for many days, and though his condition from time to time gave some hopes to members of his family, the attending physicians, Drs. D. B. Conklin and Levi Spitler, maintained throughout the latter part of his sickness that he could not recover.

When the patient succumber there were at his bedside the members of his family, which includes his aged father, Bishop Milton Wright; Miss Catherine Wright; Orville, the co-inventor of the aeroplane; Reuchlin Wright and Lorin Wright. All of the family reside in this city except Reuchlin, who lives in Kansas.

WORK FOR WORLD STRIKE ON DOCKS

British Workmen May Draw Other Nationalities Into Walkout.

London, May 30.—There will be an immediate national strike of transport workers and river side laborers, to be followed by an international strike, unless a result favorable to them be reached at the conference to be held at the board of trade offices tomorrow, according to a statement given out today by the organizing secretary of the Dockers' union.

To this conference the trades unions will send their delegates.

Many more non-unionists went to work this morning, which is likely to lead to some trouble as nothing is more apt to arouse the anger of the strikers than appearance on the scene of "blackleg" workers. A few trades unionists also resumed work at the docks and at Covent Garden vegetable market.

Boycott British Shipping.

Berlin, May 30.—The general council of the International Transport Workers' Federation whose headquarters are in Berlin, is preparing to act on the appeal of the British dockers to proclaim a world-wide boycott of British shipping.

WISCONSIN HAS FIRE PREVENTION INSPECTOR.

Rose Dies After Winning Campaign

Illinois Loses Secretary of State Who Held Place Sixteen Years.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—Secretary of State James A. Rose died at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home in this city. He had been ill but one day. He was 62 years old. Mr. Rose had just finished a successful campaign for renomination as the Republican candidate for secretary of state.

Secretary Rose was a member of numerous fraternal organizations, including the Masons, Knights Templars, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Elks.

The sudden death of Secretary Rose has caused much sorrow at the capital. Governor Deneen made the following statement:

"The death of James A. Rose came as a great shock. Mr. Rose has been one of the best known figures in Illinois public life for years. He has served the state as state's attorney, as superintendent of public instruction of his county, and for the last sixteen years as secretary of state. His administration of the office of secretary of state, with which I have been most familiar during the last eight years, has been a model of efficiency."

HINTS AT DANGER TO AMERICANS

Orozco Issues Protest Against the Attitude of America.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 30.—Intimating that the revolutionary authorities may be unable to restrain the populace in its indignation when it realizes the extent of the assistance being given the main government in its fight against the rebels, Gen. Orozco and his fellow followers have protested to Marion Letcher, consular representative of the United States, against the attitude of the American government in permitting the authorities to recruit and equip soldiers north of the international boundary.

The protest has been ordered published widely in both Spanish and English. It is directed to President Madero of Mexico and to the United States government.

The protest is a sequel to recent anti-American manifestations resulting from President Taft's proclamation forbidding the exportation of arms into the rebel zone.

Unable to Get Away.

Americans who planned to leave here as a result of the intimation from Gen. Orozco that foreigners may find themselves embarrassed owing to the alleged partiality of the United States to the Madero government, were unable to go. The regular train from here to El Paso did not leave, water shortage being the official explanation given.

FIRST ANNUAL BANQUET OF NEW BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB, MOST SUCCESSFUL

NORMAN McLEOD,
Who Is Directing the Work of the Boys at the West Duluth Boys' and Girls' Club.

CLIFFORD STOWELL,
One of the Officers Who Took Part in the Program Following the Banquet.

The first annual banquet of the various boys' organizations of the West Duluth Boys' and Girls' club, 208 Central avenue, held at the club rooms last evening, was a big success. About 150 members of the various organizations and a number of prominent West Duluth business men were present at the banquet and the program of toasts which followed. L. A. Barnes, former president of the West Duluth Commercial club, was toastmaster for the evening. The following program of toasts was rendered during the evening: "The West Duluth Boys' Club," by Earl Brooks; "The Industrial High School," by S. A. Foster; "The Ladies' Part," by Mrs. C. R. Keyes; "The Ideal Member," by Clarence Gilbert; "The Wednesday Night Club," by Robert Scott; "The Sunday Club," by Stanley Allen; "Clean Sports," by J. R. Batchelor, and "The Ladies," by Clifford Stowell.

Norman McLeod, head of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., who is directing the work at the West Duluth club, gave an interesting talk on "Camp Miller." His address was well received and a number of the boys signed up for the camp this year. Mr. McLeod showed a number of illustrated pictures during the course of his address.

The supper was served at 6:30 o'clock under the direction of the following members of the West Duluth branch of the Women's Christian Temperance union, which is at the head of the West Duluth club: Mesdames L. A. Barnes, C. R. Keyes, G. W. Smith, E. H. Phelps, I. P. Swangle, I. T. Barnside, M. A. Allen and B. H. Smith. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion, large banners and streamers being extended all over the room.

The boys' department of the West Duluth club was organized on March 18 of this year and in two weeks had a membership of 207. The clubrooms at 208 Central avenue were opened by the members of the W. C. T. U., who are now in direct charge of the maintaining of the building. West Duluth business men are financing the expenses of the club. The following executive committee represents the union and the West Duluth business men: Mrs. C. R. Keyes, president; E. G. Kreidler, secretary; and Harold G. House, treasurer.

Norman McLeod is at the head of the boys' work at the club. Various grade school, high school and evening clubs have been formed, each of which takes special work in reading and athletics. A Bible class and a Sunday club have also been formed. The athletic committee recently conducted a successful indoor meet and an outdoor field meet will be held immediately after the present school season closes. Many athletic and social features are planned for this summer and fall. An amateur theatrical will be given in the fall and the first annual camping trip will be taken in August. The officers of the Boys' Cabinet, which is at the head of the clubs, are as follows: Earl Brooks, president; Clarence Gilbert, secretary; and Robert Scott, treasurer.

WANT TO BE CURED?

If you are sick and would like to get out of sickness, disease and weakness, it will pay you to get something better than treatments. You want the best, the best is none too good for you, if it concerns health. We will not merely treat you, but WE WILL CURE YOU, that is more than treating, that is to make you STRONG, HEALTHY, VIGOROUS. We can cure you so that you will receive new vitality. We get at the root of your troubles, we don't treat symptoms, but we clean out the whole system. We have the means to do it. We paid $10,000 for our machinery—there is not one doctor's office in Duluth where patients can be cured as quickly as they can in our office. Our X-Ray machines penetrate every fibre and nerve of the whole body, and fill a man with new life and vigor.

SKIN DISEASES, ECZEMA.

We will give you treatment that will in a few days cure all rash, sores and every sign and symptom. Our treatment gets the poison out of the system instead of driving it in like other treatments. We cure blood poison and skin diseases so they cannot come back.

VARICOSE ENLARGEMENT, KNOTTED OR WORMY-LIKE VEINS.

Our one treatment cure is what you should have and what you will have to have to be cured right. Only a few visits are required. We do no cutting and you suffer no pain nor trouble. All signs disappear in a few days.

We have spent over $10,000 for our office equipment, library, X-Ray machines. We have acquired the most high-powered microscope which every disease can be diagnosed with.

NERVOUS TROUBLE, LOST VIGOR.

Our combined treatment for these troubles so common among men—men who have become weak and worn out, who have caused it by negligence, dissipation and excesses, is remarkably good. No one believes how quickly it benefits until they have taken it. It overcomes weakness, nervousness, pain in the back, lack of energy, ambition and strength — it's just the treatment we have found so effective in treating such weaknesses of men.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES.

Are scientifically cured by us. Our methods immediately benefit you, and the majority of cases we cure come from other specialists who failed.

BLOOD POISON.

We have cured hundreds of men who failed to get a cure in Hot Springs.

Our treatment for blood poison is a Specific composition that completely reorganizes the blood corpuscles, by which means every particle of poisonous matter is eliminated. Under our system of treatment it is unlikely for poison to remain in the blood, and purity and health are the results in every case. Our Specific treatment removes manifestations of disease soon after beginning treatment, and by increasing the albuminous portion of the blood after removing the poison, a normal state of health is resumed.

FREE CONSULTATION.

IS CRUSHED UNDER WAGON

West Duluth Boy May Die From His Injuries.

Simon Lind, Jr., the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Lind, 418 North Forty-third avenue west, was run over by an express wagon in front of his home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The boy's condition is serious and his recovery at present is doubtful.

The boy was playing in front of his home when a large express wagon drove up nearby. The boy caught on the rear of the wagon, losing his hold and falling under the wheels. The truck was a large one and crushed the small child, before the driver knew of the accident. The boy was carried to his home by the driver and one of the passersby. Dr. D. E. Seashore was called and attended the injured child. He said this morning that the condition of the boy is serious and that his recovery is uncertain, as the boy received many internal injuries, the exact nature of which is not known.

Hold Social.

The Queen Esther Society of the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street, entertained at a social in the church parlors last evening. The following program of musical numbers and readings was rendered during the evening: Miss Louise Boutin, mandolin solo; recitation, Mr. Mohoupt; piano solo, Miss Mabel Kilby; recitation, Miss Stella Ramsbottom; vocal duet, Misses Winnine Green and Ethel Crosby; solo, Byron Brooks and solo by Mrs. C. R. Payne.

Memorial Day Exercises.

Patriotic programs in honor of Memorial day were given at all of the West Duluth schools yesterday afternoon. Veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars talked in the various schools. Members of the Citizens' staff also took part in the programs.

Special Memorial exercises were held at the Duluth Industrial high school yesterday. The grade schools held their exercises from 2 until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Many parents attended the exercises at each of the schools.

Rev. H. A. Stoughton, who recently took charge of the pastorate of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Grand, will be the honor guest at a reception to be given in the church parlors by the Ladies' Aid society of the church next Tuesday evening.

A program of music and addresses will be rendered during the evening, following which refreshments will be served by the members of the society. Mrs. Stoughton and the children, who came here the latter part of last week, will also be guests at the reception. Rev. Mr. Stoughton was formerly in charge of a pastorate at Windom, Minn., coming to Duluth the early part of last month.

Guild Entertains.

St. Margaret's guild of St. James' Catholic church entertained at a social yesterday afternoon at the Dormedy hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. A musical program was rendered and refreshments were served by the following members: Mesdames John Keenan, James Keenan, Thomas McNulty, Daniel Burke, R. McIver, Hazel Meyer of Minneapolis and Miss Irene McNulty.

hospital and it is believed he has little chance for recovery.

Arthur Bloomquist Dead.

Arthur Bloomquist, who slept with Grasberg, was burned to death and only his torso was found after the fire was under control. He was a young man working on the section, and his parents reside near town.

The losses are:

George E. Nevers' hotel, $9,000, stock, bar fixtures and hotel furniture, $5,000.

J. W. Lindmark, damage to drug store and loss to restaurant building, $4,000.

Mary Lindskog, stock and fixtures, $500.

C. J. Dodge, building, $200.

John Olson, stock damage, $200.

Duluth Brewing company, damage to building, $300.

Harry Kane, $3,000.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mrs. Lindskog had retired at 3 o'clock, having served supper for a dance. The fire broke out about 3:30. She says there was no fire in the stove when she went upstairs, and she was awakened by the roar of the flames on the stairway. She immediately got up and started to call the others, but was driven out by the flames after she had shouted "fire" a couple of times.

Kept Flames From Spreading.

It was fortunate there was no wind, or the entire business portion of the town would have been swept. The fire was confined entirely to one portion and kept from spreading by the hard work of the fire department and citizens.

George Nevers says he will erect a brick block hotel of fifty rooms and that work will begin as soon as the debris is cleared away. Mr. Lindmark has about decided to erect another block which will join his present brick block.

The injured people were cared for by Dr. Walters and Dr. Shannon and it is expected they will all survive except Mr. Grasberg.

INVENTOR OF FLYER DEAD

when Wright's fever suddenly mounted from 104 to 106 and then quickly subsided to its former stage. At this juncture the patient was seized with chills and the attending physicians were baffled by the turn of events. Chills, it was said, were unusual in a patient suffering from fever this high, and the doctors were puzzled.

The condition of the aviator remained unchanged throughout the rest of the day and there were no improvements until last midnight. Then Wright began to show an improvement and the watchers at his bedside were reassured. After resting for a few hours, after last midnight Wright took a sudden turn for the worse and his principal physician, Dr. Conklin, was called. The doctor arrived at 3:25 and learned that Wright had breathed his last a few minutes before.

Fever Began May 4.

The noted patient was seized with typhoid May 4 while on a business trip in the East. On that day he returned to Dayton from Boston and consulted Dr. Conklin, the family physician. He took to his bed almost immediately and it was several days before his case was definitely diagnosed as typhoid fever.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Wilbur Wright's name has become a household word throughout the civilized world on account of the achievements of himself and his brother, Orville, with the aeroplane. He was the first man to make a successful flight in a heavier-than-air machine, and astonished the world by a performance at Kitty Hawk, N. C., on Dec. 17, 1903. He was heralded as "King of the Air" and by other as fantastic titles, all of which tended rather to arouse his derision than otherwise. For three years the Wright brothers were the only men to fly in heavier-than-air machines, though there are now more than 1,000 men and women who make a regular practice of such flights.

In spite of his acknowledged premiership in aeroplane construction and use, Wilbur Wright never was given to spectacular displays of his invention, and has repeatedly deprecated the thrilling special performances given by other aviators. He has made many exhibition flights in this country and in Europe, but always insisted upon acting on his own judgment as to time, duration and conditions under which he flew.

Never in Serious Accident.

He never was in any serious aeroplane accident, and at the time of his death held but two records—those of the first man to fly and of the first man to fly over water. The first was made at Kitty Hawk in 1903, when he made two flights, one of twelve seconds duration and the second of fifty-nine seconds. The second was made Oct. 4, 1909, when he flew from Governor's Island, New York, up the Hudson river to Grant's tomb and back, making twenty-one miles in 33 minutes and 33 seconds.

In the last three years Wilbur Wright has made but few flights, though his younger brother, Orville, has given several short exhibitions.

Wilbur Wright was born near Millville, Ind., April 16, 1867. He was educated in the high schools at Richmond, Ind., and Dayton, Ohio, and later was given honorary degrees by Earlham college, Indiana, and Oberlin college, Ohio. Since 1905 he has devoted his time to the development of the biplane patented by himself and his brother, Orville. He has sold several machines to the United States government, and has been awarded many medals, among them the gold medal of the French Academy of Science.

VOTERS' LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

Anti-Saloon Voters Band Together for More Effective Work.

The Voters' league of Duluth was formed last night at a meeting of representatives of various church and temperance societies at the Y. M. C. A. The organization will further the election of Prohibitionists to public office, will work in the interests of temperance, and will endeavor to contract the local patrol limits.

A nominating committee, consisting of Albert Merritt, W. L. Smithies, L. A. Simonson, Rev. J. J. Daniels and Rev. Swaney Nelson, was appointed to select the names of fifteen citizens to act as an executive board. The duty of the board will be to make investigations of men seeking public office and report their findings to the voters. Dr. R. W. Bowden acted as chairman at the meeting last night and B. N. Wheeler acted as secretary.

The league expects to participate in state and county elections as well as city elections. A. H. Clark of Minneapolis, assistant superintendent of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon league, gave an interesting talk, telling of the work that has been done in Hennepin county.

TWO RUMP CONVENTIONS.

District of Columbia Democrats Split Into Three Factions.

Washinton, May 30.—District of Columbia Democrats split into three factions as a result of attempts to nominate delegates to the national convention. One convention, held in the appointed hall, after turbulent scenes in which the police participated, elected twelve instructed Clark delegates to cast the six votes to which the district is entitled. Bolters from the first convention, accompanied by National Committeeman E. H. Newman, went to another hall and elected another set of twelve delegates, uninstructed. As a result of a disagreement between factions in this convention, National Committeeman Newman again bolted, taking many delegates with him.

The local Democratic chairman, J. Fred Kelly, refused to issue credentials to any of the delegates.

ADD $4,920,943 TO THE INDIAN MEASURE.

Washington, May 30.—The Indian appropriation bill, carrying $13,070,303, has been reported to the senate by the Indian affairs committee. The total appropriation is an increase of $4,920,943 over the bill as it passed the house. The senate committee added $1,600,000 for construction of storage reservoirs to impound the flood waters of the Yakima river in Washington so as to irrigate 120,000 acres on the Yakima river reservation.

Senator Curtis of Kansas announced that the bill was $3,000,000 in excess of the official estimates, and that he would oppose many of its new provisions.

MURDERED MAN ONCE LIVED IN EAU CLAIRE.

Great Falls, Mont., May 30.—C. H. Tolliver, the airship inventor, who, with his wife, was murdered Saturday in San Diego, Cal., was a former resident of Montana.

Tolliver, who was part Indian, came to Montana from Eau Claire, Wis., about 1889 and engaged in stock raising and mining. He made a flying machine here, but failed to get it to fly and then went to the coast, where he interested Mrs. Hearst, who furnished funds for carrying on his experiment.

ROOSEVELT MAY NOT ATTEND AT CHICAGO.

New York, May 30.—Col. Roosevelt left at 12:30 o'clock this morning for Gettysburg, Pa., to make two speeches there today, one at a luncheon and one at a gathering of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the battlefield at Gettysburg. As he was about to board his train, Col. Roosevelt was asked whether he would attend the convention at Chicago.

"I do not now expect to go," he said. "I cannot imagine anything that would cause me to go. It's a thousand to one that I won't."

Grand Forks, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because the Grand Forks and Winnipeg baseball teams played ball last Sunday, the Grand Forks County Sunday School association yesterday adopted resolutions declaring against such practice. What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Edward J. Hoppman, 422 W. First St., Duluth, Minn., says: "I have looked upon Doan's Kidney Pills as a good kidney medicine ever since I first tried them about twelve years ago. An account of my experience was given for publication at that time and in 1904 and in 1908, I again endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. At the present time I take pleasure in confirming my statement. My kidney trouble was evidenced by sharp pains in my back and I was also annoyed by a kidney weakness. In the morning when I got up, I was tired and all run down. Doan's Kidney Pills completely stopped there troubles. Since then, I have used this remedy and it has done good work."

STUB ROO TONIC!

E. A. JOHNSON.

Manufacturer Stub Roo Tonic.

Duluth, Minn., June 17, 1909.

Stub Roo Medical Co., Duluth, Minn.:

Dear Sir:

I will let you know about your antiseptic lotion — for four years I have suffered untold agony from rash of eczema, which I had all over my body, with terrible pain, and nervous from itching and heat that I could tear my flesh to bleeding when all the hard spells came. I had all the doctors in Duluth and used their prescriptions, but all in vain. I tried all the patent medicines I could think of, but nothing helped me. I was advised by a friend of mine to try the Stub Roo lotion. I did and got help from the first bottle. I used and spunged my body all over and felt like I was all well after I got through my first treatment. No more itching, it checked the pain and I felt fine and had a good sleep, that I did not have for four years. My eczema is gone and I can now realize the blessing of health. I shall never fail to praise the remedy and the treatment, and why not? When all other remedies failed, Stub Roo Lotion has cured me. It is certainly the best remedy for eczema or any inflammatory eruption of the human body. I will gladly answer letters anyone may write to me, and I hope one and all who try your treatment will be entirely cured as I was. May God's best blessing be on you now and forever.

ON THE IRON RANGES

OLIVER OFFICER IS GIVEN BADGE

David Foley Chief of Mining Company's Force Gets Present.

Hibbing, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—David Foley of Virginia, chief of the Oliver police, received a handsome present in Hibbing today, the gift of the Oliver police officers of the Marquette, Menominee, Gogebic, Vermilion and Mesaba iron ranges, in the form of a gold policeman's star, handsomely engraved and set with a diamond. The presentation was made informally by Chief Martin Tuller of the Hibbing district, and was a pleasant surprise to Mr. Foley.

Mr. Foley has been at the head of the Oliver police for the past two years. He is popular with all his men and has brought the department up to a high state of efficiency. While the Oliver police avoid publicity, they have accomplished a great deal of good work on all the ranges, and their work is generally appreciated by the public. The campaign they have waged against the blind-pig evil on the range has been particularly effective.

Old Cow-Puncher.

Mr. Foley is one of the best known characters on the Mesaba, and his experience as a police officer covers more than a quarter of a century. Years ago, in the heyday of the West, he was a range rider and cow-puncher, and if he ever consents to have his life story written, it will make an interesting story, as he passed through some highly interesting experiences in the old days, when from Texas to the Saskatchewan was little more than a cattle range, and the present city of Helena, Mont., was known as Last Chance Gulch. He was for several years sheriff of Gogebic county and chief of police at Ironwood, and there are few more efficient police officers in in the country than Mr. Foley.

CLAIM EBERHART GAVE CONCESSION

Did He Give Electric Line Permission to Build on State Lands?

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the builders of the Mesaba Electric railway persist in their determination to build their line across two forties of state land north of town and to erect there car barns thereon too there will probably be something doing in the courts.

When State Auditor Iverson and Attorney General Smith were here this week they notified officers of the new line the state would resist the encroachment upon its land esepcially with the car barns. They recommended that the line be built three blocks further north which would take it off the state property.

Say Eberhart Gave Permission.

It is stated that Governor Eberhart has granted the company a concession by which it is going ahead to grade the roadway and build the barns. Citizens also object to this site for barns for the reason that it is directly opposite the main entrance to Olcott park. The state land is now also used by the Virginia school district as a demonstration school farm and because of the incursions of the railroad people, the school board is making arrangements to abandon the state land and acquire a 120 acre tract located west of the city. Mr. Iverson stated that the state desired to plat the land into city lots and place it on the market as a new addition to the city.

PUPILS MAKE VERY FINE APPEARANCE

Virginia Young People, Carrying Flags, Parade Through City.

Virginia, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rarely has there been seen a prettier or more patriotic tribute to the memories of the soldier dead of this country than was shown here this morning when over 2,000 school children carrying the national colors marched through the business sections. Harry George was marshal of the day and he was followed by the Virginia City band and the delegations of school children marshalled by their teachers, all carrying flags, which they industriously waved. It was a novelty in Memorial day parades and made a great impression on all who witnessed the novel spectacle. The graves of veterans in local cemeteries were also decorated.

BIGGEST NEW YORK HOTELS SUFFER

Cooks and Waiters Strike for More Pay and Union Recognition.

New York, May 30.—The first serious strike New York hotels have experienced occurred when the waiters walked out of the Waldorf-Astoria, the Gotham, the Breslin and Rectors in the midst of the dinner hour last night, leaving throngs of hungry patrons in the lurch. Approximately 800 waiters and cooks from these four well-known hotels simultaneously went on strike, and with those who had joined previous strikes at the Belmont, the Knickerbocker and Churchills, make a total of over 1,200 who are in the fight for higher wages and better working conditions.

The hotel managements, as represented by the hotel association, had practically surrendered to most of the demands of their employes before the strike began, but without recognition of the new International Hotel Workers' union, which claims to have enlisted a membership of 12,000 hotel employes here during the last few weeks. The strikers demand recognition of their union and higher wages.

Woman's Realm

One of the most enjoyable and meritorious pupils' recitals of the season was given last evening at the Flaaten Conservatory of Music by the piano students of Mrs. Gustav Flaaten. Reflecting credit on their training, each player gave a praiseworthy rendition of his or her number, careful study and good understanding being evident by their work.

The program was opened with a quartet number played by Miss Ethel Molitor, Miss Lecarda Eliason, Miss Freda May Krause and Miss Lucille Albrechtsen, which was excellent in every detail.

The program throughout was of high class, being closed with a second quartet number played by Miss Alma Andberg, Miss Albrechten, Miss Eliason and Miss Molitor.

Features of the evening were the presentation of a certificate for teaching and a diploma of graduation to Miss Lulu May Krause, whose playing of a group of numbers won for her high praise. She plays with finish of technique and understanding unusually good and gave an artistic interpretation to her numbers which were varied.

Miss Ethel Molitor, who played one number received a certificate for teaching also. She plays with good poise and understanding.

Miss Lucille Albrechten also deserves special praise on her artistic rendering of two difficult pieces. She has a grace of touch and execution and displayed true musical temperament in her work.

Miss Alice Kennedy's reading and two songs by Miss Marie Smith added to the pleasure of the evening.

Every one of the other piano numbers played by Miss Ruth Forbes, Miss Alma Andberg, Miss Lecarda Eliason, Miss Gertrude Metson, Clarence McDonald and Miss Emily Hill was unusually good and the playing of all except the quartet numbers without notes, was especially remarkable.

Duet numbers by Miss Laura Ellerson and Mrs. Flaaten and by Miss Forbes and Miss McCuen were also especially artistic and fine.

Altogether the program was greatly enjoyed by the large audience of patrons and friends who attended this last recital of the year.

THE EVENING STORY

The Transformation of Hymenia Bass

By Edna Foster.

"Monarchy has had quite a setback up at the Basses," said Capt. Tracy, leaning against the door of the fish house and supporting himself with one tattooed arm.

There was no response from the half dozen men mending a big net which was spread out upon their knees; they did not cast the fly to catch the floating gossip of the town, but allowed it to drift toward them by the great law of chance. Capt. Tracy was not dismayed by the silence; he knew his listeners, and he stepped into the room and made ready to divide his spoils.

"Hymeny Bass has always been a terrible meek sort; she has had a large, wide idea of the cap'n and his judgement; she's believed he was so great that when he went East the West would tip up, and that his opinions were inside information from the very keyhole of the universe. Now I think his ideas on a subject are likely to hit about as near as the Farmers' Almanac comes to getting the weather right. There is always a pretty wide range to allow room to turn. Hymeny hasn't bought a yard of calico or baked a cake that he hasn't supervised for forty years. She would no more dare to set a bureau angling then she would dare to refer to public buildings. The whole house is full of nuts in the floors where she has stepped in her own tracks."

"This is the heatenest net I ever undertook to fix up," said Capt. Ben, breaking a moment's silence. The remark was clearly calculated to break the tension of the room, which breathed curiosity unexpressed.

"But she's out of bondage now," continued the narrator. "She's gone up into the conning tower, and Cap'n Bass is only firing when he gets the signal. And Mary says she is wigwagging an everlasting message of freedom to them that can understand."

"It is a regular varmint of a net," said Capt. Ben, answering himself and performing the act known as "legging over." Every man worked industriously and dissembled well. "It's all along of a present they got from the old Bass property. When the estate was divided there was a bed and two chairs for Elmiry, a pung and a ox-goad for Jonathan; but Hymeny wasn't named in the regular will, and she got only a longish kind of a looking glass.

"The cap'n is tall, and he has always hung the mirrors so high that Hymeny hasn't seen herself since she was married, and when the cap'n came home and brought the glass he set it on the floor, tipped back against the wall, till he could get a chance to buy a cord. Hymeny, it seems,—according to Mary,—saw herself for the first time in years. They do say she gave kind of a yelp and stood like one stunned; she had to get acquainted with herself all over.

"She saw how downtrodden she looked and meeching, and she saw the fires quenched out of her eyes, but what she most wilted at—if so be there was left any room to wilt—was the way her hair had wisped down to nothing. She dwelt on that, and dwelt on it until she almost lost her sense of fear of the cap'n. So one day she up and away over the fields like a girl going to the fair, and she engaged Betsy Spooner to make her a false front.

"Hymeny is a changed being. Boys, when that front came home, Hymeny perked it up on her head fine as you please, and Mary was there, and said she seemed to undergo a kind of transforming, blooming process. She sat up straighter, and the first words she spoke was to contradict the cap'n, and three times she upset him in aggermint, and then Mary very wisely got up and came home.

"Now, did any of you ever hear any kind of a superstition as to false hair" Mary and I kind of remember something to the effect that if combings are taken from a person's hair unbeknowst to the person, that the person getting that hair, as a switch, will develop all the traits of the person that it belonged to heretofore.

"I guess you will have to say them words over again, and say 'em slower," said Capt. Jed, nudging his neighbor.

"Well, to put it plainer, the hair in that front piece belonged to Miss Niram Gay, and Hymeny has seemed kind of possessed of her ways ever since. She has got the cap'n completely cured of bluster. Why, she set out yesterday that he must take her to that menagerie that travels through here every year. Mary was there, and stood near them when they were looking at the bear. Hymeny took her sunshade and sort of poked into the cage to wake the bear up, and the cap'n told her not to. Mary said she sort of tipped up her head and said, pretty firm, 'Cap'n Bass, I have wanted to poke the animals for some years. This year I shall poke!' and she did.

"A spell after, someone heard him say to her, 'There, you set there till I come back,' and she said, 'No, I won't set,' and away she went off toward the kangaroo. Time was when she would have set until the menagerie moved along and come again another year, if he hadn't told her to get up."

The net was mended and the men rose to go to the shore. Capt. Tracy was satisfied with the interest he had created, for, by a freemasonry of the eyes he knew the sentiment of the little circle. Capt. Ben lagged behind. "You—you don't think," he said, hesitatingly, "that this here Betsy Spooner is going to work up much of a trade in this town, do you?"

"Haw, haw!" derisively laughed Capt. Tracy as he climbed the hill.

"I guess it's nothing but his gossip," said the man to himself in a comforting tone.

"I don't suppose, anyway, that Miss Niram would have a whole lot of combings."

DELEGATES TO STATE LABOR CONVENTION.

Peter Marandaw, Joseph Miller, Ernest Rickard, J. E. Jensen and W. P. Thompson will represent the Trades assembly at the Brainerd convention, which will be held June 17.

The executive council will recommend that the convention go on record in favor of the initiative, referendum and recall. The council will also recommend a workingmen's compensation law for Minnesota.

Other matters to come before the Brainerd convention will be a minimum wage law, a new boiler inspection law, and an amendment to the present hours of labor law for women and children.

W. E. McEwen was a speaker at the meeting at which the delegates to the convention were elected. Mr. McEwen urged the Trades assembly to return to open meetings. He stated that he thinks it a mistake to bar newspaper reporters. He stated that the papers would get the news anyway and that it is far better to allow the reporters at the meetings rather than have garbled reports gathered from individual members appear in the newspapers.

JAMES LOSES FIGHT IN THE BLUE GRASS STATE.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—Governor J. B. McCreary defeated United States Senator-elect Ollie M. James for the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic state convention, thereby swinging control of the reorganized state committee into the hands of the administration forces and making the election of Rufus H. Van Sandt, candidate for state chairman, certain.

With enough delegates pledged for Champ Clark to insure him a solid delegation of twenty-six votes from Kentucky to the national convention, interest in the meeting centered in the factional fight.

GIVE $74,000,000 FOR WORK ON MISSISSIPPI.

Washington, May 30.—Two bills, aggregating $74,000,000, for levee work and improvements to the Mississippi river, have been introduced in the house. Representative Ransdell of Louisiana introduced one providing for an immediate appropriation of $11,000,000, with continuing like appropriations for three successive years, beginning with July 1, 1913. Of each $11,000,000 the bill provides that $8,000,000 should be devoted to levee construction and repair, the balance being devoted to river improvement work.

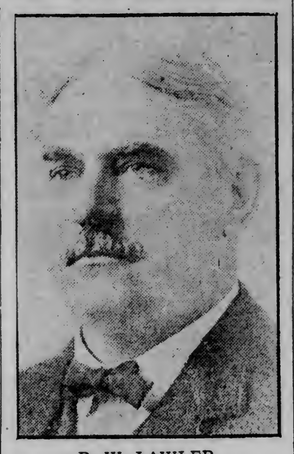
D. W. LAWLER DELIVERS MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS AT AUDITORIUM

D. W. Lawler's Memorial day address, delivered this morning at the Auditorium, was in part as follows:

"Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen. Another Memorial day has come and the greatest of the nations again pays tribute to its best beloved living and its best beloved dead, the soldier and sailor of the Union army. In 10,000 cemeteries, on storied field of battle, in the streets and squares of mighty cities, are decked today the graves of those who fell, with spring time's fairest flowers and, fairer yet, with the flag they died to save. On ocean, lake and river are poured the floral tribute to the unknown dead, and America today blesses those who have fallen, whether they sleep on land or in the sea. Again a grateful people salutes the living hero and shows the world that this republic is not ungrateful. It was a happy thought of the Grand Army of the Republic to select for their memorial anniversary this beauteous time of spring, when nature sings of youth and all its priceless wealth. The sacrifice which we meet to commemorate is the sacrifice tendered by the youth of the republic more than fifty years ago. In all history, sacred as well as secular, the highest form of sacrifice for praise or propitiation has been youth and strength. In the Old Dispensation it was the climax of human suffering, "When it came to pass at midnight that the Lord smote all the first born in the land of Egypt, from the first born of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the first born of the captive that was in the dungeon," and in that olden time the sacrifice of youth was also the supreme test of obedience and submission, for Omnipotence itself proved the fidelity of the patriarch when it commanded him to offer his only son whom he loved for a burnt offering upon the mountain. But after all, the loss and the sacrifice are to the survivors and not to the fallen. Is there a comrade here today who will describe as incomplete the career of those who died more than fifty years ago? Is there a comrade here today who does not realize the glory and the immortality of the soldier dead of the republic who shall live forever in the immortality of youth? To believe otherwise would be to rewrite the history of the world, because the proudest pages in the history of all the lands are those which tell of youth and sacrifice. Is there today a son or daughter of France in all the world who would strike from the history of that people the martyrdom of the Maid of Orleans, who braved the fires of martyrdom when 19 years old for king and country? In the story of the struggle of Switzerland for liberty stands out the name of Andreas Hofer, the gallant soldier of Tyrol, who for home and country gave up his young life on the scaffold of the foreign invader. In all the splendid names of Ireland's martyrs for liberty the most beloved one is that of Robert Emmett, who faced a shameful death without a quiver—though young in years, a man in achievement; and in the busiest spot of New York stands today the statue of Nathan Hale, who died when 21 years of age, regretting with his last words that he had but one life to give to his country.'"



D. W. LAWLER.

The Republic Stood Alone.

The speaker emphasized the lesson that was taught to America in the early stages of the Civil war that the salvation of the Union depended on Americans only and that but little sympathy or aid was to be expected from foreign powers. He narrated in detail the position of the rulers of England and France, distinguishing between the rulers of those countries and the people. The sovereign of Great Britain with indecent haste under the instruction of the British premier issued a proclamation recognizing the belligerency of the South. In the darkest days of the Civil war aid and comfort was given by Great Britain to the rebels of the South and the great shipping ports of England were havens of refuge for the armed forces of the Confederacy. Napoleon III, emperor of France, believed that the great republic was on the verge of dissolution and threw his mighty influence against the Union cause. The speaker said that he desired to revive no racial antipathy, but as an American citizen and for the truth of history he would teach the children of the present generation to read Charles Summers' addresses in the senate of the United States delivered during the first years of the war with regard to the conduct o fthe foreign powers. He said that John Bright alone among all the great English statesmen upheld the cause of the Union and even William Ewart Gladstone was a friend of the Confederates and a financial contributor to their war chest. The minds of the great masses of the people of England and France were poisoned by their great public journals and in the darkest days of the rebellion the spectable was presented of Henry Ward Beecher, a Congregational minister being dispatched to England to present the Union cause to the English people and the Catholic Archbishop John Hughes visiting France for a similar purpose.

Foreign Born Citizen Loyal.

The speaker called the attention of the audience to the fact that the Union army was composed not only of native, but also of foreign born citizens. He said that the foreign born and newly naturalized citizen fully realized the significance of his oath of allegiance and was prepared to demonstrate his absolute loyalty to the country and the flag which had given him and his children a place of refuge. The speaker described in detail the heroism of the soldiers and officers of Polish, French and Irish extraction and detailed the heroic services in the war of the rebellion of Gen. James Shields, a native born Irishman, the first United States senator from Minnesota, and Knute Nelson, a Norweglan by descent, now a United States senator from this state, who carried a musket as a private soldier during the entire war of the rebellion in the ranks of the Union army. Special emphasis was laid upon the loyalty of the great German population of the Middle West and the Northwestern states under the leadership of Carl Schurz in Wisconsin, Franz Hecker in Illinois and Franz Sigel in Missouri. He closed this part of his address by assuring the audience that they need have no fear of the problem which many memorial orators discern in the difficulty of "assimilating" foreign born elements of our citizenship. He held up the foreign born citizen of fifty years ago to the emulation of the present generation and declared that in every crisis America must depend upon herself and must look for assistance to no foreign power.

Armies of the West.

The speaker described the important part played in the war by the Western soldiers and generals, under the leadership of Grant and Sherman, resulting in the control of the Ohio and upper Mississippi and finally cutting the Confederacy in two by the surrender of Vicksburg. He drew a parallel between Grant and Sherman, both graduates of West Point, both in civil life at the outbreak of the war, both plain, prosaic charactetrs to the outer sense and fit colleagues for Lincoln. He closed a description of the surrender at Appomatox by describing the character of Grant as illustrated in his direction that the Confederates be allowed to keep their horses because they would need them for the spring plowing and farm work.

Minnesota First to Answer.

The speaker said that the people of Minnesota had special reasons for celebrating Memorial day, on account of the splendid record of this state in the War of the Rebellion. On Saturday, April 13, 1861, the authorities at Washington were advised that Fort Sumpter had surrendered. On the following morning Alexander Ramsey, governor of Minnesota, called at the office of Simon Cameron, secretary of war and tendered to the government in writing 1,000 men armed and equipped to put down the rebellion. On that very day the offer was communicated to President Lincoln and the 1,000 men composed the First Minnesota Regiment of Volunteers. It is, therefore, entitled to the splendid distinction of being the senior volunteer regiment of the Union army. The speaker gave in a summary statement the record of the First Minnesota, including an account of its celebrated charge at Gettysburg, and paid a special tribute to one of its surviving soldiers, who occupied a seat on the platform, Capt. Thomas H. Presnell of Duluth.

Clara Barton.

The speaker feelingly referred to the death of Clara Barton and told of her remarkable services as a nurse upon the battle fields, not only of the War of the Rebellion, but also of the Franco-Prussian and Spanish-American wars. He said that although she had been decorated by the emperor of Germany with the Iron Cross of the Fatherland her noblest decoration was the love and veneration of all the men and women of America.

Non-Observance of Memorial Day.

The speaker referred to the fact that the original purpose of the day had largely been forgotten and that there is a wide-spread complaint that too much of the day is given up to sports and pleasure. He said that if he had the power he would not pass a law making sports and similar diversions illegal, but he would be in favor of a law making it a gross misdemeanor for any Memorial day orator to depart from the proper theme of the day, the heroism and sacrifice of the Union soldier or use the Memorial day platform as a vehicle for unloading his personal opinions upon political questions.

The speaker closed his address by a tribute to the private soldier of the Union armies, saying that although a day would come when the last veteran of the Grand Army of the Republic would be carried to his last resting place the memory of the heroism and sacrifice which he typified would live forever in the heart of a grateful people.

"How many ages hence shall this our lofty scene be acted over,
In states unborn, and accents yet unknown!
So oft as that shall be,
So often shall the knot of us be called
The men that gave our country liberty."

INSTANT POSTUM

will decide two important points

Satisfaction and Economy

Instant Postum tastes much like those rich old Java Coffee, that came from the Dutch plantations of the far East — so rare nowadays.

And it is absolutely free from "caffeine" the drug in coffee, which has proven harmful to many coffee drinkers.

Instant Postum requires no boiling. Stir a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water; add cream and sugar to taste and instantly you have a rich food drink that is palatable and healthful.

Many coffee drinkers find this new beverage a healthful and delightful variation from their usual cup.

TELLS OF HIS BRIBE WORK

Detective Franklin Testifies for the State in Darrow's Trial.

Fails to Show Guilt as to Lockwood—Tells ot Bain's Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 30.—Bert H. Franklin, former chief detective for the McNamara defense, entered into the details of the alleged bribery of George N. Lockwood by himself, at the trial of Clarence S. Darrow on the indictment charging Lockwood's bribery. Franklin was still under examination when the trial was continued until Friday morning.

The prosecution sought through the witness to connect Darrow with the alleged corruption of Lockwood, but Franklin repeatedly testified that he could remember no specific conversations with Darrow concerning Lockwood.

Had List of Venire.

Just prior to adjournment Franklin testified that he met Darrow at a local cafe where the latter was dining with Lincoln Steffens, the magazine writer. At that time, he said, Darrow took from his pocket what purported to be a list of the ninth McNamara jury venire.

"He called my attention to two names on the list," said Franklin, "and said: 'That looks better than the other.'"

"One of the men named was Lockwood," said the witness.

He was not asked the other. Darrow, he said, told him to take the list and compare it with his list of prospective jurors and get his men busy investigating the list.

Franklin concluded his testimony regarding the manner in which he corrupted Robert F. Bain, the first juror sworn to try the McNamara case, and before he was asked regarding the Lockwood affair Assistant District Attorney Ford, who conducted the examination, inquired as to Franklin's conversation with Darrow.

Discussed the Jurors.

Franklin said that he had discussed the list of all prospective jurors with Darrow the day after he had secured the list which he said had been given him by Judge Bordwell, the presiding judge in the McNamara case.

"He asked me about those on the list whom I knew personally," said Franklin. "I told him there were about twenty-five I knew and could talk with personally. Mr. Darrow always impressed upon me that he was eager to win the McNamara case because it was the most important case of his life, and porbably the last case he would try."

The witness said he told Darrow that Lockwood was one of the men he could see personally.

"I told Mr. Darrow that I could talk to Lockwood," said Franklin. "I told him that he was a man I had the utmost confidence in, that he was a man of character and sterling integrity and that our friendship was such that if he could not accept, it would go no further."

No effort was made to ascertain what the witness meant by "it." No other conversation between Darrow and himself concerning Lockwood could be recalled by the witness.

Told of Bain Case.

"It's about time to get busy with the jury," Franklin quoted Darrow as saying to him on Oct. 5, 1911. The next day, he said, Darrow gave him a check for $1,000 to be used in buying the vote as a juror of Robert M. Bain, who later became a sworn juror in the trial. He said that he had known Bain for twenty years and that he had arranged for the corruption of the juror.

"Did you ever discuss the question of bribing jurors with Mr. Darrow?" he was asked.

"Yes, sir," said Franklin.

The witness said he discussed the question with Darrow first on Oct. 5, which was six days before the McNamara trial was called.

QUOTES LINCOLN TO HIT ROOSEVELT

Representative Fitzgerald Makes Sarcastic Speech in the House.

Washington, May 30.—The activities of Col. Theodore Roosevelt were denounced in the house in a speech bristling with sarcasm delivered by Representative Fitzgerald, Democrat, of New York, chairman of the house appropriations committee.

Representative Fitzgerald declared Roosevelt was "the greatest danger faced by the Republic" and quoted at length from a speech by Abraham Lincoln to bear out the charge. As an indication of Roosevelt's attitude toward the presidency, Mr. Fitzgerald produced a memorandum prepared when plans for new executive offices at the White House were under consideration in 1902. Beside a discussion of "temporary" and permanent quarters for the president, appeared, in the handwriting of Col. Roosevelt the words, "to be permanent during my life time."

"The 'my' was heavily underscored," commented Mr. Fitzgerald, waving the document at arm's length, and the Democratic side of the house rocked with laughter.

Quoted Lincoln Speech.

The New York member applied directly to Roosevelt extracts from a speech delivered by Abraham Lincoln before the Young Men's lyceum of Springfield, Ill. In part the extracts read:

"Many great and good men, sufficiently qualified for any task they should undertake, may ever be found where ambition would aspire to nothing beyond a seat in congress, a gubernatorial or presidential chair; but such belong not to the family of the lion or the tribe of the eagle. What, think you these places would satisfy a Caesar and Alexander or Napoleon? Never! Towering genius despises a beaten path. It seeks regions heretofore unexplored. It sees no distinction in adding story to story upon the monuments of fame erected to the memory of others.

"It denies that it is glory enough to serve under any chief. It scorns to tread in the footsteps of any predecessor, however illustrious. It thirsts and burns for distinction; and if possible it will have it, whether at the expense of emancipating slaves, or enslaving free men.

People Must Unite.

"It is reasonable, then, to expect that some man, possessed of the loftiest genius, coupled with ambition sufficient to push it to its utmost stretch, will at some time spring up among us, and when such a one does, it will require the people to be united with each other, attached to the government and the laws, and generally intelligent, to frustrate his designs.

"Distinction will be his paramount object, and although he would as willingly, perhaps more so, acquire it by doing good as harm, yet, that opportunity being passed and nothing left to be done in the way of building up, he would boldly go to the task of pulling down."

FARM TOOLS ON THE FREE LIST

Senate Adopts Amendments to Steel Bill—Repeals Reciprocity Act.

Washington, May 30.—After devoting the day largely to the consideration of amendments to the iron and steel bill, the senate adjourned last night without reaching a final vote on that measure. Senator Heyburn held the floor on adjournment, and the understanding is that when he concludes a vote will be taken.

The amendments adopted place a long list of farm implements on the free list, repeal the Canadian reciprocity law, provide for a duty of $2 per ton on print paper and reduce the duty on pig iron to 6 per cent and that on ferro silicon to 10 per cent. There was a prolonged and sharp controversy over an amendment by Senator Pomerene of Ohio to take machine tools from the free list the house provided, and fix a duty of 20 per cent on them. This was defeated, 18 to 43.

Started by Gronna.

The successful unexpected fight for the repeal of the reciprocity law was inaugurated by Senator Gronna, who at first proposed the repeal of all the reciprocity law except the second section which permits the free admission of print paper from Canada.

Senator Gallinger moved as an amendment the repeal of the entire reciprocity law, including the paper provision. This suggestion was accepted by Mr. Gronna, who withdrew his own amendment in its favor. The effect of the success of the Gallinger amendment would have been to restore the Payne-Aldrich rate of $6.75 per ton on print paper and Senator Cummins declared his unwillingness to go so far. He then proposed a rate of $2 per ton on print paper which Mr. Gallinger accepted.

The vote on this amendment stood 37 to 27.

Senator Cummins stated positively that if it should become a law, the provision would have the effect of placing a duty of $2 per ton on paper from all other countries as well as on that from Canada.

SENT JUDGE TO EUROPE

Lawyers Practicing Before Archbald Asked to Contribute to Fund.

"Unusual Procedure" in Railroad Case Related at Inquiry.

Washington, May 30.—Members of the bar who practiced before Judge Robert W. Archbald of the court of commerce when he was United States district judge at Scranton, Pa., contributed to a fund for a vacation trip to Europe for the judge, according to testimony given the house committee on judiciary by John T. Lanihan of Wilkesbarre, a former member of congress. Mr. Lanihan contributetd $10 or $25, he could not remember which, at the solicitation of E. W. Searle, clerk of Judge Archbald's court. Another firm in Wilkesbarre, he said did likewise.

That Judge Archbald received the money, Mr. Lanihan was convinced. He said he received a letter from the judge from Europe thanking him for his contribution.

Took Additional Briefs.

Another phase of the inquiry was brought through Helm Bruce of Louisville, Ky., counsel for the Louisville & Nashville railroad. Mr. Bruce produced letters which showed that Judge Archbald sought information from the attorney and permitted him to file what was conceded to be an "additional brief" after an important case had been submitted to the court for decision and to Judge Archbald for the written opinion.

The case was known as the New Orleans board of trade case. It involved freight rates from New Orleans to Montgomery, Ala., via Mobile. It was one of the first appeals from the interstate commerce commission to the newly created court of commerce, and its chief point was a question of jurisdiction.

Representative Webb asked Mr. Bruce if he had ever known a judge to ask for such information before. Mr. Bruce said he had known of judges who consulted counsel.

Unusual Procedure.

"Was this not an unusual procedure?" asked Mr. Webb.

"I think it was unusual" answer the railroad attorney, who said his letter, virtually an argument, never had been submitted to opposing counsel.

Mr. Bruce also wrote a letter to Judge Archbald thanking him after the decision was rendered. This decision was favorable to the railroad and against the interstate commerce commission. He also produced Judge Archbald's reply, which was highly complimentary to the attorney.

Former Representative Lanihan also told the committee of an effort by W. W Kissinger, whom he had represented in a case before Judge Archbald, to get him to discount a note for $2,500.

"I asked him what he wanted with the money," said Mr. Lanihan. "He told me that he was interested with Judge Archbald in a Honduran gold mine and wanted to use the money there. I would not grant his request because I did not think the directors of my bank would lend the money for such an investment."

Warned the Judge.

Albert H. Walker, an attorney, testified to his part in the proceedings in New York when Judge Archbald accepted the nolo contendere pleas of officials of the so-called wire trust and fined each of them $1,000.

Mr. Walker said he had written to Judge Archbald after this decision, warning him against such small fines for big offenders. He also said he declined an appointment as an attorney to institute impeachment proceedings against Judge Archbald at that time.

Sorry He Started It.

John L. Saeger, counsel for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railway, admitted authorship of a letter to Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer, which "got Judge Archbald into trouble," and said he was sorry he had written it. In this letter, Mr. Saeger stated that he knew on "reliable authority," that the Marion Coal company of Scranton had lost its property and would not continue a suit against the railroad company, pending before the commission.

It was following this letter that the United States court at Scranton rendered a judgment against the coal company in another suit. Mr Saeger explained that he had written the letter at the orders of his superior, William S. Jenney, general counsel of the railroad.

Notice.

Guests are expected to appear in their business suits, as the dinner is, by agreement, to be entirely informal.

AUTHOR SUED FOR DIVORCE.

Richard Harding Davis Is Accused of Deserting Wife.

Chicago, May 30.—Richard Harding Davis, author, playwright and war correspondent, is being sued for divorce in the superior court by Mrs. Cora Clark Davis, who alleges desertion. Mrs. Davis, a daughter of J. N. Clark of Chicago, was married to Davis on April 4, 1899, at Marion, Mass., after a courtship under romantic circumstances. She recently arrived here in preparation to bringing the suit.

The bill sets forth that from the time of said marriage until the early part of the year 1909, she lived with the said defendant as his wife, and always conducted herself toward him as a true, dutiful and kind wife.

The oratrix further represents that "the said Richard Harding Davis, regardless of his marriage covenants, willfully deserted and absented himself from oratrix about the first day of May, 1910, without reasonable cause, for the space of two years."

SPENDS $150,000 FOR GETTYSBURG JUBILEE.

Washington, May 30.—The senate has passed unanimously a bill appropriating $150,000 for the government's participation in the peace jubilee at Gettysburg in 1913 on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle.

ONE LONE VOICE RAISED AGAINST WOODROW WILSON

Democratic Convention at Virginia Proves to Be Love Feast.

Delegates to State Convention Instructed for "The Schoolmaster."

The Democratic county convention at Virginia yesterday was a most harmonious affair. The delegates were almost single minded in their advocacy of Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, and they fell into hearty accord with the resolutions expressing the cardinal principles of Progressive Democracy.

Fred L. Ryan of Duluth was the only outspoken Clark man in the convention. If there were others they did not make themselves known. Mr. Ryan entered an individual protest against instructing the delegates to the state convention to vote for instructions of the state delegates to the Baltimore convention for Wilson.

Mr. Ryan managed to arouse the ire of some of the Wilson men. He charged that Woodrow Wilson is not really the choice of the Democrats of St. Louis county, that the caucuses were not a fair test of Champ Clark's strength, that Champ Clark would carry the county and the state in a presidential primary, and that the members of the committee which framed the resolution indorsing the delegates for Wilson knew that Wilson is not the choice of the Democrats of the county and that he can never be nominated for the presidency.

Mr. Ryan's statements were promptly refuted. T. J. McKeon, speaking for Duluth, declared that the sentiment in Duluth is 10 to 1 for Wilson. J. D. Murphy of Tower went Mr. McKeon one better by declaring that the Democrats of the northern part of the county are 20 to 1 for Wilson, and M. H. McMahon of Virginia, in an eloquent address, declared that he has yet to find a Democrat on the Mesaba range who is for any other candidate for the Democratic nomination than Wilson.

Against a Stone Wall.

M. L. Fay, John Jenswold and Andrew Nelson also replied to Mr. Ryan and vouched for the Democracy of Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Ryan was really butting his head against a stone wall. He was all alone in his fight and when the motion on the adoption of the instructing resolutions was put, his was the only voice heard in the negative.

With the exception of Mr. Ryan's protest on the resolutions, the convention was a veritable love feast. After H. P. Curren, chairman of the Democratic county committee, had called the convention to order John T. Pearson of Duluth was unanimously elected chairman and Rev. Frank Durant of Hibbing, secretary. The temporary organization was later made permanent.

The list of delegates adopted by the convention was selected by a committee consisting of five from Duluth and one from each village and city outside of Duluth represented in the convention. The committee was composed of the following: Harris Bennett, Bert Fesler, M. L. Fay, W. L. Bernard, W. F. Dacey, Duluth; C. A. Monroe, Chisholm; H. H. almon, Biwabik; Bryan O'Rourke, Hibbing; C. S. Botton, Proctor; M. Meisner, Ely; J. D. Murphy, Tower; Charles Jesmore, Eveleth; J. H. Fleming, Virginia, and T. S. Morrison, Gilbert.

Fred L. Ryan's name was on the list of delegates when it was first reported to the convention. Mr. Ryan insisted on being consistent and declined to serve on the delegation under Wilson instructions. The name of J. W. Murphy of Virginia was substituted for that of Mr. Ryan.

Although the convention furnished very little fireworks, it was one of the most successful conventions ever held by the Democrats of St. Louis county. The attendance was certainly greater than that at any previous convention of the party in this county. Over 125 delegates were on hand when the convention was called to order. Almost to a man they were enthusiastic for Woodrow Wilson and even if the Clark minority had been larger than it was, there was little danger of the convention being turned from its purpose of indorsing Woodrow Wilson.

The delegates were royally entertained by Virginia. The Duluth delegation was met at the train by a band and was escorted to the Fay opera house, where the convention was held. Virginia has assumed new importance in the minds of many of the delegates. Those who had not visited the city in recent years were surprised by the great strides made, especially in the matter of civic improvements. The two magnificent schools, the imposing district court building and the park on the road to Mountain Iron were visited by many of the Duluthians during their leisure hours, and were greatly admired.

CITY PLANNING DISCUSSED BY INDUSTRIAL SECRETARY

Duluth's New Municipal Expert Talks to Endion Men's Club.

Warns City Against Constant Pollution of Water Supply.

That the question of the future welfare of Duluth presents some problems that should be considered and acted upon without delay was the general tenor of an address delivered last evening by Dr. B. M. Rastall, head of the newly established civic and industrial development department of the Duluth Commercial club, at a banquet held last evening in the basement of the Endion M. E. church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street, under the auspices of the Men's club of the church.

Dr. Rastall said there should be a sympathetic development of parks and parkways, for which the city afforded such excellent natural facilities. The streets should be made more passable. Something should be done to see that the city does not poison its own water supply by dumping sewage into the lake. There should be a special district for factories. The various faults that he pointed out were by no means peculiar to Duluth, he said. He merely emphasized the fact that Duluth, like other fast-growing cities of America, had neglected many considerations of vital importance in planning its own future.

Better Duluth.

Dr. Rastall declared that in order for a city to reach the highest possible point of material prosperity, it was absolutely necessary that the health, comfort and general welfare of its people should not be overlooked. Care should be taken that the city make the best possible impression upon visitors. Strangers passing through on the train were bound to go away with a bad opinion of a place, if they saw evidences of filth and squalor about the depot, no matter how beautiful, clean and attractive other parts of the town might be.

DR. B. M. RASTALL.

The speaker referred to Germany as a country where civic development had been reduced to a science. In that country, he said, cities were planned twenty-five years ahead. Parks, water fronts and other vital features were carefully considered. In new cities large conduits were placed in the streets before they were paved, in order that water, gas and electricity might be distributed without ever again tearing up the streets. He also spoke of the development of garden cities in England. Residence localities were laid out with an eighth of an acre for each home, in order that there might be room for gardening. This was done for the benefit of the poor. Rents were low and the homesteads could be bought on small annual payments.

Dr. Rastall declared that cities should not be allowed to grow haphazard as was generally the case with American cities. Duluth's future park system should be carefully planned. The park development along the lake front should be continued. What could be done along this line was well shown by the river boulevarding at St. Paul and Minneapolis. To get a good idea of what the Twin Cities had accomplished along this line, one should compare the river fronts of those cities with those of cities farther down the river.

Playgrounds.

In laying out parks, he said, one at least should be devoted to playground and athletic purposes. Americans were just beginning to appreciate the necessity of developing strong children. The time to do this was between the ages of 10 and 20. The speaker declared that there was not a city in the United States that had playgrounds adequate to its needs.

American cities, he said, lost thousands of dollars each year by reason of rough and narrow streets. He did not compliment the condition of the streets of Duluth. "The general bumpiness and disreputable nature of your streets," he said, "is certain to give a bad impression to people, especially strangers, who ride over them in automobiles. The ideas thus bumped into people destroy half the effect of all the good features you can show them."

Dr. Rastall spoke of the German plan of having a certain district in each city given over for factory purposes. This district was almost invariably placed on the leeward side of the city, so that the smoke and dust might not be carried by the wind into the residence sections. Moreover, with the factories all together it was easier to supply them with trackage and other facilities that they needed. Duluth would do well to follow this example. With its factories at one end of the city, the other end could be preserved as a beautiful residence district.

City Water Supply.

Referring to the city water supply, he spoke of the large amount of typhoid fever that Milwaukee had in 1910, and it was found that the cause was the water supply, although the main extended five miles out into the lake and it had been thought that there was no danger of getting any but the purest water. A scientific investigation showed, however, that when the wind blew in a certain direction it produced currents in the lake that carried the sewage of the city directly to the intake of the city water supply and that the water plant was pumping much of the sewage back into the city with the public water supply. He intimated that the same thing might sometime happen at Duluth and it would be well for the city authorities to be vigilant about this matter. He spoke of the vast number of cities along great rivers, taking their water supplies from these rivers and dumping their sewage into the same streams a little lower down, each utterly disregarding the fact that there were cities both above and below it on the same stream doing the same thing. He said that if cities did not stop thus polluting streams and lakes, he was sure a national law would be passed compelling the use of septic tanks, but he would rather see the municipalities mend their ways without any such compulsion.

Dr. Rastall said such organizations as the Men's club of the Endion church could do a vast amount of good by studying these problems and helping to work out reforms.

Attorney I. K. Lewis, who spoke after Dr. Rastall, remarked that Dr. Rastall, unlike most other speakers just come to Duluth did not tell the old residents what a fine city they had, but told them of things that they ought to have and did not have. He thought it right and proper that the church should grapple with such problems, as its own welfare was deeply concerned in their proper solution.

Rev. John W. Powell, pastor of the church, said that during the many years he had held that pastorate he had tried to make the church a leader in the community, and he would be pleased to see it a greater civic asset than it ever yet had been.

Musical selections were rendered from time to time by the well-known trio of players, Misses Heymar, Brown and Lawson. Miss Heymar with the violin, Miss Brown at the piano and Miss Lawson with the violincello. The closing selection was "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa.

The gathering consisted of about 200, about as many women as men being present. The supper was served by the older girls of the Sunday school.

United Presbyterians Adjourn.

Seattle, Wash., May 30.—The fifty-fourth general assembly of the United Presbyterian church has dissolved.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: JUNE 2.

Matt. vi, 1-18: Hypocrisy and Sincerity.

CONNECTION.

From the Sermon on the Mount we have this lesson on the fundamental motives of our actions. There were three forms of righteousness, or righteous deeds, which constituted the religious life of the Pharisees—almsgiving, prayer and fasting. Their views of these three things were as wrong as they could be, because they did them altogether for the spectacular effect on those who saw them. Jesus tells how to do them so as to serve their real purpose.

LESSON.

I.

Selfish, Instead of Sweet, Charity. 1-14.

"Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them; else ye have no reward with your Father who is in heaven. When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right doeth; that thine alms may be in secret; and thy Father who seeth in secret shall recompense thee."

1. CHARITY.—It is right to give alms. The Jews did right in doing so. They made a system of gathering charity money. They went around soliciting it for the poor Jews and Gentiles; a committee also gathered it for Jews only; on the Sabbath day it was received in the synagogues. It was right to gather it by a system and their system seems all right. Jesus didn't condemn it; He approves it by implication. But there was something wrong. Here it is.

2. SELFISHNESS.—That was the trouble. They did the right thing, but in such a very bad way as to make the deed a sin. They gave their alms only for the reputation it would bring them, not for the pleasure of doing a right and gracious thing. There were two objects they might well have in view—winning God's approval and gaining in likeness to Him. To have aimed at those two ends would have made the deed entirely satisfactory to Him. But there was a lower aim—the recognition and the regard of men. They aimed at that and—got it. They got what they aimed at, only that and nothing more, no sense of satisfaction in doing God's will and in being like Him. Ostentatious giving today is just as distasteful as it was then. It may stimulate others, but, if it has the purpose of gaining reputation, it is wrong. It is not wrong for others to know of our gifts; it is necessary that gifts become known, but the publicity must not be the object aimed at.

II.

Prayer in the Closet, Not on the Stage. 5-15.

"And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father who seeth in secret shall recompense thee. And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not therefore like unto them; for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father who are in heaven. Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses."

1. PUBLICITY.—There must be public prayer, as there must be public meetings. The right attitude of mind is possible in such prayers as well as in private prayers. One can lead people in prayers and enter deeply into their needs and desires. The one who knows how to express to God in public prayer the needs of others is a benefactor. Jesus knew that. He taught them to pray in words which we know. We also know of His praying in public for them. He was not correcting them for praying, but for their shocking abuse of prayer.

2. PERVERSION.—The perversion He was correcting was their habit of doing their private praying in public. Note the wrong of it. First the act was wrong—doing personal and private praying on the streets. Second, the purpose was wrong—to get the attention, possibly the praise, of men. Their view of God was shocking—that He heard them because they repeated their prayers over and over. They were all the more fervent for such a motive, as men are today, in Mohammedan countries, when they know people are looking at them. They made prayer a matter of form. They "say" their prayers. A sad characteristic of such praying was that they thought God was not interested in them except when they hammered away at His dull or inattentive ears with constantly repeated petitions, as the priests of Baal did. The devotee who "says" prayers knows how to seem very prayerful. The prayer wheel of the Buddhist means the same thing. These people have already received their reward. Having sought the attention of men they have what they sought, nothing more, no communion with a loving Father, no reward from Him. Note the things one may pray for, as we find them in the Lord's prayer.

III.

Fasting, Wrong and Right. 16-18.

"Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance; for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face; that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father who is in secret; and thy Father, who seeth in secret, shall recompense thee."

1. RIGHT.—When the spirit is such as to require it, on account of sin or sense of unworthiness or a public calamity. Private fasting may often be useful in buffeting the too aggressive physical or humbling the spirit or aiding in concentrating the thought on superior things. General fasting is right when the general conditions make it fitting.

2. WRONG.—When the conditions are the reverse, as on a marriage occasion or in times of great joy. Public fasting for the sake of reputation or when one should do so in private for his own good is wrong. In those days they got up all sorts of outward signs of it, like putting ashes on the head and disfiguring the countenance or letting the clothes go unkempt. Jesus does teach that there may be occasions when it is fitting and that it should have none of the external signs or marks of ostentation. If we have a personal reason for fasting let it be between us and our God, who sees it and takes note and rewards. Two rewards we may always seek—approval and our own likeness to Him.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The only real remedy against such degradation of the very idea of prayer lies in the deeper conceptions of God and of it which Christ here gives. He knows our needs before we ask. Then what is prayer for? Not to inform Him, or to move Him, unwilling, to have mercy, as if, like some proud prince, He required a certain amount of recognition of His greatness as the price of His favors. But to fit our own hearts by conscious need, and true desire and dependence, to receive the gift which He is ever willing to give, but we are not always fit to receive.—Maclaran.

Our Lord bids us to ask, not for ourselves only, but for our brethren. We begin by owning them as brethren when we address God, not as "my Father," but as "our Father." He who lives for himself, owning no brother's claim on the part of his fellow men outside the ties of kinship, or race, or creed, cannot pray this prayer.—Thompson.

Forgiveness is as much the basis of a day's duty as bread. If we are to serve on earth, we must have bread; but if we are to serve either on earth or elsewhere, we must have forgiveness.—Dods.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1.—Why should public fast days be appointed?

2.—Why would it be wrong to have an annual fast day?

3.—Are our methods of raising money for benevolent purposes pharisaic?

4.—Can one afford not to have a place set apart in his home for private prayer?

5.—Cannot good things come between us and effective prayer?

6.—What are the perils encountered in public prayer?

GIVEN THE LIMIT ON LIBEL CHARGE

New York Man Who Attacked Congressmen Gets Sentence Suspended.

Washington, May 30.—H. W. A. Page, the New York linen merchant found guilty of having criminally libeled Chairman Harry D. Clayton and the members of the house judiciary committee, was given the extreme penalty of the law when a sentence of five years in the penitentiary and a fine of $1,000 was passed upon him.

Judge Barnard, however, suspended the operation of the sentence and placed Page on probation for three years, requiring that he report to the court once each year.

AMUSEMENTS

Lyceum Notes.

At last the patrons of the Lyceum theater again have an opportunity tonight of witnessing the dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's popular novel "Beverly" which has delighted crowded houses at the ultra fashionable Studebaker theater, Chicago, and it is presumed that they will take advantage of the opportunity. As the company is en route to the Pacific coast and San Francisco where an engagement has been booked at a leading thearter, the same cast and production will be seen here intact.

When Klaw & Erlanger's brilliant musical comedy "The Pink Lady" comes to the Lyceum tomorrow for two days with matinee Saturday local playgoers will see an attraction that has aroused more interest than anything which has ever been introduced to the American stage in ten years as far as musical comedy productions are concerned. It has just closed a year's run in New York where it broke every known record at the New Amsterdam theater which has long been known as the house of records. When it is remembered that the late Richard Mansfield played his most remarkable engagements in this theater and "The Merry Widow" had its sensational run there as did "Madame Sherry" and other wonderful hits, the record of "The Pink Lady" is all the more astonishing. The piece is just a year old and has been seen in less than fifty cities of the country so far, which is a sure indication that local playgoers will appreciate the opportunity of seeing it thus early in its brilliant career.

May Robson's new starring vehicle, "A Night Out," is a comedy in three acts, but while it is comedy and rather broad at times, it is singularly human and furnishes excellent characterizations, in addition to giving May Robson several opportunities to prove herself a capable actress in a role which is a little finer and more delicate than Aunt Mary in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." Miss Robson will appear at the Lyceum, June 5 and 6.

LOVING CUP FOR CAPT. ROSTRON

Titanic Survivors Also Remember Crew of the Rescue Ship.

New York, May 30.—Capt. Arthur H. Rostron, commander of the Cunard liner Carpathia, the ship which went to the rescue of the passengers of the sinking Titanic, was presented with a handsome silver loving cup by a committee of the survivors, who boarded the liner on her arrival here yesterday.

Gold, silver and bronze medals, together with a framed set of engrossed resolutions, were presented to the officers and entire crew, which had been mustered in the salon.

Capt. Rostron, in responding, said the credit was all due to the crew of the Carpathia; he merely had tried to do his duty as a sailor toward suffering humanity. The crew, he said, "have brought this honor to me and to themselves."

Among the members of the committee were Bjornstrom Steffenson of the Swedish legation.

NEW YORK CITY ASKS $8,000,000 APPROPRIATION.

Washington, May 30.—Headed by Mayor Gaynor, a delegation of New York city officials advocated Senator O'Gorman's bill to appropriate $8,000,000 for a site for a postoffice and federal courthouse in New York. They appeared before the senate committee on public buildings and grounds.

Into this country of countless fertile acres, potatoes are being imported from Europe!

In this rich dairy and poultry raising country eggs, butter and meat are at top-notch prices!

In a land where millions of apple trees are planted every year, apples are selling at ten cents apiece!

The potato is not a perfect food for man—neither are eggs, butter, meat or apples. The only complete, perfect food for man is the whole wheat grain. It contains all the material needed for building and nourishing the perfect human body. It is brought to its highest perfection as a food in MEMORIAL DAY.

Once again the country cheerfully lays aside its workday cares for a day, to pay its respect to the memories of those who died that the nation might live, and to the soldiers who are with us still, though their years are many and their numbers pathetically smaller than they were last year.

A change has come subtly over the spirit of Memorial day in the last few years. Hardly half a decade ago, Decoration day was a holiday marked chiefly by bicycle races, baseball games, horse races and merrymaking. The veterans, patiently and faithfully, went through the round of decorating the graves and holding exercises, attended by but a few of those whom the release from work for the day made it possible to participate.

All that is past. There is still pleasuring on Memorial day, but it is quieter, and the veterans do not grudge it. Much of the heavier burden has been lifted from their shoulders by the Citizens' Staff. And, beyond these changes, without any slightest lessening of respect for the memories of the dead, there has come over the land a finer, more tender consideration for the living.

The war ended nearly half a century ago. Though it was fought largely by young men—largely, in fact, by boys—half a century added to the age of a boy big enough to shoulder a musket is a long time. None of the living veterans are young. Many of them are very old. Their roll calls bring fewer responses every year. Every year more of them are laid away under the sod, and there are many more graves to be decorated each Memorial day. It is this thought, no doubt, that is making this day a more sacred and more venerated occasion every year.

It was high time that the change came about. The old-time Decoration day, when the exercises at the graveyard were often interrupted by the boisterous noise of the racetrack, and when the tears for the dead and the cheers for the living were all but obscured by the shouts of merrymakers, was a reproach to the Republic. It was all thoughtlessness, of course, and nothing worse; but it was wretchedly ungrateful. We are glad it is over. This new time of greater tenderness and greater consideration for the living, without less veneration for the nation's sacred dead, is more like what Memorial day ought to be.

It will be the wish, we are sure, of every American citizen, as it is the heartfelt wish of The Herald, that those who remain of the lads who marched to war half a century ago may long be spared to us, and that their remaining years may be as sweet and peaceful and full of comfort and honors as they deserve.

By His Record.

Governor Eberhart asks to be judged by his record. That's what's the matter. He is being so judged.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Democratic county convention at Virginia yesterday seems to have been a very pleasant affair. The Virginians proved as good hosts as though they all came from their namesake state, famed for its hospitality and courtesy. The convention was hearty, enthusaistic and unanimous. It indorsed the right man for president, and it adopted the right kind of a platform.

The resolutions adopted were truly progressive in every sense of the word. They show the spirit of the Democracy of St. Louis county. They show why St. Louis county Democrats were so overwhelmingly for Woodrow Wilson—because he is the embodiment of the ideals of democratic government which the St. Louis county convention laid down in emphatic terms.

The indorsement of Governor Wilson for president voices the sentiments of the rank and file in St. Louis county, regardless of party.

The Country's Best Safeguard.

And of course there is this to remember—even if Theodore should want another term, as President Taft has suggested, he couldn't have it unless the voters said he might.

HERE'S A FUNNY THING.

We always said that your true reactionary, your ingrained standpatter, is the blindest and most short-sighted being alive.

Reform is always due to him, never to the reformer.

The standpatter rides his free horse so savagely, abuses his power so flagrantly, and overreaches himself so stupidly, that he always undoes himself in the end.

And in his attitude toward public questions he is so childishly simple and transparent, and so ludicrously inconsistent, that it is always plain to the child in the primer class that his motives are selfish, and that he is opposed to certain things because they would interfere with his profit-taking, but would be for them if they made profit-taking easier.

For instance: Because Woodrow Wilson, Senator La Follette, Theodore Roosevelt and the whole people want certain changes in government practices that will bring about a real government by and for the people, the standpatters have been having fearful paroxysms of horror and despair. The Constitution of Our Fathers, they say, is threatened; and the slightest change in any jot or tittle of that sacred document means the undoing of the Republic.

And yet, because this year they witness the dreadful spectacle of candidates for the presidency appealing directly to the people instead of asking thg bosses to arrange things for them, to a man they are demanding a fundamental change in the Constitution to make the presidential term six years with no re-election instead of four years and a re-election—if it is deserved and can be had.

Changes in government that increase the power of the people and decrease the power of Special Privilege and its lackeys, the bosses, are certain to destroy the Republic. But changes in government that will lessen the power of the people are perfectly all right. This is the standpat philosophy.

And not a man of them all sees himself to be inconsistent!

Let's Never Forget It.

But let's remember that the veterans now living fought just as hard and took just as many chances for their country as those whose graves we are decorating.

HOW TO BUILD A CITY.

Brother Booster E. C. Kiley of Grand Rapids was in Duluth the other day, and in an interview with The Herald he left some thoughts about city-making that it will do all Duluth people good to think over.

"You have got to believe," he said, "that you are living in the best city in the best state in the best country in the world, before you can make others believe it."

That's Article 1 in the constitution of the organization of Duluth Boosters, and Rule 1 in the by-laws of city-building.

"You can't boost a city to the outside world," he continued, "until you have a crowd of boosters at home." That's Article 2 and Rule 2.

Article 3 and Rule 3 also are the same: "You can't talk enthusiastically until you are enthusiastic." And Article 4 and Rule 4 are as follows: "The first step toward developing a city and pushing it to the front is to get enthusiastic about it yourself."

Nothing succeeds like success. A man selling goods which he believes to be poor goods and hard to sell makes a mighty poor salesman. A town booster who nurses doubts about the future of his town is a mighty ineffective booster.

The citizen of Duluth has more to boost and more to brag about than the citizen of any other community on the continent.

Anybody can name offhand half a dozen towns that have had a marvelous growth in the past ten years, largely on one or two talking points. The Herald mentioned some of them in the first of its series of articles to show the actual situation of Duluth and its immediate promises of quick growth.

Duluth has every one of these talking points, and it has several that no other city has.

Never in all history has a more commanding set of advantages been grouped together in one community.

Yet even the most valuable set of advantages imaginable will not make a city unless it is a city of city-builders—that is, of boosters.

For awhile Duluth marked time because it depended on its manifest destiny. Then it woke up and found that some of its most valuable advantages had been stolen from it, and that others had been neglected. For instance, though Duluth was surrounded by the most fertile soil on earth, for many years Duluth paid long distance freight charges on its food.

That's all over, now. Duluth is feeding itself from nearby soil. The advantages that were lost are being recovered. The latent territory surrounding Duluth which choked Duluth's growth while it remained a wilderness is a wilderness no longer, but an empire rapidly filling with farms and thriving communities.

Mr. Duluthian, you are living in the best city in the country, the city with the greatest possibilities of growth and development, the city with the greatest natural advantages, the city of the greatest opportunities for its own and your prosperity.

Watch Duluth grow!

At Last.

And to think that next week we are to see that extra session—which "there was no demand for."

ON TO INTERNATIONAL FALLS!

The spring meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association will be held at International Falls June 20 and 21. An exceedingly interesting program is being prepared, not least attractive in which will be the excursions arranged by the International Falls people to enable the delegates and visitors to see the sights of that vicinity.

And from the viewpoint of the individual delegate, this is going to be a large factor in bringing about a large attendance. It offers an opportunity to see what is to most of the people even of Northern Minnesota an entirely new section, and one that is shortly to be one of the richest and most important of the state.

Besides this, the meeting is to be one of the most important in the history of the N. M. D. A.; and the history of the N. M. D. A. is practically the history of the development of Northern Minnesota.

The legislature meets June 4, and in all probability it will still be in session when the association convenes.

Reapportionment will be before the legislature. Because the Northern Minnesota Development association failed to ask for an extra session for reapportionment last winter, it will be argued by those opposed to action on reapportionment at the coming extra session that Northern Minnesota is in no hurry for justice, and that its anxiety for reapportionment has been exaggerated anyway.

If that happens, there should be at International Falls a large, representative, enthusiastic and determined convention to send to the legislature an emphatic demand that Northern Minnesota be given its just share of power in making the laws of the state of which it is a tremendously important part.

Every county in the territory covered by the N. M. D. A., and to as large an extent as possible every community in that territory, should be represented at International Falls by as many as it can get together of its most energetic and representative citizens.

And as the Twin Cities are planning large excursions to the convention, this applies with special force to Duluth.

The supreme court is to decide when an egg is spoiled. It also might consider when a primary is a soapbox.

Senator Lorimer wants to make a speech on his case. Queer how some people like to talk about their troubles.

Roosevelt cannot enter the campaign in South Dakota. What's the difference? He didn't go out to California, either.

In fact, there are several primary reasons why the Republicans would do well to nominate somebody besides President Taft.

Taft and Roosevelt will confine the rest of their pre-convention campaigns to claims as to delegates. Anyway this ought to be safe from personalities.

The courts refused to enjoin the Zion City people from calling invaders "stinkpots" and similar epithets. Gee! It's almost as if old John Alexander himself were alive and on the job

"And last of all Satan came also," quoted Secretary James Wilson when told that the Presbyterians had recalled him as a delegate to the international conference. But we hardly think James meant that he'd go to the conference after all.

CHARLES L. BARTLETT

By SAVOYARD.

Washington, May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A philosopher has told us that worth makes the man, and as a general proposition work makes the worth. Decisively and emphatically Charles L. Bartlett is an indefatigable man, one to corroborate the witness who testifies that there is no excellence without labor, no harvest without toil, no reward without cost.

The world loves to admire the men who fought for the South in the titanic struggle of 1861-65. Their deeds were epics and their glory everlasting; but how about their sons at home, too tender in years, too feeble in strength, to go to the wars and bear arms? These children were heroes, too, toiling in the fields with boundless energy and serene fortitude to provide foods for their sires in the field and their mothers in the home. And these children, grown to be men by 1875—these children seized the reins and rescued their state governments from the spoiler. They made the Solid South—honor to them, too.

Charley Bartlett was one of them. He was 9 years of age when Georgia seceded and when he might have been at his books he cheerfully went to the plow. It is good stock. It was at Hastings and it did much to make English history in subsequent centuries. It came to Maryland in 1600, and in 1776 it put its sign manual to the Declaration of Independence. It is a fruitful line and found in many of the states. Pure Anglo-Saxon, the Bartlett blood is nowhere richer than in Georgia.

The father of the congressman was a colonel in the Confederate army. He survived the war and resumed the practice of law when Georgia was in the grasp of the harpies. The boy became his secretary, his pupil, his aid, his friend, his coadjutor. Ere he emerged from his teens he was saturated with the law, infatuated with its science and delighted with its practice.

He secured a classical education at the University of Georgia and at the University of Virginia. After his graduation he opened a law office at Monticello, Ga., and subsequently moved to Macon, where he yet resides, and entered into a legal co-partnership with a former school-fellow, a brilliant man, Washington Dessau. Soon it was the leading firm at that exceptionally able bar; but like so many of the land Hine Bartlett was made for public life. He was a lawyer called to the bar ere he was 20 years of age, and while yet a young man he was made solicitor-general for his circuit, an office he held four years, and then he entered politics, having been chosen a representative in the state legislature from Bibb county in 1882, when 29 years old. He was twice re-elected. Then he was returned to the state senate.

When he was a member of the house of the Georgia legislature Bartlett voted against Joseph E. Brown, when he was a candidate for re-election to the senate of the United States, and it was the only vote cast against that remarkable man. Bartlett voted for Robert Toombs, certainly the greatest intellect and possibly the greatest man Georgia ever produced. If Brown and Toombs and Stephens and Yancey and Vance and Wigfall had given the same cordial support to the administration of Jefferson Davis that Ben Hill gave it, there is much room for conjecture that the rebellion of 1861 would have been as successful as was the rebellion of 1776. That administration made many and grave mistakes, and there be good reasoners to say that if the South had not been beaten in the cabinet she would have been victorious in the field. Mr. Davis was a very great man, but he was human, and it is possible, quite likely, indeed, that his errors were multiplied as a result of the bitter opposition to his conduct by Toombs, Brown, Stephens and the others. Unity in council as well as in battle was the only possible plan of Southern independence. That unity was woefully lacking.

After his retirement from the state senate, Bartlett, at the instance of the Macon bar, given without his knowledge, was appointed judge of the Macon circuit, in which capacity he served several years, until his election to congress in 1894. That was the Fifty-fourth congress, and he is now serving his ninth term in the national councils. Upon suggestion of Former Speaker Crisp he was appointed to the elections committee. No man is fit to sit at that council who is not a glutton for work, and Bartlett was the very man for the place. He is small and slender in physique, delicate in appearance; but he is a "wiry" man, and it was that quality in the rank and file of Lee's army that made it such fine soldiers.

In the nearly eighteen years Bartlett has been in congress he has been a very busy man and he has risen to be a member of the great committee of appropriations—one of the purseholders of the American people. His activity has been ceaseless. The people will be ever grateful to him for his expose of the disreputable transaction of the acquisition of the old site of the New York city postoffice by the Standard Oil bank. He is a member of the Stanley committee raised to investigate the Steel trust and at that board his counsel has been invaluable and his service zealous, though judicial, incorruptible and fair. In short, Judge Bartlett is become one of the leaders of the national house of representatives.

Judge Bartlett stands as high at home as he does at this capital. The governor of Georgia tendered him the appointment to the supreme bench of the commonwealth, but he felt it his duty to decline, in view of the line he had marked out for his conduct in the national legislature.

And how well-placed is the confidence of his constituency in his zeal and intelligence was shown in his utter opposition to the amendment proposed to be ingrafted upon the resolution submitting a constitutional amendment to the states providing for the election of senators in congress by direct vote of the people. Though not yet three score years of age, Judge Bartlett numbers that amendment among the infamies, Southern reconstruction, and it is his legal opinion that the amendment to the Constitutional amendment proposed will make the way for a force bill—or what is tantamount to it, the enactment, or the virtual enactment, of the senate acting independently of the house in the disposition of contested elections of senators.

Bristow of Kansas voted against the amendment to the amendment in the last congress. This congress he fathered the amendment to the amendment. Why? Because the negroes of Kansas denounced his former action. Bartlett is too much of a Southern man to vote for any measure, even the election of senators by direct vote, when the G. O. P. half-soles it with the vote supplied by the negroes of Kansas or any other state.

And a good many Southerners rallied to him in the final vote.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

IMPROVING THE CAR SERVICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have just returned from the Twin Cities, and while there had my eyes opened on the way to handle street cars. The Twin City conductors and motormen could give their Duluth brothers some pointers on how to handle a car. In the first place there are no delays. Passengers are supposed to be at the gates when they are opened, and step lively. If a passenger gets up from his seat when the car stops, he is generally carried another block, and soon learns his lesson. The same thing applies to getting on a car. There are no waits while a passenger says farewell to a friend on the sidewalk. The cars run much faster, and there are no bundles allowed that cannot be held in the passenger's lap. Some of these rules ought to be applied here, and they would result in cutting down the running time to Lakeside and Woodland and West Duluth about five minutes.

A LAKESIDER.

Duluth, May 29.

Ye Song of Ye Fisherman.

Now what care I for politics and its mad and foolish tricks, and demagogic spouting? We've reached the time of year so glad when I can drop the woe and gad of daily cares and go, my lad, with rod and reel a-trouting!

Let business cares be what they may? Let happen what mayhap today in all this world of doubting, I have no care, for free am I to take my rod, my reel, my fly, and to the distant rillets hie to take my fill of trouting!

Prue may be cross, and Bess unkind, but naught I care! I shall not mind their frowning or their pouting. But from the city's whirl I'll slip and to the vales and hillsides skip, and pool and pond and brooklet whip in gay and joyous trouting!

The rod, the reel, the hook and line, the quiet ways and fish for mine! I'm off upon my outing, 'mid byways peaceful and serene, up in the hills so softly green where trouble never shows his mien the while I'm at my trouting!

—Carlyle Smith in Judge.

Not an Experimeut.

Kansas City Star: Atlantic City is the fourth city in New Jersey to adopt commission government. Seven Massachusetts cities have adopted it. More than fifty cities in New York are demanding commission government charters of the legislature and the same is true of the cities of Pennsylvania. In both these states there are state organizations maintained by the cities that want the new rule making a state-wide canvass for the election of members of the legislatures who will grant them charters.

From Massachusetts to California more than two hundred cities have adopted the new rule and abolished the old ward government. It is about time to lay aside the argument that commission government is an "experiment."

A Hint From Paris.

Boston Globe: Paris is about to offer a bond issue amounting to 205,000,000 francs ($41,000,000) bearing three per cent interest. In accordance with custom in France the denomination of the bonds will be small, about $60, and unusual facilities will be afforded to small investors to acquire the bonds. A deposit of $2 will hold a bond and the subscriber will have until 1915 to make full payment. Under these terms nearly every one can become a bondholder, and perhaps in time a bloated one.

France believes in encouraging frugality and it has long been the practice to let the plain people acquire the bond issues. They have been educated to make these investments and a recent railroad bond issue in France was oversubscribed thirty-three times, illustrating how general is the participation in such purchases.

There should be a lesson for this country in the French system. If our bonds were issued in denominations of $20 and $100, instead of in issues of $500 and $1,000, as they usually are, a much more general participation of the public would result. Our response to the postal savings banks suggests what might be expected. We shall have less talk about the "money trust" if we place our bond issues within the reach of people who have limited means.

Let Every Wife Have Pay.

Saturday Evening Post: We heartly approve the suggestion of an eminent feminine fellow citizen that every husband should pay his wife a salary—whether she earns it or not. Every wife ought to have her own money for her own needs, not in spasmodic and irregular doles from her husband, but in the form of a fixed and regular allawonce that she could regard as her own right, to do with as she pleased—quite as the husband regards the salary he receives from his employer or the profit he derives from his business.

Moreover—and this is the milk in the cocoanut—she should be required to live within her income as regards personal expenditures. In many households the wife is the chancellor of the exchequer, managing the whole family income, with a modest allowance to the husband for pocket-money. We are decidedly of opinion that in those households, as an almost invariable rule, the income is better managed than where the man holds the pocket book; but many wives have no regular sum of money to handle. Consequently they have no training in the management of an income.

We have often said that no married man has any right to go without life insurance unless he has made some other sure provision for his dependents in the event of his death. It is equally true that the wife should have some practical notions of what to do with the money that is left her at her husband's death. The best beginning in that direction is to give her a regular sum to manage.

The Girl With the Foolish Mother.

Chicago News: Serious minded women of Cincinnati are giving attention to the problem of the high school girl who deliberately tries to attract susceptible youths. Among the items in the school and street costume of the particular kind of high school girl are mentioned high heels, low necked waists, sleeves above the elbows, paint and other cosmetics and gauze hose. With the gauze hose go slippers or pumps. Unfortunately the criticism thus made applies to high school girls in other cities besides Cincinnati.

When a young girl gets herself up for the express purpose of drawing attention from members of the other sex she bitterly needs a vigorous application of the maternal slipper at the exact place where it will do the most good. The saddest thing about the whole matter is that the mother of the girl is usually more to blame than the girl herself. The mother is old enough to know better than to permit her daughter to make a show of herself in public. The fact that she does permit it fastens the greater fault upon the older generation.

The serious minded women of Cincinnati who have called attention to this evil recognize that they can do one thing at least to aid in providing the instruction needed by young girls who paint their cheeks and otherwise make pathetically indecent spectacles of themselves. These women declare it to be their purpose so far as possible to standardize their own dress "along the lines of appropriateness, comfort, health and simplicity in order to set a proper emaple." Their effort to check a bad tendency on the part of foolish girls with foolish mothers is worthy of the attention of intelligent women in Chicago and all other communities.

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

Happy to Lead.

Little Falls Herald: The Duluth Herald has a right to feel indorsed. It led the way.

It Is.

Cannon Falls Beacon: An extra session—and The Duluth Herald will please consider itself indorsed.

Poor Evidence.

Luverne Journal: The Slayton Gazette makes much of the fact that the "great steel manufacturing state of Pennsylvania went solidly for Roosevelt;" also that "Duluth and St. Louis county in this state, which section is practically owned by the Steel trust, went overwhelmingly for Roosevelt." That makes good reading, Bro. Ruane. We only ask leave to inquire why "Murray county went solidly for Roosevelt?" Also Rock county and about eighty other of the eighty-nine counties of this state. Are they owned by the Steel trust? If they are, the Journal admits that Roosevelt is so owned, and vice versa.

Nix! Nix!!

Princeton Union: "The Duluth Retail Grocers' association has organized a boosters' club," says The Duluth Herald. For the purpose of boosting prices?

Send It Along.

Mizpah Enterprise: The Duluth Evening Herald has it figured out that William Vincent Astor, heir to the John Jacob Astor millions, is a very unfortunate man on accoiint of his money. Maybe. But still a few of us would be willing to accept the handicap.

Pertinent Questions.

Fairmont Sentinel: The Duluth Herald, the only metropolitan Democratic daily in the Central West, asks these embarrassing questions of the supporters of Champ Clark:

"The issue against Clark is greater than Clark himself. It is this: Can he appeal to the disaffected Republican vote? Can he survive, in a presidential campaign, the blasting influence of the Hearst support? Can he live down the unfortunate utterances, scattered through his whole career, that will rise to dog his footsteps?"

There are other questions, still more embarrassing, that Republicans will ask in the event of Champ Clark's nomination and which it would be indelicate for Democrats to raise at this time.

The Democratic "sure thing" will go glimmering with the nomination of Champ Clark.

Influence.

Marshall News Messenger: The Duluth Herald demanded an extra session of the legislature; the governor indignantly refused; the state Republican convention indorsed the demand of The Duluth Herald; the governor with lightning rapidity called an extra session; we hate to admit the mighty influence of a Democratic paper.

Patting Has Been Done.

Thief River Falls Times: Anyway, The Duluth Herald can pat itself on the back for being the instigator of the demand for an extra session.

Trouble Brewing.

Judge: The witches were making the broth.

"I suppose one cook is going, one staying, and one coming!" cried Macbeth.

Three at once were beyond his comprehension.

Sparks From a Social Worker's Anvil.

The children of today are the society of tomorrow.

Almost any child can be ruined by bad surroundings.

To the trustful heart of a child all the world seems kind.

Heredity gives tendencies; environment amplifies possibilities.

A child's little trouble is as serious to him as a great grief to a grown-up.

A child in the house is a strong argument for wedded happiness.

Often you can fill a child's day with joy by simply smiling as you pass by.

Good health and good principles in its parents are the greatest heritage of the newly-born child.

Do something for somebody today; the slave of selfishness misses some of the biggest things in life.

All children love flowers and even a single blossom is a preesut to delight the heart of a little child.

Boys and girl should be taught early in life the blessedness of unselfish efforts and the pure joy of self-sacrifice.

No one can make a marble statute out of basswood log; nor can a person of talent be developed out of a child of really defective mentality.

A wise old mother said: "The Lord forgive them as can't abide the natural play and laughin' of a child; Why, the child that don't want to romp and play is either sick or being abused!"

Children, like adults, are not alike in original power and capacity; they differ "ane one star differeth from another star in glory."

An Absent Minded Professor.

Woman's Home Companion: A very absent minded professor was busily engaged in solving a scientific problem when the nurse hastily opened the library door and announced a great family event.

"The little stranger has arrived, professor."

"Eh?" said the professor.

"It is a little boy," said the nurse.

"Little boy, little boy," mused the professor. "Well, ask him what he wants."

Realization.

When winter brought its weary round
Of fires and drifting snow
He yearned for summer's dreamy days
And hammocks swinging low.
But now the lovely June is here
With birds and blossoms gay,
So he proceeds to cut the grass, oil the automobile, freeze ice cream, paint screens, pull weeds, sprinkle the yard, plant vines, and in sundry and divers idle pleasures of a similar innocuous character contrives.
To dream the hours away!
—Lippincotts.

THE GOSPEL OF NATURE.

"The Gospel of Nature," by John Burroughs, in the Century. That I am a saner, healthier man, more contented man, with truer standards of life, for all my loiterings in the fields and woods, I am fully convinced.

That I am less social, less interested in my neighbors and in the body politic, more inclined to shirk civic and social responsibilities and to stop my ears against the brawling of the reformers, is perhaps equally true.

To absorb a thing is better than to learn it, and we absorb what we enjoy. We learn things at school, and we absorb them in the fields and woods and on the farm. When we look upon nature with fondness and appreciation she meets us half way and takes a deeper hold upon us than when studiously conned. Hence I say the way of knowledge of nature is the way of love and enjoyment, and is more surely found in the open air than in the schoolroom or the laboratory.

I do not know that the bird has taught me any valuable lesson. Indeed, I do not go to nature to be taught. I go for enjoyment and companionship. I go to bathe in her as in a sea; I go to give my eyes and ears and all my senses a free, clean field and to tone up my spirits by her "primal sanities." If the bird has not preached to me it has added to the resources of my life, it has widened the field of my interests, it has afforded me another beautiful object to love, and has helped make me feel more at home in this world.

To take the birds out of my life were like lopping off so many branches from the tree; there is that less surface of leafage to absorb the sunlight and bring my spirits in contact with the vital currents. We cannot pursue any natural study with love and enthusiasm without the object of it becoming a part of our lives. The birds, the flowers, the trees, the rocks, all become linked with our lives and hold the key to our thoughts and emotions.

I certainly have found "good in everything"—in all natural processes and products—not the "good" of the Sunday school books, but the good of natural law and order, the good of that system of things out of which we came and which is the source of our health and strength. It is good that fire should burn, even if it consumes your house; it is good that force should crush, even if it crushes you; it is good that rain should fall, even if it destroys your crops or floods your land.

Plagues and pestilence attest the constancy of natural law. They set us to cleaning our streets and houses and to readjusting our relations to outward nature. Only in a live universe could disease and death prevail. Death is a phase of life, a redistributing of the type. Decay is another kind of growth.

The show and splendor of great houses, elaborate furnishings, stately halls, oppresses me, impose upon me. They fix the attention upon false values, they set up a false standard of beauty, they stand between me and the real feeders of character and thought. A man needs a good roof over his head winter and summer, and a good chimney and a big woodpile in winter. The more open his four walls are the more fresh air he will get, and the longer he will live.

Nature is not benevolent; nature is just, gives pound for pound, measure for measure, makes no exceptions, never tempers her decrees with mercy or winks at any infingement of her laws. And in the end is not this best? Could the universe be run as a charity or a benevolent institution, or as a poorhouse of the most approved pattern? Without this merciless justice, this irrefragible law where would we have brought up long ago? It is a hard gospel; but rocks are hard, too, yet they form the foundations of the hills.

Man introduces benevolence, mercy, altruism, into the world and he pays the price in his added burdens; and he reaps his reward in the vast social and civic organizations that were impossible without these things.

Clever Willie.

Lippincott's: A rough looking man entered the home of a gentleman in a Western city and seeing no one around but a small boy named Willie, said to him, "If you don't tell me where your father keeps his money I'll knock your top knot off an' afterwards eat yer."

"Please don't," said Willie. "You'll find all the money we've got in an old coat in the kitchen."

Two minutes later a bruised and battered wreck was pitched through the front door of Willie's home and sat in the gutter and blinked.

"That kid's too smart," said the man. "Never said a word about the ol' man bein' inside the coat."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL BUILD FINE ROAD

Pennington County Going Ahead With Construction of State Highway.

Upholding of Law By Supreme Court Will Result in Work Starting.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The decision of the supreme court upholding the Elwell road law was received in no county with more enthusiasm than in Pennington, as the test case originated in this county, arising out of application for a grant for the construction of a state highway running from this city, east to the extreme end of the county.

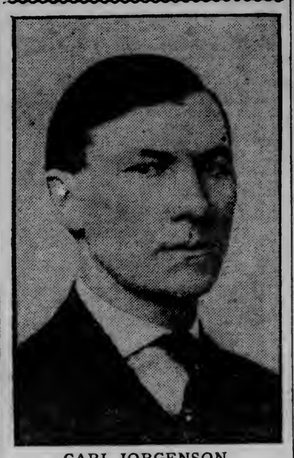
The application was made for $20,000, which is now available and which will be expended under the supervision of the state highway commission.

The county commissioners have been called into special session to complete the formality incident to the securing of the loan. All papers connected with the application have been in correct form and nothing now remains but to complete the proceedings.

Will be Twenty Miles Long

The proposed highway will be twenty miles long and running direct east without any bend or turn. The country is all settled and is very rich level prairie land, every foot of which is under cultivation, or else is possible of such action. The farmers welcome the new era of road making, though in this section of the state are found the famous ditch grades, which are considered the most modern roadway now constructed. They are broad, level and well packed and run for hundreds of miles all through the drained region.

YOUNGEST CANDIDATE IS WITHOUT OPPOSITION



CARL JORGENSON.

Bismarck, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Jorgenson of Bismarck is the youngest Republican candidate for state office in the state. He also has the distinction of being unopposed for the nomination. Mr. Jorgenson has been connected with the state auditor's office eleven years, and most of that time he has been deputy. Four years ago he was a candidate for the nomination, but he was defeated by D. K. Brightbill, the present auditor. Mr. Brightbill immediately upon his election appointed Mr. Jorgenson as his deputy.

WAREHOUSES WILL BE CONSTRUCTED

Farmers Around Staples To Put Up Houses To Store Produce.

Staples, Minn., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to the vast territory which is being devoted to the raising of potatoes in this vicinity, the farmers have been urging the construction of a warehouse for the protection and shipping of their crop. Owing to the lack of facilities for caring for potatoes the growers in this vicinity have lost a large percentage of their year's output. The farmers have combined and incorporated a company for the erection of a warehouse here; also in the villages of Motley, Verndale and Aldrich. Bids are being received for the construction of the different buildings and it is expected that they will be completed before the fall so that the coming crop will be cared for. These warehouses will be used as shipping points for all kinds of farm produce.

Calumet, Mich., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Otto Tourmala, aged 22, of Calumet, killed himself yesterday on his mother's farm near here by exploding a dynamite bomb beneath his body while lying down in the field. All properties of the company are assigned to the trustees, who will carry on the business. The agreement provides for the annual meeting of the company to be held in Marinette the second Monday in June of each year, when a chairman and secretary will be elected. The former stockholders of the company are designated as certificate holders and until the first meeting of the stockholders United States Senator Isaac Stephenson will act as chairman and R. E. MacLean as secretary.

KILLED AT CROOKSTON.

John J. Gaynor, Stranger, Struck By Train.

Crookston, Minn., May 30.—John J. Gaynor, aged about 48, a stranger in these parts, was struck by a Great Northern train near here two days ago and killed. Arne Berg found the body with the head crushed lying beside the track. An unmailed letter found in the clothing indicated Gaynor had farmed in Texas and had recently been in New York visiting relatives. This gave rise to the belief he was a relative of Mayor Gaynor of the Metropolis and a message was sent to that official but he replied in the negative.

COW POX CASES.

Unusual Animal Disease Reported in Stearns County.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 30.—Drs. Dunn, Kern and Stangl left Tuesday to look into a case of cow pox that has broken out at the home of a farmer in this county. YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

NEGLECT THE CARE OF YOUR SCALP AND YOUR HAIR WILL BECOME A DISGRACE

HERPICIDE

The hair is more exposed and hence more liable to accumulate dust and dirt than any other portion of the body.

In spite of this the hair receives, as a rule, the least attention and no real effort is made to keep it healthy.

If the dandruff germ is allowed to work unmolested and the scalp becomes crusted with dirt accumulations, one may expect the hair to die and fall out. There is no cause for surprise in this phenomenon; it is natural and happens in every instance where the care of the hair and scalp is overlooked.

The one sure remedy which prevents the loss of hair and permits a healthy, luxuriant growth is found in Newbro's Herpicide.

The dandruff germ cannot live on a head to which Herpicide is regularly applied. The germ dies. The hair ceases to fall. The terrible itching stops almost instantly.

That is what Newbro's Herpicide does.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

WANT CITY TO REPAIR AVENUE

Twenty-Third Avenue West Property Owners Hold Indignation Meeting.

About thirty property owners on Twenty-third avenue west are of the unanimous belief that the city is responsible for the poor condition of the avenue at the present time. A meeting of the property owners was held last evening at the Ensign school, Twenty-third avenue west and Tenth street.

Several of those who spoke at the meeting last evening were also of the opinion that the city should voluntarily place the thoroughfare in shape for traffic, following which the property owners would then start proceedings for the resurfacing of the street. The following committee was appointed to meet the board of public works and the city council regarding an early improvement of the street: C. A. Lundeau, A. Jentoft and C. W. Christianson.

It is the claim of the property owners that the present condition of the street is the result of negligence on the part of the city. The many washouts of the grade were caused by the overflow of sewers on the avenue, is the claim of several property owners. The members voted to resurface the highway as soon as the city does its part of the work. Another meeting of the property owners will be held immediately after the committee confers with the city council.

WEST END COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS ENJOYED REMARKABLE GROWTH

Never has a commercial organization in Duluth grown at such a rapid rate as has the West End Commercial club since it was organized a month ago. Starting out Friday evening, April 19, with a charter membership of thirty, the club now has an active membership of upwards of 150. The organization secured 100 members in one month.

The fact that the members of the club started out from the first to work for the welfare of the West end interested every citizen in this end of the city. The prize garden plan, the cleaning campaign, the white way, the garbage question and the improvement and paving of many streets, are all among the questions taken up by the club during its short existence. The garden plan has already been taken up by 100 children of the West end, who will keep gardens and attempt to secure the prizes offered by the club.

Dr. O. A. Oredson is the chairman and father of the garden plan and he is being assisted in this work by L. A. Simonson and John Wahl. The three members of the committee have spoken before the children of the various West end schools. The children are cleaning up the yards and alleys of the West end and are doing effective work in beautifying this end of the city.

The white way for the West end, which was brought up at one of the first meetings by A. B. Anderson, has met with approval and it is probable that a report by the committee will be made at the regular meeting of the club tomorrow evening. A. B. Anderson is chairman of the committtee, which has interviewed all the property owners and business men on Superior street, from Garfield to Twenty-second avenue west. The white way will extend between these two avenues and from a report made last week has already met with favor in this end of the city.

SOCIAL CENTER FOR THE WEST END

Bryant Alumni Wants to Make Use of School Building.

Another social center for the West end is being planned by the alumni of the Bryant school. The organization will be housed in the school building, where parties, dances and entertainments may be held under the proper supervision.

The members of the Bryant Alumni association held their regular meeting at the school last evening, when the matter was brought up for the first time. The association is planning a campaign throughout the city to interest the various commercial bodies, women's clubs, city council and school board. The members have been investigating the matter and have found that the sentiment of the residents of the West end is in favor of a social center at the school.

Whether the school board will rescind its action regarding dancing in schools is not known, but the members of the association will conduct a campaign with that object in view. The indorsements of several public organizations will be secured before the matter is brought before the school board.

The following committee was appointed last evening to complete the arrangements for the annual banquet of the association to be held June 11: Misses Katheryn King, Ruth Manson; and Messrs. Lloyd Yeager, Percy Clarry, Leonard Hagberg and Adolph Lindahl.

Frank Jason Dies.

Frank Jason, 49 years old, 2824 Helm street, died yesterday noon at his home after a short illness. He leaves a widow and four children. The funeral arrangements will be made some time this afternoon.

"SQUARE DEAL" LOAN AGENCY TO FIGHT THE "LOAN SHARK" EVIL

money borrowed minus the usurious rate of interest. In Minnesota, as in most other states, the usurious money lender has no legal status, and Mr. Green has found the loan companies more than glad of an opportunity to settle at any terms, providing the case will be kept out of the courts. The fact remains, however, that it has been the reluctance on the part of the victims rather than leniency towards the loan companies that is responsible for no prosecutions having been started.

Without any agency to take its place, Mr. Green as well as Mr. Paine and the members of his committee are of the opinion that a campaign to drive out the loan shark would be inadequate. They take tho stand that loan agencies of some kind must exist. It is only the better sort that will drive out the worse.

Remedial loan associations of the sort which has been proposed for Duluth are now operating in twenty-four other cities. Most of them have been organized comparatively recently, although there are some twenty years old.

Duluth will be represented at the annual convention of the National Federation of Remedial Loan Associations, which will convent at Cleveland on June 13, by Courtenay Dinwiddie, secretary of the Associated Charities.

Work in Other Cities.

Interest in the subject of usurious loans and their effects is keen in several large cities, and during the past year seven of these societies have been formed and plans are under way for the organization of several more. It is generally realized that this is the only effective way to cope with the evils of the loan shark traffic.

In Duluth, loan sharks charge anywhere from 40 per cent to 200 per cent Loans like these are typical: Borrow $15, pay back $22.75 in seven months; borrow $125 for six months, pay back $152.50; borrow $50 for ten months, pay back $75.50. Pawn brokers loaning smaller amounts get even larger rates of interest.

Experience has shown in other cities that where there are state laws requiring small loan businesses to be run at so low a rate of interest as 6 per cent, that no reputable concern could obey the law and make a profit. In cities where remedial loan associations are operating and are self-sustaining, the usual interest rate per annum charged is 15 per cent. In some instances a less rate of interest is charged and a fee assessed for making the loan. In any event, the interest rate and fee are not any more than equivalent to 15 per cent per annum.

The committee of the Associated Charities is collecting data, which will be available at any time to those interested in perfecting the organization of such an organization in Duluth. It is possible that other civic organizations of the city may take the matter up for consideration and that a plan may be evolved whereby Duluth may be better enabled to wage an effective war against usurious money lenders.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW BUILDING.

Work on the two-story brick building at 2022-2024 West Superior street was started yesterday afternoon. Jacobson Brothers, who were awarded the contract for the structure, started to excavate for the foundation at the back part of the lot, on the front half of which was the foundation for the old building recently torn down.

The structure is being built by the A. H. Burg & Co., realty agents, for the Mohaupt Brothers, proprietors of the West End Five-and-Ten-Cent store at 2020 West Superior street. The building will cost about $15,000 and has already been leased by the Mohaupt Brothers.

GRAND FORKS WINS OPENER

Wilson Holds the Sox Helpless and Enemy Cops Game, 3 to 1.

Little Eva Leber Averts Calcimine By Clouting Homer in Ninth.

(BY BRUCE.)

Yesterday the White Sox lost the best baseball game played here this season, the rejuvenated Flickertails outplaying the wreckers and winning by the score of 3 to 1. The contest was featured by some clean and snappy fielding, some generous clouting, and marred by the senseless kicking by several local players who are, apparently, such poor sportsmen that they must attempt to lay the blame on the innocent shoulders of the umpire.

President Harry Blume is trying to give the fans of this city clean baseball. He has instructed his umpires to tolerate no wrangling or rag chewing, to descend to the vernacular. Several Duluth players tried to bullyrag the umps yesterday and adopted tactics that have hurt the game here in the past. Fair minded men in the grandstand were with Umpire Hall and decidedly against the action of some of the local players.

Duluth was outplayed and deserved to lose—why then put the blame on the shoulders of the umpire? If a player can't lose on the square and can't strike out without hurling expletives at the umpire, he had better hang up his suit.

Rothermel started the labor on the hill, but was yanked to the dog house after the first man had been retired and McGraw was in immediate danger of walking. Mister Wilson was trotted out and held the locals in stern control after that. The liquid named gent was also accorded some of the flossiest support that has been seen in these parts for some time.

The Flickertails began to flicker in the second. In this rather riotous round Van Dine carelessly and unfeelingly doubled, was advanced along the paths by a sacrifice and scored when Bell rang out a double to deep right center. It is about the first time that Bell has rung since showing in these parts—but he is timely.

Along in the seventh, along with the drizzle, came two scores trooping over, and they were duly registered for the enemy. With two of the soldiers of the invading legion dead, a man in the grandstand gurgled with glee and prophesied, with a dollar bill in his digits, that the enemy would not score further. There was none to take his wager.

But scarce had the bold fan sat down when Wilson dumped a little one in front of the plate, Popham threw it wild by first and Wilson rounded up at third, panting, but exultant. Donovan smote a double to center pasture, and that eminent emulator, Herr De Haven, walloped another a little to the left, also for two bags worth. The net result was two runs.

'Our one and only came in the ninth. Tiny Ted Leber fell on the pill with vengeance and his trusty stick, the pellet sailing over the left field paling. The rest failed to disturb the even balance of the enemy or the somewhat aggravating nonchalance of Mr. Wilson—that's all.

Among the incidents of the pastime might be mentioned the robbery of Van Dine. In the eighth round he reached out with bare hand and scooped in a hot one from the bat of mad Menlece. The hit was ticketed for two bags. The play of Herr De Haven also furnished one of the features of the day. Also the fanning of three locals in the seventh.

Grand Forks, judging from the pastiming of yesterday, is a much improved team and is going to make all of the other belligerent members hustle some from now on.

SUPERIOR WINS FROM WINNIPEG

Red Hose Pile Up Early Lead and Cop Opener, 8 to 3.

Superior won from Winnipeg yesterday by the score of 8 to 3. Rhoades was the mound hired man for the Red Hose and Hirsch was the mound nominee for the Peggers. The Maroon dispenser of curves got away badly in the opening round, but after that pitched some gilt-edged ball and held the suburbanites quite niftily.

Rhoades kept the hits of the visitors scattered and there was little chance for the invaders to overcome the lead piled up in the opening round. The visitors threatened in several innings, but Dusty Rhoades tightened and pitched himself out of the holes.

"PACKEY" BEATS RAY BRONSON

Stockyards Fighter Has the Better of a Ten-Round Mill.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—Packey McFarland of Chicago won the popular decision from Ray Bronson of Indianapolis in their ten-round bout at the Indianapolis ball park last night. McFarland had the better of eight rounds, and Bronson managed to break even in the other two.

With the exception of the third and ninth rounds, the fight was all McFarland's.

The first four rounds were fought in a drizzling rain which made the canvas slippery and interfered with the footwork of the two fighters. In the first two rounds the fighters felt each other out with Packey getting in a few jabs to the face and body. In the second, Referee Ed Smith of Chicago cautioned McFarland for hitting low.

Bronson brought a little blood to McFarland's nose in the third round and broke even on an exchange of punches. The Chicago fighter had a slight shade in the fourth and then went into the fifth and drove Bronson to the ropes with a rain of rights and lefts. Packey's jabs to Bronson's wind in the clinches began to tell, and the local boxer was breathing hard when the round ended.

Ray missed several swings in the sixth and was sent to the ropes again, where the Chicagoan got in several hard blows at close range. Not much damage was done in the seventh, but McFarland started in the eighth and jabbed Bronson at close quarters almost at will. The ninth was pretty much of a slugging match in the center of the ring with honors about even. Bronson appeared to be getting stronger, but a rain of blows to the face and body staggered him in the tenth and he was holding on when the gong sounded. The fight was at 138 pounds.

BROWN HAD A SHADE ON TROTT

Columbus, Ohio, May 30.—Pal Brown of Hibbing, Minn., and Sammy Trott of this city, both weighing in at 133 pounds, fought ten fast but indecisive rounds here last night. Brown had a shade the better of it in the first five rounds, but in the fifth round Trott opened a cut in his right eye and thereafter Brown had difficulty in reaching his opponent. No decision was given.

JOHNSON WOULD GAMBLE ON THE FIGHT RECEIPTS.

Las Vegas, N. Mex., May 30.—"I would like nothing better than to be gambling on this match myself," said Jack Johnson yesterday. "You got me cheap, Curley, for $31,100. It looks like another Reno house to me, and I'm willing to give you back your coin and take a chance with you."

Johnson was on hand when Treasurer Mark Lewis opened the general sale. Lewis had money orders and checks to the amount of close on to $25,000 in settlement of reservations.

SHERIDAN IS LOST.

World's Famous Athlete Will Not Be on Olympic Team.

New York, May 30.—Martin Sheridan, discus thrower, and all-around athlete, has decided not to go to Stockholm with the American Olympic team. Business engagements, he says, prevent his taking so long a vacation.

As a matter of fact, Sheridan has not been able to reach his best form this year. He has been seen four or five times at Celtic park, and has put in some hard gymnasium training, but in practice has not made very good throws. The discus throwing event at Stockholm is expected to be safe in the hands of Jim Duncan, who hung up a new world's record here last Sunday.

OLYMPIC ENTRY LIST IS MAILED

Large List of American Athletes Sent to European Officials.

New York, May 30.—It was announced that the entry list for the distinctive athletic events at the Olympic games was shipped on the Lusitania this morning. The list, as compiled by James E. Sullivan, secretary of the American Olympic committee, contains 460 names, with an average of nearly twenty for each of the twenty-eight events.

Final Selections By Cable.

As the maximum number of competitors for each nation in each event is twelve, it will become necessary for the committee to ratify its final selection in each event by cable, this having been agreed upon by the Swedish Olympic committee. This action will be taken immediately after the selection committee has its session at the Waldorf-Astoria June 10, two days after the tryouts at Cambridge.

The list sent yesterday includes the pick of the athletes of East, West, North and South, and contains the names of nearly every man who looked to be a possibility.

The largest number of entries was sent for the 400-meter run, for which forty names were forwarded to Stockholm. The smallest entry was made in the javelin throw, for which America named two prospective competitors. Thirty-three entries were made for the 100-meter sprint and sixteen entries for the Marathon race.

Twenty-eight Events.

Following are the number of American entries for each of the athletic events at the Olympiad: 100-meter dash, 33; 200-meter dash, 24; 400-meter run, 40; 800-meter run, 17; 1,500-meter run, 20; 5,000-meter run, 22; 10,000-meter run, 19; Marathon race, 16; 10,000-meter walk, 6; best meter hurdles, 22; hammer throw, 9; left and right-handed shotput, 6; best hand shotput, 7; left and right-hand discus throw, 9; best hand discus throw, 15; left and right-hand javelin throw, 2; best hand javelin throw, 2; hop, step and jump, 10; running high jump, 21; running broad jump, 19; pole vault, 12; standing high jump, 14; standing broad jump, 15; 400-meter relay race, 20; 1,600-meter relay race, 17; 3,000-meter team race, 24; Pentathlon, 8; Decathlon, 8; 3,000-meter cross-country race, 23.

Toe Hold Barred.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 30.—The toe hold in wrestling was barred in this city by the district attorney and the chief of police last night after Charles Delivuk had secured the first fall from Hassan Youseuf, the Terrible Turk, after sixty-eight minutes by the use of the famous hold. Youseuf gave up in the second after twenty-eight minutes, forfeiting the bout.

College Track Meet.

Annapolis, Md., May 30.—Thirteen Michigan athletes left last night for Philadelphia to participate in the Eastern intercollegiate track meet at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Kraenzlein, the trainer, is making his last trip with a Michigan team, having resigned owing to ill health.

Would Bar Fight Pictures.

Washington, May 30. — Representative Roddenberry of Georgia introduced a resolution to prohibit the interstate transportation of moving picture films of prize fights. He admitted it was intended to prevent a reproduction of the Johnson-Flynn fight at Las Vegas, N. M., July 4.

Burns Beat Solsberg.

New York, May 30.—Frankie Burns of Jersey City had the better of a ten-round bout with Young Solsberg of Brooklyn here last night. Johnny Coulon, the bantamweight champion, announced at the ringside that he would meet the winner.

McIntyre Is Sold.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 30.—Harry McIntyre was purchased by General Manager Moll of the American association team from the Chicago National league club.

Highlanders Get Outfielder.

New York, May 30. — The New York American league club management announced the purchase of Outfielder Maloney from the Brockton team of the New England league.

Middies Elect Captain.

Annapolis, Md., May 30. — Karl E. Hintze of California, 1913, was elected capain of the Navy field and track team of next season. Hintze is a shot putter and hammer thrower.

BASEBALL NOTES

Mike Joyce, the former Montreal outfielder, has been given the field leading job of the Lancaster team of the Tri-State league.

Mert Whitney, who used to cavort about the initial sack for the Buffalo team, is with Trenton in the Tri-State league this season and is doing some pretty good clouting. In a recent game he got four wallops, two of which were doubles. Mert is captain of the team.

Joe McGinnity was unable to find a place for Bob Coulson, sent to Newark from Brooklyn, and he has been turned over to the Kansas City team of the American association.

Pitcher Irving Higginbotham, who was turned loose by the Chicago and St. Louis National league teams, has been sent to Portland from Toledo.

"Goat" Anderson, the former left fielder of the Village Firemen, sure is cutting some figure with Wheeling in the Central league. Wheeling fans think Hughie Jennings has nothing on "Goat" when it comes to coaching.

Report from Worcester is to the effect that John Anderson, one time first baseman of the Providence team, is about ready to quit the game. Anderson made a good start after being sold by the Grays, but he has stiffened up and is out of the game.

A writer in Mobile pens a boost for Charlie Starr, the ex-Boston. The old Buffalo shortstop has won his place with Mobile by consistent hitting, good work on the bases and almost perfect defensive work and field management.

Jimmy Frick, who played on several teams in the old Eastern league, is finding the pitching in the Pacific Coast league very much to his liking. Frick, who is playing the utility role for Oakland, was sent in to the lineup recently by Manager Sharpe and out of seven trips to the plate poled out five hits. That is going some for the veteran.

Rafael Almeida, the promising young third baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, has suffered the penalty of doing things as he pleased. He has been sent to Birmingham.

Some of the veterans are already finding the United States league too fast for them. Claude Ritchey has been released by Pittsburg. "Bugs" Raymond has also had the curtain drawn on him by Chicago.

Pitcher Phil Buscher, who is the property of the St. Louis Nationals, balked at a berth with Erie and is playing independent ball in Washington.

Ralph Savidge, who once twirled a pretty good article for Montreal and Rochester, has been released by Wilkesbarre.

* * *

"Phil" Boland, who sported a Providence uniform for several seasons, is playing in the Tri-State league, having been traded by Scranton to Johnstown for Pitcher Hine.

PLANNED TO BURN HOME

Vernon R. Bell Is Found Guilty of Attempted Arson.

Vernon R. Bell, who the police say conceived and party carried into effect a plan to burn his home at West Duluth for the purpose of collecting $150 insurance on furniture, was found guilty by a jury in district court before Judge Dancer yesterday. Sentence will be passed later.

The crime of which Bell has been convicted is that of attempted arson, second degree. It appeared from the evidence that Bell had fallen in with W. J. Reynolds, a "stool pigeon," last March and it was suggested that the best way to raise ready money was to burn the house and collect the insurance money.

Reynolds tipped the matter off to the police. Chief Troyer employed R. E. Donaldson as a private detective, whom Reynolds represented to Bell as "Kelley," the man "who could do the job." Reynolds and Donaldson testified against Bell at the trial.

Judge S. F. White, who conducted the defense of Bell, scored the police department in his address to the jury. "Instead of hiring men to lead this young man into crime," he said. "Chief Troyer might have better directed his energies in a different direction. A might attempt to stop the open violation of the law as the regards the sale of liquor in down town cafes at all hours of night." Judge White declared that Bell had been tempted to commit the crime of arson by Reynolds, a man with a more or less shady past, and who was anxious to get on the police force.

County Attorney Norton argued that the fact that Reynolds and Donaldson were plotting against Bell did not excuse the defendant from the law provided he carried out his part in good faith or that he had no intimation that Reynolds and Donaldson were not actually going to set fire to the house and furniture.

The jury was out for about an hour.

SAYS SHE SAW THIEF SHOOT HER HUSBAND.

Chicago, May 30.—With the completion of the testimony of Mrs. Jane Quinn yesterday, her trial on a charge of murdering her husband, John Quinn, approached the end. She was the last witness to be heard. Arguments will begin Friday morning.

Although subjected to a severe cross-examination, Mrs. Quinn never wavered from her original story. She insisted a burglar shot her husband and that she saw the slayer. Several times during her examination she wept. Most of her answers were given to the jury in a firm voice.

PUBLIC DANCE HALLS AS "PUBLIC PLAGUES."

Des Moines, Iowa, May 30.—That the public dance halls of America are the greatest contributors to the downfall of young girls was contained in the report of the social service commission, submitted at the closing session of the Northwest Baptist convention last night.

"In many cities we find that the halls are run with few restrictions, and with little or no supervision," says the report. "No wonder they have become public plagues in many of our cities."

LAKE STEAMSHIP MEN TALK OF SAFETY PLANS.

Washington, May 30.—Representatives of steamship interests in the Great Lakes and the Atlantic coast conferred with Secretary Nagel regarding a proposed revision of the navigation regulations for life-saving equipment. Forty owners and agents of vessels plying the lakes and bays and sounds in the coastwise traffic expressed their views on the proposition of the department of commerce and labor for amending the coastwise and oceanic travel. As some vessels in the coastwise traffic go far to sea, it is proposed to equip them with sufficient lifeboats and rafts for all on board.

Coal Wage Agreement Signed.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—Coal operators and miners of the Southwestern district, who have been holding conferences in Kansas City for the last sixty days, have reached an agreement, and a contract covering a period of two years was signed. The new contract carries with it a slight increase in wages. Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are affected.

The Sailor Dead.

A fitting tribute will be paid to the sailor dead this afternoon, when the interesting and impressive ceremony of strewing flowers on the water will be carried out under the auspices of the Women's Relief corps on board the U. S. S. Gopher.

The ceremonies on the water will follow that of decorating the graves of the soldiers in the various cemeteries. The Gopher will take on the members of the W. R. C. at the foot of Fifth avenue west and will run to a point just north of the north canal pier.

The weather conditions are ideal for these exercises, and it is expected that many Duluthians will be on hand to witness them.

Decorating Graves.

The graves of 192 veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars who resided in Duluth were decorated with flags and flowers at 2:30 this afternoon. Most of the graves were at Forest Hill cemetery and at Soldiers' Rest. The work will be in charge of Companion Asa Dailey, Gorman post, G. A. R.

The graves of Duluth soldier veterans who have been buried in out-of-town cemeteries will also be decorated today. The local G. A. R. posts have made provisions for this by sending the flowers and flags to the towns in which the cemeteries are located.

BOYS MARCH FIVE MILES

West Duluth High School Students Put Central Boys to Shame.

3,000 Duluth School Children Show Respect to G. A. R. Veterans.

Not a single boy out of the student body of the Duluth Central High school, as far as could be learned, took part this morning in the Memorial day parade, although they were appealed to yesterday by the old soldiers.

On the other hand, nearly 100 young Americans who are attending the Duluth Industrial high and the Irving schools at West Duluth, marched five miles to join the procession.

The West Duluth high school contingent was decked out with flags and patriotic emblems and the boys were conspicuous in the line. Principal S. A. Foster of the Duluth Industrial high school was in charge of this section.

In all about 3,000 school children marched. Nearly every grades school in the city was represented in the line. Every child carried a flag. Some of the boys organized themselves into drum corps and were dressed in uniforms.

After the parade, the school children assembled at the Armory, where they listened to patriotic addresses and joined in the singing of the national songs.

H. L. Dresser, vice president of the Citizens' staff, was presiding officer. He was introduced to the children by Norman D. McLeod, secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A.

The boys' band opened the ceremonies by rendering the march "Columbia," after which Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, spoke on "Our Flag."

J. R. Batchelor sang "The Star Spangled Banner," which was followed by an address on patriotism by Rev. R. E. Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church. Dr. C. M. Wilson of Culver post, Grand Army of the Republic, gave a stirring address on "War Stories." The children sang two songs, "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

PREMATURE.

Los Angeles Times: Senator Tillman, with his accustomed urbanity, was submitting to an interview in Washington. One question, however, caused him to say with a laugh:

"Oh, that question is premature. It's like the remark of little Tommy.

"Tommy, whenever a visitor came to the house, would have his head patted and then the visitor would say:

"'Well, whose little boy are you?'

"Tommy, after a while, thought he would try his hand at this sort of thing himself, and one evening when a young man sat in the parlor with his sisters, Tommy tapped him on the head and piped:

"'Well, whose father are you?'"

A small crowd attended the morning game between Duluth and Grand Forks at Athletic park today. Darby O'Brien sent Hoffman in to pitch and placed Erickson behind the bat. Whitesides was selected to do mound duty for the Flickertails.

In the first inning, neither side was able to do anything, going down in one-two-three order.

Both sides failed to register in either the second or third inning and the game resolved itself into a pitchers' battle in which neither twirler seemed to have any advantage.

Grand Forks shoved one man over the plate in the fourth inning, and the White Sox were unable to connect, giving the visitors the lead at the end of the fourth inning.

The Flickertails maintained their lead in the fifth inning. They did not add to their score, but the Sox were unable to do anything with Whitesides and were retired scoreless.

Duluth evened things up in the sixth inning by registering one run.

Neither side scored in the seventh, but Kuehn rapped one over the fence for a home run in the last half of the eighth inning and Duluth took the lead by a score of 2 to 1.

Neither side scored in the ninth and the game ended with the score 2 to 1.

The score by innings:

Duluth	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	—2

HARD BATTLE AT HISLOP PARK.

Superior and Winnipeg opened a hard battle at Hislop park, Superior, this morning. Neither side scored in the first and second innings. Superior pushed two across in the third, and Grand Forks came back with one in the fourth.

The batteries were Vance and Anderson for Superior, and Peasley and Jones for Winnipeg.

THE FOOLISH BURGLAR.

Los Angeles Times: Charles M. Schwab, who had come to Philadelphia to attend a dinner given in his honor by the manufacturers' club, said on his arrival to a Philadelphia reporter:

"The solution of the trust question lies in government supervision. To disband a trust is about as easy, Mr. Margan says, as to unscramble an egg, and that is true; but government supervision solves every difficulty.

"It would be quite impossible to deceive or hoodwink an all-powerful, all-seeing government. The trust that tried to do that would be as foolish as the second burglar.

"Two burglars, a master, and a second hand, had broken softly and silently into a house, and were stealing past a bedroom door when the master burglar stumbled over a chair, and a startled voice cried from within:

"'Who's there?'

"The master burglar though a moment, then went:

"'Mi-aow, mew, mi-aow.'

"'It the cat, dear,' said the voice in a relieved tone.

"But a moment later the second burglar stumbled.

"'Who's there?' cried the voice again.

"'Another cat,' said the second burglar promptly."

"TWO BY TWO."

Los Angeles Times: "The late John F. Dryden was the shrewdest insurance man of his time," said a New York insurance agent. "Mr. Dryden was intensely interested in his work. He liked to give advice to agents.

"Advising me one day, he said an agent's success depended on his bait. His bait must be plentiful. He would fail if it was like Noah's.

"'Like Noah's?' said I.

"Then Mr. Dryden related a dialogue he had heard in Sunday school when he was a student at Yale. The Sunday school teacher asked a little boy:

"'How did Noah occupy himself on the ark?'

"'He occupied himself fishin',' said the little boy.

"'A very reasonable answer,' said the teacher, smiling.

"'But he didn't catch nothin',' said the little boy scornfully.

"'No?' said the teacher. 'Why not?'

"'Hadn't enough bait,' said the little boy—'only two worms.'"

ESCAPE WAS MIRACULOUS

Team Drawing Sprinkling Wagon Dashes Down Second Avenue East.

Swerves Into Alley Just Before Reaching Crowd Watching Parade.

Duluth had two runaways this morning which seem by miracles to have resulted in no fatalities.

M. Goldfine's team, attached to one of the high sprinkling carts such as are commonly used locally, dashed headlong straight down Second avenue east from Fourth street, bearing into the parade, which was passing on First street and Superior street, when for some incomprehensible reason the frenzied animals tried to turn into the alley directly above First street.

The animals lost their footing under the terrific force of the heavy weight behind them, and were thrown to the pavement. The big cart turned completely over and landed on the neck of one of the horses, killing it instantly. Through a whim of fate, the other escaped unhurt, as did the son of Mr. Goldfine, who had been driving. He was not on the wagon when it started its mad flight dowu the hill.

Had the animals not tried to turn into the alley they would have plunged into a crowd of people blocking the avenue along First street. It is impossible to see how several could have escaped death. From there they might have raced another block downwards, crashing into another throng of women, children and men at Superior street.

The big water sprinkler was nearly full and the force of the impact as it struck the horse and the pevement caved in a large section of its side. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock when both Superior and First streets were packed with people. M. Goldfine, the owner of the team, resides at 212 Twelfth avenue east. What frightened the horses was not learned this morning, no one who was familiar with the circumstances being in the vicinity. The uninjured horse was unhitched and removed almost immediately.

Verne Houston, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houston of 326 West Third street, was badly hurt when she was struck by the runaway milkwagon of the Johnson Dairy company. The animal was running east on Third street and the child was standing in the doorway of the store. Reaching the crossing the horse suddenly swerved across the walk and the wagon crushed the little girl against the building. Several of her teeth were knocked out and her leg badly gashed. She was carried into her home and was given medical attention. The wagon was smashed and a quantity of milk spilled on the macadam.

GARGANTUUAN BANQUETS.

New York Herald: Diodorus Siculus relates that an Agrigentine on the marriage of his daughter feasted upward of 20,000 persons. The brother of Emperor Vitellius once treated him with 2,000 fishes and 7,000 birds, all of great variety and exquisite flavor.

Heliogabulus never ate fish when he resided near the sea, nor any fowl or meat but what came from a great distance.

His horses he fed with grapes, his lions and tigers with partridges, quails, pheasants and woodcocks, and his dogs with the livers of ducks, geese and turkeys, while as items of his daily fare he had the heads of parrots and peacocks, the combs of cocks and the brains of thrushes and nightingales.

To these banquets he would frequently invite eight old men blind in one eye, eight bald, eight deaf, eight lame with the gout, eight blacks, eight exceedingly thin and eight so fat that they could scarcely walk, who, when they had eaten as much as they could, were taken out of the apartment on the shoulders of several soldiers.

In the time of William of Rosenburg the annual revenue of a small state was frequently expended at a marriage. This nobleman, being one of the richest in Bohemia, married Mary Margravine of Baden.

At this marriage were drunk forty tons of Spanish wine, 1,100 setiers of Austrian, Rhenish and Tyrolean wine, besides vast quantities of liquors of other kinds.

The festivities began on Jan. 26, 1378, and closed May 1, during which time there were consumed 150 oxen, 504 sheep, 546 calves and 634 hogs, 30 heathcocks, 240 pheasants, 2,050 partridges and not less than 2,130 hares.

Besides these there were 120 pieces of other game and 40 stags. Of poultry there were 3,106 capons and pullets, with 5,135 geese, garnished and attended with 30,997 eggs. The quantity of fish consumed was equally surprising, as most of them were river fish—675 lampreys, 6,080 trout, 1,522 carp and 10,209 pike, besides 350 tails of stock fish, 2,400 lobsters and 7,096 dried fish of different varieties.

THE MOST REMARKABLE PRISON.

Wide World Magazine: When the authorities of Graham county, Arizona, decided to look about for a place in which to confine criminals, they found a natural depression in the side of a hill. This was enlarged into what might be called an artificial cave, divided into four compartments. The cave was excavated parallel to the side of the mountain in which it was made, and daylight admitted by holes blown out of the wall with explosives, the windows being guarded by a network of heavy steel bars. The entrance to the depression was also closed in the same manner, and a vestibule or porch of masonry built out from it to provide quarters for the sheriff and his assistants. This vestibule is also divided into compartments, which are connected by gates of steel bars. The only way of entering the prison is through the vestibule of masonry, and in order to escape the inmates would have to cut their way through three sets of bars which are an inch in thickness, as the windows are so high up above the rock forming the floor of the cells that they could not reach them. It is necessary, however, to have a very secure place, as the criminals in this part of the country are of a most desperate class, and the inmates frequently include murderers and highwaymen. The mountain which has thus been turned into a prison is composed of solid quartz rock, and the excavation was made principally by the use of explosives. The jail is located in the town of Clifton, the county seat.

WHY HE WOULDN'T LOOK PLEASANT.

Kansas City Star: Seeing that his repeated requests to look pleasant only caused his subject to scowl more fiercely, the photographer ceased to look pleasant himself. "If you can't cheer up," he said, "we might as well call this sitting off. You seem an amiable sort of chap. Why can't you look pleasant when I tell you?"

"Because I don't want to," said the man before the camera. "My wife is going to send these pictures to some relatives of hers who I have never seen, along with an invitation to visit us soon, and it is my intention to look like a brigand, so they won't come."

HIS MONEY'S WORTH.

Youth's Companion: A man with a long but scanty beard and a gimlet eye came into Cyrus Teed's general store, in a little New Hampshire town, and called for 5 cents worth of peanuts. Cyrus measured out a pint and handed the bag over. The man weighed it in his hand and looked more discontented than ever.

"There ain't many there, be they?" he asked querulously. "Ain't it kinder small measure?"

"Regular full pint, what I always give for a nickel!" snapped Cyrus, who knew his customer well.

"Why, when I was down in Boston," argued the bearded man, "there was a place there where I could get twicet as many peanuts as this for 5 cents."

"Well," said Mr. Teed, defiantly, "the round trip to Boston is only $2.55. Why don't ye go down to Boston and get your money's worth?"

This closed the incident.

To the Common Council:
Your committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks to which was referred communication from the city engineer submitting estimate of the cost of repairing road for street cars to New Duluth, beg to report that they have given the matter very earnest consideration and have gone over the road named by the city engineer and your committee believes that the grade crossing at Smithville over the Northern Pacific tracks should be eliminated if possible. If this is done, an underground crossing might be constructed at that point, but your committee believes that the more feasible and cheaper method would be as suggested by the city engineer—to leave the present road north of Gogebic avenue and cross under the Northern Pacific tracks over their present culvert, just northerly of said avenue. As to the suggestion of the engineer that the city acquire a right-of-way 175 feet south and parallel to the Northern Pacific railway from this underground crossing to Ninety-third avenue west, your committee can make no recommendation until a probable estimate of the cost of such right-of-way is at hand. We believe that streets already platted might be used in getting from such underground crossing to Ninety-third avenue west, although it might make the road a little longer.
While your committee is as enthusiastically in favor of the extension of the street car line to New Duluth, as is any other club or body of men in the city, it is impossible to do anything without the necessary funds, and your committee can see no way of raising the necessary money until the tax levy is made in the fall. Even if funds were available, your committee believes that it would not be wise to rush into construction work until more detailed surveys and more accurate estimates have been made and other preliminary and necessary work has been done. In order that the route of the line may be determined as speedily as possible and in order that the committee may be in a position to ask the conference committee for a tax levy large enough to cover the cost of making the necessary improvements, we recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
JNO. HOGAN,
Z. D. SCOTT,
Committee.
Resolved, That the board of public works is hereby directed to negotiate with the Northern Pacific Railway company for a right-of-way under their tracks over their culvert opposite and northerly of Gogebic street and to ascertain if said company will pay the cost of the construction of a bridge which it will be necessary to build if an underground crossing is built at such a point.
Resolved further, That the board of public works is hereby directed to submit to this council an estimate of the cost of acquiring a right-of-way sixty-six feet wide, 175 feet southerly of the Northern Pacific railway tracks, from the underground crossing mentioned above, to Ninety-third avenue west.
Resolved further, That the city engineer is hereby requested to report as to whether a suitable roadway can be obtained from the underground crossing mentioned above to Ninety-third avenue west by following streets already laid out, and an estimate of the cost of putting them in condition for street car traffic.
Resolved further, That the city engineer is hereby requested to report to this council an estimate of the cost of a bridge over the proposed underground crossing at the Northern Pacific railroad tracks near Gogebic avenue.
Alderman Bernard moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed May 27, 1912.
Approved May 29, 1912.

To the Common Council:
Your committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks, to which was referred communication of the chief engineer of the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company, having considered the same, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:
WILLIAM L. BERNARD,
JNO. HOGAN,
Z. D. SCOTT,
Committee.
Resolved, That the city engineer is hereby advised to approve the revised plans for the crossing at Thirty-second avenue east with the tracks of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, which plan contemplates raising the grade of tracks and avenue at said point about three feet.
Alderman Bernard moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present.
Passed May 27, 1912.
Approved May 29, 1912.

MINNESOTA POLITICS

Supporters of Woodrow Wilson Have High Hopes of His Nomination—Democratic State Convention Next Week Likely to Be Tame Affair—New County Committee to Be Appointed.

Wilson Men Take Heart.
The victory of Woodrow Wilson in New Jersey, added to that in Minnesota, has given the Wilson men in Duluth new hope. They believe that the New Jersey governor will be given the Democratic nomination for the presidency.
Charitably speaking, the tables of delegates giving Champ Clark a substantial lead in the presidential race have been the result of exuberant utterances by managers of the speaker's campaign. The tables giving Wilson a lead in the race may be put in the campaign claim class also. As a matter of fact, neither Wilson nor Clark will enter the Baltimore convention with a majority of the delegates. The nomination will be made after the delegates arrive in Baltimore. The two-thirds rule makes that prediction more certain than would be the case if only a majority were required to nominate in the Democratic convention.
The Democrats of Minnesota have repudiated the Clark claim that William J. Bryan prefers Clark to any other Democratic candidate. Mr. Bryan has not taken sides in the contest between Clark and Wilson, but Wilson men in Duluth are convinced that Mr. Bryan regards Governor Wilson as the best and strongest exponent of the principles of Progressive Democracy as preached by the Nebraska man.

Tame Convention.
Unless contests in the district caucuses furnish some excitement, the Democratic state convention here next week will be a rather tame affair. Its action on the question of a nominee for the presidency is already settled. The convention will instruct Minnesota's twenty-four delegates to vote as a unit for the nomination for Woodrow Wilson, and they will continue to vote according to those instructions until his nomination is regarded as impossible by a majority of the delegation.
The only contests in the convention here are expected to come over the naming of delegates to the Baltimore convention. Nearly every district has more aspirants than it has places for the delegates and some of the good workers in the cause of Democracy in Minnesota will be disappointed.
The Clark men will be greatly in the minority in the convention here. The Ramsey county delegation will all be for Clark, but outside of Ramsey few counties have taken kindly to the candidacy of the Missouri man. The Ramsey county convention indorsed Daniel W. Lawler for delegate-at-large, but Mr. Lawler is not likely to find a place on the delegation. The convention will be in complete control of the Wilson men and Fred B. Lynch, Democratic national committeeman and a strong Wilson supporter, will probably be selected from the Fourth district as delegate-at-large. That will leave Mr. Lawler out in the cold.
The Fourth district caucus will undoubtedly choose R. T. O'Connor and Otto Bremer as district delegates, and they will be the only Clark men on the Minnesota delegation. Their personal preferences will avail them nothing, however, as the unit rule will probably be applied by the convention here.
Many men are mentioned for the delegate place in the other districts, but no agreements are likely to be reached until the delegates arrive in Duluth next week. St. Louis county will stand behind Judge Alfred Jaques for one of the places on the delegation from the Eighth congressional district, and J. B. Galarneault of Aitkin will probably be the other delegate.

More Delegates Than Votes.
The St. Louis county convention was generous in its distribution of seats in the state convention to be held here next week. Forty-seven delegates were selected, although St. Louis county is entitled to only thirty-eight. As the delegation is instructed to vote as a unit, the number of men on the delegation will make no difference in the convention. St. Louis county will be entitled to cast only thirty-eight votes on each question, regardless of the number seated in the delegation.

No Great Sensation.
Governor Eberhart's keynote statement doesn't seem to have created any great furore in and around Duluth. The governor has always been given credit for having shrewd political advisers, but their master minds seem to not to have been working when this plaintive appeal was prepared.

New County Committee.
The probability of the legislature passing a state-wide primary law in extra session was recognized by the St. Louis county Democratic convention yesterday. John T. Pearson, chairman of the convention, was authorized to appoint a new county committee, to be composed of ten members from Duluth, ten from the range towns and ten at large. In moving the appointment of the committee, T. T. Hudson stated that the convention would probably be the last to be held in some time and a new county committee should be appointed to conduct affairs until an occasion for the appointment of a new committee should arise.

The Lynch Indorsement.
The St. Louis county Democrats would readily have indorsed Fred B. Lynch to succeed himself as national committeeman had such action been within the province of the convention at Virginia. The motion was made, but it was ruled out of order. The national committeeman is chosen by the delegates to the national convention and the chair considered that a county convention had not right to issue instructions to a delegation representing the entire state.

Mattson Is Candidate.
G. H. Mattson of Roseau has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for secretary of state. Mr. Mattson will probably make the run at the primaries if the legislature passes a direct primary law extending to all state officers. Julius Schmahl, the present secretary of state, will be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Schmahl is one of the most popular of the state officials and a contest between him and Mr. Mattson for the Republican nomination will be interesting to those on the sidelines.

CHURCH AND HEIRS REACH AGREEMENT

Contest Over Will of Carrington, N. D., Woman Dropped.

Carrington, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Through agreements reached between the contesting legal heirs of Miss Anna C. Edwards of Carrington and three boards of the Congregational church, which were named beneficiaries in her will, the contest ends. By this agreement, about one-half of the amount of the bequests to the church boards will be turned back into the estate to be divided between the legal heirs.
Evidence was submitted before the probate judge and alleged eccentricities upon the part of Miss Edwards, to prove that she was incompetent to make a will, were raised, it being claimed she used to wear a rubber coat, a sun bonnet and that she carried an umbrella in all kinds of weather.

EXPECT BETTER FAIR.

Pembina, N. D., Show Will Distribute Liberal Purses.

Pembina, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A material increase in prize money and racing purses promises to make the 1912 Pembina county fair the best yet held. The purse for horse racing events has been raised to $450 as against $276 last year and in addition to this there is a purse for an automobile race and three prizes for the best decorated cars in the automobile parade, which will be one of the features. The prizes in the poultry department will be doubled. The main trotting event will be a free-for-all for a purse of $225 and there are five special prizes offered by the Cavalier Roller Mills, P. H. McMillan, president of the fair association and the Cavalier Commercial club.

BUCHANAN ON STUMP.

North Dakota Progressive Republican Candidate Active.

Courtney, N. D., May 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. Buchanan, progressive Republican candidate for governor, is making a hard fight to carry the Missouri slope country and is engaged in an extensive tour of that district which will carry him into every county.
The progressives are confident that tney will be able to make very substantial gains throughout the slope district, particularly through Mr. Buchanan's speech, as there are several progressive Republican candidates for other state offices residing in that district.

ARE ON TRIAL FOR RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

William A. Gansberg and Joseph Davis, who were indicted by the grand jury on a charge of having received stolen property, are on trial in district court before Judge Dancer and a jury. The case was begun yesterday afternoon and was adjourned until tomorrow.
Gansberg and Davis are junk dealers doing business at 1910 West Michigan street. It is claimed that they purchased brasses and fitt'ngs which Carl Covel stands convicted of stealing, on his own plea. Covel was on the stand yesterday when court adjourned.

CUBA LIKELY TO SEE GUERILLA WARFARE.

Washington, May 30.—Desultory and destructive guerilla warfare is expected to follow the mobilization of Cuban government troops to Guantanamo, where the negro revolt is strongest, according to advices received at the state department.
American consular officers in the disaffected district expressed the opinion that the evident determination of the rebels to avoid a pitched battle would force an extended campaign before the government troops can accomplish definite results.
The insurrectos are reported to have broken up into small, rapidly moving bands, conducting raids of destruction. The situation is beginning to resemble that existing in Mexico in the early stages of the revolution, in that the criminal characters who are found in every community are beginning to take advantage of the disturbed conditions for organized robbery and plunder.

LAURIER UNCONVINCED.

Says Taft Letter Does Not Show Reciprocity Was Wrong.

Montreal, May 30.—Speaking last night at a Liberal banquet in his honor, Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred to the Taft letter to Roosevelt regarding reciprocity in which President Taft said he looked upon reciprocity as tending to make Canada an adjunct of the United States.
Sir Wilfrid said that while in the United States he had refused to express an opinion as to the Taft letter. "But now," he said, "for my part I wish to say that I am surprised that a man of the eminence of Mr. Taft should borrow such shallow rhetoric from the Canadian jingoes. And the funny part is that this letter which has been so seriously taken by the Canadian jingoes did not convince 'my dear Theodore,' to whom it was addressed; he did not share the idea that reciprocity would make Canada an adjunct of the United States."
At one point in his address the former premier declared:
"I am satisfied, notwithstanding that letter, that we were in the right."

"NO COMPROMISE IN OHIO" IS ROOSEVELT'S TELEGRAM TO BROWN

Colonel Says He Will Not Consent to Taft's Proposition.

Denies That He Intends to Be at Chicago Convention.

"Pure Fake" Is His Comment on Report of Rooms Engaged.

New York, May 31.—Ex-President Roosevelt said today that the reports that he intended to go to the Chicago convention are untrue. His attention was called to a statement made in Chicago by Col. Harry S. New, chairman of the committee, in charge of the Republican national committee on arrangements, that the former president had engaged rooms at a Chicago hotel for use during the convention.

"Pure fake," said Col. Roosevelt. "Of course, I may alter my plans, but at present I have not any intention of going to Chicago."

The suggestion of a compromise between the Taft and the Roosevelt forces at the Ohio state convention that is to elect six delegates at large to the Chicago convention next Tuesday was denounced today by Col. Roosevelt.

Telegram to Brown.

The colonel sent this telegram to Walter F. Brown, his Ohio manager, at Columbus:

"I have just seen the telegram sent by Mr. Taft to Mr. Vorys about a compromise in Ohio. Until I saw this telegram I had never heard a suggestion that there had been any compromise, and I, of course, assumed that any such suggestion came from the Taft forces.

"In the first place, I would not con-

TRAINS WITH U. S. MAIL KEPT IDLE

Depot Company and Railroad in Fuss Over Rent.

Peoria, Ill., May 31.—Charging nonpayment of $30,000 terminal rental, the Peoria & Pekin union depot today barred the Chicago & Alton from using the local passenger station and freight yards. Ten days ago notice was served on the Alton that the rent must be paid or they would be shut out.

At midnight the tower operators at Pekin on the Springfield division and at Washington on the Chicago division were ordered to prevent Alton trains from proceeding towards Peoria. This morning no Alton trains left the city. Serious complications may follow, as some of the outbound trains had United States mail aboard.

JOHN DOE KILLS SELF IN PRISON

Mysterious "Lifer" in New Hampshire Dies Unidentified.

Concord, N. H., May 31.—A mysterious life inmate of the New Hampshire state prison, known only as John Doe, committed suicide in his cell during the night by hanging himself to a grating.

On Feb. 10, 1906, Doe and an accomplice, Joseph Gouin, a French-Canadian, after robbing a safe in Dover, boarded the St. John-Boston train at Rockingham Junction and killed an Italian passenger in the smoking car. Both were captured after an exciting chase, and on May 15 following were sentenced to prison, Doe for life and Gouin for thirty years.

Gouin was transferred to the state hospital as an insane person, and on April 22 escaped from that institution and still is at large.

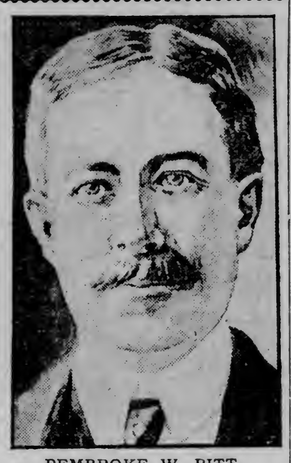
On Nov. 11, 1910, Doe secured a knife and ran amuck at the prison, seriously wounding the physician, Dr. R. F. Gallinger, and Deputy Warden Frank D. Bailey. Since that time he had been in solitary confinement. His real name or any information concerning his antecedents never was obtained. He refused to say anything about himself.

DEAD "PAUPER" IS RICH MAN'S SON

Mexican Section Hand in Kansas Member of Wealthy Family.

Hiawatha, Kan., May 31.—Pedro Gallhadro, a Mexican section hand killed at Willis a month ago and buried in the pauper field at Hiawatha, has been identified as the son of a wealthy family in Mexico. The coroner notified Senor J. L. Dosal, Mexican consul at Kansas City, of the man's death beneath an overturned locomotive. The consul discovered that the victim was the son of a former Mexican secretary of agriculture.

ACCUSED OF FRAUD BY FOUR BANKS



PEMBROKE W. PITT.

New York, May 31.—Pembroke W. Pitt, the fugutive grain broker, who was arrested at Naples May 8, by Detective Kahler, after a chase over two hemispheres, will reach the United next week and will be taken at once to Baltimore to answer the charges against him. Pitt disappeared after the suspension of the old grain firm of Pitt Bros. & Co. He was charged with having obtained money from four banks on fraudulent bills of lading.

GUNBOAT IS MISSING

The Paducah, With Marines Aboard, Is Overdue at Diaquiri.

Cuban Government Declares There Is No News From the Front.

Santiago, Cuba, May 31.—The American gunboat Paducah, which was expected to arrive this morning at Daiquiri with a detachment of marines, had not been reported as arriving at 10:30 a. m.

No News From the Front.

Havana, May 31.—The government declares that it still has no news from the front and does not expect an important movement until tonight or tomorrow.

No word has been received here of the landing of the American marines from the gunboat Paducah at Diaquiri, where property of the Spanish American Mining company is reported to have been destroyed by the insurgents.

There is no news from the United States gunboat Nashville at Nipe Bay, and it is believed all is quiet in that vicinity.

PROBE ADVANCE IN COAL PRICES

New York Merchants Want to Know Cause of the Increase.

New York, May 31.—The committee of the Merchants' association to investigate the advance in the price of domestic hard coal is to begin its work next week, and several operators, it is expected, will be asked to come to the hearings and answer questions. Coal dealers also will be requested to appear.

This is the first time that the coal trade has undergone an investigation of this kind. Harry R. Towne, president of the association, said that while the committee had no power to compel the attendance of the operators, it was hardly likely that they would refuse to testify. Mr. Towne said:

"We are not going off at half cock on this matter. It is the public's right to know everything about the case.

"The price of anthracite has been increasing since 1902, and now 25 cents a ton is added, ostensibly because the wages of the miners have been increased a little over 5 per cent. New York, which, on account of the anti-smoke ordinance, has to burn anthracite, is particularly interested in the matter."

PITTSBURG MAN AND WIFE BOTH ARE SHOT.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—John Hoscher was found lying in bed with a bullet in his head and his wife nearby shot in the breast. They were hurried to a hospital, so badly wounded the doctors will not allow either of them to discuss the shooting.

Private Bank Closes Doors.

Rochester, N. Y., May 31.—The George W. Hallock private bank at Bath closed its doors today. The bank had deposits of between $600,000 and $700,000 and had done business since 1849.

DAYTON WILL HONOR DEAD

All City Business Will Halt During Aviator's Funeral.

London and Paris Express Sorrow at Death of the Aviator.

Dayton, Ohio, May 31.—Wilbur Wright's funeral will be held from the family residence Saturday afternoon, according to plans made by the family. The details of the ceremonies had not been completed today, and the exact hour of the obsequies and the name of the pastor who will officiate had not yet been decided.

It is probable that the ceremonies will be open to the public, although the tentative plan may yet be changed.

The city of Dayton will pay a tribute of respect to the memory of its distinguished son by suspending business during the hours of the funeral.

Mourned in London.

London, May 31.—The death of Wilbur Wright is mourned universally as the passing of a great man, who was recognized as a pioneer in the science of aviation. The dispatches review the romantic story of the Wright brothers' achievements as among the most wonderful in the world's history. It is pointed out that Wilbur Wright is the first prominent air man to die a natural death. Comment is made on the fact that it has been given to few inventors to see such surprising advances within their own lifetime.

All the London papers print long obituaries, portraits, pictures of the early Wright machines, and tributes

CHICAGO FREIGHT STRIKE UNCHANGED

Railroads Deny It Is Serious While Men Predict Victory.

Chicago, May 31.—Conditions in the freight handlers' strike which was called several weeks ago, when about 5,000 men walked out of the freight houses of twenty-two of twenty-four railroads centering in Chicago, remain practically unchanged. Union officials declare the roads are experiencing much difficulty in moving freight and also in keeping the men hired to take the places of the strikers. The railroad maangers insist the strike, so far as hindering their operations, is a thing of the past.

Policemen still guard the freight houses, however, and offers of positions in the freight houses continue to be made.

Commodities are being moved slowly. Perishable merchandise is being received and handled by the different roads.

The strike has been marked by an absence of violence and there has been almost no disorder at any of the freight yards.

The union leaders insist the strike will ultimately be won by the men and in support of their contention point to the walkout of freight handlers in other cities once the Chicago men quit work.

CONGRESS RESTLESS

Senate Not Likely to Longer Delay Vote on Lorimer Case.

Members Who Are Retiring Because of the Lengthy Sessions.

(By Willis J. Abbot.)

Washington, May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—It may be a matter of unjust suspicion or mere irritation over the outlook for a long session, but it must be said that congressional Washington is not keen over Senator Lorimer's fight to delay action on his case. Men question his reported illness and senators raise the point that as Mr. Lorimer has already spoken several days in his own defense, it is hardly likely that injustice would be done by conducting the debate on the new evidence, and even taking a vote in his absence. It is incredible that after the encyclopedic autobiography delivered by Senator Lorimer last year he has anything left to add to his eulogy of his own virtues.

While the general public may not recall it, the Lorimer case last year

SAYS LA FOLLETTE SHOULD BE HOME

Chafin Claims If Senator Were Governor He Could Be President.

Madison, Wis., May 31.—"If Senator La Follette wants to be president of the United States, he ought to resign his seat in the senate, come back to Wisconsin, and in 1914 become a candidate for governor. He should keep on the Chautauqua platform, for that will keep him close to the people. If he had been governor of Wisconsin in the last two years he would be nominated for president that year."

This is the statement of Eugene W. Chafin of Tucson, Ariz., probable Prohibition candidate for president and a former Wisconsin man, in an interview here. Chafin and La Follette attended the University of Wisconsin together and are close personal friends. Mr. Chafin bases his conclusions in reference to Senator La Follette on nearly 100 years of historical precedent.

Cites Historic Precedents.

"While Senator La Follette is in the United States senate he cannot be elected," continued Mr. Chafin. "Since 1816, when Rufus King, a United States senator, was a candidate for the presidency, every senator who has tried to get the nomination, or if nominated, sought to be elected, has been defeated. In all forty or fifty United States senators have since 1816 either tried to be nominated or elected. In every case they have failed."

Mr. Chafin has made nearly 100 speeches in Wisconsin during the month, and has spoken in five of the six equal suffrage states. "In every state where woman suffrage exists," he said, "you could never get these people to go back to the plan of male suffrage only." He was hopeful that equal suffrage would carry in Wisconsin this year.

FIRE PANIC AT Y. M. C. A.

Blaze in Adjoining Building Throws Roomers Into Confusion.

Halls Flooded By Young Men in Feeble Effort at Fire Fighting.

Roomers at the Y. M. C. A. were roused between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning by the strong odor of smoke. A red glare fell upon the west windows as flames burst through the roof of the building at 310-12 West Second street. Many of the men rushed from their rooms with the cry of fire.

The fire department was on the scene almost as soon as the inmates of the Y. M. C. A. knew that there was anything wrong. Some of the most enterprising of the young men quickly unwound the hose reels that are always in readiness in the halls of the association buildings, and managed to throw water from the windows upon the roof of the burning building. They could not reach the flames, however, and the streams were too small to have any effectual part in extinguishing the flames.

For a time it appeared that the association building was itself in danger. Many of the roomers hastily packed the most necessary and valuable of their belongings in suitcases and hurried downstairs to the lobby.

MORE TROUBLE IN DINING ROOMS

Union Cooks and Waiters in New York May All Walk Out.

New York, May 31.—New York faces today a possible strike of every union waiter and cook in the city. Two thousand waiters from a dozen famous hotels and restaurants are now on strike, and unless they win their fight for higher wages, shorter hours and recognition of their union within twenty-four hours, their leaders have promised to order a general walkout.

This order, according to Edward Blochlinger, financial secretary of the union, would call from their places cooks and waiters in every hotel not already affected, and extend also to employes of hundreds of restaurants and "quick lunch" establishments serving food at popular prices.

Negroes Ready to Step In.

Approximately 1,000 negroes are in readiness to be brought into the city from Southern points to break the strike, the principal hotel managers say. The negroes have been recruited, it is said, from hotels and employment agencies in Florida, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, St. Louis and other Southern cities.

At the Plaza hotel, where the waiters quit last night, negroes have already taken up the work.

Most of the demands of the strikers have been granted by the hotel men, but recognition of the union has been refused.

Waiters at the Marie Antoniette and the Great Northern hotel joined the strike today. They walked out during the breakfast hour without disorder.

DR. DUMAS MUST GO TO PRISON FOR THE PUPOSKY ARSON CASE

LOSES ON HIS APPEAL IN CRIMINAL

DR. D. F. DUMAS, Ex-Mayor of Cass Lake.

Supreme Court Upholds Conviction of Ex-Mayor of Cass Lake.

Remands His Case to Beltrami County Court for Sentence.

Means Imprisonment for Not Over Three and One Half Years.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. D. F. Dumas, former mayor of Cass Lake, Minn., who, it was charged, planned the blowing of the postoffice safe at Puposky the night of June 16, 1911, and aided criminals in the act, is guilty of attempted arson in the third degree and his conviction in the district court of Beltrami county was warranted. The penalty is imprisonment not to exceed three and one-half years.

This is the decision of the state supreme court handed down today.

Not one excusing feature in the movement of the Cass Lake mayor is contained in the opinion of the court, written by Chief Justice Start. On the other hand, the contention of the state in every particular is sustained, and the defendant is censured for the part he played.

Dr. Dumas made his defense on the ground that even if all the state's contentions were true, he was not guilty of attempted arson, because the act of burning the Puposky store and robbing the safe was not completed.

The supreme court was asked to decide two questions:

"First—Did the indictment state facts sufficient to constitute a public offense?"

"Second—Did the testimony offered on the part of the state show or prove facts constituting the public offense charged in the indictment?"

Comment By Court.

Commenting on these, the court held:

KILLS NEW OLEO LAW

Supreme Court Declares Act of Last Legislature Invalid.

Monopoly of Yellow Color Is Denied to Dairy Product.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The oleomargarine law passed at the last session of the legislature prohibiting the coloring of "oleo" to make it resemble butter, is unconstitutional.

This was decided by the state supreme court today in the case brought by the state against Ole Hanson, a merchant of Mankato.

The court goes exhaustively into the merits of the case, and discusses the "golden yellow butter of June," and the "light colored butter of winter," as compared to oleomargarine of any yellow shade.

It declares that butter is not entitled to a monopoly of the shade of yellow, and that oleo is entitled to a place in the field.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE THE I. W. W

Wickersham Authorizes Investigation to Be Made at San Diego.

Washington, May 31.—Attorney General Wickersham has authorized a federal grand jury inquiry in San Diego, Cal., into the activities of the Industrial Workers of the World. This action was in response to an appeal from the city authorities who charged that the Industrial Workers had offended federal laws by serious activity and by violation of American neutrality statements regarding Mexico.

The United States attorney at Los Angeles has been given authority to lay the matter before the grand jury at San Diego. The department of justice, aside from the protest of the San Diego local authorities, has been watching the situation for several months.

TURKISH PRISONERS ARE SENT TO ITALY.

Washington, May 31.—A cablegram to the Italian embassy announces that eighty-seven Turkish soldiers, including three officers, who were captured on the island of Rhodes by Italian troops, were sent yesterday to Italy, where they will be held pending exchange as prisoners of war or the termination of the hostilities.

TAFT WILLING TO COMPROMISE

Telegraphs Vorys That He Would Split Ohio Delegation.

Washington, May 31.—President Taft has sent a telegram to Arthur I. Vorys, Republican national committeeman for Ohio, declaring that while he does not need that state's six delegates-at-large to secure the presidential nomination, he will consider a compromise in the Ohio state convention.

HANLY SAYS THAT TEDDY IS BUNGLER

Attacks Colonel During Debate With Hobson on Armament.

Atlanta, Ga., May 31. — Characterizing Col. Roosevelt as "a bungler," Former Governor Frank Hanly of Indiana asserted that had Col. Roosevelt held the presidency during the Mexican crisis and had been backed by a powerful army and navy, he would have devasted this country with war.

That remark was made during his debate here last night with Richmond Pearson Hobson on the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Control the Seas." Representative Hobson had outlined his views of the necessity for equipping this country with such a naval force that war would henceforth be out of the question.

HOLDING PRIMARY IN RHODE ISLAND

Democrats Vote, With National Committeeman the Main Issue.

Providence, R. I., May 31. — The first Democratic presidential primary in this state was held today, when voters expressed their choice for one of three candidates, Speaker Champ Clark, Governor Judson Harmon or Governor Woodrow Wilson.

Chief interest in the primary, however, appeared in the contest for national committeeman, with Representative George F. O'Shaughnessy and National Committeeman George W. Green as the candidates.

Twenty-two names appeared on the ballot for delegates to the national convention at Baltimore. Ten securing the highest number of votes will be delegates and the second ten in order will be alternates.

Very little campaigning has been done in behalf of any of the candidates for the presidential primary nomination, although the Clark forces were more active than the others. Governor Wilson was the only Democratic presidential candidate who appeared in Rhode Island during the campaign.

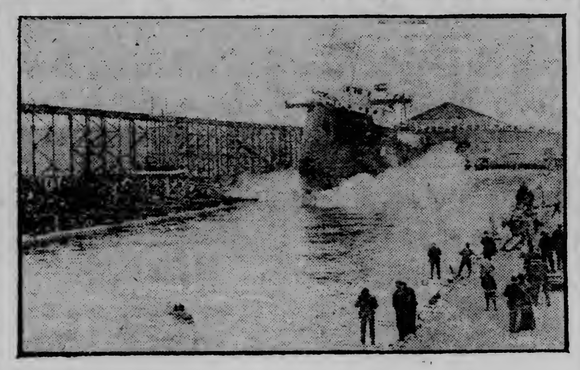
MARINE NEWS

LAUNCHING FIRST BOAT AT PORT ARTHUR SHIPYARD



FIRST HARD COAL CARGO IS COMING

Steamer Manchester Loaded at Buffalo and Leaves for Duluth.

A special dispatch to The Herald from Buffalo says that the first hard coal cargo of the present season is on its way to Duluth.

The steamer Manchester was loaded wth hard coal for Duluth at Buffalo today. It is stated that hard coal will move freely from this time on. Up to this time not one cargo of hard coal has been received at Duluth, the strike of the coal miners putting the shippers back in their orders.

The first boat to be loaded with hard coal this year was loaded at Buffalo Saturday. The steamer Taylor took the load and left late Saturday for Chicago, where it is reported that the stocks are even lower than they are at Duluth.

SAW A WATERSPOUT.

Lake Captain Reports Strange Sight During Monday's Storm.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A waterspout fully 300 feet high was seen during the storm early Monday morning by Capt. Arnold Evanson, master of the steamer Venus. This marine tornado was sighted by the captain when the vessel was off Port Washington on her way to Milwaukee with a cargo of coal consigned to the Kanawha Fuel company.

Capt. Evanson, who lives at 441 Twenty-ninth avenue, has sailed salt water as the Great Lakes so that a waterspout is nothing new to him. Some years ago he was the first to see a similar spout on Lake Erie.

That waterspouts on bodies of water like Lake Michigan are not improbable is the opinion of Forecaster M. E. Blystone. In fact, according to the forecaster, conditions recently have been quite favorable to cause a waterspout.

"A waterspout," said Mr. Blystone Tuesday, "is a tornado on the water. A wind blowing a gale and moving in a whirl will pick up the water in its path and carry it up still spinning on its vertical axis. A similar whirl of vapor comes down from the clouds to meet it so that the appearance is like a column of water from sea to sky."

Ore for Canada.

Ashland, Wis., May 31.—Two hundred and fifty thousand tons of ore have been contracted for to be shipped from Ashland this season to Canadian ports. This is more than twice as much as has ever gone from this port to Canada in any previous season.

The ore trade from Lake Superior still is hampered by the grain trade from Fort William and Duluth. So great has been the rush of boats that many of them have had to wait for cargoes nearly a week at these two ports before getting dock room, and have also had to wait nearly as long at Buffalo before getting a chance to discharge their cargoes.

PLAN TO PLAT RANGE LANDS

State Auditor Iverson Says They Soon Will Be on the Market.

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forty-acre tracts of land belonging to the state and adjoining such towns as Virginia, Chisholm, Hibbing, Ely and other thriving little cities in the northern part of the state, probably will be platted soon and placed on the market, according to S. G. Iverson, state auditor, who returned to his office this morning after a trip of inspection.

In some instances the land will be platted into city lots, while in others it will be held in five-acre and ten-acre tracts, for use as small farms. Mr. Iverson will hold a conference with the attorney general, state treasurer, and Governor Eberhart before taking the proposed action.

FIFTY CASES AT HIBBING TERM

Next Term of Range Court Will Open on June 4.

On June 4, the June term of the district court will open at Hibbing. J. P. Johnson, clerk of the court, today received notice from his deputy at Hibbing that there were fifty civil actions on the calendar. The number is not any larger than usual.

Of the fifty cases to be tried, thirty-five are for the jury and fifteen for the court. Of the court cases, all but six are divorce actions.

Twenty-two cases on the June calendar were continued from the last term and the remainder are new. Of the thirty-five jury cases, eighteen are new; of the nine divorce actions, three are new and of the six other court cases, all but two are new.

The call of the calendar will be in charge of Judge Martin Hughes.

MINNESOTA POLITICS

Wilson Supporters Will Have Majority in State Convention--Contests for Places on Delegation to Baltimore, in Several Districts—Fred B. Lynch's Friends Confident of His Strength—William E. Lee in Duluth.

Majority for Wilson.

The supporters of Woodrow Wilson will be in complete control of the Democratic state convention here next week. Returns from the county conventions held Wednesday indicate that the Wilson men will have at least 547 votes, Calrk supporters 255, Bryan men 88, and that 130 delegates are doubtful. Only 524 votes are necessary for control of the convention, so that the Wilson men will have a safe working majority.

The Clark minority will be just large enough to make some noise, if any fireworks develop. Ramsey county will push the claims of Daniel W. Lawler for delegate-at-large and he will probably be voted down. Fred B. Lynch, national committeeman, is most likely to be chosen as a delegate-at-large and St. Paul will not be given two places on the delegation.

The Wilson men will undoubtedly stand for the retention of the unit rule. The Fourth district is for Clark and the district delegates will be for the speaker, but the unit rule will bind them to the majority and Minnesota's entire vote will be cast for Wilson at Baltimore.

Bryan's strength in Minnesota is reflected in the fact that several counties instructed for Bryan, with Wilson or Clark for second choice. No stampede to Bryan is likely to be started at the convention here, however. Many of the strongest Wilson supporters are also great admirers of Bryan, and the Wilson instructions given the delegates to Baltimore will probably be such that they will be able to go for Bryan if Wilson's nomination should become impossible. Wilson supporters in Minnesota believe that the New Jersey governor can be nomianted and they will insist on instructions that will prevent the delegation deserting, unless it be as a last resort to Bryan to secure the nomination of a Progressive Democrat.

Prospective Delegates.

There will be some contests over delegates here, it is expected. Fred B. Lynch of St. Paul, Congressman W. S. Hammond of St. James, Senator Harry F. Weis of Le Sueur and A. C. Weiss of Duluth are expected to be elected delegates-at-large without opposition. For the other two places, there are several candidates. Minneapolis will probably get one, and the Hennepin county delegation seems to favor Former Senator S. A. Stockwell. The Stearns county convention indorsed Joseph Kowalkowski of St. Cloud for delegate-at-large, and others mentioned are T. J. Knox of Jackson and M. J. Daly of Perham, both of whom are also considered for district delegates from their districts.

Many counties indorsed candidates for district delegates, but many men mentioned for places on the district delegations did not figure in the indorsements reported. In the First district, Freeborn and Fillmore counties indorsed J. F. D. Meighen of Albert Lea, and Olmsted county indorsed Julius J. Reiter of Rochester. Other prospective candidates are Senator T. E. Cashman of Owatonna, James A. Carley of Wabasha and H. L. Buck of Winona.

In the Second district, Blue Earth county indorsed L. L. Champlin of Mankato, Rock county indorsed S. B. Nelson of Luverne, Jackson county indorsed T. J. Knox of Jackson, and Watonwan indorsed J. J. Thornton of St. James.

In the Third district, Dakota county indorsed P. H. O'Keefe of South St. Paul. Senator Julius Coller of Shakopee, Senator Albert Schaller of Hastings and several others are considered for delegates in the Third.

The Fourth district delegates will be Otto Bremer and R. T. O'Connor of St. Paul.

E. A. Purdy will be one of the Fifth district delegates, but the other place is in doubt.

Indorsements in the Sixth district were Con O'Brien of Brainerd by Crow Wing, P. J. Vasaly of Little Falls by Morrison, Joseph Wolf of Staples by Todd and Dr. Gilkinson of Osakis by Douglas. Stearns county will also have a candidate.

In the Seventh district J. R. Keefe of North Redwood and Julius Thorson of Benson were indorsed by Renville county, and they will probably be the delegates from that district.

Alfred Jaques of Duluth and J. B. Galarneault of Aitkin have no opposition for district delegates from the Eighth district.

M. J. Daly of Perham was indorsed by Otter Tail county in the Ninth district Axel Ringborg of Bagley is in the field for district delegate also.

The district delegates will be elected by the delegates to the state convention. Caucuses will be held before the convention meets and the selections of the districts will be ratified by the convention.

Contest From Winona.

The only contest reported thus far is from Winona county, where two conventions were held. The Progressives and reactionaries wouldn't get together and fight it out, so they chose a list of delegates and will go before the credentials committee in the convention here. Aside from that contest, the credentials committee will probably have little to do.

Lynch's Friends Confident.

Strong efforts are being made by certain influences, especially outside of the Democratic party, to stir up a fight on Fred B. Lynch at the convention here and to endeavor to have some other man indorsed for national committeeman. The national committeeman is chosen by the delegates to the national convention, but an indorsement by the convention would be considered binding.

Mr. Lynch's friends have no fear that he will be displaced. Polk, Benton, Hubbard, Aitkin, Redwood, Freeborn, Murray, Rock, Pipestone, Lake, Jackson, Houston, Nicollet and Blue Earth counties indorsed Lynch in their county conventions, and the delegates from many other counties are known to favor him. T. T. Hudson, who is most prominently mentioned as an opponent of Mr. Lynch, is taking no part in the contest, if any is in progress.

Talk of Chairman.

W. E. McEwen of Duluth is mentioned by the St. Paul Dispatch as a prospective temporary chairman of the convention here next week. The selection of a chairman from the city in which the convention is held is unlikely. Some outside man is more likely to be selected. Hennepin county may have a candidate for chairman and there is also talk of J. M. Freeman of Olivia, who was the party's candidate for attorney general in the last campaign.

Lee in Duluth.

William E. Lee of Long Prairie, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is in Duluth today. He expresses himself as well pleased with the prospective of a primary law being passed by the legislature, and says that the calling of the extra session is a confession of weakness on the part of Eberhart. Mr. Lee met political friends here and talked over his prospects in St. Louis county.

LEAVES EMPLOY OF THE CITY

Bert Farrell Resigns After Twenty Years of Service.

Bert Farrell, connected with the office of the city engineer as a surveyor for the last twenty years, resigned today to go into business for himself. He will open an office at 416 Manhattan building.

In Mr. Farrell's leaving, the city is losing the services of a valuable man, but he feels that he cannot longer afford to remain in the employ of the city.

During the time he has been with the city Mr. Farrell has had general charge of all outside surveying work. Among the most important pieces of work which he has handled have been the laying out of the several roads which run out of Duluth into the tributary farming country. He has taken a deep interest in this branch of the department's duties and has succeeded in locating easy grades where none were considered possible. The Farrell road, starting out from the Second ward, is named for him.

TWO DISTRICT CLUBS JOINED

Walhalla, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting here yesterday of the Pembina district of the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Grand Forks and Pembina districts were united. The first meeting of the two districts will be held next year at a place to be named later.

Only one officer was elected, Mrs. H. G. Vick of Cavalier, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. A. M. O'Connor, vice president of the state organization for the Pembina district, will continue in that capacity until next year.

Eight out of thirteen clubs, a total delegation of twenty-one, were represented. The condition of the roads made it impossible for a number of the delegates to attend.

At yesterday morning's session C. H. Lee read an interesting paper on "Walhalla," taking the place of Mrs. Amidon of Fargo, who was unable to attend. Mrs. Grant S. Hagar of St. Thomas read a very interesting historical sketch of the Pembina mountains. Mrs. Hagar's paper went back as far as 1789 and covered historical events to the present time. It was one of the most interesting papers ever heard in the city. Mrs. N. C Young of Fargo, president of the state federation, gave a short address on "State Club Work."

Brainerd Couple Wed.

Brainerd, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank J. Lowey and Miss Helen E. Reilly, daughter of the late T. M. Reilly were married at the parsonage of the St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney performing the service in the presence of relatives. Both are graduates of the local high school and socially prominent. The couple left for a month's trip to Washington, New York and other Eastern points, and will return via Montreal.

CONTEST 204 G. O. P. SEATS

Filings Are Closed for the Republican National Convention.

Roosevelt Men Claim He Will Be Nominated on First Ballot.

Chicago, May 31.—When the Republican national committee meets in Chicago June 6 it will be called upon to decide 204 contests. Four years there were 219 contests submitted. The number tabulated this year is fewer than had been expected, owing, it is said, to the fact that in a number of districts where the Roosevelt adherents threatened to make contests, it apparently was decided at the last minute not to make a fight.

Of the 204 contests filed with Secretary Hayward 177 were presented by followers of Col. Roosevelt and 27 by friends of President Taft.

The principal contests filed by the Taft managers are from Missouri and Texas.

In Louisiana, three sets of delegates were elected at large and in the First, Second and Fifth districts; two sets were named by the supporters of President Taft, and one was selected by friends of Col. Roosevelt.

Too Many Delegates.

More delegates than the number specified in the call for the convention were chosen at large, and in the Sixteenth district of Missouri, at large in Alabama, in the Fifth district of Kentucky, in the Fourth district of Minnesota, in the Seventh district of Texas, and in the First, Tenth and Eleventh districts of Georgia. Secretary Hayward has classed these as contests, and the committee will be required to determine what will be done with the cases.

There are contests from eighteen states, the District of Columbia, and the Territory of Alaska.

List of Contests.

Chairman New of the subcommittee on arrangements said that no other contests than those subjoined had been received, but it was possible that a few others might be in the mail bearing an early enough postmark to make them legal.

Following is a list of the contests filed with Secretary Hayward:

State—	Number of delegates.
Alabama, at large and Districts 1, 2, 3, 6 and 9	15
Arkansas, at large and Districts 2, 3, 4 and 7	16
District of Columbia, at large	2
Florida, at large and Districts 1, 2 and 3	12
Georgia, at large and Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12	12
Indiana at large and Districts 1, 3, 13	10
Kentucky, Districts 5 and 11	4
Louisiana, at large and Districts, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7	20
Michigan, at large	6
Minnesota, Fourth district	2
Mississippi, at large and Districts 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8	18
Missouri, at large and Districts 1, 3, 5, 7 and 14	14
North Carolina, Fourth district	2
Oklahoma, Districts 3 and 4	4
South Carolina, First district	2
Tennessee, Districts 9 and 10	4
Texas, at large and Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 11, 14 and 15	28
Virginia, at large and Districts 1, 2, 5, 6, 8 and 10	18
Washington, at large and Districts 1, 2 and 3	14
Total delegates contested	204

J. B. Keating, former United States district attorney at Indianapolis, has arrived in Chicago from Texas, where he looked after President Taft's interests in the recent primaries and conventions and reported to Chairman New of the subcommittee on arrangements for the convention that Taft and Roosevelt each have six instructed delegates from that state, while the remaining twenty-eight are contested.

Chairman New reiterated his previous declaration that no presidential candidate would be recognized in the distribution of convention tickets, but added that if Col. Roosevelt came to Chicago and applied for a ticket in person he would provide him with an admission even if he had to give him his own seat.

Claim 581 for Roosevelt.

Roosevelt's managers claim their candidate will have 581 votes, or more than enough to nominate, on the first ballot. They give Taft 191, La Follette 56, Cummins 10 and class the other delegates as uninstructed.

New York's ninety delegates are divided as follows in the statement: Roosevelt, 32; Taft, 2; uninstructed, 56.

Dixon Is Indignant.

Washington, May 31.—Senator Dixon, manager of the national Roosevelt committee, aroused over the refusal of Harry S. New, chairman of the subcommittee of the national committee on arrangements for the Republican convention, to allot him 150 tickets for the use of Col. Roosevelt, his family and friends, has determined to demand recognition from the national committee. After receiving word that his request for tickets would not be granted, Senator Dixon sent to Chairman New at Chicago a telegram accusing Mr. New of giving 250 tickets to President Taft, and accusing him of petty partisanship.

The senator plans to get in communication with members of the national committee immediately.

Hilles Taft's Captain.

The interests of President Taft at the meeting of the Republican national convention will be in the hands of C. D. Hilles, secretary to Mr. Taft. This information was taken as an indication that Mr. Hilles will be the president's choice for chairman of the Republican national committee in case he is re-nominated.

AMERICAN SANITARY ENGINEER FOR PERU.

Washington, May 31.—In response to a request from Peru, South America, that the United States send a well qualified official to take charge of the sanitary improvement at Iquitos, for which $1,000,000 has been appropriated, the public health and marine hospital service has selected Dr. George Converse, who has been engaged in public health work in San Francisco. Dr. Converse has been granted a two years leave of absence and will leave for South America in about two weeks.

ILLINOIS MAYOR AND WIFE ASPHYXIATED.

Streator, Ill., May 31.—Mrs. C. E. Shuler is dead and her husband, mayor of Princeville, Ill., is believed to be dying as a result of being overcome by gas in a local hotel. The discovery was not made until morning. They were en route to their homes from Evanston, where Mr. Shuler had attended the state convention of mayors.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—"The Pink Lady."

"BEVERLY."

Romantic Drama Pleases Two Holiday Audiences at the Lyceum.

The romantic love comedy, "Beverly of Graustark," delighted two good-sized audiences at the Lyceum theater yesterday afternoon and evening. It is by no means a new play, but it is one in which the plot is cleverly drawn and artisically developed, and its popularity has stood the test of time. Miss Dorothy Howard gave a most pleasing presentation of the role of the heroine. Beverly Calhoun of Washington, D. C. She shows the happy combination of real bravery and true refinement. The most amusing character is that of Aunt Fanny, Beverly's maid, a typical American colored domestic, whose utter disgust with the land in which she and her mistress are sojourning furnishes many a laughable episode. This part was taken by Miss Lillian Allen. A difficult role and one that was well handled was that of the villain, Gen. Marianz, commander-in-chief of the Graustark forces, represented by Boyd M. Turner. His plots to ruin the hero in order to obtain the hand of the heroine, and their defeat by the hero and heroine, form the central thread of the plot. Robert Lawrence handled the part of the hero, Prince Danton, the dethroned ruler of Dawsbergen, known as Baldos, the mountaineer. The role was presented with a masterly skill that kept up intense interest on the part of the audience from first to last.

"The Pink Lady."

Klaw & Erlanger's musical comedy de luxe, "The Pink Lady," will be the attraction at the Lyceum tonight. This entertainment is the musical sensation of the current season and has just closed a run of a year in New York, where it set a new standard for works of its popular classification. It is in reality a play with music and is in three acts with as many scenes.

The book and lyrics are by C. M. S. McLellan, who adapted his story from the French farce, "Le Satyre," by Georges Berr and Marcel Guillemaud, which ran in its original form for nearly a year at the Palais Royale in Paris. It is generally conceded to be the best work of this description ever given the American stage by Mr. McLellan.

The music, which is an integral part of the plot and accelerates the development of the story, is by Ivan Caryll, of the Gaiety theater, London, whose successes have been well known for the past dozen years.

While each essential department of "The Pink Lady" is noted for its strength and popular appeal, the true merit of the piece lies in its very happy combination of both, blended into a production marked by rare judgment and exquisite taste. Such effectiveness in tone, harmony and color scheme of the ensembles has never been seen before upon the American stage, and it is in this department that Klaw & Erlanger have eclipsed their own enviable reputation as producers and brought forth an attraction that is distinctive and really epoch-making.

It is all clean-cut and diverting entertainment, while the music is delicious and the whole performance a capital affair of clever acting, good singing and tasteful and intelligent stage direction.

A company of 90 people is en tour and will be seen in the production here along with the famous "Pink Lady," orchestra that is traveling with the attraction to bring out all the charm of the music. There will be thirty musicians in the orchestra pit during the local presentations. Then also the big numbers will introduce the famous pink of perfection chorus of this big organization. In the cast of principals will be found John E. Young, Olga De Baugh, Ruth Thorpe Octavia Proske, Josie Intropodi, Raymond Bottomly, Georgia Majeroni, George Reed, John J. Scannell, Scott Welsh and a host of others.

MR. HENRY TOLMAN, 93 Years of Age

Mr. Henry Tolman, a veteran of three wars and a man who has worked hard and endured many hardships since 11 years of age, says Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has added many happy years to the lives of his wife and himself.

Green Harbor, Mass.

"Both my wife, who is 84 years old, and myself, 93 years old, are taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and we know we are aided by this indispensable medicine to hold out a little longer, notwithstanding we are well aware we are living far beyond the three score years and ten.

"Last spring I successfully underwent an operation for cancer on the ear. Through the aid of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I was able to withstand the shock of the operation, which often proves disastrous to many a younger person.

"A great part of my life I have been either a sailor or soldier. I took part in the Seminole, Mexican and Civil wars and was in 27 battles and skirmishes.

"With best wishes for your continued success, yours truly,

Henry Tolman

ROOSEVELT SCOFFS AT FITZGERALD'S ATTACK.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—"Only men with brains of three guinea-pig power" according to Col. Roosevelt can take serious heed of Congressman Fitzgerald's speech in the house about the colonel. Mr. Fitzgerald read what purported to be a memorandum of President Roosevelt relating to alterations to the White House "to be permanent during my lifetime."

"Mr. Fitzgeraldr's accusation, or the implied accusation, is too preposterous to need any serious discussion," said Col. Roosevelt here. "Just as machinery can be expressed in terms of horse power, so some intellects can be expressed in terms of guinea-pig power. That kind of accusation can only be heeded by men with brains of about three guinea-pig power."

MEMORIAL TO MAJ. BUTT AND FRANK D. MILLET.

Washington, May 31. — President Taft, members of the diplomatic corps in Washington, and many government officials have contributed to a fund of several thousand dollars to be used to erect a memorial to Maj. Archibald W. Butt, personal aide to two presidents, and to Frank D. Millett, vice chairman of the National Fine Arts commission, two Washington victims of the Titanic disaster.

The work of raising the fund was undertaken quietly by C. D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, and Col. Spencer S. Cosby, chief aide to the president. The memorial, in the form of a bronze tablet, probably will be erected in the ellipse back of the White House, and almost within its shadow. Authorization by congress will be necessary, but there is no doubt among friends of the two men that it will be granted.

The site near the White House was selected because of Maj. Butte's close association with the White House for many years, and also because of Mr. Millet's interest in the public grounds of the capital.

SENATE WILL HEAR THE LORIMER CASE MONDAY.

Washington, May 31. — The Lorimer election case will be brought up in the senate next Monday, immediately after the routine morning business. Senator Kern of Indiana, for the minority, who holds that corrupt practices were used in bringing about Mr. Lorimer's election, made that announcement.

CHERRIES HAVE COME

Local Market Now Supplied With This Fruit From California.

Active Trade in Pansies—Bananas Higher—Pine Apples Cheap.

The Duluth produce markets have developed some new features since a week ago. The most striking of these is the arrival of California cherries. They are of fine quality, and though quite high, having just come upon the market, they are not more expensive than one might expect for the first arrivals of the season. They are not yet plentiful enough or cheap enough to ship to Duluth in carload lots. To ship in less than carload lots is much more expensive but it has to be done at first. The opening prices are $2 a crate for the white cherries and $2.40 a crate for the black.

The commission row has taken hold of a new line that one would hardly expect to find there, namely, pansy plants. These are being sold at wholesale for 30 cents a dozen, and there was an active trade preceding Decoration day. The plants are for the most part grown in local greenhouses. It is expected that the demand will continue to be active, for many people are still arranging their flower beds.

Another new development is a higher price of bananas. This is most extraordinary and unlooked for at this time of the year. Bananas all through the winter sold at wholesale for 4 cents a pound, but the price has just been jumped to 4½ cents. The excuse that is given for this by those who buy and ship from Central America, where the fruit is grown, is that the crop in that region has been damaged by the want of rain.

Commission merchants say that now is the time to buy pineapples for preserving. They are considerably cheaper than they were a week ago, a crate now selling for $3 which a week ago sold for $3.50. Dealers say it is not likely that they will go any cheaper this season, but on the contrary are likely to be higher. Those that are arriving now are the Cubans. After the Cuban supply is gone, the Florida pineapples will be arriving and these are much higher.

• • •

Strawberries have not changed in price. A week ago Duluth was getting the Arkansas berries, but the Missouri berries are now arriving. The quality is very fine. It is expected that the Wisconsin berries will be arriving on the market about the middle of June. Strawberries are cheap for this season of the year, but it is believed that when the Wisconsin berries arrive, the price will then be still lower.

• • •

The price of apples holds firm. Jonathan apples are now gone and off the market. Barrel apples are of excellent quality, having kept very well in cold storage. They are remarkably plentiful for this time of the year.

Tomatoes are still arriving from Florida and the price is unchanged. They are not so good as they have been because this is the between-season time, that is, it is between the times of harvesting the tomatoes on the east and west coast of Florida. When the time comes for getting the best of the west coast tomatoes of that state, the quality will improve. This will be in the near future.

There are no egg plants on the market now worth mentioning.

California head lettuce is higher. The warmer weather has made it more difficult to ship. Within the past week the price has jumped from $2.25 to $3 a bushel. It is not expected that head lettuce will be any cheaper until the Wisconsin and Minnesota product begins to come.

Leaf lettuce has gone down. A box that a week ago brought $1.15, now sells for $1.10. This is a hot-house product.

Wax beans have taken quite a drop, having declined from $3.50 to $2.75 a bushel. These are now coming in by the car load from Mississippi.

Parsley has dropped from 65 to 40 cents a dozen bunches, Minnesota radishes from 45 to 35 cents a dozen, Florida new potatoes from $2.75 to $2.10 a bushel, and Minnesota spinach from $1.10 to 75 cents a box. New beets and new carrots are also somewhat lower. In short, nearly all the green vegetables have cheapened with the advance of the spring season.

Horse radish root has gone down from $8 to $7.50 a barrel. There is less demand for horse radish on account of the cheapening and increase in quantity of the fresh vegetables.

Irish potatoes are still strong. During the past week they have risen from $1.10 to $1.15 a bushel.

Frozen boxed poultry is slightly stronger, as the supplies are being pretty well cleaned up. Live poultry on the other hand is easing off, as farmers are bringing larger and larger quantities of it upon the market. Meats have not changed since a week ago. They show no signs of cheapening.

• • •

The most active varieties of cheese are down ½ cent since a week ago. The factories over the country at large have been turning out quite a large quantity, as milk and cream have been getting more and more plentiful. Butter, however, has not changed from what it was a week ago. Eggs also have remained steady. They are rather high priced for this time of the year.

held congress in session fully a month beyond the time it had set for adjournment. The present policy of the Illinois boss seems to be to repeat that achievement. Congress is restless under this insistence by one man for mere selfish reasons to carry the session over the two presidential conventions. The Republicans particularly are eager to go to Chicago, but the Democrats will not adjourn the house, and the senate can take a recess of only three days without the house concurring. What three days will count for in that Chicago convention won't be much. With twelve days already provided for contests, and the pleasant struggle betwixt Roosevelt and Taft in sight, a three-day visit to the Chicago convention would be about as satisfactory as seeing Paris in forty-five minutes.

Do Not Want New Issue.

Not that all statesmen are averse to absenting themselves from senate or house without formal recess. I know a score who have not been in their seats twenty times during the present session. But on the eve of a presidential election the bulk of the Republicans would hardly dare to absent themselves from a congress in session. It would raise a new issue against them, and the shade of Abraham Lincoln knows there are already issues enough.

Wherefore Mr. Lorimer is not popular with his associates. To save himself he is delaying adjournment in a way that will be harmful to his party. His attitude is regarded as one of egregious selfishness.

A few days ago a careful poll of the senate indicated forty votes for Lorimer. Even with the advantage of a favorable committee report on his side, this volume of votes was a surprise to political onlookers. For the fate of the Lorimer supporters has not been a happy one. What happened to Cullom, to Paynter and to Bailey is matter of record. Even now savage, though unfair attack is made upon Oscar Underwood because his campaign manager, Senator Bankhead, was a Democratic supporter of the Brindled Boss of Illinois. The attack is unjust, but few people who do not watch as a matter of business political sentiment in all parts of the nation can understand how deep is the feeling against Lorimer; how bitter the resentment over his apparent belief that the senate exists to serve his convenience.

Sessions Too Long.

It is, of course, not wholly because of Lorimer, though in two sessions he has been the chief cause, that congress is becoming a continuous performance. It was the design of the fathers of the republic that congress should sit but briefly, and that the men elected to it should not be debarred from conducting the ordinary business of their life. But of late years congress has sat almost continuously. This present session will hardly end before July, and December will see the beginning of the ensuing congress. The Taft extra session followed within thirty days of the adjournment of the Sixty-first congress and continued until the 18th of last August.

One result of these long sessions is the reluctant determination of some of the most efficient members to retire from public service. I know of not less than thirty such, but from memory can only quote these names:

Martin W. Littleton of New York, Matthew A. Denver of Ohio, William Kent of California, J. J. Whitacre of Ohio, John A. Martin of Colorado, William G. Brantley of Georgia, Sheppard and Dies of Texas, Arthur Kopp of Wisconsin, William Hughes of New Jersey, Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, John M. Moore of Texas and John G. McHenry of Pennsylvania.

Hardly one of these but could be renominated and re-elected. They retire not through fear of defeat, but apprehension of re-election to an office which is getting too arduous to be profitable.

True, the direct primary system, which promised so much good and has accomplished so much evil, has something to do with this exodus of statesmen. The system compels a man to make two expensive campaigns—one for nomination and one for election. It bids fair to eliminate the poor man from elective office, unless he is willing to traffic with the disbursing agents of great corporations and become their tool at Washington. Sound superficially, and enlisting as it did some of the most high-minded publicists in the United States, the direct primary is showing radical defects, and if not mended, should be ended.

ASK PASTOR TO RECONSIDER

Glen Avon People Accept With Regret Resignation of Rev. J. C. Faries.

Rev. John C. Faries, pastor of Glen Avon Presbyterian church, was asked by the congregation last evening to reconsider his resignation. A committee consisting of John McCabe, Mrs. McFarlane and Mrs. C. A. Smith waited upon him but he informed the committee that he would be unable to withdraw his resignation. The congregation then formally accepted it.

Expressions of regret were made by the congregation at the resignation of the pastor. During the seven years' stay of Mr. Faries he and Mrs. Faries have done notable work not only along denominational lines but also in the way of building up the Glen Avon social center.

Mr. Faries will take a two years' course of study along sociological lines at Columbia university. He told the congregation that he had chosen this time to leave because the church at Glen Avon was well organized and everything is harmonious.

GIRL RUNS LOCOMOTIVE AS WELL AS AUTOMOBILE.

Berwick, Pa., May 31.—"I'll dare you to run this engine," declared William Pagenhart, an engineer employed by the contractors double-tracking the Sunbury division of the Pennsylvania, to Miss Ethel Seiple, a Wapwallopen "hello" girl.

"No; you don't dare me," was the hasty reply the engineer received, and without further ceremony the young woman stepped into the cab, threw open the throttle and the engine started down the tracks.

The contractors had laid their own track from Wapwallopen to a point where a trestle is under construction, and releasing the steam valve, Miss Seiple sent the engine down the half-mile rapidly, bringing it to a stop at the termination of the track.

Miss Seiple says running an engine is much more exciting than driving an automobile.

MADE HUBBY SNEEZE FOR HER AMUSEMENT.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31.—Bacon and eggs for her own breakfast, while her husband had to rustle around to find nothing to eat, was one of the charges made against Gertrude A. Eller of Oakville by her husband, George F. Eller, who was granted a divorce in Clayton. The suit was brought by Mrs. Eller, but was tried on a cross-bill field by her husband. They had lived together eleven months.

Eller said his wife put pepper in his tobacco, thereby causing him to amuse her by sneezing. Once, he said, she took him out to Steelville to meet her parents, but neglected to introduce him, which, he told the court, was very humiliating. He said she was opposed to doing the work expected of a farmer's wife.

It's apt to "stay lost" unless you advertise for it.

Cool on the hottest days—in New Orleans
Warm on the coldest days—in Winnipeg

FOR a long time you have been reminded by our advertisements that Linofelted houses were cool and comfortable in summer—for the same reason that they are cozy and warm in the dead of winter.

We have told you repeatedly that, regardless of size or location,—whether it be in Panama, New Orleans, Kansas City or Winnipeg—any house with walls and ceilings lined with this chemically treated flax fibre substance instead of ordinary sheathing paper is as certain to keep the heat of the hottest summer's day out as it is to retain heat and reduce coal consumption in winter.

Haven't these statements, based as they have been upon absolutely scientific facts, created the least desire in your mind to know more about Linofelt? Look around your own locality. Talk with local builders. Get their opinion, and you'll learn that modern homes, such as the one in New Orleans pictured above, are Linofelted Homes, not because the initial cost of a Linofelted structure is any less—but because they are maintained at a less cost than others and because the temperature in every room in a Linofelted House is uniform and comfortable the year 'round.

is the only material which actually does what ordinary building paper is supposed to do—it cuts off the passage of heat, cold and sound and makes the house in which it is used a home in every sense of the word.

Linofelt is called for in the specifications wherever strictly up-to-date residences are being built. It is being used with increased satisfaction wherever houses are being remodeled. It is the means of cutting down fuel bills for thousands of other contented homeowners—it will do as much for you no matter what kind of a house you now have or contemplate building.

Linofelt is a quilt one-quarter-inch thick, made of flax fibres specially treated and steam cooked in chemicals. These are made into batts and quilted between two sheets of building paper, making a genuine heat-and-cold insulation half a hundred times more effective than any other substance.

And when it is just as easy for your contractor to line the walls or seal your unfinished attic floor with Linofelt as it is to sheath them with ordinary building paper; and when this may be done at a surprisingly small cost—isn't it only fair to your family and to your own sense of economy that you investigate the uses and value of Linofelt without any further delay?

Call up you local agent and tell him to demonstrate the specific value of Linofelt in making your house the cozy, comfortable home you want it to be—or send a post card request to us today and the Linofelt booklet with complete information will come to you by return mail. Send for it now.

CONSUMERS BEAR BURDEN

Advance in Coal Prices Bound to Cause Storm in Autumn.

Transformation in Exclusive and Business Sections of New York.

New York, May 31.—The expected happened last week in the coal trade when the anthracite coal companies advanced the prices of their output 25 cents per ton, assigning as the reason for the advance the increased wages of the men and the increased cost of nearly all the factors entering into the cost of production.

Computations of the additional revenue to the companies from the rise and of the increased amount to be paid in wages to the miners leave a margin of nearly $6,000,000 annually as the net additional profit to the operators by reason of this move.

It must be remembered, however, that the statement of the operating companies that other costs have increased as well as wages is undoubtedly correct, and it would be nearer the mark to estimate the increased profit to the companies at one half that figured out in the computations which have been published by critics here.

Masses Bear the Burden.

Here we have once more an advance in one of the most important items of the costs of living, and one that will bear most severely and directly upon the masses of the people.

It is said that $7,000,000 annually have been added to the total wage earnings of the miners of the anthracite district through the increase in compensation recently agreed upon between them and the operators, and if this amount alone had been provided for by a rise of 12 or 15 cents per ton it would have been thought but right and reasonable by the public, but the Eastern coal combine is not popular, in fact has been decidedly out of favor for many years, as far as the consumers of coal are concerned, and this new exaction of another 25 cents per ton is bound to produce a storm as soon as cool weather arrives this autumn.

Labor is in great demand here in the East, and in many branches of skilled and unskilled, it is difficult to obtain workers.

Housekeepers report that servants are almost impossible to obtain in the East, and there is great lamentation over the change since former days, when servants could be easily found and were much more attached to their places of employment than is the case today.

Unskilled labor in the country, in the villages, towns and cities is very scarce throughout New England, New York and New Jersey, and farmers, horticulturists and truck gardeners say they have never experienced such embarrassment and actual loss through failure to secure workers as they have this present season.

Construction work in the cities is immense just now, and it is said that more than 50,000 men in this city alone are busy every day upon this class of laboring affairs.

Transformation of Gotham.

New York city is one of the wonders of the twentieth century in its new construction, its constant change and persistent transformation of buildings, its development in every section of the city and in every branch of its business affairs.

Fifth avenue, from its most southern extension up to Central park, is being rapidly made into a busy commercial section and above Twenty-third street one sees evidences of the extension of the manufacturing district that lies between Grand street and Fourteenth street, into the once-renowned avenue of wealth, fashion and exclusiveness.

The noon hour now fills the lower part of the avenue with hundreds and thousands of garment workers out for the noontime lunch and leisure, and the crowds of industrial workers are every year making their way northward. It is said garment factories will soon be in operation between Twenty-third street and Thirty-third street, along the avenue, and this will force the shops and fine stores now in that section to join the procession that already has taken possession north of Forty-second and upto Fifty-ninth street.

The last five years have been remarkable for the growth of New York city in every section. They all have been greatly changed, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond and the Bronx, but Manhattan, from the Battery to Harlem, has simply been transformed beyond every thought or expectation.

Transformed not only in its edifices, its skylines, its transportation systems, but transformed and developed in its business enterprises to a degree that can only be expressed by the word stupendous.

Close Rival of London.

There is not apparent the slightest hesitation or check to this increasing business in the city, and with the completion of the new systems of subways and rapid stride and place itself abreast of London as far as population is concerned.

London, as the financial center of the world for two centuries, and the mistress of the commercial empire which come with supremacy of the ocean trade, has grown wonderfully in the time named.

London, however, has not a continent like that of North America to dominate financially and commercially as New York has now 100,000,000 of the most energetic people of the world to voluntarily contribute to its growth in all that makes a city wealthy and powerful, beautiful and attractive.

The political events of this week have aroused much interest in all classes of the people here, and it is the first time for nearly sixteen years that the business men of the East have paid so much attention to political affairs.

The past ninety days have furnished many surprises to them, and some of them are rather dazed by the severe shocks their political ideas have received.

It is dreadfully embarrassing for many very estimable gentlemen here who have held their own opinions in the highest esteem, who have formulated financial systems, science of government and political policies upon those opinions, to suddenly become aware that the majority of their countrymen is totally opposed to their views and does not longer accept their advice as to men or measures.

Business has not suffered, however, in the slightest from the political surprises to the wise men of Gotham, and it is not likely to be influenced to any important extent by the events of the presidential campaign.

The reports of managers of the different railways of the country continue not only to be very hopeful but in many instances highly optimistic.

Every one here in position to judge is of the opinion that the calendar year, 1912 will be the banner year for business of all the years that have run.

RAT WORE WEDDING RING.

Bloomington, Ill., May 31.—Wallace Fauber, a farmer of Woodford county, was pitching hay when a rat ran out of the stack. He transfixed it with the tines of the work.

He was struck by the peculiar shape of the rat. It was deformed about the neck and shoulders, giving it the appearance of a kangaroo in miniature. Inspection revealed a ring around its neck, and when removed the inscription: "P. S. to M. S., Sept. 26, 1896," was visible.

The theory is that a former tenant on the farm, Mrs. Frank Swaider, lost the ring, and that the rat when small had inserted its head through the ring and was unable to dislodge it. If this is the case the rat wore the ring for sixteen years. An effort is being made to locate Mrs. Swaider.

KING'S HIGHWAY IN NEW JERSEY

Perhaps the First Improved Road Built in This Country.

Trenton, N. J., May 31.—In carrying out state policy of constructing main state highways, New Jersey will incorporate in the system the first improved road perhaps ever built in this country. In 1695 King George's engineers laid out a road running from Freehold in Monmouth county, to Salem, in Salem county, and this road became known as the King's Highway. The decision by Colonel Stevens, in charge of improvement of roads, that the ancient road is to be improved and made one of the main arteries has been the cause of the historians of the state becoming involved as to its original lines. Be that as it may, the road generally accepted as the King's Highway is to be improved. In length it is about 84 miles and of this about 50 miles already is in good condition, leaving only about 34 miles to be taken care of by the state and the various counties.

Although the road always has been a main artery it has been neglected in various sections because of the demands of local conditions. Side roads often have been improved to accommodate the farmers and other residents, but the advent of the automombile has been responsible for the trend which in the end will bring back into use the old lines of stage travel.

The old highway already offers the most direct road from Philadelphia to all points on the New Jersey shore north of Lakewood and with its improvement will likely be one of the most used roads of the state.

New Jersey's road problem is growing with such rapid strides that it will require thought, attention and money to keep the state in its place as a model in road construction for the other states to copy. Colonel Stevens does not regard the matter of construction as of much importance as the maintenance of the roads after they are constructed. He considers proper maintenance as absolutely necessary if the state is to obtain an adequate realization of moneys invested in roads. Last year alone $345,000 was spent by the state in repair work, and this does not include the vast sums spent by the various counties, all of which was not sufficient to keep the roads as they should have been kept.

HE CARRIED FIRST RURAL ROUTE MAIL

Arkansas Man Started the Initial Service Sixteen Years Ago.

Clarksville, Ark., May 28.—When Hugh Miller began carrying a rural mail route out of Clarksville on Oct. 18, 1896, no other community in the United States is said to have had a like service. For that reason Miller is credited with being the first rural route mail carrier.

In that day the United States postoffice department was dubious as to the outcome of this experiment. The postmaster at Clarksville was authorized to appoint a carrier. He named Miller, then 20 years old. No effort was made by the government to lay out a route.

Miller wandered into the country, choosing his own route and zigzagged his way from farm to farm as best he could. His patrons looked at him blankly when he drove up and said ht had mail for them.

They were unable to understand why he concerned himself in drawing their mail from the postoffice at Clarksville. Especialy were they puzzled that he should do them the extraordinary kindness of bringing it many miles into the country.

Miller told them that "Uncle Sam" was doing this for them and asked that they erect mail boxes that he might save time in making deliveries. On his next trip he found gourds, sections of stovepipe, cigar boxes and pasteboard shoe boxes nailed on posts or hung in trees. Not until 1900 did the postoffice department pay attention to mapping out a route. At that time a special agent, W. D. Gilbert, came here and established a route.

Miller began with a salary of $288 a year. He ws advanced to $200 at the and of eight months and now receives $1,000 a year for covering a 24-mile route six days a week, exclusive of holidays. Miller is 36 years old.

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable after the sixth month whether albumenous or not.

The average man prefers to think of it as "kidney trouble" and lets it go but the census shows this appalling fact—out of 63,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over nine-tenths of them (58,000) took the form called "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of these up to the last moment thought of it as and called it "kidney trouble" when as a matter of fact the only possible hope laid through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Fulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound.)

Since then inflammation of the kidneys whether albumenous or not or whether called "kidney trouble" or "Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields.

If you have had kidney trouble over six months no matter what you call it it is the only hope. Efficiency 87 per cent where patients do not wait until bedridden although some of them recover.

We desire to hear from and advise with patients not noting the usual improvement by the third bottle. Literature mailed free. Write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco, Cal.

PROMISE OF AUTO RIDES NOT ALONE SUFFICIENT.

Chicago, Ill., May 31.—When Mrs. Amos M. Cottrell of Elgin advertised for a maid and promised an automobile ride every week as one of the privileges of the job, she thought she had solved the servant problem. She found that her advertisement lacked the charm, "good looking chauffeur." This was evident from the only reply by letter she received:

"Dear Mrs. Cottrell—I saw your ad in the paper. I would like to see picture of chauffeur before considering the position. Hoping to hear from you through the paper."

"It won't do any good," said Mrs. Cottrell. "Mr. Cottrell drives his own car, and I don't want a girl who is ambitious to attract my chauffeur."

CHILDREN DO HONOR TO FAITHFUL OLD HORSE.

New York, May 31.—The children of East street and the oldtimers united in a grand celebration that included a reception and a dinner to a horse. Baby's twenty-fifth anniversary in hauling iron and coal for the firm of Heipenhausen Bros., boilermakers, was celebrated with flags, cheering songs, ice cream and a double measure of oats for Baby.

The party began at Carl Schmidt's stable, whence Baby in his Sunday coat of a 12 by 18 American flag, was led to the volunteer life-saving station on the wharf at the foot of Broome street. It continued while speeches were made and while the kids stuffed themselves with all the ice cream they could hold.

Baby's boss, John Stern, who has driven the horse for the whole twenty-five years, said in all that time, excepting holidays, Baby had only once failed to report for duty, and that was when a spell of colic kept him in the stable for a week.

He said that Baby had four blue and red ribbons and a certificate after marching in the work-horse parades.

The idea of giving him a party came just naturally, said Mr. Stern, and Rosaline, Charlie, George and Freddie Stern forthwith made calls on all their neighbors, inviting them to a "reception and a party for the horse."

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, and for promoting the growth of the hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days, you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

ROAD PLANS SUGGESTED

Superior and West Duluth May Co-operate for Highway to Carlton.

New Bridge Across River at Steel Plant Figures in Plan.

West Duluth now has two plans by which it may open a highway to Wrenshall and Carlton.

During the week Superior business men have visited West Duluth and asked for the co-operation of the West Duluth residents in the plan to open the highway from this end of the city to the farming districts at Wrenshall and Carlton. The plan is for Duluth to build and improve the approach to the new bridge across the St. Louis river at the steel plant, while Superior will build its approach to the bridge, connecting that with the road leading into the farming district.

In this way the farmers from outlying sections would go through the Wisconsin country in coming into New Duluth and Duluth. They would cross the bridge farther down the river and then cross it again coming over from Superior. The plan is to properly prepare this bridge so that a street car line could be built between New Duluth and Superior whenever conditions warrant it. The approaches would all be ready for the street car line and as the bridge is built to accomodate car traffic the improvement could be made with very little cost.

The other plan, which has been suggested before by the residents of West Duluth and the member of the local Commercial club, is to improve the right of way from Chambers' grove at Fond du Lac to the river. From here a bridge would be built, connecting St. Louis and Carlton counties. Up to the river the roads are in very good condition, while the roads on the other side are all favorable, with the exception of a stretch of two miles beyond the river. From there the road is perfect, running through Wrenshall and continuing down to St. Paul. This road is one of the oldest in the state, having been known at one time as the military road, extending from St. Anthony Falls at Minneapolis to Fond du Lac, which was then known as a trading station.

DECISION IS FORECASTED

West Duluth Citizens Expect Victory in Railroad Station Case.

Commission Said to Be Favorable to Granting Plea for Building.

According to unofficial reports from St. Paul, West Duluth will be awarded a new Northern Pacific station by the state railroad and warehouse commission. The commission, conducted a hearing in Duluth about ten days ago, when the demands of the West Duluth citizens was set forth.

It was learned yesterday through one of the members of the commission that a favorable decision would be received by the West Duluth Commercial club, which had charge of the station campaign. The Northern Pacific railroad has not heard any report from the state commission, but the decision is expected at any time. J. J. Frey, chairman of the West Duluth Commercial club railroad committee, said this morning that the decision of the commission is expected to be announced within a few days.

Should the commission decide in favor of the West Duluth club, the railroad will be compelled to build a new station in this end of the city. The present building, witnesses at the recent hearing, testified is unfit for use, and with the large volume of business done, a new station is practically a necessity.

As a result of the hearing the railroad has already promised to drop off St. Paul freight shipments at the West Duluth station, instead of taking them down town and then back on another car the next morning. Several of the retailers here complained of this condition at the hearing and the change was promised at that time by Louis Hanitch, attorney for the railroad.

BOYS AND GIRLS AT PUBLIC DANCE.

Just as a lesson and a warning, Lieut. Wilcox last evening took the names and addresses of all the young men and women under age who attended the dance at the Fairmont park pavilion. The dance was given by the Duluth Union Labor Pavilion association and was attended by a number of young boys and girls in this end of the city. Nothing is to be done at this time, but a close watch is to be kept for any further violation of the dance hall laws.

Sells Business.

Emil Oettel of 310 Central avenue furniture store to Nelson & Co. Mr. Oettel was in the furniture business in West Duluth for the past fifteen years and is one of the oldest residents in this end of the city. He has made no plans for the future.

STORES WILL CLOSE EARLIER

West Duluth Merchants Join in Movement for Shorter Hours.

West Duluth merchants have signed a petition to close their stores at 6:30 o'clock every evening, except on Saturdays and pay days. The new plan will go into effect Monday evening.

William Holm of the West Duluth Mercantile company was at the head of the movement and announced this morning that the following merchants have already signed the petition and volunteered to assist in the campaign for an earlier closing hour: Janelle & White, Bilsey & Peterson, C. J. Johnson & Co., Chris Nilen, J. J. Thorpe, Thomas Foubister, Johnson & Jermstad, Flaaten Brothers, Peter Holten, Murray Brothers, Andrew Wahl, Cruse & Cettiker, John B. Sayan, Olson & Kauppi, Zenith City Co-operative store, and the West Duluth Mercantile Company.

DETROIT MINISTER WILL PREACH HERE.

Rev. L. W. Sunderland of Detroit, Mich., district superintendent of the Congregational Sunday schools, will preach Sunday morning at the Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Bristol street, in place of Rev. Allen Clark, who is out of the city for several days. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Sutherland will preach at the Fond du Lac church, and in the evening at the Mayflower Congregational church.

PLANNING TO BUILD A NEW CHURCH.

The congregation of the Bethel Norwegian-Lutheran church, Sixtieth avenue west and Bristol street, is now making plans for a new church building to be erected in this end of the city. The Young People's society has appointed a special committee to select a suitable location for the structure.

The society plans to purchase the lots somewhere east of Central and north of Grand avenue. This location is desired because of the large per cent of the congregation living in the Oneota district. The committee in charge of the work consists of Rev. B. L. Opdahl, pastor of the church, Charles Wick, Anderson, Melvin Reite, Louis Pederson and Theodore Pederson. The plans for the building call for an expenditure of $5,000.

SAY CHRISTIANITY IS RAPIDLY SPREADING IN ASIA

GEORGE SHERWOOD EDDY.

Christianity is increasing in Asia and is being principally aided in its growth by the influence of Western missionaries, according to George Sherwood Eddy, general secretary for Asia of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association.

"In India the growth is very fast," said Mr. Eddy. "In China, Japan and Korea the growth of Christianity is also rapid. The work is being accomplished by the representatives of the Y. M. C. A. and also by the distribution of books and the general work of the schools. There is no doubt that the Christian religian is spreading all over Asia, and the result is gratifying to those who have spent long years in the work of converting the people of these countries.

"In India the work has spread very rapidly. In Japan while the work has not been so rapid, great and permanent results are being accomplished. The Chinese students are assisting in the work in their country, and at the present time we have many able men in China who are meeting with the greatest success in the spreading of the gospel of Christianity.

"Western missionaries are doing great good in India. That the growth of Christianity has been so rapid in this country is due to the thorough and able efforts that have been employed by the teachers. The rate of progress in India has been one of the most encouraging features of the great campaign to convert the peoples of these various countries of Asia. As the work progresses naturally it becomes easier, for we have many enthusiastic and intelligent assistants among the natives of these countries. Then too the translation of the Christian books into the native languages has helped much in the work that is being carried on."

Mr. Eddy is a young man who has given his life to the work he is engaged in at the present time. He states that he believes that greater progress is being made in the work of converting Christians in Asia than is being done anywhere else. He is to leave for California shortly, embarking for China, where he will again take up his work.

FOR WOMEN OF EXCLUSIVE TASTES!

The discriminating dressers of this section gave us the best May Millinery business we have ever enjoyed.
That shows conclusively how genuinely good our styles are, because a rainy May caused many milliners to fall far behind their usual sales!
Perhaps some other milliners were not as energetic as we were—perhaps their styles were not right—perhaps their workrooms were not so talented as ours.
But be that as it may—you careful dressers have no more use for a past-style hat than you have for a last month's newspaper.
So come here tomorrow—see the new things in—Panama, Chip and Milan Hats in advance midsummer styles, trimmed in maline, chiffon, flowers, ribbons and feathers. Prices range $8.00 to $45.00.
Women's Untrimmed Panamas
The aristocratic shapes—$8.50 to $15.00—in braids of rare beauty.

Our Summer Wearables
Display the New Tricks of Fashion
As examples of the newest and most charming summer styles—as illustrations of the highest type of workmanship—Duluth will see no better this season!
And what is of almost equal interest, is the fact that prices are so very reasonable as these hints would indicate!
New Linen Suits—Norfolk and Tailored Models In White, Cream or Natural Shade.
A glimpse of the west arcade windows hints at the smartness of the styles—but if you'll try on some of them—you'll note their "fitting" qualities.
Many are made from heavy Ramie or Russian linens, which need not be starched in laundering!
You can be fitted—we've a most complete assortment of sizes—prices range $8.50, $10, $12.50 and $15.
Linen Coats of Charming Individuality! Priced at $6.50 to $12.50
By way of comparison, we'll tell you that these coats are from that New York specialist in women's tailored wearables who made those splendid $12.50 coats for us last summer. No one offered their equals at less than $15.00 then. This year—with increased facilities he has increased his line—and we've decreased the prices.

All Sizes From 24 to 46 Waist Bands
Choose from two smart models—the four-gore straight panel back and front, or the three-gore with inverted pleats at bottom.

White or natural linens—or fashionable cords—new envelope model—or straight panels—or one-side pleat effects.

THREE TRADE EXCURSIONS

First Boosters' Trip Will Be to Ranges and Start June 11. .

The wholesalers' committee of the Commercial club has decided to hold only three trade excursions this year.

The first will start June 11 for a three days' trip covering the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges.

The second will start about July 10 for International Falls, Warroad, Crookston and adjacent territory.

The third will be held in August or at a date to be decided later, and will be by boat to the Copper country of Michigan.

Business houses are being enlisted for all three excursions, and about 100 people are expected to make each trip. The two trade excursions held last year were very successful and the members of the wholesalers' committee believe that good missionary work for Duluth can be done in the districts to be visited this year.

LONG JUMP BY SPECIAL TRAIN

"The Pink Lady" Company Comes Half Way Across Continent.

"The Pink Lady Special" pulled into the Union station on time this morning and there was a lively scramble on the part of the company to get out of the cars and seek hotel accommodations.

The members, and there are ninety men and women and girls in the outfit, have been on the train for a week straight, making the hurried jump eastward from Seattle with Duluth as the final stand.

Klaw & Erlanger in connection with the Northern Pacific railway officials had a special train de luxe made up for the long jump across country. The train consisted of three sixty-foot baggage cars loaded with the scenic effects of the big production. Then followed four sleepers loaded with the company, a dining car and an observation library car for them to lounge in.

The train itself created quuite a furore along the route as it is the largest and finest train ever fitted out for a traveling musical organization and reduced the hardships of travel to a minimum. This is a sample of the way Klaw & Erlanger do business. The cost of operating the train is no small detail, but "The Pink Lady" has proven such a success that it is sure to be repaid.

DARROW SYMPATHIZER BLOWS FEDERAL SAFES.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 31.—Sympathy for Clarence Darrow, now being tried for alleged complicity in bribery attempts during the McNamara trial in Los Angeles, the police charge, prompted George J. Blank to blow open every safe in the federal building here. Blank was arrested and placed in jail. The second floor of the new building was practically wrecked. Work on the structure was nearing completion.

Blank, a structural iron worker, came here from St. Louis a week ago. He was employed in the finishing work on the building. He asserts innocence of knowledge of the acts charged against him. The authorities say Blank had accomplices and that these are being sought.

MILWAUKEE AVIATOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 31.—John Kaminski, a Milwaukee aviator, had a narrow escape from being killed yesterday afternoon when he lost control of his machine while coming down the race track at the state fair aviation meet, preparatory to making his first public flight, when his machine crashed into a fence throwing the young birdman with considerable force from the seat. Julia Clark, a licensed aviator, was the first to go to his assistance. Kaminski says he forgot to cut off the switch. His injuries are not fatal.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Boyce Drug Store under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask Boyce Drug Store for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

CHURCH IS LOSING HOLD

Pastor Tells Conference Delegates That Attendance Is Decreasing.

Blames Sunday Sports, the Automobile and the Outing Habit.

"Church attendance, taking into consideration the increase in population, is decreasing because there are too many outside attractions on Sunday," is the claim of Rev. C. T. Gunderson of Superior, who yesterday afternoon addressed the pastors of the Red River valley district of Norwegian-Danish M. E. churches now in session at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The annual conference will continue throughout the week, with special business sessions every morning and afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Gunderson spoke on "Is the Attdance of Our Church as Large as in Former Days? If Not, Why Not?" The speaker declared that the cause of the present condition is that people have substituted the many amusements for their church. Sunday baseball, the automobile 'outing' mania, camps and various other Sunday sports were given as the cause for the decrease of church attendance. The speaker emphatically declared that if the church desires to retain its power and make its influence felt as in former years, it must adopt more progressive measures and more attractive methods of preaching the gospel.

J. J. Moe Gives Report.

John J. Moe, who returned yesterday afternoon from Minneapolis, where he attended the quadrennial general Methodist conference during the past month as a lay delegate from the local district, gave an interesting account of the meetings and the legislation effected since May 1. The conference ended Wednesday evening. Mr. Moe described the large table made of 708 pieces of wood, which were sent from every Methodist church in the world. The table was made at a Methodist school in Tennessee by young colored boys taking a course in manual training. Near the center of the table, which was presented to the presiding bishops at the opening of the conference, is a small piece of wood taken from an old tree in front of the First church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. Mr. Moe also carried greetings from the Minneapolis conference to the pastors of the Red River valley district, now in conference here.

Rev. Elliott Hansen of Ashland, Wis., read a paper on "The Duties and Privileges of Church Membership," in which he declared that church-going people regard their privileges as duties and do not appreciate the blessings of church membership. Rev. A. Andreasen of Valley City, N. D., and Rev. Hans Holm of Hayward, Wis., addressed the pastors at the sessions yesterday afternoon.

Business Sessions.

This morning the regular business sessions were held. This evening Rev. Charles Olsen of Hillsboro, N. D., and Rev. K. O. Bruderold of Fargo, N. D., will address the conference. Tomorrow morning from 9 until 12 o'clock the regular business sessions will be held. In the afternoon all the members of the conference will be taken on an automobile trip about the city. The ride will include the boulevard and the steel plant at New Duluth.

Sunday is the last day of the conference and the following program will be followed during the day:

Sunday 9 a. m.—Love feast, Rev. P. Jensen, Duluth. 10:30, sermon by Rev. J. Forkeldson of Skien, Norway. Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, Rev. J. Sanaker, assisted by the visiting ministers. At 12 m., the Sunday school will meet. The following will speak: Rev. E. Hanson, Ashland, Wis.; Rev. C. Christianson, Rugby, N. D.; Rev. Ole Rhorstaff, Grantsburg, Wis. 6:45 p. m., Epworth league service, Rev. K. Winberg, Virginia, Minn., and Rev. Gustav Kvisgaard, Warren, Minn. 7:45 p. m., sermon by Rev. A. W. Rosness, Fergus Falls, Minn., Rev. John Lorentz, Crookston, Minn.

MEETING OF HOMECROFTERS

West Enders Will Hear Talks on the Backyard Garden.

The first of the homecrofter meetings for the West end will be held this evening in conjunction with the West End Commercial club meeting at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The meeting is open to both men and women and some prominent speakers will be heard.

The following program of addresses will be given during the evening: "Fresh Eggs for Breakfast 365 Days in the Year, and How to Get Them," W. E. McEwen; "The Relation of the Child to the Garden," S. A. Foster, principal of the Irving school; "Home Making and Home Cooking," Mrs. R. P. Boyington; "How to Make the Garden Beautiful," A. H. Crassweller; "Practical Homecrofting," J. A. P. Neal; "Hints on Planting," C. E. Roe.

The National Homecroft society, which has established a branch at Duluth, will be represented at the meeting and the plans and features of the organization will be fully explained to those present. The society has leased an acre of land at Woodland and will explain the methods to be followed out during the next few months.

DULUTH HELPING TO RAISE $1,000,000 FUND.

Every local Norwegian organization is assisting in the campaign to raise Duluth's share of the $1,000,000 endowment fund to be given to the Norwegian people during the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the independence of Norway in May, 1914. The societies joined early last month in the permanent organization formed for the purpose of raising Duluth's share of the fund.

The Norwegians of the United States plan to raise $1,000,000 by May 17, 1914, when the sum will be forwarded to the old country to be used in assisting the poor throughout that nation. The principal will not be touched, but the income is to be used. Committees have been appointed and a general canvass is being conducted throughout the city.

The Norwegian National Centennial society is in charge of the movement. State Senator Thorpe of St. Paul is president of the organization and Dr. H. Hovde is chairman of the movement in St. Louis county. Dr. Hovde and J. J. Moe were at the head of the movement here in Duluth prior to the organization of a permanent body last month. The plan of the national society is to keep the poorer Norwegians in the old country and to encourage their stay there by loaning them money to establish them. Prominent men in Norway are in favor of the plan, which they believe will tend to decrease the present large emigration from that country.

The following Norwegian societies and lodges have joined the permanent organization to raise the local fund: Varde club, Lysglimt lodge, No. 7, I. O. G. T., Sons of Norway, Normanna Singing society, the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church and the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. The officers of the organization for this year are: Dr. H. Hovde, president; J. J. Moe, first vice president, representing the West end district; A. P. Bjorge, second vice president, representing the East end district; A. L. Apland, third vice president, representing the West Duluth district; A. Bjorge, treasurer, and L. A. Simonson, secretary.

SENATE RETAINS THE PENSION AGENCIES.

Washington, May 31.—The senate celebrated Decoration day by passing the annual pension appropriation bill after fifteen minutes' consideration. The measure carried $165,162,500, an increase of almost $13,000,000 over the amount appropriated by the house. The increase includes $12,500,000 for expenses caused by the heavy volume of work growing out of the recent enactment of the so-called dollar-a-day pension law. The bill retained the present eighteen pension agencies distributed throughout the country, for whose consolidation into one agency the house had provided. It also provided for the payment of pensions by checks to the veterans instead of by vouchers. The bill goes to conference between the two houses.

Don't Worry About Your Heart

Most people who have heart disease do not know it. Most people who think they have heart disease, haven't. They only think so. Pain in the region of the heart is mistakenly supposed to be a symptom of heart disease.

Just as pain in the back seldom or never indicates kidney trouble, so pain near the heart is scarcely ever present in organic heart disease. This pain is nearly always from the stomach which is connected with the heart by many nerves.

When Your Digestion Is Out of Order

it often affects the heart and even causes an irregularity in its beat. The gas produced by undigested and fermenting food may cause pressure that affects the heart unpleasantly. But these pains do not mean that you have heart disease or need fear sudden death. Try toning up the stomach and learn how quickly and surely you lose the fear of heart disease.

Tone Up the Stomach

Correct any errors of diet. Eat the right things and not too much of them. If you do not know what the right things are, send for our diet book. It is free. Don't starve yourself and don't pamper your stomach with predigested food and artificial aids to digestion. Tone up your stomach so that it will do its own proper work, don't worry about your heart or anything else (worry causes and aggravates indigestion) and you will be well and happy.

With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

improvement begins with the first dose. First you notice an increase in your appetite. Then you see that the food does not distress you, that you are no longer troubled with gas, sour risings in the throat and those misleading pains around the heart. Strength and energy return and the rich red blood, bearing the full amount of nourishment yielded by food, carries renewed vitality to every organ of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct by mail, postpaid, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50. For the diet book write to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL FINISHED

Carries $125,000,000 and May Cut Off President's Extra $25,000.

Washington, May 31.—The house committee on appropriations has completed the sundry civil bill, the largest omnibus supply measure which comes before congress. The bill contains appropriations of more than $125,000,000. This bill, with the general deficiency bill, the last to be acted on, completes the house committee's work.

Chairman Fitzgerald of the committee declined to make public provisions of the bill. Several Democrats have urged that the traveling allowance of $25,000 annually for the president be omitted, and that Col. Goethals' estimate of $41,600,000 for construction and $5,600,000 for fortifications of the Panama canal be reduced.

DECORATE GRAVES OF BOTH BLUE AND GRAY.

Richmond, Va., May 31.—Memorial day was observed here as a popular as well as a legal holiday. Graves of Union and Confederate soldiers were decorated alike. Miniature Confederate flags were placed over the graves of Jefferson Davis, Generals Stuart, Pickett, Fitzhugh Lee and other officers of the Confederacy.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

PAY TRIBUTES TO WAR HEROES

Akeley, Thief River Falls and Other Towns Observe Memorial Day.

Akeley, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Memorial day services at the opera house yesterday afternoon were attended by a packed house. Rev. R. G. Green presided. The exercises opened with "My Country 'Tis of Thee," by the audience. A large chorus of children sang "Flag That Set Us Free." Rev. D. D. Day of Akeley delivered a patriotic and stirring address, taking his subject from Scripture. During the progress of his address he criticised the lynching in Tennessee and the trusts.

A recitation, "The Silent Grand Army," was given by Signa Anderson. The reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address was by Alice Holland. Hon. B. F. Wright of Park Rapids, judge of the district court, delivered the oration of the day. It was a magnificent production, being patriotic, historical as to battles and prison life, biographical in recounting the great generals and the "men behind the gun," and was delivered in a most scholarly and effective manner. "Red, White and Blue," a recitation, was pleasantly rendered by Celia Woock. The quartet number, "Boys of the Old Brigade," was a feature of the program and was well received. After the exercises the owners of automobiles, some fifteen in number, took the members of Akeley Post, G. A. R., and members of the W. R. C. and the speakers of Chamberlain, six miles distant, where the graves of soldiers were decorated and services held.

Thief River Falls Exercises.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The largest crowd which ever attended the Memorial day exercises in this city was present at the Auditorium yesterday morning when an appropriate program was rendered. The Scandinavian male chorus rendered several patriotic selections and Rev. Boyden assisted Rev. J. B. Smith with the remainder of the program. The latter delivered an eloquent address and it was listened to by the audience with the greatest attention. The procession to the Greenwood cemetery to decorate the soldiers' graves was headed by the city fire department and at least 500 school children marched in the parade. A firing squad was present at the cemetery and fired volleys over the decorated graves.

Federal Dam Patriotic.

Federal Dam, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the direction of Prof. Wilson the school children gave fitting Memorial day exercises. Headed by the flag and drum they marched from the business section of the village to the government dam, from which they sang, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," thence to the picnic grounds, where Senator O'Neil of Cass Lake gave an eloquent address based on personal experiences in the Civil war. Following this every one enjoyed a picnic dinner, and then journeyed to the ball grounds for the ball game. In the evening the ladies gave a dance for the benefit of the school piano fund.

FIRE PANIC AT Y. M. C. A.

One man, half dressed, rushed to the lobby with his arms full of photographs, precious relics, no doubt, representing perhaps the collections of years, and which, once destroyed, could never be replaced. A professional musician rushed downstairs with his arms full of music sheets. As the event proved, however, there was no need for all the alarm, for no other damage was done to the Y. M. C. A. building than the blackening of part of an outside wall next to the spot where the flames burst through the roof, and the flooding of the halls by the young men in their attempts to assist in putting out the fire with the Y. M. C. A. extinguishers.

Spectacle for Roomers.

For a time the fire was quite a spectacle for the roomers. Many of them did not leave their rooms at all, or even remove their night clothing, but threw open their windows and sat upon the sills, watching the work of the firemen on the roof below. "I do not mind all of this smoke, if it will only kill the moths," remarked one, and that statement was fairly illustrative of the general feeling. Whatever alarm there was, occurred when the fire was first discovered. As soon as it was learned that the association building itself was not afire, the whole affair was looked upon merely as a rare spectacle.

Some of the more adventurous walked out upon the roof of the burning building, where the firemen were working. This was most dangerous. The roof itself was merely of frame and tar, covered with gravel, and was already burned through in one place and sagging down in others. The firemen kept chopping holes through this roof and directing streams of water through them upon the flames below. It was a hazardous position, even for the experienced fire fighters. By 5:30 o'clock the fire was practically out.

The upper part of the building was completely gutted, causing a loss of abouut $15,000, well covered by insurance. The blaze is supposed to have started on the top floor from electric wiring.

The heaviest loss is sustained by the Ron Fernandez Cigar company, which occupied the entire upper floor. Attorney H. J. McClearn, connected with the firm through bankruptcy proceedings, estimates the loss of stock and fixtures will be $9,000.

The loss to the building, owned by Waterworth & Fee, is estimated at $5,000. The entire roof will have to be rebuilt. The Thwing-Stewart Printing company occupies the main floor and sustained quite a substantial water loss. Large quantities of the water poured into the tobacco company's plant coming through the ceiling.

The fire was one of the most spectacular which the city has had for some time. The flames were shooting far into the air when the fire department arrived, indicating that it had been burning some time before being discovered and an alarm turned in. The smoke rolled out in huge, dense clouds.

DAYTON WILL HONOR DEAD

from the leading aviators, and dwell upon the fact that the world probably has suffered irreparable loss through his death, as he might still have made many important discoveries.

Was Popular in France.

Paris, May 31.—The death of Wilbur Wright, the American aviator, has caused profound sorrow throughout France, where he was everywhere popular.

The newspapers contain long, eulogistic sketches recounting his first flights in France at the beginning of 1908. They generally agree that France's supremacy in aviation is due to the fact that the Wrights showed the way. The Temps says:

"Wilbur Wright's death is an irreparable loss to aviation. It was he who showed mankind how to fly. He was a wonderful inventor, the first and greatest of all aeroplane pilots, who astounded France and the entire world by demonstrating the possibility of flight with a mechanical apparatus."

The Temps continues by deploring the attempts that have been made to rob Wright of material benefit of his invention.

SENATE ASKS REPORT ON CORPORATION TAXES.

Washington, May 31.—The president will have to send to the senate a compilation of corporation tax law returns, under a resolution introduced by Senator Hitchcock, aimed at revenue evasions by big corporations, and adopted by the senate.

The measure, the vehicle of lively debate in the senate over the amassing of wealth by Carnegie and others, calls for "total aggregates" of outstanding capital stock, indebtedness, income, uninsured losses, and depreciation, interest on indebtedness; taxes, state, federal and foreign taxes; receipts by dividends on stocks of other federally taxed organizations, and net incomes in the metal, mining, woolen, cotton and sugar industries.

DR. DUMAS MUST GO TO PRISON FOR THE PUPOSKY ARSON CASE

"The evidence tends to show that the defendant intended to commit the crime; that he hired agents to commit it, and further, that the attempt failed only because his agents were interrupted by the officers of the law. The fact that the entry was made also for the purpose of blowing the safe is not a controlling factor, for the overt acts, including the entry, were done, as the evidence tends to show, as a part of one proposed proceeding—the burning of the building and the blowing of the safe. It follows from this conclusion that the indictment state facts sufficient to constitute a public offense."

The case is remanded to the Beltrami court for further proceedings, which, in fact, means that the court shall sentence Dumas. The conviction has already been obtained, but the case was certified to the supreme court on the request of the defendant for review.

Story of the Case.

The Dumas arson case has been one of the most stubbornly fought criminal cases in the history of Minnesota. Dr. Dumas, mayor of the thriving town of Cass Lake, stood high in his community. He was popular. People liked him. His individuality was marked. But numerous fires under peculiar circumstances began appearing in the northern part of the state. Yeggmen—notorious characters—were sometimes seen in his company.

In the fall of 1910, M. E. Smith, manager of a general merchandise store in which the postoffice was located at Puposky, was approached by Dumas with a proposition that he insure his store and let him (Dumas) have it burned. Mr. Smith took up the offer. Arrangements were concluded and Mr. Smith reported the matter to the state fire marshal's office. Detectives were employed and were on the scene the night the blaze was to be started.

In the fight that followed, Martin Behan was captured and Mike Davis, a notorious yeggman, escaped. Both had been employed by Dumas to "do the job." Behan afterward turned state's evidence and the charges against him were dismissed.

On Behan's Testimony.

Behan told the state's attorneys how Dumas had bought nitroglycerin, dynamite fuses, caps, flashlight, candle wick and matches, and after supplying him and Davis with these essential articles, hired a horse and buggy to transpart them from Cass Lake to Puposky. Chiefly on this testimony Dr. Dumas was convicted. He will now be sentenced.

Alex Janes, assistant attorney general, who fought the case for the state, was pleased when he heard the decision this morning.

"I expected it," he said. "In fact, I saw no way whereby it could be avoided."

"NO COMPROMISE IN OHIO" IS ROOSEVELT'S TELEGRAM TO BROWN

sent to a compromise anyhow, and in the next place, we carried Ohio by over 30,000 on the popular primary.

"Any attempt to give Mr. Taft a single delegate at large would mean to sanction a deliberate effort to defraud the people, and by a trick to nullify their expressed will. Mr. Taft has, in morals and equity, no claims whatever to a single delegate at large from Ohio, and any attempts to secure him so much as one delegate at large means a deliberate effort to thwart the will of the people as expressed freely by them in the primaries; and we cannot afford for one moment to consider such an effort to defraud the people of their right in this struggle for justice and for popular rule.

"Outrage on Justice."

"I wish the issue clearly made. We stand for the right of the people to choose their own candidates and to have the delegates carry out their will; and any individual who attempts to secure one delegate at large from Ohio for Mr. Taft openly is taking the position that the convention is not to be encouraged to defy the popular will and to commit an outrage on justice, and to defraud the people of their just rights.

"Any district delegate to the state convention from any one of the districts which went for me in Ohio, who himself votes for a single Taft delegate at large, is committing an act of treachery to the people, and any man who condones or approves such act is condoning and approving treachery.

—THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Meets Illinois Leaders.

Col. Chauncey Dewey, Roosevelt's manager in Illinois, and Medill McCormick of Chicago, one of the leaders of the Roosevelt campaign, came to New York today to confer with Col. Roosevelt.

Both Mr. Dewey and Mr. McCormick said there was no truth in reports of serious dissension among the Illinois delegates elected for Col. Roosevelt. Mr. McCormick said some of the delegates had expressed a wish to see the colonel before the convention, and that he had invited them all to visit him at Oyster Bay. Many of them, he continued, were unable to make the trip, and he said there would be about a dozen in the delegation that is to arrive here tomorrow.

Mix-up in South Dakota.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 31.—The South Dakota primary election campaign will close Monday night with rallies in all parts of the state. Owing to the fact that the political situation is badly mixed in the state it is impossible to make a reliable forecast of the result. The Republicans have three delegate tickets in the field—Taft La Follette and La Follette-Roosevelt. The Democrats have two, the Wilson-Bryan and the Wilson-Clark-Bryan.

OVER 25,000 IN CORN CONTESTS

Wisconsin Boys Are Taking Great Interest in State Plan.

Madison, Wis., May 31.—"Over 25,000 boys will be enrolled in the young peoples' corn contests in the state of Wisconsin this year," said Prof. R. A. Moore, head of the agronomy department of the state agricultural college, today. "It has been difficult to supply all of these contestants with free seed corn because of the scarcity of seed this year. Present indications are that this will be the greatest contest that has ever been conducted in this state for the dissemination of pure seed grain. Last year there were 20,000 boys and girls enlisted in this work."

Prof. Moore said that last year forty-seven out of seventy-one counties did active work.

AKELEY HIGH TO GRADUATE SEVEN

Five Boys and Two Girls to Graduate in Hubbard County City.

Akeley, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The graduating class of 1912 contains five girls and two boys: Alma Woock, valedictorian, Ferry Floodeen, salutatorian, Marian Kleinegger, Grace Elliott, Marjorie Hunter, Delia Gleason and Joseph Cohen. This is the sixth class graduated from the Akeley high school.

The schools were organized in this town less than a dozen years ago and have kept a trifle ahead of the rapid growth of the town, which now has a population of about 2,700. Since becoming a state high school five years ago there has been a substantial advance in the grade work. The high school offers complete courses and also include a two year business course, cooking, sewing, bench work and kindergarten work. The new building, which was made of home material and built by home labor at approximately half the cost of such a magnificent building on the contract system, with its equipment facilities and the liberal state aid, is the pride of Akeley. The efficient work will go on with a very moderate tax rate. The enrollment for the past year reached 640, of whom sixty were in the high school.

The baccalaureate service was held at the Methodist church, last Sunday evening, when Rev. R. G. Green delivered a splendid sermon. The special musical program was highly enjoyed.

The junior banquet in honor of the seniors was a success and a credit to the enterprising juniors, seniors, teachers, superintendent, members of the board of education and parents present. Toasts were responded to as follows: "Mother," Mrs. L. E. Hunter; "Senior Boy," Ferry Floodeen; "Senior Girl," Marjorie Hunter; "Board Member," Dr. M. A. Desmond; "Superintendent," Prof. O. F. Hawkins; "High School Principal," Miss Melva Collins; "Father," Mr. Charles Cohen. Toastmistress, Marie Elliott.

Akeley Creamery Open.

The new Akeley creamery, which opened its doors to the public last week, is doing a larger business than was expected by its most optimistic supporters. The butter produced is of excellent quality. The farmers of this vicinity are buying up good milch cows as fast as they can get hold of them. Several carloads are expected within the next ten days. The country tributary is ideal for dairying purposes and it is expected that the Akeley creamery will grow to large proportions within a few years. A fine large building has been built and the equipment is the latest on the market.

Buy Split-Log Drag.

The Akeley Automobile club has purchased the six split-log road drags and are co-operating with the good roads committee of the Akeley Commercial club in the work of building fine roads into this city. Every automobile is euipped with an ax and shovels and wherever the owner or driver of the machine finds a bad spot he is supposed to repair same. The board of supervisors have also purchased a road planer and are doing splendid work. The Akeley-Brainerd road is said to be one of the best in the state and most picturesque. This route is to be extended to Laporte. The active work will commence at once. E. M. Irish, chairman of the good roads committee, made a trip over the road this week, and enlisted the co-operation of the township officials of neighboring towns to help build the roads. It is probable that a good road will be had into Bemidji within a month.

Akeley Beat Cass Lake.

The Akeley baseball team defeated Cass Lake on the Akeley grounds Thursday afternoon by a score of 8 to 7. Batteries: Akeley—Bergen and Bergenson; Cass Lake—Roy and Roy. The management of the Akeley team is anxious to secure games with the fast amateur teams of the state. The team is one of the fastest in Northern Minnesota, composed of nearly all full-blood Indians. The grounds are said to be the best along the line.

AEROPLANE HITS GRANDSTAND

Aviator in Avoiding Hitting One Man, Kills Another and Injures Several.

Seattle, Wash., May 31.—While Aviator Cliff Turpin, in an aeroplane, was sailing down the field at The Meadows yesterday afternoon at fifty miles an hour, an unidentified man ran across the track and would have been beheaded by the machine but for the quick action of the aviator, who turned upward and toward the grandstand, which was crowded with people. The machine struck the tier of boxes in front of the stand.

Several persons in one of the boxes were hurt, and the aeroplane, its power shut off and its momentum cut short by the collision with the stand, fell upon the heads of the crowd of people standing in front of the grand stand.

The injured were conveyed to the county hospital in automobiles. One, a man, died at the hospital without being identified.

Raymond Chapman, 10 years old, sustained a fractured skull and is in a serious condition. Turpin was cut over the left eye and was rendered unconscious for several minutes. He is not badly hurt.

The meet was declared off immediately after the accident.

The man who was killed was identified at the morgue as George Quinby, 25 years old, a civil engineer, whose home was in Galesburg, Ill.

QUITE COINCIDENCE.

Memorial Day on Anniversary of Repeal of Missouri Compromise.

Madison, Wis., May 31.—An important historical coincidence that has heretofore escaped notice, was noted by Eugene W. Chafin of Tucson, Ariz., prohibition candidate for president, yesterday while waiting for a train here.

"Curiously enough on May 30, 1854," he said, President Buchanan signed the Kansas-Nebraska act which repealed the Missouri compromise and precipitated the Civil war. By the repeal of that compromise, it was meant that we have slavery throughout the nation.

"Now we have May 30 as a memorial day in memory of the destruction of slavery," he continued.

"The date for Memorial day was arbitrarily fixed, but there is some irony of fate in the fact that it happens it was fixed on the day that Buchanan approved of the act to foist slavery firmly upon us."

BABY FALLS OUT OF BED AND IS DROWNED.

Jonesville, La., May 31.—Asleep in a room the floor of which was covered with two feet of Mississippi flood water, the 18-month-old son of Louis White fell from bed last night, and was drowned before either of the parents missed him. The Whites live on the Pagoda plantation in a section seriously affected by the flood.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Al" writes: "I should like a good reliable treatment for the hair and scalp. Something that will cure dandruff and stop falling hair, also cure an itching scalp."

Answer: The most reliable treatment for the scalp is sold in 4 oz. jars at any drug store and is called plain yellow minyol. It is superior to anything known for the scalp. It gives new vigor and helps the hair to keep its natural color. This will positively cure your dandruff and stop the itching of the scalp.

"Harry M." writes: "I am quite tall and do not weigh enough for my height. Am very nervous and my skin is very pale."

Answer: You can readily increase your weight by taking three grain hypo-nuclane tablets regularly for several months. These tablets will also overcome nervousness, help digestion and assimilation and thus improve the color of the skin. Many report gaining 10 to 30 pounds with improved health in every way after a thorough course of treatment. The tablets are packed in sealed cartons with directions and are widely prescribed for your ailment.

"Poor Ann" writes: "Every winter I am troubled with slight attacks of rheumatism. I have tried many things but with no avail."

Answer: The best thing for rheumatism is made by mixing the following ingredients and taking a teaspoonful at meal times and again at bedtime. Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ ounce; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz., and syrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 ozs.

"Mrs. A. C." writes: "My little daughter has a very bad cold and cough which we do not seem able to even relieve. What shall I do."

Answer: Purchase a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentho-laxene and make a syrup according to directions given and your daughter will be cured within a few days. This is very pleasant to take and will drive the cold out of the system.

"Jane M." writes: "Kindly publish a remedy for dyspepsia. I feel irritable and cross and cannot sleep which I am sure is due to the stomach trouble. Please advise."

Answer: The following simple medicine will cure all your stomach disorders and if your food digests, your whole system will be in a better condition. Get at any up-to-date drug store tablets triopeptine. These are packed in sealed cartons with full directions. They are pink, white and blue tablets to be taken morning, noon and night.

"Sarah" writes: "Will you please repeat the formula for the tonic which you gave to 'Helen' some time ago? I am nervous, sleepless, and have no appetite whatever."

Answer: I shall very gladly repeat the tonic and I am sure that it will help you, as it has many other girls who suffer as you do. Get at any up-to-date drug store the following ingredients: Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 5 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. (not cardamon). Mix and shake well before using. This should be taken regularly and in a few weeks you will have a good appetite and be well and strong.

"Myrtle" writes: "I have never tried anything to reduce my weight, but if I could find a safe, harmless remedy I would try it. I am so fat that I am uncomfortable."

Answer: To avoid substitution purchase separately these two medicines. Aromatic elixir 5 ozs., and glycol arbolene 1 oz. Mix by shaking thoroughly and take a teaspoonful after meals for the first three days and thereafter double the dose. Continue this treatment for several weeks or until you properly reduce your weight.

"Guendaline" writes: "Kindly tell me what to do. I suffer with liver, kidney and stomach trouble. Am constipated and have slight attacks of biliousness."

Answer: For your stomach, liver and kidneys take three grain sulphorb tablets, (not sulphur). These little tablets are packed in sealed tubes and contain full directions for using. They will purify the blood and act directly on the liver and kidneys and if taken regularly will gradually effect a cure. I have found these to be the most reliable for all ailments that arise from chronic constipation.

"Wife"—Incontinence or bedwetting in children is usually cured by using the following in 10 to 15 drop doses in water one hour before meals: Tincture cubebs 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic, 2 drams; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix well.

"Anxious M."—You ask for a prescription for the local treatment of whites or leucorrhea, and while I have frequently given same in these advices, I gladly do so again for there is great danger in neglecting to treat this weakening health and comfort racking disease. Mix one ounce of tannic acid and two ounces of antiseptic vilane powder. Use a teaspoonful to a quart of warm water twice daily as injection with syringe.

MARKET OF MARRIAGE

Matrimonial Fair in Belgium That Is Run By the Girls.

Every Year on May 31 the Bachelors Are Rounded Up.

Brussels, Belgium, May 31.—If there are anxious masculine souls who are fearful that the leap year privileges will engulf them in the sea of matrimony they had better be warned against this part of the world upon the 31st of May in every year. For this is the date of the annual "marriage fair" at the little village of Ecaussinnes-Lalaing, a short journey from Brussels.

About ten years ago a few among many pretty and altogether-to-be-desired girls in that picturesque old place sent out timid signals to the wife-hunting bachelors of the neighborhood. Today there is a regularly organized association, with a rather aggressive maiden at its head, whose members spend all the long, quiet hours of the sleepy winter days in discovering eligible bachelors in the four corners of the earth and in inducing them to journey to Ecaussinnes-Lalaing upon May 31. And the bachelors actually come from all over Europe. There have been stray ones from South Africa and Australia. One may not settle upon a wife immediately, but may go away and think the matter over, returning the next year to take the girl back with him, the questions of compatibility and worldly goods having been settled by correspondence.

Most of the girls are from healthy peasant stock, are industrious and honest. They know nothing about woman suffrage. They are not ashamed to say that they want to get married. So they play the game with all the cards upon the table.

Opening of the Market.

During the morning of May 31 strangers arrive at the village in streams, some by train, others on bicycles, many rather dusty and footsore from walking. Perish the thought of motor cars! They are left to drift around by themselves until noon, and during this time have explored the picturesque church of the fifteenth century with its magnificent mausoleum of Mitchel de Crey. They gravely walk up and down the narrow streets, and mothers and grandmothers gaze at them from doorways and windows in suspense, and something of stupefaction.

Towards noon a procession is formed with banners and flags flying, and the young men march to band music to a large open place — it has the inappropriate name of the "Palace du Plaisir," but has borne it for centuries before the marriage fair was thought of. There they find a feast spread out upon tables in the open air, every good thing imaginable to tempt the masculine appetite and display the feminine art. The coffee is passed around in souvenir cups inscribed with: "To be happy, get married."

The banquet is free and is served by the girls themselves, dressed in their prettiest frocks, their hair elaborately dressed, their eyes dancing with excitement.

Ovation for the Spokesmaid.

After every one has finished, there is profound silence. Then the girl who has been elected by the other girls as president of the association appears upon a balcony overlooking the place. Of course, there is an ovation for her. The more daring of the young men throw her kisses. She has prepared her address with weeks of labor, for after being spoken it is printed as a little pamphlet and sent out with the invitations for the following year.

The afternoon is passed in getting acquainted, the young man not only with the girl who has taken his fancy, but also with her mother and father. If he wishes to make a proposal he must tell all about himself, his prospects, etc. No marriage is settled without those formalities. The girls seem really modest and gentle and their elders protect their interests with good sense and foresight.

The village riots with song and laughter until late in the afternoon, when the young men must depart. They are not allowed to stay longer. They may come back—next year or even week if they like.

Dozens actually do come back and the marriages are celebrated in the old church. And nobody knows of even one divorce among them.

PITTSBURG HARD ON THE LAUNDRY

Professor Also Says Smoke Shortens Life of Lace Curtains.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—More than $500,000 dollars' worth of laundry of the men residents of Pittsburg is destroyed yearly by smoke, according to Prof. R. C. Benner of the University of Pittsburg in an address before a board of trade here.

Prof. Benner also stated that from the lungs of a man who had lived fifty years a quart of soot had been taken. He exhibited the soot, too. In a cubic mile of atmosphere in Pittsburg, the professor said, there were four and three-quarters tons of soot. The life of lace curtains in other cities is one-third longer than in Pittsburg; house cleaning here is necessary twice a year and from 20 to 40 per cent of the fog in the city is soot.

Prof. Benner was talking on the smoke nuisance and explained the strides now being made elsewhere to abate the nuisance by scientific firing and the use of condensers.

BROTHER AND SISTER KEPT HOUSED FOR YEARS.

San Francisco, Cal., May 31. — A remarkable case of arrested development came to light here when the insanity commission discovered a young man 21, and a girl of 17 years of age, who had been imprisoned with their crazed mother in their home since their birth. The prisoners never had been allowed to peep out of the dark little house and their minds were as blank as if they had been reared in a tomb.

The two victims of their mother's strange vagary are James Crummey and his sister, Mabel. Their father died soon after the birth of the girl and the shock affected the mother's mind. The children were kept in a darkened room and the neighbors believed they had been sent away.

When officers of the insanity commission entered the house the two prisoners cowered in fear and made inarticulate sounds. The son was sent to the home for the feeble-minded and the girl cared for by a charitable organization.

MORE FUN AND MONEY IN HUNTING THAN IN FARMING.

Klamath Falls, Or., May 31.—Henry Anderson, a young farmer living in the eastern part of Klamath county, recently brought conclusive evidence to the courthouse that coyotes and bobcats are still plentiful in this section.

For producing the evidence he received a warrant for $49.50, bounties paid for scalps of coyotes, rabbits and cats. The pelts of the animals, except the rabbits, were also disposed of to a local fur dealer at a handsome price.

Anderson shoots the rabbits, and after taking their scalps, which by the way are worth 10 cents each, he uses the carcasses in bait traps for the coyotes and cats.

In two weeks' time he killed ninety rabbits and trapped nineteen coyotes and six cats.

He thinks that hunting and trapping pay better than farming and are a much more enjoyable pastime.

HE REFUSES TO RESIGN

Women Declare That Male Secretary Is a Regular Jonah.

His Supporters Control the $15,000 Woman Suffrage Fund.

Des Moines, Ia., May 31.—The most remarkable political fight ever waged in Iowa is fast approaching a climax. On the one hand, Horace Greeley Gue, ertswhile representative of the Men's League for Woman Suffrage, is managing a strenuous campaign to secure the ballot for the women of the state. With a revolver in his desk, he is successfully resisting every effort of the Rev. Mary Safford, representative and president of the Iowa State Suffrage association, to wrest from him the management of the exciting crusade which members of the fair sex are making.

The women of Des Moines do not like Mr. Gue's methods. They declare he is a "Jonah." They assert that a woman should manage the campaign for woman suffrage. They have placed the Rev. Miss Safford in charge and are determined that Mr. Gue must be ousted.

Has Control of Fund.

But Mr. Gue is standing pat. The few women who are with him have control of the $15,000 campaign fund which Mrs. Mary H. Coggeshall recently bequeathed to help the cause along. With these "news of war" at his disposal, Mr. Gue bids defiance to his feminine opponents. "Let them do their worst," he asserts, "I am commissioned to handle this campaign. I shall continue to serve as secretary of the state committee which has this work in charge."

What does H. G. Gue care for the sharp, crisp order which the Political Equality club issued, telling him to clear out? What cares he for the fact that the Men's League for Woman Suffrage, asked him to resign and declared the office vacant. He will not vacate.

As an outgrowth of the feud, Mr. Gue has started a half dozen suits for libel aggregating nearly $100,000. He declares that the leaders of the local Political Equality club have slandered his good name and charges them with conspiracy and says he will take the case to the highest court in the country. He insists that he will not resign as campaign manager until the Iowa supreme court kicks him out—and this, he asserts, the court will never do.

Women Are Guessing.

The women are nonplused but game, but at the same time slightly worried. The persistent refusal of the man to vacate, after being three times fired, has them guessing. Mr. Gue was first ousted by the Political Equality club of Des Moines. Later he was asked to resign by the executive committee of the Iowa Suffrage association. Then the Men's league in a secret session declared his office vacant.

Three committees appointed to go to his office and get possession of the association books and records returned empty handed.

President Mary Safford finally became indignant and with her courage well in hand boarded the lion in his den. The fight was short, sharp and decisive. Miss Safford came out of the secretary's office with cheeks aflame and defeat written over her countenance. Mr. Gue had again triumphed.

The suffragists have established another "headquarters" and have started a new set of books and records and bought new furniture. Seated at his desk in the "headquarters" room on the fourth floor of the Clapp block in Des Moines, under a flaming golden banner, bearing the words, "Votes for Women," Horace Greeley Gue still holds sway and fires ou suffrage broadsides over the country.

LOCKED HORNS TELL TRAGEDY

Moose of Unequal Size Had Battled Long Years Ago.

Seattle, Wash., May 31.—A story of woodland tragedy not hard to read is told by a pair of weather beaten interlocked moose antlers that Billy Kramer of Fairbanks, Alaska, has just brought down and placed on view here, the story being that of one moose who died of a cut throat, while the other perished of starvation. The horns were discovered on Hoppe creek, a small tributary of Small Wood creek. Part of the prongs were deeply buried in the earth when found.

One remarkable thing about the horns is the peculiar structure of the larger pair, which resemble those of a European elk or of the ancient Irish elk far more than they do a set of moose horns. In fact there is almost no palmation, while the prongs are long and large. More singular still, under the main beams, where the palms should be are a series of large prongs, giving the horns a sort of double deck appearance, and it was these superfluous prongs that proved the undoing of the larger moose, for they caught and held the horns of his antagonist in the struggle of years ago.

The horns of the larger moose had a spread of sixty-nine inches and each horn had seventeen prongs. The other set of antlers is forty-five inches in spread, the shovels being broad and fitting closely to the head. Each antler has ten prongs.

In the charge that locked the two animals for death the smaller evidently struck with a swing to the right, for the long prongs of the big horns were sprung on the right side over the shovel, while the smaller one's own short, curved prongs were hooked in front, over and under the other's main front, on the left side. And this charge must have brought death to the larger moose, for one of the brow prongs of the small fellow must necessarily have slid under the big moose's throat, where it was held by the locked horns.

Death came to the smaller, which must have fallen, carrying with it to the ground its antagonist, which afterward slowly died from hunger and thirst.

SNAKES HAVE FRIEND IN PENNSYLVAIA LECTURER.

Allentown, Pa., May 31.—That the state ought to pass a law to protect certain kinds of snakes, harmless to man and beneficial to the farmer, was the opinion expressed in a lecture on "Nature Study," by Prof. H. D. Bailey at Muhlenberg college. Said Prof. Bailey:

"The king snakes, the milk snakes, the bute, the corn, fox and indigo snakes are all valuable allies of the farmer, owing to their habit of largely confining their diet to rats, mice and other creatures obnoxious from the agricultural point of view.

"Efforts are now being put forth in some of the states to induce legislatures to make laws making is a crime punishable by fine, to kill these beneficial creatures. In some of the Western States efforts are afoot to increase the number of bull snakes, a harmless creature, seven to nine feet long, which feeds almost exclusively on destructive rodents."

DULUTH'S GROWTH.

The Greater Duluth club, at its organization a few weeks ago, adopted the slogan "100,000 people in Duluth Jan. 1, 1914."

Already both figure and date seem to us too modest.

It has long been evident that when Duluth's "boom" started—we hate to call it that because of the soap-bubble character of most booms, and because this isn't going to be anything so unsubstantial as that—it would start suddenly and develop rapidly.

The Herald believes that Duluth will have a hundred thousand people BEFORE Jan. 1, 1914.

It believes that Duluth will have a quarter of a million people not very long after that date.

Long before that the steel plant will be operating, and work will be progressing on the subsidiary plants that always surround a steel plant.

Long before that Duluth's victory over the artificial handicaps like the railroad rate and service situation will be complete.

Long before that Duluth's industrial bureau and other agencies for promoting growth will be bearing rich fruit.

A slogan of "A quarter of a million people in Duluth by Jan. 1, 1915" is modest enough.

Watch Duluth grow!

Pet Illusion Upheld.

An Englishman writes to The Times that America should annex Cuba. Which leads one almost to believe the queer things said by stage Englishmen about "writing to The Times."

THE WEST END'S GOOD WORK.

Tonight is Homecrofter's night at the meeting of the West End Commercial club. The program has been turned over to members of the American Homecroft society, which is now a Duluth institution, and they will give practical talks on a variety of subjects relating to the home garden and its intimate relationship with domestic economy.

This seed will fall on fruitful soil, for the West end, under the leadership of Dr. Oredson, the West End Commercial club and a number of vigorous and effective homecrofters, is doing splendid work along the general line of substituting neatly kept gardens for the rubbish that inevitably accumulates in a gardenless yard.

The West End, as a result of such activities as those in which the Commercial club and its citizens are engaged, bids fair soon to be a sightly demonstration ground for homecrofting and the beautification of the home grounds, and the rest of the city may yet have to take lessons from it.

It's An Ill Wind, Etc.

Chicago ice-wagon drivers are threatening to strike. Maybe the Chicago people will be helped thereby to remember that it's cool in Duluth.

PATRIOTISM IN THE HIGH SCHOOL.

When the boys of the Duluth Central High school were asked to volunteer to march in the Memorial day parade, only two responded, and when these found they were alone their hands were promptly withdrawn.

In yesterday's parade, though a hundred boys from the splendid industrial high school of West Duluth marched five miles to join the parade, it does not appear that the Central high school was represented at all.

At the best, this is a very sad showing. We would not go so far as to say that the high school lads are unpatriotic. They appear to have been kind enough to applaud liberally the patriotic utterances of the speakers at the high school exercises. Probably they had other plans.

But maybe a course in patriotism might be a timely addition to the curriculum of the Central high school.

Just For Dear Theodore.

Taft says he doesn't need any of the Ohio delegates at large, and so if Roosevelt is willing, they might as well fix up a compromise and divide them. Such generosity with things he "really doesn't need" is overwhelming.

ENGLISH SPELLING.

Speaking before the house committee on foreign affairs recently Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, one of the inventors of the telephone, expressed the hope that English spelling will be made to conform to pronunciation.

Dr. Bell appeared in behalf of a resolution calling for an inquiry regarding the advisability of an international agreement on a universal alphabet intended to represent the sounds of speech after a uniform system.

Dr. Bell's hope will be felt by many, but it will mostly be a wish rather than a hope. To say that it is impossible to reform the absurdities of English spelling is to say what most people would think offhand; but it is not true. If all the users of English will agree to a sensible, logical system of spelling, it can be done. But the modest demands of the spelling reform movement, which Mr. Carnegie fathered and which Col. Roosevelt for the moment adopted, received such an ill reception that the hope of reform isn't great.

And even if reform comes about, it can only be by a slow evolution such as that which has in the course of years made "program" a generally accepted substitute for "programme"; and this is very trying to the patience of ardent spelling reformers.

Of course nobody questions the need of reform. When you come to think of it, about the luckiest thing that ever happened to any American or Englishman was that he wasn't born in some other country so he had to learn English at or after maturity.

Dr. Bell gave an instance. E-n-o-u-g-h spells "enuff." So the foreigner might be excused for thinking that p-l-o-u-g-h spells "pluff", but it doesn't; it spells "plow."

That lesson learned, the foreigner would surely think that c-o-u-g-h spells "cow." When told that he was wrong a light of comprehension would break forth from his countenance, and he would say: "Then of course it spells 'cuff'." Imagine his consternation and dismay when he is told that he is wrong again, and that c-o-u-g-h spells "koff," though it is customarily pronounced "kawf." When confronted with t-h-o-u-g-h, he would try "thow," "thuff" and "thoff," and never would think of calling it "tho".

The language is full of such inconsistencies. They are puzzling to those learning the English speech. They consume unnecessary energy by their surplus letters. But there they are. Those who spell "enough" e-n-u-f, "cough" k-o-f, "plough" p-l-o-w and "though" t-h-o are called cranks and laughed at. What are you going to do about it?

Suggestive Name.

Congressman Cooper of Wisconsin wants to be nominated for vice president with Roosevelt. Cooper? Cooper? Isn't that the kind of man who has something to do with barrels?

THE SCHOOL SOCIAL CENTER.

Young people who used to attend the Bryant school in the West End have begun a campaign for the opening of the school building to the people of its neighborhood for innocent amusement and recreation.

If the building is suitable to such uses—not all school buildings are suitable, but it should be assured that all buildings erected in the future for school purposes will be suitable—this movement deserves success.

A school building, in which the public has invested a large amount of capital, is in use for school purposes only a small part of the time. It never is in use evenings, and it is idle for all but five days in the week during about ten months of the year.

The public is not getting the returns it should get from its investment in its school plant. One way to get full returns is to make each school building a neighborhood social center, where entertainments, lectures, club meetings, social gatherings, study classes—in fact every variety of semi-public gathering for entertainment, recreation or instruction—can be held.

The Herald has advocated this for years, and it is the pioneer supporter of this movement, which has already taken root in several sections of the city.

The time will come when every school building will have some of its rooms so arranged that they can be made available for any public use. Then the school buildings will be in use most of the time, instead of only a small proportion of the time. Then the public will get full dividends on its investment in the school plant.

Kipling Refuted.

BLAMING THE PRIMARY.

"This is our first presidential campaign under the preference primary plan," says the New York Times. "We hope it may be our last. The spectacle presented by the fierce fight for the nomination is one that must be amazing to foreigners, it is one that should bring a blush of shame to the cheek of every American having any pride or patriotism, or any common sense."

It isn't that bad, dear neighbor. It hasn't been pleasant or pretty to see a president and an ex-president, former friends, going about the country making bitter personal attacks on each other. It isn't a thing that anybody has enjoyed, or that anybody hopes to see again.

But it's no fault of the presidential primary. The fight between Roosevelt and Taft was bound to be bitter, whatever the machinery of nomination. And the Times should not overlook the fact that only a few states have presidential primary laws, and that only three or four have real ones.

But there is a fact, bigger and more important than any of these, that should give cheer to all patriots.

That is the fact that for the first time in many, many years, the candidates for presidential nominations have been forced to go directly to the people.

This has been true in states that still have the convention plan, just as true as it was in states that have adopted the presidential primary.

The bosses didn't fix it all up this year. They have tried to, in both parties; but they will fail in both parties.

The people—the rank and file of the parties—have come nearer to picking their presidential candidates this year than ever before.

They will come still nearer to it next time, for by then a majority of the states, if not all of them, will have presidential preference primary laws.

The unpleasant contest between Roosevelt and Taft is no fault of the preference primary. Neither are the defects that have been developed in the primary laws of several states any reflection upon the primary election system; nor do they furnish any reason why the country should go back to the old way of letting the bosses, big and little, handle the presidential nominations.

There is no use in trying it, anyway. Minnesota still has the convention system, and the local bosses, in obedience to directions from the national bosses, tried to swing the Republican state convention for Taft. The result was a stinging rebuke to bosses and bossism, and especially to the particular clique of bosses that has ridden a free horse to death in Minnesota.

Taft and Roosevelt both had to appeal to the people directly. That their method of doing it was undignified and unseemly is no reflection on the policy of presenting presidential candidacies directly to the people. Neither is it any reason why that policy should be abandoned.

Serves Him Right, So There!

A Boston joy-rider ran down and killed two men. And the judge gave him five years. There, take that, you horrid thing!

POVERTY AND SICKNESS.

John Burns of the British local government board said in parliament the other day that thirty per cent of poverty in England is caused by sickness.

That's interesting, and doubtless true. Another interesting speculation is as to what proportion of sickness is the result of poverty, not only in England but in this country.

Poverty, which broods in congested metropolitan centers, fosters many varieties of sickness, acute and chronic, and creates much temporary or permanent human inefficiency. Such poverty is due to special privileges which give a few too much and the many too little, and to congested conditions in the cities. Society can and should remedy both of these conditions; and it permits them to exist at its own peril.

Dear Maria writes that Dear Theodore isn't to be trusted. Evidently Dear Will has some support in his beliefs.

But don't forget how handy dandelions used to be when you were a kid, to find out whether your companions liked butter.

A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

IS MENACE TO PUBLIC SAFETY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I presume people visiting the beautiful and scenic Cascade park have noticed the defective arches in the shelter house or grandstand whatever you would call it. Some of the voussoirs in the two larger arches have slipped, presumably due to an outward movement of the south piers, and I notice an iron wedge driven in the opening in the north arch. Such treatment has a tendency to put a greater outward thrust on the pier. It may be said that the present condition has not changed perceptibly in a number of years, and that there is no imminent danger of a collapse. While that may be a fact, it must be acknowledged that the stability of the arches is greatly impaired, and a slight disturbance would cause the voussoirs to slip farther, resulting in a collapse, and some innocent children playing about would be crushed to death. The Tower of Pisa still stands, but the Campanile of San Marco has fallen.

Now is to the time to avoid a possible catastrophe. Yours very truly,

CHAS. TURNQUIST.

Cradle Song (From J. G. Holland's "Bitter Sweet.")

What is the little one thinking about?
Very wonderful things, no doubt;
Unwritten history!
Unfathomed mystery!
Yet he chuckles, and crows, and nods,
and winks,
As if his head were as full of kinks
And curious riddles as any sphinx!
Warped by colic and wet by tears,
Punctured by pins and tortured by fears;
Our little nephew will lose two years;
And he'll never know
When the summers go,
He need not laugh, for he'll find it so.

Who can tell what a baby thinks?
Who can follow the gossamer links
By which the mankin feels his way
Out from the shore of the great unknown,
Blind and wailing, and alone,
Into the light of day?
Out from the shore of the unknown sea,
Tossing in pitiful agony;
Of the unknown sea that reels and rolls,
Specked with the barks of little souls—
Barks that were launched on the other side,
And slipped from heaven on an ebbing tide!
What does he think of his mother's eyes?
What does he think of his mother's hair?
What of the cradle-roof, that flies
Forward and backward through the air?
What does he think of his mother's breast,
Bare and beautiful, smooth and white,
Seeking it ever with fresh delight,
Cup of his life, and couch of his rest?
What does he think when her quick embrace
Presses his hand and burles his face
Deep where the heart-throbs sink and swell,
With a tenderness she can never tell,
Though she murmur the words
Of all the birds—
Words she has learned to murmur well?
Now he thinks he'll go to sleep!
I can see the shadow creep
Over his eyes in soft eclipse,
Over his brow and over his lips,
Out to his little finger-tips!
Softly sinking, down he goes!
Down he goes! down he goes!
See! he's hushed in sweet repose.

The Sewage We Throw Away.

H. C. Bradley of the University of Wisconsin, writing in the current issue of Farm and Fireside on saving sewage for the garden, says in part:

"One of the big problems that confronts this country is the maintenance of soil fertility. We cannot hope to go on forever taking off crops from the land and turning the sewage which those crops yield into the ocean. The phosphates, sulphates and potassium must eventually disappear from soils which are steadily cropped, and unless the deficiency is made up the crops themselves will cease to grow. At present we make up this deficiency by stable manure and artificial fertilizers; but no one can deny that this partial return to the soil of its essential constituents is but putting off the day of reckoning to a future generation. The only permanent plan for preserving soil fertility in this or any other country is to return to the land everything essential to plant growth which the crops themselves remove, and the only way to accomplish this is to return sewage to the soil, for human sewage is the final form to which all edible crops are brought. The 90,000,000 population of this country every eliminate 90,000 tons of phosphoric acid, 90,000 tons of sulphuric acid, 90,000 to 135,000 tons of potash, 9,000 tons of magnesia, 900,000 tons of organic material, of which about 300,000 tons is valuable nitrogen in its most available form for plant-food. Of this total approximately 300,000 tons of mineral and 900,000 tons organic material, a small part, is returned to the land by cesspools and similar devices for disposal, but the vast bulk of it is poured directly or indirectly through our rivers into the sea, from which we can never regain it. And such devices as the cesspool bury the material at such a depth that it becomes practically unavailable to the shallow-rooting food-desiring plants.

"The problem of soil fertility thus becomes ultimately a problem of practical sewage disposal, and we may confidently assert that at no far distant time this problem will have to be faced and solved if our land is to maintain its productiveness and increase its yield of food materials to meet the demands of a growing population."

How to Make Anarchists.

Life: Scour the countries of Europe for able-bodied men and women who desire to better themselves.

Fill them with hope by giving them glowing reports of what a wonderful place the United States is and of how easy it is here to attain wealth and affluence, together with personal liberty, equal rights and exact justice.

When they arrive make every effort to humble them by giving them low wages, by huddling them together in quarters unfit for human habitation and by gouging them on every side.

Speak to them harshly and apply contemptuous names to them, such as "guineas" or "wops."

If they complain or ask for better treatment, tell them they are only foreigners and should have stayed in their own countries.

The Inevitable Result.

Harpers Weekly: "I am surprised to hear that Dubbleigh has broken down," said Stubbs. "He used to have a splendid constitution."

"Yes," said Wigglethorpe, "but he began amending it."

THE EXTRA SESSION.

The Dialogue.

Marshall News Messenger: Man of Destiny: What shall I do to be saved?

His Master's Voice: Call an extra session and the Republican convention be damned.

Duty Long Delayed.

Fairmont Sentinel: The credit Governor Eberhart might have gained for himself and his administration by calling an extra session of the legislature he forfeited by delaying action until public sentiment forced him into it.

For months past it has been evident that matters of the most vital importance were pressing for attention at the hands of the law makers. The course of the railroads in overriding the 2-cent mileage and freight reduction laws called for prompt action. It is notorious that the railways are not paying their share of the taxes. The infamous Sanborn decision afforded them a new opening for dodging their obligations. Prompt legislative action in raising the gross earnings tax will save the people of Minnesota millions of dollars. The measure is just and right and delay in its passage is indefensible. That alone was sufficient to warrant the assembling of the legislature.

Better Late—

Luverne Journal: It took the governor a long time to see that the people mean what they say. He had plenty of opportunity all winter to get the legislature together but steadfastly refused to do so. However a state wide primary will be welcome and the people will be glad of an opportunity of picking their own candidates for governor and other state offices. A provision will no doubt be included in the law providing for first and second choice and this will in the coming campaign mean the nomination of either Sam Gordon or William E. Lee by the Republicans.

Heard at Last.

Eveleth News: Last winter, when the state press was unanimously insistent that Governor Eberhart call an extra session of the legislature to raise the gross earnings tax on railroads, the state executive's ears were so muffled by the palms of Ed Smith's hands that he failed to hear any demand for the special session." But Mr. Eberhart seems to have caught the echo some way when the state convention met last week. Whether it was the routing of the old gang, or the gang's attempt to sidetrack Adolph, that started it, is a question; anyway, Adolph lost no time in springing his proclamation for an extra session to convene June 4, for the purpose of extending the primaries to the state offices.

One Sense Restored.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: Governor Eberhart seems to have heard something. The people of the state at the first opportunity offered them since the session of the legislature, demanding through their representatives a chance for popular expression on the governorship, seems to have dinned something into his ears.

He could not hear this din when popular sentiment demanded an increase of the gross earnings tax following the iniquitous Sanborn decision. He was just as deaf when friends of honest reapportionment demanded that he make good his Brainerd promise to reconvene the legislature in the event that reapportionment should fail at the extra session.

His sense of hearing was no better when friends of popular government demanded a presidential preference primary.

Let the state congratulate itself upon this sudden restoration of one of the governor's lost senses.

"Ear-Sight" Improves.

Northome Record: Figure-head Governor Eberhart has called an extra session of the state legislature for early in June, and the call states that the legislature will be expected to enact a state primary law and do some other things calculated to bolster up the governor's political standing, which is decidedly wabbly and becoming wabbiler all the time. The call proves that Mr. Eberhart is improving—at least his ear-sight is—for on three different and separate occasions he could not, listen as he would, hear the insistent demand of the people for an extra session, a demand that was just as strong as it was when he woke up to the danger that threatens his political life. A great statesman is Adolph, surely.

Important Measures.

Nashwauk Herald: Just why the governor should call an extra session after having repeatedly refused to hear the cry of the people, is a hard question to answer. That the governor does not say anything regarding the boosting of railroad taxes, nor does he hint that the initiative, referendum and recall would be a fine thing to enact.

No Chance for Eberhart.

Pine River Blaze: With the legislature avowedly anti-Eberhart, there is one thing sure. The state-wide primary that will no doubt be passed next month will in no wise give Adolph Olson Eberhart any cinch on the nomination. A first, second and probably third choice provision will be made which will make the extra session a futile move so far as Eberhart is concerned.

Then and Now.

Meredith Nicholson in the Atlantic: In the community where we were reared it wasn't respectable not to go to church. I remember distinctly that in my boyhood people who were not affiliated with some church were looked upon as pariahs and outcasts. An infidel was a marked man; one used to be visible in the streets I frequented, and I never passed him without a thrill of horror. Our city was long known as 'a poor theater town,' where only Booth in Hamlet and Jefferson in Rip might be patronized by church-going people who valued their reputations. Yet in the same community no reproach attaches today to the non-church-going citizen. A majority of the men I know best, in cities large and small, do not go to church. Most of them are in nowise antagonistic to religion; they are merely indifferent. Clearly, there must be some reason for this change. It is inconceivable that men would lightly put from them the faith of their fathers through which they are promised redemption from sin and everlasting life.

Cheese and Armor Plate.

Life: Hudson Maxim says that armor plate, no matter how thick it is, is just about as effective as so much cheese. He says that in 1920 we will have cruisers with sixteen-inch guns mounted on the decks and firing shells that can penetrate any known armor. We have these guns now.

This will, of course, make no difference to our progressive government, which is constantly trying to keep ahead of the game. Armor will continue to be made and will continue to be used as long as there is a lobby in congress or a steel manufacturers' association. But it is interesting to know that up to the present time the gun seems to have the best of it.

Work.

Let me but do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at the desk or loom,
In roaring market place or tranquil room,
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great or small,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play, and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

—Henry Van Dyke.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

•••Mrs. I. T. Burnside of West Duluth is entertaining her mother, Mrs. J. H. Dunham, and a sister, Mrs. A. Harrington of Cameron, Wis.

•••A long race between Duluth horses has been arranged. Capt. Sullivan has matched his pacer T. B. against A. Bailey's Aleck. Each has posted $500 and some side bets have also been made. The race is to take place on July 30 at Minnehaha Driving park at Minneapolis.

•••The body of Carl F. Franke, the watchman at the Northwestern coal dock in Superior, was found yesterday afternoon in the slip about twenty feet from the dock. It is now regarded as a case of suicide. Franke was 30 years of age and unmarried.

•••Yesterday's bicycle race was the first club race ever held in Duluth and nine wheelmen participated. The distance was eight miles. The first man to reach the finish was C. H. De Vault, who gets the Dodge cup. For the special gold medal, offered for the best time, there was a tie between Charles Davis and Charles Clawson at 31½ minutes. They will go over the course again to decide the matter.

•••Louis H. Fillatrault and Mary O. G. Depocas and Szczepan Heleski and Martha Fredsl took out marriage licenses today.

•••John Arnold Keyes, who, together with Senator J. A. Tawney of Winona, has been mentioned as a candidate for the congressional nomination in the First district, will hereafter make his headquarters at Duluth. With Mr. Keyes out of the way, it is believed Mr. Tawney will get the nomination.

•••News has been received here that the right of Emil Hartmann to contest the Huntress & Brown Chippewa scrip entry on the famous Hyde forties of section 30 has been allowed and a hearing has been ordered. While this does not convey any right of title, it gives the Mallett & Hartmann party a chance to show what right they have to that part of the famous section 30 and is a complete reversal of all other decisions against them.

•••Rev. C. Silene has gone to the People's party congressional convention at Little Falls as a substitute for Rev. Mr. Johnson.

•••The Finlanders in town 46, range 22, have petitioned the St. Paul & Duluth Railway company for ten acres of land from the company's holdings, which they desire to occupy with a church, school, parsonage and cemetery.

THE CHARIOT RACE.

From Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur":

Thus to the first goal and around it. Messala, fearful of losing his place, hugged the stony wall with perilous clasp; a foot to the left and he had been dashed to pieces; yet, when the turn was finished, no man, looking at the wheel tracks of the two cars, could have said herewent Messala, there the Jew. They to be but one trace behind them. As they whirled by, Esther saw Ben Hur's face again and it was whiter than before.

Simonides, shrewder than Esther, said to Ilderim at the moment the rivals turned into the course:

"I am no judge, good shiek, if Ben Hur be not about to execute some design. His face hath that look."

To which Ilderim answered:

"Saw you how clean they were and fresh? By the splendor of God, friend, they have not been running! But now watch!"

One ball and one dolphin remained on the pantablatures, and all the people drew a long breath, for the beginning of the end was at hand.

First the Sidonian gave the scourge to his four, and, smarting with fear and pain, they dashed desperately forward, promising for a brief time to go to the front. The effort ended in promise. Next the Byzantine and Corinthian each made the trial, with like result, after which they were practically out of the race. Thereupon, with a readiness perfectly explicable, all the factions except the Romans joined hope in Ben Hur and openly indulged their feeling.

"Ben Hur! Ben Hur!" they shouted, and the blent voices of the many rolled overwhelmingly against the consular stand.

From the benches above him, as he passed, the favor descended in fierce injunctions.

"Speed thee, Jew!"

"Take the wall now."

"On! Loose the Arabs! Give them rein and scourge!"

"Let him not have the turn on thee again. Now or never!"

Over the balustrade they stooped low, stretching their hands imploringly to him.

Either he did not hear, or could not do better, for half way round the course, and he was still following; at the second goal even still no change.

And now to make the turn, Messala began to draw in his left hand steeds, an act which necessarily slackened their speed. His spirit was high; more than one altar was richer of his vows; the Roman genius was still president. On the three pillars only six hundred feet away were fame, increase of fortune, promotion and a triumph ineffably sweetened by hate, all in store for him! That moment Malluch, in the gallery, saw Ben Hur lean forward over his Arabs and give them the reins. Out flew the many folded lash in his hand; over the backs of the startled steeds and hissed, and hissed and writhed again and again; and though it fell not, there were both sting and menace in its quick report; and as the man passed thus from quiet to resistless action, his face suffused, his eyes gleaming, along the reins he seemed to flash his will; and instantly, not one, but the four as one, answered with a leap that landed them alongside the Roman's car. Messala, on the perilous edge of the goal, heard, but dared not look to see what the awakening portended. From the people he received no sign. Above the noises of the race there was but one voice, and that was Ben Hur's. In the old Armanaic, as the sheik himself, he called to the Arabs.

"On, Atair! On, Rigel! What, Antares! dost thou linger now? Good horse—oho, Aldebaran! I hear them singing in the tents. I hear the children singing and the women—singing of the stars, of Atair, Antares, Rigel, Aldebaran, victory!—and the song will never end. Well done! Home tomorrow, under the black tent—home! On, Antares! The tribe is waiting for us, and the master is waiting! 'Tis done! 'tis done! Ha, ha! We have overthrown the proud. The land that smote us is in the dust. Ours the glory! Ha, ha!—steady! a word is done—soho! Rest!"

There had never been anything of the kind more simple, seldom anything more instantaneous.

At the moment chosen for the dash, Messala was moving in a circle round the goal. To pass him Ben Hur had to cross the track, and good strategy required the movement to be in a forward direction, that is on a like circle limited to the least possible increase. The thousands on the benches understood it all; they saw the signal given—the magnificent response; the four close outside Messala's outer wheel, Ben Hur's inner wheel behind the other's car—all this they saw. Then they heard a crash loud enough to send a thrill through the circus, and, quicker than thought, out over the course a spray of shining white and yellow flinders flew, down on its right side toppled the bed of the Roman's chariot. There was a rebound as of the axle hitting the hard earth; another and another; then the car went to pieces, and Messala, entangled in the reins, pitched forward headlong. To increase the horror of the sight by making death certain, the Sidonian, who had the wall next behind, could not stop or turn out. Into the wreck full speed he drove; then over the Roman, and into the latter's four, all mad with fear. Presently out of the turmoil, the fighting of horses, the resound of blows, the murky cloud of dust and sand, he crawled in time to see the Corinthian and Byzantine go on down the course after Ben Hur, who had not been an instant delayed.

The people arose, and leaped upon the benches, and shouted, and screamed. Those who looked that way caught glimpses of Messala, now under the trampling of the fours, now under the abandoned cars. He was still; they thought him dead; but far the greater number followed Ben Hur in his career. They had not seen the cunning touch of the reins by which, turning a little to the left, he caught Messala's wheel with the iron-shod point of his axle and crushed it; but they had seen the transformation of the man, and themselves felt the heat and glow of his spirit, the heroic resolution, the maddening energy of action with which by look, word and gesture, he so suddenly inspired his Arabs. And such running! It was rather the long leaping of lions in harross; but for the lumbering chariot it seemed the four were flying. When the Byzantine and the Corinthian were half way down the course Ben Hur turned the first goal.

And the race was won!

PRAISE OF GREENS.

Tom Bodine in the Paris, Mo., Mercury: After all, poetry is largely a matter of blood properties and of circulation. Both change color and beauty and taken on a different and more subdued form, sometimes vanish completely, and that is the real tragedy in growing old. Ask your lover of 25 to symbolize the spirit of spring and he will paint you a radiant, tender and beautiful maid wearing garlands and carrying a lap full of flowers. She comes always rose in hand.

Ask the cooled out male animal of 40 and immediately he conjures up the vision of an elderly woman helping his plate to fresh mustard and jowl. Spring is still insistently feminine, but different withal, less beautiful but more benevolent. She appears with a basket of greens under her arm, and if there be flowers they are a matter of small detail and linger in the background.

The differing conceptions must not be so contrasted however as to make it appear that there is no poetry in greens, in good greens well cooked. There is.

Than the green of mustard after a long and too salty winter there is nothing more beautiful peeps above sod. The heavy and Orient odor of the roses which once bloomed around Babylon and Naishapur awake no vision so paradisical as the smell of good greens in the pot. The smothered fragrance of all our sweet yesterdays stealing back with the breath of this embowered May time, bringing the faint resurge of lost loves, arouse no expectancy so rich and so eager as the odor that drifts in from the kitchen, where turnip and mustard a cookin' yield up the delights brewed down in the heart of a hundred spring times—at least not when you are past 40.

It is a witches' cauldron, the pot wherein they boil; the crucible of an unfathomed alchemy. From it, as if by magic, arise pictures of forgotten Arcadies. The white of apple blossoms, the pink of peach bloom and the flutter of new violets mingle with the melodies of field and meadow and hidden place. The young chicks chirp at the doorway, a cock crows melodiously from some remote barn yard, a child across the street shouts as it beholds the first jonquil bursting into view, and everywhere your mind's eye turns it looks down unending vistas of pure delight, drinks in the rhapsodies of awakening life, and is filled and sated.

You forget that which should be forgotten, forgive life its jibes and stings and defeats, and reaching for a second helping—it is always permissible to "reach" when there are greens on the table—are conscious that some benign influence has entered your life, feel the faith of a great humility and the soft, on creeping content that exalts the lowly and the commonplace and which finds each day some loved adventure in the little humdrum round of things. No fretful hopes to mar your tomorrows, all memories sealed with forgetful kisses and hidden away beneath the petals of dead other springs, only the eternal Now and no more. Greens, most sweet, most tender greens! What benedictions lie in thee, what sweet forgetfulness of things. How often shall you moon wax and wane in time unborn and you, returning, find one with an inverted pot? Ah, could we, love—but what's the use?

A Way to Grow Rich.

National Food Magazine: Rise early, work hard and late, live on what you cannot sell, give nothing away, and if you don't die rich, and go to the devil, you may sue me for damages. There is no more pitable wretch than the man who has mortgaged himself, soul and body, to money; in whom the desire to accumulate money has starved every other affection and desire. The poorest of all human beings is the man who is rich in gold, but intellectually and spiritually bankrupt.

Little that is truly noble can be expected from one whose chief object in life is the making of money. Though a man without money is poor, a man with nothing but money is poorer. He may enlarge his premises, but that very night his soul may be called away; and whatever monument with flattering title his heirs may erect over his grave, God shall write his epitaph in one word of four letters—"Fool." That kind of a man makes money his idol, before which he constantly bows down, whereas the thrifty person regards it as a useful instrument and as a means of promoting his own happiness and the happiness of others.

All the money you get is really only in the nature of a trust fund, which you are in duty bound to use as a steward, to better the condition of life of others as well as yourself, and make men and communities happier and more useful.

Wealth cannot purchase pleasures of the highest sort. It is the heart, taste and judgment which determine the happiness of man and restore him to the highest form of being. Money cannot buy health, life, love or a happy hereafter. A great fortune is not necessary for the attainment of faith, hope or charity; and he who has these cannot be unhappy.

RAILROADS

DULUTH AS A GATEWAY

Rapidly Growing as Traffic Center, Says Robert Creelman.

Canadian Northern Road Will Go Into Lake Steamship Business.

Duluth is now of greater importance as a gateway for settlers flocking to Western Canada, and it will be of even greater importance in the flow of regular traffic which will follow the completion of the direct line from Duluth to Winnipeg, according to Robert Creelman, general passenger agent of the Canadian Northern.

Mr. Creelman is in Duluth on business today. He declined to express an opinion as to when the road would begin running trains over the new line, declaring that it is a matter for the operating department. He said also that the men to be placed in charge of the Canadian Northern city office here have not yet been chosen.

Mr. Creelman doesn't hesitate to talk of Duluth as a traffic gateway, however. He is enthusiastic on that point. "Duluth is of great importance as a traffic gateway to Western Canada now, but it will be more so when our line is completed and in operation," he said. "We expect to go into the lake steamship business between Duluth and Georgian bay points later and the tourist travel over the lake and rail route will increase the travel through Duluth to Western Canada.

"We expect that 300,000 people will enter Western Canada to settle this year and that we will bring 100,000 of them from this side of the border. Western Canada is yet in the early stages of development, but it is coming along fast. As it advances in development and prosperity, Duluth will feel the effect, as the great territory is directly tributary to Duluth."

VETERAN RAILROADER DIES IN SPOKANE.

Word has been received in Duluth of the death of Moses Brinkerhoff at Spokane May 26. He was formerly a well known pioneer railroad conductor in this city and will be remembered by many of the old-timers in this city. He was 87 years of age at the time of his death. The funeral took place May 28 at Spokane from the Masonic temple. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a special escort from the commandery of the Knights Templar attended the funeral.

Mr. Brinkerhoff was the oldest railroad man in the United States in point of service, having been continuously employed for sixty-seven years. He has made his home at Spokane the last twenty-three years. About five years ago he paid a short visit to this city.

NO "FIRST AID;" GIRL'S LIFE LOST

Friends Do Not Know How to Revive Boating Victim.

Louisville, Ky., May 31.—Virginia Williams was drowned last night in the Ohio river when a motor boat containing a party of five was capsized by the wash from the towboat Dixie. The whole party was picked up a short time afterward by another motor boat, and it is said Miss Williams was alive, though unconscious, when taken ashore, but none of the rescuers understood how to resuscitate her.

WORK IS PLENTIFUL.

Plenty of work is in sight for the coming summer and fall say the Duluth employment agents.

Men are wanted for railroad construction work at $2 to $2.50 a day. Common labor in the city commands about the same wage. Board at out-of-town points is about $4.50 a week.

A large number of men are needed for summer logging. Teamsters are earning $35 per month and board; cooks, $60; cookees, $30; and common labor in woods at $30 and board. River drivers are receiving $3 a day and are in demand.

Yesterday a crowd of thirty men for whom jobs have been secured by Duluth employment agents, arrived in the city. They will be shipped out to points where men are needed.

Grain Man Gets Damages.

Pipestone, Minn., May 31.—A verdict of $4,200 was awarded by a jury to I. L. Demaray against the Great Northern Railway company. Demaray, who is now secretary of the Minnesota State Grain Dealers' association, was a grain buyer at Ihlen, and while riding a box car which was being switched to his elevator, was jolted in such a way as to be thrown to the ground and badly injured. He brought suit against the company for $10,000.

Decorate Lafayette's Grave.

Paris, May 31.—The commissioners of the Panama-Pacific exposition observed Memorial day by visiting Picpu cemetery, where they placed a large wreath on the grave of Lafayette Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, also placed a wreath on Lafayette's grave on behalf of Lafayette Post 140 G. A. R., of New York. The commissioners were entertained at luncheon by the Paris Chamber of Commerce.

FOUR YOUTHS IN COUNTRY ILLEGALLY

Are Said to Have Claimed They Were Returning Citizens.

Chicago, May 31.—Theodore Karolis, 18 years old; Dimt Karolis, 20 years old; George Chrilos, 20 years old, and Spiros Jaenaras, 18 years old, were arrested today by government secret service agents, charged with having violated the United States immigration laws.

It is alleged that when they came to this country from Genoa, Italy, nine months ago, they represented themselves to be citizens of the United States and declared they were returning from a visit abroad.

FRANKLIN FACES SEVERE ORDEAL

Darrow's Attorney Proposes Two-Days' Examination of State's Witness.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 31.—When the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago lawyer, was resumed today it was expected that Bert H. Franklin would finish the story of how he walked into the trap which his predecessor on the stand, George N. Lockwood, testified was arranged by himself and the district attorney.

District Attorney Fredericks said that Franklin's direct examination would be concluded probably within an hour after court convened. "Then Rogers can 'get at him,'" said Fredericks. Chief Counsel Earl Rogers for the deefnse has referred at various times in open court of what he would do when the time came to "get at" various state witnesses. Rogers said Franklin's cross-examination probably would consume two days.

Franklin was expected to tell, before his direct examination was concluded, the name of the second venireman on a list which he said Darrow showed him while dining in a hotel grill room.

The witness said that Darrow indicated two names on the list, and that one of them was George N. Lockwood.

CLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

Breaking out of the county jail proved more serious for Cornelius Scanlon than he imagined possible.

As a result of his escapade he is behind the bars again on a charge of having accepted partial support from an immoral woman. When arraigned in police court this morning he asked for an examination and his hearing was set for this afternoon.

Cornelius is a familiar figure to the local police. He has been in and out of jail on various minor charges for years past. Most of the time his arrests were the result of having imbibed too freely of Bowery booze.

Because he was well known and had always been quite a faithful sort of prisoner, Cornelius was made a trusty at the county jail the last time he was sent to the institution. Yesterday he took advantage of the faith imposed in him and made his escape. He could not withstand the temptation to get nearer to the bands and to properly celebrate the occasion, according to his own special light. His light is along the Bowery and before the afternoon had waned Cornelius was brought into headquarters, sadly intoxicated.

Last night, when he had recovered part of his senses, he began to telephone to his wife, in a local resort. He asked her to furnish bail for him. She was willing to do so and the police allowed her to send up the money. But Cornelius did not obtain his liberty. The fact that the woman put up bail for him is sufficient, according to the police, to convict him under the white slave statute. Cornelius is therefore in a lot worse that he has ever been before.

Charles Norling, a homesteader living above Wallace, a small station on the D., M. & N., pleaded guilty to having killed a female deer when he was arraigned in police court this morning. The court imposed a fine of $50, or sixty days in the county jail. The case was continued to give Norling an opportunity to raise the money. He claimed that the animal had been badly wounded before he shot it.

Ed Smith and Mike Mullin got into an argument in a Bowery saloon yesterday as to the proper kind of drinks to consume on the holiday. They became so vehement that they were arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly. They pleaded guilty in police court this morning and received suspended sentences.

Frank Hubert, claiming to be 74 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of begging. He claims to be crippled with rheumatism, but the officer who made the arrest says that he is very agile for a cripple, making a lively dash for liberty when he caught sight of the officer. He pleaded guilty and got $15 and costs or fifteen days in the county jail. But upon his promise to get out of town sentence was suspended.

Morris Murphy was arrested after midnight last night on a charge of trespassing at the Di Marco flats. The police reported that he is a "Peeping Tom." He pleaded not guilty and his trial set for this afternoon.

Martin Sabczk and John Wier ran away last night when Joe Wisocki was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. It is claimed that he refused to quit singing when requested to do so. Later, Martin and John went to the station to see how Joe was getting along. Joe had been released on bail but they were arrested on the same charge. Both pleaded guilty this morning but as the offense had not been serious they were allowed their liberty.

THREE KILLED NEAR CARLTON

Great Northern Express Hits Section Hands at Flag Station.

Carlton, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner Nyquest came here from Cloquet today to look into the death of James Lee, Henry Lake and M. Murphy, of an extra Great Northern section gang, who were killed at Wingate flag station, five miles east of here, about 5 p. m. yesterday, by the Duluth-bound fast train. The men were working on the grade near Wingate, living on the repair train lying there on the siding.

They were working on the bed of one track when an ore train loomed up, and they stepped over to the next track to allow it to pass.

The roar of the ore train prevented their hearing the approaching Duluth-bound passenger bearing down upon them at nearly forty-five miles an hour around the long curve by Wingate. The train hit them before they had opportunity to realize the situation.

When the bodies were found, it was discovered that there had been a severing of some arms and legs. The torsos were not much cut.

What's the Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate the seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more the matter with it than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. E. A. Thelin, Manvel, N. D., and Mrs. Henry Jensen, Granton, Wis., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women, and old folks generally—people who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

WANTS CHURCH TO RECOGNIZE WEDDING

PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI.

The Princess Rospigliosi (nee Reid) is still fighting for the recognition by the Church of Rome of her marriage to Prince Rospigliosi, head of one of the proudest and richest houses in Italy. She was married to a non-Catholic and divorced from him before she met the prince. Because of her divorce, the church refused to recognize her wedding as valid. The matter has never come to a final decision, however. Much depends on whether Mr. Parkhurst, her first husband, was ever baptized. If not, then her first marriage was invalid from the first.

Hostesses at Church.

THE EVENING STORY

POISONED SHAFTS

By T. B. Kirkland.

Harry Lewenn and his father ran a small queen breeding apiary on the shores of a Canadian lake, and they considered themselves fortunate in securing an island for their operations. It was a couple of miles in diameter, and lay four miles out in the lake, too far for queens or drones to fly. When a colony of bees takes to robbing, it is hard to break it off the habit. This was what had happened among Harry's young bees at the time this story opens, and was accountable for the matter of its telling. To make sure of safety, therefore, Harry and his father took away the strong colonies and replaced them with others from the home apiary. No further trouble was expected, but what was Harry's surprise and disgust to find three days later that the robbers had reasserted themselves. There must, he concluded, be a bee tree on the island, after all. Consequently he made a hunt through the island, and at length found what he was looking for.

A tall basswood had partly fallen, lodging against a large maple that grew almost at the edge of the bluff. Forty feet up, where the dry branches mingled with the green maple ones, Harry detected flying insects. By looking carefully, he thought he made out their entrance hole, a small aperture in a large limb, close to the trunk.

He went home, saying nothing to anyone about his discovery. The next afternoon, however, he returned to the island with a saw, a long rope and a sack.

Climbing up to the fork made by the two trees, he set to work with the saw. At the first stroke a roar arose within like the sound of a distant flour mill at full speed. It was hard work, but the saw went through at last; the limb swung slightly aside on the rope with which he had secured it, and before Harry could realize it, a living torrent of maddened bees poured out into his face.

He had not put on a veil, expecting no trouble, and in a second he was stung a dozen times on the face and hands, and had a score of furious bees burrowing in his hair. Taken quite unawares by the attack he almost let go and fell. He ducked, brushing frantically at his head, and attempted to slide down the tree again, when he discovered that he could not get his right foot free. He had rested all his weight on that leg as he sawed, and the stockinged foot had slipped deeper and deeper into the cleft of the split trunk, where he had placed it, to give him more purchase with the saw. It was wedged so tightly that he could not pull it out.

He twisted his ankle this way and that, and pulled till the tendons cracked. The bees roared in such clouds before his face that he could hardly see, and at every instant he jumped with the hot thrust of a fresh sting. It was raining, and as the bees grew wet with the drizzle they settled on him in masses, savage as ever, and they crawled over him, between the buttons of his coat, down his neck, up his sleeves and his trouser legs, stinging whenever they scented flesh.

Growing flurried and desperate, Harry wrenched frantically at his imprisoned foot. The sock ripped and a sharp splinter tore into his instep. He felt the blood running over his toes, but he could not get loose, and he tried hard to collect his wits and think what was to be done. He was pretty well able to stand any ordinary amount of stinging, but the continued pain and the poison were beginning to turn him faint and sick. He was afraid of fainting and falling, to hang head downward. He was mortally afraid that his eyes would be closed, leaving him trapped and blined. He felt the half uprooted tree tremble with his struggles and he would gladly have overset it if he had been able and taken chances in its fall.

Then, as he gazed helplessly about, he noticed that most of the weight of the basswood seemed to rest against a single large maple branch almost opposite him. If this branch were cut the tree would certainly go down, down into the lake forty or fifty feet below. He peered down through the whirring cloud of bees. Was the water there deep or shallow? It might mean life or death. Shallow or deep this was the only way. In fact, he almost felt that he would rather die quickly than be slowly stung to death. No one had known that he was coming to the island and it might be days before any one would think of looking for him there. The saw was still slung from his shoulders and he slashed desperately into the maple limb. It was eight or nine inches thick, but it had been bent over several feet by the weight of the basswood. The tough green wood was hard to saw, but he sawed on doggedly, blindly, seeming to make no progress. He was growing deadly sick and dizzy.

He was not half through the big maple branch when it suddenly cracked and broke. The basswood lurched forward, brushing slowly through the maple twigs. A rending of roots sounded from below. Then, all at once, as Harry clutched the branches, the tree split asunder, and the part he clung to went down, down, in a sickening sweep through the air, and crashed into the water of the lake. It was lucky that the branches broke his fall, for the water was not four feet deep. His breath was completely knocked out, however, and he came to himself, gasping and choking half floating on the debris of dead limbs, and surrounded by hundreds of nearly drowned bees.

He crawled out of the wreck and struggled ashore. High in the air there was a cloud of bees still circling around the half of the basswood that remained standing. With much difficulty he managed to regain the boat and row home, where he spent most of the next twelve hours in treating his stings. His beekeeper's training showed, however, for next day the pain had pretty much disappeared and he was able to row back to the island. He found the branch that had contained the colony lying on the shore, a goodly force of bees uneasily crawling over it. With no little pains he secured these, together with what combs were worth while; in doing this he was fortunate enough to catch sight of the queen. He made no scruple to condemn her to instant death and when the outfit was safely housed in a hive another queen was enthroned as her successor.

BIG RUSH OF TAXPAYERS

County Treasurer's Force Too Small to Handle Crowds.

Today is the last day in which the first half of the 1911 real estate taxes may be paid without penalty.

As a consequence, there has been a steady stream of people pouring into the office of the county treasurer and the office force is swamped with work.

Most of the larger taxpayers have mailed checks to the treasurer, but these will not be entered on the books until after the rush at the counter is over.

Thursday, being a holiday, no taxes were received. On Wednesday, the receipts over the counter amounted to $11,318. It is expected that today they will be even larger than that.

If the first half of the 1911 real estate tax is not paid today a penalty of 10 per cent will be added.

FINE CLOQUET EXERCISES.

National Guardsmen From Duluth Participate in Parade.

Cloquet, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Memorial day exercises yesterday were by far the most impressing ever held here. The parade to the cemetery was headed by the Civil war veterans, members of the city council and a few prominent citizens in automobiles, followed by the local band and fire department, a company of National Guardsmen from Duluth and then came approximately 1,200 school children marching in double line and each child carrying a flag. At the cemetery short memorial services were held and the militiamen fired a salute over each of the graves of departed soldiers. The crowd then repaired to the Nelson opera house, where Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of San Francisco, Cal., delivered the address of the day. His subject was "The Cost of the Civil War" and under this subject he discussed the financial, the temporal and the vital cost in a manner which completely captivated his audience.

FARMING SPECIAL WARMLY RECEIVED

Northern Minnesota Turning Out to See Exhibits and Hear Talks.

Brainerd, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good weather, large crowds and enthusiastic interest have been the lot of the Northern Pacific Better farming special that is working across Northern Minnesota. The train, in charge of D. E. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific railway, reached Brainerd last night and opened up this morning for a series of lectures and demonstrations. At the three towns visited yesterday, the audiences were more than could be accommodated in the two large day coaches provided for the lecture work, so that the sleeping car had to be used. The lectures have been so arranged that everyone can visit the car where he will hear something on the subjects in which he is most interested. Prof. E. Lentsch of Elk River and Mr. F. H. Scribner of the U. S. department of agriculture, have been using one coach for talks on potato growing and dairying. Talks on dairying, poultry raising and fruit growing have been given in another car by Prof. F. L. Washburn of the Minnesota Agricultural college, and N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist, and C. H. Welch, of the Agricultural Extension division. Prof. Thos. Shaw and Prof. W. H. Tomhave of the Extension division, have been talking on different livestock subjects, using the horses, cows, sheep and hogs carried in a special baggage car, as demonstration material.

Probably the most interesting and enthusiastic meeting of the trip was held at Fort Ripley yesterday. The attendance of 290, was somewhat smaller than at Randall and Little Falls, but the interest showed that the people are ready for any instruction that can be given along agricultural lines. At Fort Ripley thirty-five farmers made special request that their farms be visited by the agricultural experts so that they might receive the benefit of advice and instruction along the lines in which they are particularly interested.

At the fourteen stops made up to the present time, the train has been visited by 3,675 people, an average of 262 per stop, which is considered a record in the attendance at agricultural specials.

Exhibit St. Louis County Products.

The members of the lecture staff are picking up many specimens and samples of the crops grown in the different sections through which the train passes. St Louis county is represented by celery and tomato plants grown by J. J. LeBorious. Samples of McKinley potatoes have been furnished by the Jean Duluth farm; Villa Scholastica has sent a fine sample of Early Ohios, and the county farm is represented by an excellent lot of Farmen No. 3. At Tamarack a splendid lot of Burbanks was secured, and at Fort Ripley another splendid lot of Burbanks was handed in by J. J. Tucker, while M. A. Clouse supplied a fine lot of navy beans, and Leon J. Clouse sent as fine a sample of white dent corn as has been grown in Northern Minnesota.

ON THE IRON RANGES

FINE EXERCISES IN RANGE TOWNS

Hibbing, Virginia, Eveleth and Other Places Honor Heroic Dead.

Perfect weather made the observance of Memorial day on the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges yesterday combined with the patriotic demonstrations perhaps the most successful ever held in that section. Hibbing did itself proud with its fine parade of school children, carrying flags, militiamen, civic bodies, etc. Virginia did equally well as did Eveleth, and many of the smaller places.

Hibbing, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village outdid itself yesterday in patriotic fervor. The parade and the exercises were of a high order. The following program was rendered at the armory in the morning: Selection, Hibbing Concert band; song, High school chorus; prayer, Rev. J. B. Idstrom; Gettysburg address, S. J. Egge; song, male quartet; address, Rev. T. S. Oadams; selection, Hibbing Concert band. Mr. Oadams' address was an eloquent and notable affair. After the program there was a parade Company M escorting about 2,500 school children carrying flags, the veterans and many others to the cemetery where T. D. Collins gave an address, Rev. Mr. Helmuth gave prayer and Company M fired a salute. Many of the stores closed and the day was observed as a holiday as never before here. Many people went away on picnics and general outings.

Great Virginia Demonstration.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Memorial day observance here far eclipsed anything attempted in former years.

The great event of the day was the spectacular parade of the school children in the morning but scarcely secondary to this was the mass meeting with music and oratory and war tales at the auditorium in the Roosevelt school building in the evening. Thousands saw the morning parade and the auditorium in the Roosevelt school building in the evening. Thousands saw the morning parade and the auditorium was packed to capacity for the indoor meeting in the evening. Visitors were in the city from many cities.

Duluth Minister Speaks.

The speakers of the evening were Rev. George R. Gebauer of Duluth and Don Carlos W. Musser, late of Duluth, now of Virginia. Mr. Gebauer spoke on "The American Spirit" and Mr. Musser related war time stories of actual experience during his service in the Philippines. Mr. Gebauer gave his address, having in mind that there are in the schools of Virginia and possible in his audience people from thirty-two different foreign countries. He contended the person of foreign birth may have "The American Spirit" of chivalry, honor, self-control, self-reliance and patriotism, while this may be entirely absent from the American-born citizen. He made specific reference to the characteristics of the peoples of other lands and told how these all, in the melting pot process in America, mix in the crucible and the resultant product is a united people with high ideals of civilization, culture, freedom, righteousness and truth. He said the man or the woman who was not a patriot in the old land and still retains the love for the country of his or her birth can not make an American citizen of the highest type and imbued with the American spirit.

During the evening martial and patriotic music was furnished by the girls' club of 100 members and by the Virginia City band. Preceding the gathering at the auditorium the band paraded the streets playing national airs.

Dr. Powell Eveleth's Orator.

Eveleth, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Perfect weather brought out the biggest patriotic demonstration ever witnessed in Eveleth yesterday.

At 10 o'clock a procession was formed, composed of the city band, city officials, Company F, M. N. G., and several hundred school children each carrying a flag, and preceded by the five Civil war veterans in an automobile, marched along the principal street to the high school, where appropriate exercises were held.

The program was as follows: Invocation, Rev. Timothy Culligan; "Star Spangled Banner," audience; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, Abe Feldman; chorus and drill by Miss Linnihan's second grade girls; oration, Dr. J. W. Powell of Duluth; "America," audience; drill and patriotic declamations by Miss Ellis' second grade boys; benediction, Rev. P. A. Swartz, Jr. Supt. B. O. Greening was in charge of the school exercises and Rev. Hanscom introduced the speaker of the day. The parade was directed by Charles McNamara. All business was suspended and the day observed in quiet recreation. The ladies of the Presbyterian church served luncheon in the church parlors.

Gilbert Exercises.

Gilbert, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Splendid Memorial day exercises were held here yesterday morning in the schools after which all the children, nearly 900, paraded, carrying flags and dressed in white finding at the corner of Broadway and Wisconsin avenue, where the band gave a concert and addresses were made by Mayor Crosgrove, Supt. Newberry and Rev. J. W. Schenck of Aurora, the orator of the day.

In the afternoon many of the citizens drove over to the cemetery at Virginia.

The junior and senior classes held their annual picnic at Cedar island lake.

In the evening supper was served at the high school by the sophomore class and Mothers' club. This program was rendered: Music by the high school orchestra; practical talks by Dr. Barrett, Dr. Strathern, and Dr. Conner; trombone solo by Mr. Hursh; flute solo by Mr. Tibbetts, and songs by a selected male quartet.

Senator Boyle Speaks.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.—With Senator E. F. Boyle as the chief speaker, splendid exercises were held yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. building. Mrs. D. A. Burke gave a vocal solo, "The Queen's Hussar," and several selections were rendered by the quartet. Music was furnished by the Duluth drum corps.

Many attended the G. A. R. exercises at the cemetery.

A large number of the citizens also took occasion to enjoy outings in the City park and along the lake shore.

GRADUATES ARE GIVEN ADVICE

Minneapolis Ministers Address Two Harbors High 1912 Class.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The commencement exercises of the high school graduating class of 1912 were held in the auditorium of the Minnehaha school Wednesday night. The exercises were opened by prayer by Rev. J. F. McLeod, after which Mr. Flynn introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. W. E. J. Gratz, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of this city and now pastor of the Joyce Memorial church, Minneapolis. "Opportunity" was the subject of his address. He discarded the ancient theories concerning the elusiveness of opportunity and the infrequency of its presence, and relegated to the rear the facetious definitions of opportunity as expressed by "Mr. Dooley," who attributed to it many discriminating and aggressive qualities.

The speaker stated that the present was one grand repetition of opportunities, that it did not come but once to each person, but that opportunity was passing continually in a procession before us, but that it could be realized only by the exercise of determination, energy, patience and perseverance in the individual. The graduates were counseled to profit by them; and true manhood and womanhood was placed before them as the goal for which they were to strive. Mr. Gratz' address was a masterpiece of eloquence and a sincere and touching appeal to all that is good and true in human nature.

Mayor Gives Diplomas.

The graduates received their diplomas from Mayor Alex Holliday, a member of the board of education.

Those who received diplomas are: Edward Kernan, Astor Anderson, John Woodward, Harold Irwin, William Fortman, Svea Peterson, Alla Olson, Leo Streeter, Robert McCurdy, Ruby Headley, Margaret Peterson, Ida Johnson and Fred Switzer. During the exercises numerous musical numbers were rendered by the boys' high school glee club and a very clever cornet duet by Fred Switzer and Robert McCurdy was rendered. A Maypole dance by the girls was also very attractive. Following the exercise a banquet was given on the upper floor of the school.

BUHL HIGH SCHOOL ANNEXES ANOTHER GAME.

Buhl, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Buhl high school baseball team won its fifth game of the season yesterday by beating the local city team by the score of 12 to 10. The game was a long and exciting one, the high school boys played their very best, as they were up against opponents nearly twice their size. The line-up:

Buhl High School—	Buhl City Team—
Joe Perhal.....p	..Morris Anderson
Sam Thompson...c	.....John Spolar
Malcolm Morse...1b	.....Emil Bentilla
Frank Demel.....2b	.....Joe Spolar

The Buhl high school baseball team has played all games so far scheduled and has two more weeks to play ball. They have tried Hibbing high school, but cannot get a game with them. Virginia high school and Eleveth high school both have games scheduled to the end of the year, so it is impossible for the locals to get a game with them.

SMALL HIBBING FIRES.

Hibbing, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire department was called out twice early today by two small fires, one in an Italian's home at 321 Superior street and the other in Jones' cafe. Neither were damaged extensively.

MAYOR MURPHY FOR ECONOMY

Virginia Executive, Having Control of Council, Will Pare Expenses.

Virginia, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to the fact that there was no meeting of the city council Tuesday, election day and Memorial day making a break in the latter part of the week, the meeting for the present week will not be held. Another reason for the postponement is that three of those who were members one week ago are recalled and three new men take their places and the members-elect have not had time to fully qualify and get ready to sit legally at a meeting in the regular way.

Mayor Murphy, speaking for himself and the new members of the council, who with the former members constitute a majority who are in favor of the policies of the mayor, says one character stic of the administration will be economy in the conduct of municipal affairs; that the pledge which has been given the people that every effort will be made to have a municipally owned water and light plant will be carried out and that an opportunity will be given the people to adopt charter amendments or a new charter which will give the people, if they want it, the commission form of government.

ELY FISHERMEN LUCKY.

Several Fine Catches Were Made on Memorial Day.

Ely, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Several local parties spent yesterday out to the lakes fishing. Each party was successful in making good catches, but one was especially fortunate in landing ninety-two splendid specimens. The ninety-two weighed over 200 pounds. Another party left Ely about 1:30 p. m., returning for supper and had nine to their credit. Surely this is proving the Mecca for fishermen.

Ely is becoming a very popular place for the traveling show companies. Wednesday evening Boyer's Dixie minstrels played to a good house. Saturday evening the Bennett Amusement company will show here.

Today the exhibit at the Savoy and Ely schools is to be held at the Ely high school. This is planned to be one of the best ever given and great preparation has been made for it. Each department of the school work will be represented.

It is expected that at least six of the delegates and alternates will attend the convention at International Falls next month.

TEACHING SEX HYGIENE

Is Discussed at Banquet for Men in Gilbert.

Gilbert, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last night a banquet was served for the men of Gilbert at the high school under the auspices of the Mother's club. The girls of the sophomore class waited upon the table. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the leadership of K. K. Tibbetts. The purpose of the gathering was to discuss the question of teaching sex hygiene. C. G. Fulton was toastmaster in his usual capable manner. Among the speakers were Rev. T. B. Shoats, Rev. Turner, Mayor Cosgrove, Messrs. W. P. Chinn, W. J. Dowling, F. P. Rutherford, C. L. Newberry, Dr. Connors, A. E. MacInnis, Martin Masterson, Ed Brown, Frank Bowman and N. J. Colvin. Homer Hursh rendered a trombone solo and K. K. Tibbetts a flute solo. The Gilbert male quartette, Messrs. Newburg, Perry S. Pray, Bowman and Brown, gave a selection. The subject under discussion was gone into thoroughly and it is probable that the matter will be taken up with the school board of which two members, Capt. D. T. Caine and C. G. Fulton were present. About 100 men were seated at the banquet table and an elaborate luncheon was served.

MELLIN'S FOOD

"A Baby Saver"

"I am writing with thankfulness to Mellin's Food. There is such a vast difference in my baby since I have used your food that people having known her before and see her now, can hardly believe she is the same child. I must admit that Mellin's Food is the cause of it. Why, she was what you call in plain language, a living skeleton, and now she is nice and plump. She will be a year old tomorrow and I must thank Mellin's Food for it, for little did I think that I would see her live to grow up. With praise to the baby saver."

CANNOT FIND BODY.

Long Lake Still Refuses to Give Up Its Dead.

Ely, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although Long lake has been dragged almost continuously since Carl Mariana, aged 14, was drowned last Saturday night, the body has not been recovered.

It is thought the body went in one of the numerous holes in the lake and it cannot be reached until it floats. Every method of reaching the body has been used. The boy had been fishing with some friends and climbed from the boat onto a raft of logs that were being brought to the mill and was playing on them when drowned. The water is reported at the place to be over thirty feet deep.

ABOUT $1,500 RAISED.

Gilbert Catholic Fair Was a Great Success.

Gilbert, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Catholic fair given last week was a success socially and financially, about $1,500 being raised toward the construction of a new church, which is to be built on Summit street, near Gilbert's magnificent high school building. Saturday night during the contests a large crowd was present. Music was furnished by the Biwabik band, who acquitted themselves with great credit.

The ring contest between Miss Alice O'Neill and Miss Mary Brodnik was won by the former and nearly $900 was raised by these two young ladies. The travelling bag contest between Dr. Barrett and Thomas Flannigan was won by the latter. This contest brought in nearly $300. The articles sold were all donated and the amount realized is a fine start toward the construction of another edifice which will be a credit to Gilbert as the present church is entirely too small.

RAIN

The weather man refuses to be consistent. Who ever heard of a Memorial day without rain? Don't everybody answer at once. The question is purely rhetorical. There was such May 30, 1912. Several other questions relative to the inconsistency of the weather man might be asked. May should be a beautiful month, but it wasn't. June is about due. Here's hopes. Some showers tonight, if the sage on the hill makes good his prediction.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:17 and it will set at 7:54 this evening, giving fifteen hours and thirty-sevn minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours light to copious rains fell over Atlantic and gulf states and throughout the Northwest in connection with barometric depressions centered off the New England coast and over the extreme Southwest and Manitoba. High temperatures prevailed Thursday in the Southwest and extreme South and dust storms occurred in Nebraska. The easterly movement of the Manitoba disturbance will be attended by showers at the Head of the Lakes during today and probably tonight, followed Saturday by clearing weather."

RAIN PUTS OUT FIRE.

Providential Storm Helps Extinguish Tower Barn Fire.

Tower, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 5:45 a. m. today the fire bells roused the people. The fire proved to be in a large, unused barn in the eastern part of the city belonging to H. Nordstrom. A very high wind was blowing at the time and the remoteness of the fire from the city's pipe line made the work of extinguishing the fire difficult. The fine Episcopal church was in close proximity to the fire. Fortunately a ran storm set in soon after and helped quench the flames.

Ely Defeated Tower.

Tower, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A baseball game was played yesterday, between Tower and Ely, resulting in a score of 16 to 0, for Ely. The game was a one-sided affair and Tower was evidently outclassed. The attendance was very large.

There was no public observance of Memorial day in this city. The city council and board of education took no steps to arrange for it other than displaying the flags at half mast on the city hall and in the school yard.

Fire Panic in Kellnersville, Wis., School During Entertainment.

Manitowoc, Wis., May 31.—A holocause was narrowly averted in school district No. 6, Kellnersville, when fire started in draperies being used as dressing for a school entertainment and the 200 persons present, fifty of them children, were thrown into a panic before the blaze was extinguished. The lights had been turned down and a table was being staged when the sulphur pan with fire was overturned and ignited the draperies which burned quickly and started fire in the timbers of the building. No one was seriously injured.

Biwabik Home Burns.

Biwabik, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The home of Sofania Halso at the Cincinnati location was entirely destroyed by fire Wednesday. How the fire started is not definitely known but it is supposed that it caught from an overheated stove. Mrs. Halso had been making coffee and preparing a lunch for her husband and she had left the home alone while she went to carry his lunch to him. Neighbors saw the flames and gave the alarm but the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the dwelling.

The barn and outbuildings were saved by the assistance of the neighbors who came. The loss on the house and furniture will be $700 to $800 with only $400 insurance.

DULUTH RIPE FOR AGENCY

Russell Sage Foundation Director Urges Remedial Loan Society Here.

Business of More Than $60,000 Done in Duluth Annually.

That the time is ripe for the organization of a remedial loan association in Duluth, is the opinion of Arthur H. Ham, director of the division of remedial loans, Russell Sage Foundation, and the country's leading authority on this subject.

Mr. Ham has been advised as to the facts as they exist in Duluth relative to the operations of "loan sharks" and does not hesitate to say that a city like Duluth, with a population of about 90,000, ought to furnish a fertile field of operations for a remedial loan society with a capital of $30,000.

Mr. Ham has written widely on the subject of "loan sharks" and is firm in the belief that the only solution to the problem of wiping out the loan traffic lies in the organization of remedial loan associations. Mr. Ham has helped organize several such societies in some of the larger cities.

In a letter which Courtenay Dinwiddie, secretary of the Associated Charities, has received from Mr. Ham, the latter says: "The fact that there are about six loan companies operating in Duluth is good evidence that a business of approximately $60,000 or $65,000 is being done, for the capital of a loan office is rarely less than $10,000.

"Fully one-half the loans made by 'loan shark' companies are unnecessary. The remainder as a rule are made to deserving people who require temporary assistance for some real emergency. A capital of $30,000 would be needed at the start. You might well organize with an initial capital of $20,000 or $25,000."

Mr. Ham says that a remedial loan society of this size would require at the start a staff consisting of a manager, whose time would be spent in taking applications and making investigations and appraisals, and a clerk who could attend to the bookkeeping and receive installment payments on loans.

"It should be possible," suggests Mr. Ham, "to secure a manager for about $1,500 and a clerk for about $600. A little later, probably before the close of the first year, another man would have to be taken on, whose time could be spent in investigating and appraising."

As to the actual operation of the proposed Duluth Remedial Loan association, Mr. Ham suggests the following: "Loans should be made for ten months or a year, repayable in monthly installments. It would require most of the first year to get the $30,000 out in loans, so that the average loan balances the first year would not exceed $15,000.

"I believe that the laws of Minnesota allow an interest charge under contract of 10 per cent per annum and an additional fee to cover the cost of investigation, appraising and recording. It would be wise to supplement the interest charge by a fee sufficient to bring the total return up to about 24 per cent. On this basis, the income and expense account would work out as follows:

Expenditures.

Operating expenses (Salaries, rent, car fares, printing, etc)	$3,400
Losses	200
Total	$3,600

Income.

Interest and fees (On loan balance of $15,000)	$3,600
Total	$3,600

"On this estimate the first year's business would show a return just about large enough to cover the cost of operation. The second year's business would show practically no increase in expense, but the income would be doubled, owing to the fact that the loan balance the second year would approximate $30,000. To illustrate:

Second Year.
Expenditures.

Operating expenses	$4,000
Losses	400
Profits	2,800
Total	$7,200

Income.

Interest and fees	$7,200
Total	$7,200

"The second year's profits of $2,800 would allow a dividend of 6 per cent and a credit surplus of $1,000. As soon as the surplus begins to accumulate the interest charge to borrowers should be reduced, for it is not advisable that a remedial loan society should pay dividends upon its investment in excess of 6 per cent per annum."

Mr. Ham writes that the services of an expert would not be necessary in the organization of a remedial loan society in Duluth. He says: "It ought to be an easy matter to find a young man of proper caliber in Duluth, who with the assistance of counsel and data which we would be glad to furnish him, would have no difficulty in organizing such a society in Duluth."

LOSING FAITH IN THEIR TEACHERS

Wisconsin School Children Still Believe Answers in Back of Book.

Madison, Wis., May 31.—Apparently there is a growing confidence on the part of Wisconsin school children in the correctness of the answers in the back of their arithmetics. Moreover, some pupils have begun to mistrust teachers who tell them the answers are "useless because so many of them are wrong and misleading to the pupils."

W. N. Parker, formerly connected with the state department of public instruction, has been getting numerous inquiries from school children on this matter. In reply he says:

"The fact of the matter is, whenever you have a teacher who claims that many of the answers in the arithmetic are incorrect, particularly those given to problems that are somewhat involved and difficult, you are likely to discover that her standing marked by the superintendent on her certificate for arithmetic is low. It is a rare thing that the answers in an arithmetic are incorrect.'

Children who asked whether teachers had a right to cut out the answers in the backs of the books belonging to pupils, were answered in the negative.

NOBODY CLAIMS $5,000 INSURANCE

Illinois Man Who Took Endowment Policy in 1863 Has Disappeared.

Aurora, Ill., May 31.—While not reciting the embarrassment of idle wealth, the Connecticutt Mutual Life Insurance company has $5,000 of which it would be rid, and has come to Aurora in the hope of finding some one who can take the money without qualms of conscience.

The $5,000 is the face value of a paid up endowment policy taken out by one Elias B. Baldwin of Aurora in 1863. The company's records show that the premiums on the policy were kept up until the required amount was paid in, and then all trace of Baldwin and his family was lost. As nothing has been heard of them, the company assumes that Baldwin has died and that there is money awaiting his heirs who can prove their claim.

In 1863 Baldwin took out a policy for $5,000. The profession of Mr. Baldwin was given in the application as that of a merchant, and the policy named his wife, Julia C. Baldwin, as the beneficiary. The application gave Newton S. Otis as a friend, and the agent who wrote the insurance policy was Otis E. Otis. Samuel F. Hance was the medical examiner.

How to Rub Out Lines and Wrinkles

The revival of the old-fashioned Chinese ice-pencils has been brought about through the discovery that they are of wonderful value in "erasing wrinkles and "crow's feet," as well as for contracting loose, flabby muscles and clearing the skin of local impurities.

To rub out wrinkles, apply the Chinese ice to crease and massage the long way. Do this a few times and every wrinkle will vanish, because the fatty tissues on each side of the wrinkles are gradually absorbed and the membranes under the creases so enlivened that they resume their natural proportions. For flabby skins or a "muddy," unnatural complexion, apply the Chinese ice plentifully, then massage from point of chin to ears. This soon reduces the muscles and tissues to their former state, and frees the skin of blackheads and other blemishes. A few such treatments revivify the complexion and make it look years younger.

TAKE BOTH CONTESTS

Sox Win Morning and Afternoon Games From Flickertails.

Pitchers' Battle Followed By Runaway Victory for O'Brienites.

Duluth's pennant ambitions leaped gayly forward yesterday, the Sox getting both the forenoon and the afternoon performance from the Flickertails. As told in yesterday's Herald, the Sox grabbed the morning pastime by the score of 2 to 1, said game being a healthy heaving duel between Whiteside and Hoffman. The afternoon game proved somewhat of a grape basket for the locals, the winning being done to the sweet and undiscorded tune of 8 to 0.

That old stuff about too much Johnson was again enacted. The lank boy had a nice break to his curve and the enemy also had a nice break in their batting averages. But three blows were gathered off the Johnson man, one coming in the first round, another in the second and the last in the final stanza. Not much chance to get by on that stuff.

There was a nice and large holiday crowd out to see the afternoon contest, the patriotic patrons probably going away with the belief that Duluth has a real baseball team.

Our first came in the second round, speaking of the second game. Sours walked, pilfered neatly, was sacrificed to third by Chief O'Brien, and scored when Blume was heaved out at first. Sours was also the cause of the second run, swatting the ball over the right field fence for four of the bases.

In the fifth we got five hits and three runs. With one gone Johnson beat out an infield bingle. Kuehn doubled down the right foul line and the pitcher panted a third. McGraw hit a long fly to Eaiser in center, Johnson came over and the rabbit moved on to third. Meneice singled sharply through the infield and Kuehn came over. Meneice pilfered and was shunted over on successive singles by Leber and Sours.

We rested in the sixth, scoring three more in the seventh. In this jolly round Messrs. Kuehn and McGraw went down on infield offerings and the inning seemed to offer nothing in the way of cheering and work for the man who marks the blackboard. But Meneice singled, stole and scored when Leber lifted one to short right. Leber went to second when Foster permitted a pop to get away from him and came over when Sours doubled. The shortstop dashed to the plate when Donovan dropped O'Brien's fly in left.

The enemy had really no chance to score. But two men reached third during the engagement, the innings going by with the Flickertails going out in monotonous regularity.

WINNIPEG WINS DOUBLE HEADER

Peggers Take Both Morning and Afternoon Games From Superior.

Winnipeg made it two straight from Superior yesterday, winning the morning game by the score of 6 to 3 and copping the matinee by the score of 4 to 3. Peasley had the rubes guessing in the morning game, while errors helped the cousins to cop the second contest. Superior tried out a heaver by the name of Carrol in the second game, and though the new man showed some stage fright in the opening round, performed creditably after that.

Rhoades pitched excellent ball, keeping the visitors' hits scattered. Dougherty for Milwaukee worked well, but his errors combined with those of his team mates lost for him. He was sent to the clubhouse at the end of the sixth for criticizing Umpire Anderson. Slapnicka replaced him. Score:

FINE WEATHER FOR TRACK MEET

Cornell Is Expected to Carry Off Many of the Honors.

Philadelphia, May 31.—Cool, clear weather with a brisk wind promised fine conditions for the tryouts on Franklin field this afternoon preliminary to the finals tomorrow for the intercollegiate track championship. The entry list this year is so long that the trials will have to be held in every event except in the one and two-mile races.

The experts are having a hard time in predicting the team winner of this annual athletic event. Cornell had been a slight favorite, but her showing in the preliminary track meets has not been up to expectations. Pennsylvania, Harvard and Michigan are looked upon as strong contenders against Cornell, but the strength of some smaller colleges may upset the performances of some of the best men of the larger institutions.

Cornell, through her two champions, Jones and Berna, is expected to win the one and two-mile races and probably the half-mile.

The work of the sprinters this season has not been so good, but despite this fact the 100 and 220-yard dashes are expected to show good time.

The pole vaulters entered this year are above the average and a new record may be put up before the finals are over in this event tomorrow.

DAWSON WINS GREAT MEMORIAL DAY RACE

Drives National Car 500 Miles in Trifle Over Six Hours.

"Teddy" Tetzloff's Fiat Second—Big Event Viewed By 75,000 People.

THE CARS THAT FINISHED:

No.	Driver.	Car.	Time.
1	Dawson	National	6:21:06
2	Tetzlaff	Fiat	6:31:29
3	Hughes	Mercer	6:34:56
4	Merz	Stutz	6:36:35
5	Endicott	Schacht	6:46:28
6	Zengel	Stutz	6:50:28
7	Jenkins	White	6:52:38
8	Horan	Lozier	6:59:37
9	Wilcox	National	7:11:30
10	Mulford	Knox	(flagged)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—After leading all the way from the start to the 198th lap, Ralph De Palma's Mercedes developed engine trouble, and Joe Dawson's National came up from six laps from behind and won the second international 500-mile sweepstakes automobile race yesterday in the record time of 6:21:06.

Teddy Tetzlaff's Fiat was second. The Stutz company protested the awarding of third place to Hughie Hughes' Mercer, contending their car, driven by Charles Merz, which was announced fourth, won the position.

The day was ideal for the motor fans, and not a serious accident marred the sport. Bob Burman, whose Cutting turned over in the back stretch when a rear wheel collapsed, was able to leave the hospital with a few scratches after a slight treatment, and viewed the finish of the race.

Twenty-four cars, the pick of American, German, English and Italian factories, started. A Lexington, driven by Harry Knight, the hero of last year's race, who deliberately wrecked his car to avoid running down the driver of another car, who had fallen on the track, was the first to quit, dropping out in its seventh lap.

David Bruce Brown was the next to leave the track. When he found that his National was out for good, he broke down and wept on the shoulder of his mechanician. Others dropped out until there were only ten cars to finish.

Dawson drove a steady race, holding second place most of the time after the fiftieth lap. Just before De Palma went out of the race, a rabbit ran across the track in front of Dawson's car as he was speeding down the home stretch. The thousands of spectators cheered the rabbit, and Dawson, after the race said he considered it a good omen.

Johnnie Jenkins finished his last five laps driving on the rim of the right front wheel of his White car.

Joe Horan, in a Lozier, was pushing him for seventh place and Jenkins feared to lose the time in stopping for a fresh tire. He beat out Horan who had engine trouble, by seven minutes.

Dawson averaged 78.6 miles an hour as compared with 74.61 miles an hour made by Ray Harroun who won the race last year in his Marmon "Wasp." Harroun's time was 6:42:08.

Dawson pulled up at the National pit with a grin on his grimy face, when he was flagged the winner, and jumped out of the car, as if he had been through a short dash.

"I'm not tired," he said, "just happy."

Told that De Palma lost the race only because his engine failed him at the 198th lap, Dawson grinned again.

"I've been up against the same thing," he said. "The game's all luck. I just had a feeling I would win, and I never had that feeling but once before. That was when I won the Cobe race trophy here in 1910. That feeling began to get pretty slim toward the end of the race, but you never can tell till Fred Wagner lets the checkered flag fall."

Ralph de Palma, pushing his dead Mercedes to the electric timing wire for the 199th lap, was very weary and philosophical. "It was just tough luck," he said, "and that's all. I made the race while I was in it, and I suppose if I had used just mule power on the last lap and pushed my car through the 200th lap, I could have got in the money for $1,000 or so, but life is too short."

RYAN HAS COMPLETE CHARGE AT FLYNN CAMP

Les Vegas, N. Mex., May 31.—The world's fistic game never had a cleverer nor craftier exponent than Tommy Ryan, who so ably presided over the middleweight division for so many years. Ryan honorably stepped into Bob Fitzsimmons' shoes when that old hero of the ring quit fighting 158-pounders and leveled his attack on heavyweights.

The wise ones in the fighting world know full well that Ry

"COMING JUST AS FAST AS WE CAN," SAYS MACKENZIE

"The Canadian Northern will be running trains to Duluth as soon as we can complete the road, and we are straining every effort toward this end," said Sir William Mackenzie of Toronto, Can., president of the road at the Spalding hotel, today.

The noted Canadian arrived in the city this morning from the East over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road. With Sir William are A. D. Davidson, land commissioner of the Canadian Northern; William Schupp, insurance commissioner, and M. H. McLeod, general manager of the road. Mr. McLeod came from Winnipeg to meet the party here.

The party visited at West Duluth this afternoon, looking over the work that is now in progress, and left this afternoon for Winnipeg, from where they will go to Vancouver, B. C.

"You people in Duluth know all about the Canadian Northern," said Mr. Mackenzie. "It would be impossible to tell you all about it in the few minutes I have. You see I am rather busy," indicating with a gesture several men waiting to talk to him.

"We should have been into Duluth last fall. The contractors have been hindered and we are behind in our work.

"We are doing all we can to get the line in shape and the work, I think, this spring, is progressing at a satisfactory pace.

"We are going out to see what they are doing in West Duluth. I have only an hour and a half and we will have to move to catch our train. No, I hadn't heard that the Canadian Northern was financially embarrassed. We are coming right along and before you know it we will be running trains into Duluth."

Sir William Mackenzie is a trifle under medium height, alert and a rapid talker, when he does talk. He jerked out his sentences to a newspaper reporter while carying on a conversation with several other members of the party.

In a truly American manner he asked "who wants to know?" when he was asked if he was Sir William Mackenzie.

WINSTON & DEAR GET BIG CONTRACT

Will Strip Section 27 for the Great Northern Ore Company.

Hibbing, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Advices received here from St. Paul today are that the Great Northern Ore company has awarded the contract for stripping Section 27 mine in the Chisholm district to Winston & Dear. There were a number of bidders, as the contract is one of the largest awarded on the Mesaba range in several years, between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 cubic yards of overburden being contracted to be removed. The work will start soon and will require nearly three years.

There was keen rivalry among stripping contractors for the work, bids being made by Drake & Stratton, Porter Bros., A. Guthrie, Butler Bros., Johnson Bros. and some Twin City firms and the lucky firm.

The awarding of this big contract by the Great Northern indicates that as has been expected and forecasted, the Hill interests are going into mining on an extensive scale.

WANTS $100 FOR HAULING MOTHER-IN-LAW TO CHURCH.

Bloomington, Ill., May 31.—After Mrs. Nora Meyers of Grant Park, Kankakee county, died, the administrator in settling up the estate found a note given to her by Henry Molthan, her son-in-law, for $100. When demand was made for payment Molthan put in a claim for a like amount against the estate.

Molthan recited that he had escorted Mrs. Meyers to church on numerous occasions and had been obliged to exert great physical effort in the way of hitching up the team and proceeding for several miles to the meeting house and back. For this he puts in a bill for $100.

The case will be heard in the circuit court.

GO FISHING AT CROSBY

WHERE THEY'RE BITING FINE!

"Say, Bill, let's go fishing."

"Where?"

"Why not at Crosby, Minn., on the Soo Line? They're making a rate of 3.85 for the round trip."

"They are biting fine; and they have boats and bait and a good hotel to stop at, and you don't have to hire livery rigs, as the lake is right near town."

"Aren't there any livery stables at Crosby?"

"Yes, there are three right up to the minute in service, with both horses and automobiles for hire. So you don't have to go fishing in the lake at Crosby, for there are 20 other lakes near by." "And the weather is fine."

"What time does the train leave for Crosby?"

"At 2:30 p. m.—no, don't take your dinner with you—you can get that at the Spalding at Crosby on your arrival. The beds at the hotel are best ever."

"I'll go. I want to see that town anyway."

The new Sunday train put on between Duluth and Lake Nebagamon by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road is becoming very popular with fishermen and others who enjoy a day's outing.

The fare has been lowered so that the trip is not an expensive one. Whole families are taking advantage of the opportunity to get a day in the woods.

The train leaves at an early hour and returns early in the evening, giving nearly the entire day at Lake Nebagamon. The lake is considered an ideal spot for outings.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM IS BEGUN

South Shore Road Will Study Problems of the Settlers.

About two miles from Lake Nebagamon the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad company is establishing an experimental farm.

The farm consists of forty acres and actual work has already been begun. E. W. McPherran, land commissioner for the road, is enthusiastic over the project.

The railroad company is expending no more money on the farm than an ordinary farmer with only a fair amount of money would spend in opening up the land. The company desires to know just how much money a man ought to have to start a successful farm, clear the land, buy needed machinery, put up suitable buildings and buy a fair amount of stock.

The land is now being cleared and no attempt will be made to raise a vegetable crop this year, athough timothy and clover will be sown for next year.

The company is making this practical experiment so that a man can be told just how much money he needs to start a farm in the North country. Strict account will be kept of all money expended and the return from the amount.

CONVICT'S HEAD TO GO TO SCIENCE

Nebraska Prison Mutineer Makes a Bequest to a Doctor.

Lincoln, Neb., May 31. — Charles Marly, the Knoxville, Mo., convict recently given a life sentence for murdering Warden Delahunty of the state penitentiary, has made a will in which he bequeathes his head and brains to Dr. W. G. Welch, the assistant prison physician. Marly carries a bullet in his head, received in a fight in Kansas City a few years ago, and it is for the advanceemnt of science that he desires Dr. Welch to have his head. The will follows:

Lancaster, Neb., May 20, 1912—to Whom it may concern—this is to certify that I the under signed, Chas. a. Marly, being of sound mind on this the 20th day of may (1912) Will and Bequathe to one M. Gifford Welch M. D. my head and brains after death on conditions that he the said m. gifford Welch remove the Bullet from the Brains and dissect the said Brain the knowledge gained therein to be used for the Benefit of the medical profession and the advancement of the same. Witness my signature, Chas. A. Marly.

While Marly was wating to hear the verdict of the jury he told the doctor that if he was hanged he wanted the doctor to have his head and cut it up to find out how the bullet affected him. After he saw the doctor when the jury had fixed his punishment at life imprisonment, he said:

"Cheer up, doc, I'll write out my will anyway."

A few days ago he made his will.

"I used to know something about law," Marly said, "and I have been careful to put in this legal phraseology. How did I get that bullet in my head? A man in Kansas City had a quarrel with a friend of mine, and one day as I was walking on the street he shot me. I don't know whether he mistook me for the other fellow or whether he had a grudge against me. The bullet hit me in the eyebrow. It split. One piece lodged under my right eye and the other near the back of the right ear and both pieces are there yet. I lost the sight of my right eye and am still blind in it. But I don't expect to die very soon."

TWENTY-MULE TEAM USED FOR 36,000-POUND LOAD.

Mesa, Ariz., May 31.—The longest mule team seen on the streets of Mesa for a long time, if not the longest ever seen in the town, passed along Main street bound for Granite Reef. Sixteen mules were attached in front of coupled wagons and four more were connected with a "push" arrangement at the rear.

On the two wagons there was a small house, roofed with tar paper, and the house contained the dynamo that is to be used in the new power house at Granite Reef.

The weight of the machinery alone was 36,000 pounds, a very respectable carload itself. The big mules walked off easly with the wagons and load.

During the time the construction work on the dam was under way there were many ten, twelve and sixteen mule teams on the road, but since then long strings of teams have been conspicuous by their absence.

June Is the Month of Gifts

No month in the year brings with it more occasions for giftmaking than does the sunny, balmy month of June.

Graduation day marks an epoch in the lives of all young persons that is most fittingly observed by presenting a useful if not a valuable gift. Late confirmation classes suggest another occasion for giftgiving.

But June brings also that greatest of all giftgiving times—the wedding. June is the bride's month, and we are ready, even as never before, to help you to please her with gifts that while not necessarily costly, have the stamp of individuality and quality which means more to the recipient than mere intrinsic value.

Our large assortment of exclusive designs in Sterling silver, both flatware and hollow ware, offer a range of choice seldom equaled. And regardless of the recent advance in the cost of silverware, our prices remain at the former figures and marked plainly for all to read.

We are showing a specially fine line of artistic Sterling silver picture frames, heavy and of excellent designs, at 35c and up.

This is merely one suggestion from our stock of thousands.

ONE INDICTMENT IS DISMISSED

Gansberg Is Released But Case Against Davis Goes to Jury.

Judge Dancer of the district court this morning dismissed the indictment against William A. Gansberg, a Michigan street junk dealer, who with his partner, Joseph Davis, was on trial charged with having received stolen property. A motion to dismiss the indictment against Davis was denied. The case went to the jury this afternoon and up to 3 o'clock no verdict has been returned.

Davis is accused of having purchased stolen property from Carl Covel, who pleaded guilty to the theft of brass worth $300 from the Duluth Boiler works last March. Covel was a witness for the state.

Frank Di Biassi, indicted on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, was put on trial as soon as the Davis jury retired. Di Biassi, it is claimed, stole money and a watch from a man in a Bowery saloon a few weeks ago.

SPECIAL LEAVES OVER THE M. & I.

Meeting Held at Brainerd Is Attended By Many Nearby Farmers.

Brainerd, Minn., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lectures were given here this morning by the corps of speakers on board the agricultural special train operated by the Northern Pacific railway in conjunction with the state agricultural college. Farmers of Brainerd and vicinity crowded the train, examining the live-stock and machinery on display.

Prof. Thomas Shaw lectured on alfalfa and clover and illustrated his remarks by alfalfa grown on the farm of R. R. Wise near Brainerd.

Daniel E. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific is immensely pleased with the success of the tour, saying the trip was the best thing ever engineered by the railroad to get acquainted with the farmers on the line, and to encourage them to grow larger, better and more diversified crops. Other speakers handled livestock, poultry, soil fertility and other topics.

At 11 a. m. the special left for its tour of the Minnesota & International railway, accompanied by W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the road.

One of the episodes of the trip is the composite letter written by every man in the party, a typewritten copy being made and sent to each man's wife.

STUDENTS' WORK SHOWN

Interesting Exhibit Opens at Washington Manual Training School.

Useful and Ornamental Articles, Made By Children, Are Exhibited.

The exhibition which opened today at the manual training school is the best exhibition of the work of the pupils that has ever been made by the school. The exhibition consists of various articles that have been made in the workshops of the school. They range from small models of hand carving to the more ambitious efforts of furniture making, cabinets, chests and useful articles for the home.

Many of the articles are so well done that they reflect the careful work that is being done by the students. In addition to the exhibitions of articles made in the carpenter shop and the mechanical departments of the school, there is a large exhibition of mechanical drawings. There are also a number of articles made from iron and also some clever leather work.

The exhibition includes the view of the shops and all working departments of the school in operation. The public is cordially invited to attend the exhibition, the instructors stating that it is especially desired that the parents of the students should take advantage of this opportunity to see the work that is being accomplished at the school.

The exhibition is open this afternoon and will also open at 7 o'clock this evening.

REFUSE TO MEET DOCK STRIKERS

British Employers Fail to Appear at the "Joint" Meeting.

London, May 31.—The open or the closed shop is the crux of the dispute in dockland, and at present there is no sign that the employers will consent to debar non-unionists from their employment, or that the strike leaders will agree to permit their men to work alongside non-unionists.

The joint conference called by the government for this morning proved a fiasco. Not a single employer put in an appearance. The government, however, submitted fresh proposals for the consideration of the men. Whether Ben Tillet and Harry Gosling have succeeded in making the dispute a national affair will be known only after the meeting of the national executives tomorrow, but the indications are that the sailors and firemen's union, who probably have the deciding vote, will oppose the movement on the ground that the present time is inopportune.

Strike May Fail.

Should the decision be against national support, the strike appears certain to fail. The number of non-unionists working on the docks daily is increasing and the provisioning of London goes on uninterruptedly. Having failed to bring the employers and men together, the government is tackling each side separately, and at today's meeting at the board of trade, where the strike leaders alone attended, the government suggested setting up a joint conciliation board with powers over all parties working in the port. The strike leaders promise to give the men's reply June 4.

Receive Many Entries.

Over 100 applications have already been received for entries in the corn and potato show to be held early this fall. The fact that a county fair will in all probability not be given this fall, will have no effect on the potato show and contest. At a meeting June 6 the members of the Douglas County Development association will finally decide on the county fair question.

Civil Service Examinations.

There are twenty-two applicants who will take the civil service examinations for positions on the police and fire departments. No date for the examination has been set, but it will be held the latter part of next week.

Kansas City Woman Finds Lost Brother in Charity Hospital.

Kansas City, Mo., May 31.—A search for a lost brother which extended over a period of fifteen years ended at the Helping Hand institute here today when Mrs. J. S. Scott found Patrick McCune, aged 65.

McCune formerly lived in Des Moines, Iowa. He came here to visit his sister, Mrs. Scott, in 1897. He left her home a few weeks later and had not been heard from since. Vicissitudes of fortune and pride made McCune reluctant to ask aid of relatives until he became ill. Threatened with death, he gave the institute the name of Mrs. Maggie Gilbride of Des Moines, another sister. This led to the reunion.

W. M. McCune, a brother, who is a wealthy resident of Omaha, had aided in the search.

Lawrence, Mass., May 31.—Three hundred operatives in the mills of the American Woolen Mills company today joined the 2400 operatives of the carding and combing mills of the Wood mill, who went on strike Tuesday because other operatives in those rooms refused to become members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

SECOND TRIAL OF FIRE DAMAGE CASE.

In district court before Judge Cant and a jury this morning, the second trial of the case of Simon Salo against the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company was started.

The action is one of the White Iron Lake fire cases in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover $4,800 damages on account of a fire which, during June 1910, swept over his farm adjoining the railroad right-of-way. Salo claims that the fire was caused by negligence of the company in not providing spark arresters for its locomotives.

The first trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff of $600. The court granted a motion for a new trial on the grounds that the evidence did not sustain the verdict. Baldwin & Baldwin appear for the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company and the plaintiff is represented by J. De La Motte.

VERDICT FOR BIRMAN.

Man Who Was Located on Wrong Farm Will Recover Damages.

Frank F. Birman, who sued Henry F. Enyder and Isadore Snyder for $1,800 damages, claiming that they had located him on his neighbor's land instead of his own when they sold him 160 acres north of Cook, was given a verdict against Henry F. Snyder for $962.70 by the jury which tried the case. Isadore Snyder, the other defendant, was exonerated from all blame in the matter by the verdict.

Birman claimed that after settling on what he thought was his own farm he began to clear the land and make improvements and that it was several months before he learned from the real owner of the land that he was a trespasser. The Snyders in their defense denied all accusations of fraud.

BLAISDELL HAS ISSUED PLATFORM.

Minot, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Alfred Blaisdell of this city, candidate for congress, has issued a statement setting forth his view on national questions, such statement being in the nature of a platform which he is making his race.

He expresses himself as opposed to the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and favorable to a revision of the same, based on a protective basis that makes allowances for the difference in cost of production at home and abroad. He favors the recall of officers, direct legislation by the people, conservation of the lignite coal fields of North Dakota, and federated aid in the construction of highways.

NORTH DAKOTA TRIP BEING PLANNED.

Agricultural College, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Plans for conducting a better farming special train through North Dakota are progressing rapidly, and the big trip is being scheduled for June. Already a large number of cities have signed up to pay their proportionate share of the expense of maintaing the excursion, and the train will cover a wide territory, going as far west as Beach, which is on the North Pacific at the Montana boundary line.

There will be a large corps of agricultural experts aboad the train.

GOVERNMENT INTERESTED IN INDUSTRIAL WORKERS.

San Diego, Cal., May 31.—That the United States government is interested in the Industrial Workers of the World situation in San Diego has been indicated again by the presence of secret agents of the department of justice. While they declined to state why they were here, they are supposed to be investigating the general conditions.

So far as the alleged shifting of the scene of activity of the Industrial Workers representatives from San Diego to Los Angeles was concerned, no statement could be obtained from those directly connected with the so-called "free speech" campaign in this city. Attorneys for the Industrial Workers refused to forecast their future acts.

CANADIAN Y. M. C A. VOTES TO BREAK AWAY.

Winnipeg, Man., May 31.—At the annual convention of the Canadian Young Men's Christian association here, it was decided yesterday to break away from the American council. Hereafter all educational and religious campaigns will be financed by Canadians, without the aid of the international council.

TEXAN KILLS MAN HIS DAUGHTER PLANS TO WED.

Houston, Tex., May 31.—Romance suddenly turned to tragedy here when Lloyd Jackson, a wealthy youth, was killed by D. M. Moody, just as Jackson and Moody's daughter were about to hurry to a wedding ceremony. Jackson was killed as he waited near a second story casement of the Moody home, and Moody asserts he shot because he thought he had caught a prowler about to enter his daughter's room. In a dying declaration Jackson asserted that Moody had objected to the match.

BRITISH STEAMER IS ASHORE IN BAHAMAS.

Turk's Island, Bahamas, May 31.—The British steamer Antallian, which sailed from Liverpool May 15 for Jamaica, ran ashore on a reef at the northeast extremity of Grand Turk yesterday afternoon. The vessel is not leaking. Her crew and passengers remain on board. Lighters are alongside and the coal has been jettisoned, though the cargo has not been touched. It is believed that the craft will be saved.

EAST GRAND FORKS MAYOR WILL ACT.

East Grand Forks, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today Mayor J. J. O'Leary will either veto, for the second time, an ordinance reducing the patrol limits of the city, or he will approve it. The ordinance places some of the city's most valuable saloon property outside of the saloon district. Some time ago the city council passed such an ordinance, but the mayor refused to "O. K." it.

REGNAULT'S SALOME SELLS FOR $105,600.

Paris, May 31. — The sensational event in the sale of the Marquis Landolfo Carcanos collection of old and modern masters, which began yesterday, was the bidding for Alexandre Regnault's Salome, which was knocked down to the art dealer, Knoedler, for 528,000 francs, ($105,600.) The picture had a special interest for Frenchmen on account of the tragic fate of Regnault, who was cut off at the beginning of a brilliant career by a Prussian bullet in an engagement in 1877 at Buseval, near Paris.

AT 98 HE IS A STOIC.

Seattle, Wash., May 31.—Thomas A. Wardall, 98 years of age, refused to be placed under an anesthetic at a local hospital when doctors were ready to proceed with an operation for internal trouble. "I don't need any drug to lessen the pain, and I'm still young enough to stand the operation," the brave nonogenarian told the surgeons.

He underwent the knife and came through the ordeal without a flinch. The old man declares he will live to be 120 years old now that he is recovering from the operation.

Chased into South Dakota.

Mandan, N. D., May 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Mike Rowe, captured by John Rovig of this city, is in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of horse stealing. Mr. Rovig, who is register of deeds of Morton county, captured the alleged horse thief after an exciting chase. He chased the man through this county and to Lemmon, S. D., where he secured his arrest. Rowe did not fight extradition and is back for trial. The theft is alleged to have taken place at Brisbane, N. D.

Tornado Drill for Pupils.

Wakita, Okla., May 31.—A tornado drill, patterned after the fire drill in cities, has been introduced by Miss Hattie Moon, principal of the Enterprise school, near here, as a result of the recent storms in Oklahoma. The pupils are lined up on signal, then commanded to run to the nearest tornado cave, which is a quarter of a mile away. The children are able to cover the distance in four minutes.

SOME RAIN IN SOUTHWEST

Parts of Kansas and Nebraska Get Much Needed Fall of Moisture.

Wheat Goes Down in Consequence—May and July Flaxseed Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 31.—Reports of some, though not general, rains in Kansas and Nebraska had quite a bullish effect on the markets of North America today, and this, together with reports of fine yields in the central parts of Oklahoma and Texas, where thrashing is under way, caused quite a bearish movement. The expected squeez in Chicago May on the last day of the month did not take place. Instead of that there was an actual break of 2½c, as may be seen by the tables below. Duluth July wheat closed today at a decline of 1c under the close of Wednesday. Duluth cash wheat closed 1c over July, durum was ½c off, oats 1c off and rye and barley unchanged. Duluth May flax closed at a gain of 1c and July ½c higher.

Although there were more reports of damage to wheat in Kansas and elsewhere in the Southwest by the blazing sun and hot winds, and the American primary receipts fell considerably short of coming in with what the records show for a year ago, yet wheat took quite a drop this morning on the North American markets. There were reports of some rains, where they were very much needed in Kansas and Nebraska. There was a wire that thrashing was well under way in Central Texas and Oklahoma and that prospects in those states for a big yield were excellent.

Duluth July wheat, which closed Wednesday at $1.14⅞ asked, opened today at $1.14⅜ asked, and at noon was selling at $1.13⅞. There were lower quotations also from Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg.

News from the foreign wheat markets was for the most part bullish. Liverpool wheat closed ½d higher. There was a forecast of lower Argentine shipments, though the effect of this was to some extent offst by the pressure of La Plata offers and more favorable crop news from Russia.

May Flax Still Higher.

May flax gained 1c cent during the morning. This gain was remarkable in view of the recent bulges that have taken place and also in view of bearish news from other markets. There was a great rush today to get hold of all the cars of No. 1 flax in sight and get deliveries made as far as possible. Yet it is believed that a great many of those who are short on the May option will default on the delivery and will endeavor afterwards to force a settlement on a lower basis than the May price, alleging that the price of May flax at Duluth was deliberately boosted and was not the result of actual market conditions. If there is any such controversy, it will probably come before the board of directors. Duluth May flax at noon today was a cent up at $2.68 and July was a cent up at $2.24. Winnipeg May was 4 cents off at $1.96. Buenos Ayres June was 1⅛c off at $1.81⅝, and London June and July was 5¼c off at $2.34⅛.

An official of a flaxseed company that has been very active on the Duluth board declared today that the situation was bullish on flax the world over, and that his company during the past week had actually been shipping linseed oil to Great Britain. This is a very rare occurrence. As a rule the United States imports both linseed oil and flaxseed from Europe. Last year millions of gallons of the oil were imported from Great Britain. He declared that before the present year was out this country would have to import both flaxseed and linseed oil in large quantities.

MARKET GOSSIP

The following is from B. W. Snow at Hutchinson, Kan., dated May 30: "Of the 6,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas, 4,500,000 acres lie west of Hutchinson and are more or less involved in threatened disaster. The damage already experienced is heavy in western counties and is showing up farther east every day. In the last two days the blazing sun, accompanied by south wind, has wiped out a large acreage in the northwest counties and brought the crop in the big central west counties to the breaking point. Out of 1,200,000 acres reported on May 1 in the west four tiers of counties north of the Arkansas river, the past ten days have destroyed the crops in 400,000 acres, with a lower promise by half for the rest. The tier of counties south of Phillips, with 1,100,000 acres, are badly damaged on uplands and are showing dead streaks in the best valleys. Here the loss is already from 10 to 15 points. In the next tier east of Russell, where prospects have been the best, crops begin to show serious injury, while Barton and Stafford have lost another 10 points. The eastern limit of Lincoln and Ellsworth, where fields until now have been perfect, begins to show scorching. Cool nights are helping the crops everywhere, but each day without general rain cuts a big slice off the Kansas crop."

It is firing badly. The crop is at a critical stage with some uncertainty. Weather is clear with a hot wind.

The Modern Miller says: "Wheat in the western part of both Kansas and Nebraska is unfavorably affected by absence of moisture but in many localities in these states occasional scattered showers have fallen and with the cool weather have prevented much harm. Wheat is turning for the harvest in Southern Oklahoma. Thrashing is under way in Central Texas, where the grain has ripened in excellent condition. In the principal soft winter states there is the same good prospect. Some wheat is going back, but the good fields showing steady growth, though late."

Lecount wired Finley Barrell & Co: "I believe Kansas and Nebraska have so far sustained a permanent loss of 15 to 20 per cent from the prospect of three weeks ago."

Minneapolis Indemnities: July puts, $1.11⅞ bid; calls, $1.13 bid.

Clearances: Wheat, 808,000 bu; flour, 16,000 bbl; wheat and flour, 881,000 bu; corn, 11,000 bu; oats, 30,000 bu.

American primaries: Wheat receipts today, 445,000 bu; week ago, 314,000 bu; year ago, 309,000 bu; shipments today, 694,000 bu; year ago, 204,000 bu; corn receipts today, 924,000 bu; year ago, 1,089,000 bu; shipments today, 494,000 bu; year ago, 383,000 bu. The wheat receipts look larger than those of a year ago, but that is because the figures above for today represent the accumulations of two days. The same thing is true of the shipments of wheat and the receipts and shipments of corn.

Argentine wheat shipments: This week, 296,000 bu; last week, 792,000 bu; last year, 752,000 bu; corn, 3,757,000 bu; last week, 4,063,000 bu.

Visible supply in chief Argentine ports: Wheat, now, 3,360,000 bu; week ago, 4,448,000 bu; year ago, 4,464,000 bu; corn, 6,724,000 bu; week ago, 5,908,000 bu; year ago, 587,000 bu.

Arrivals of wheat from the interiors of Argentina are decreasing and the quality is unsatisfactory. Arrivals of corn are heavy and the quality is satisfactory.

John Inglis wired from El Reno, Okla.: "South of Enid the crop is deteriorating. Wheat is later here than in the northern counties. Late wheat is burning badly. Whole fields are affected. Most of it is just coming to head. Oats and barley are spotting. The weather is clear and hot."

CANDIDATE CAN GIVE ROOSEVELT POINTERS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 31. — Col. Roosevelt is not the only rip-roaring campaigner that this year of 1912 has produced. Missouri is just now gasping for breath trying to catch up with the campaign of James A. Houchin for the Democratic nomination for governor of this state. According to all political standards, his campaign is the ideal one. He ascertains from his deputy campaign managers how much cash will be needed in a certain county, multiplies it by four and makes the appropriation out of his own "barl."

Among his numerous qualifications are that he owns the finest saddle horse, the best jack, the biggest overall factory and the heaviest mustache in Missouri. His platform, "a square deal to labor," he has printed on 25,000 lead pencilles, and he has ordered his lithographed likeness pasted on every dead wall, fence, every tree and every barn in Missouri. He has engaged a glee club, which is touring the whole state, singing songs about him. He takes the glee club with him in a big red automobile and when they gather the crowd with their singing, he gets up and makes a speech, just like the itinerant "Indian medicine" shows.

WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

Adverse Crop News and Poor Earnings of New York Central.

Loss of Four Points By Reading and Lehigh Valley.

New York, May 31.—Strength was shown by the stock market at the opening today. The coal stocks were prominent with 1-point gains, while Canadian Pacific more than recovered its quarterly 2½ per cent dividend and touched a new high record. Most other active stocks advanced fractionally.

The strength of the opening was followed by selling, which soon wiped out all gains. Special weakness was shown by Steel, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Union Pacific, Rock Island and Can, which declined 1 to 2 points.

Renewed selling of Rock Island issues, spreading to affiliated properties, caused unsettlement to values during today's early dealings. Declines extended from 1@3 points below the best, but these were nearly regained before noon. Union Pacific, Steel and Smelting reflected some support. Trading became dull on the rebound. Bonds were easy.

The market closed weak. Extreme weakness was recorded in the last hour on further adverse crop news and the poor earnings of New York Central. Reading and Lehikh Valley were down 4 points and net loss elsewhere averaged fully half as much.
